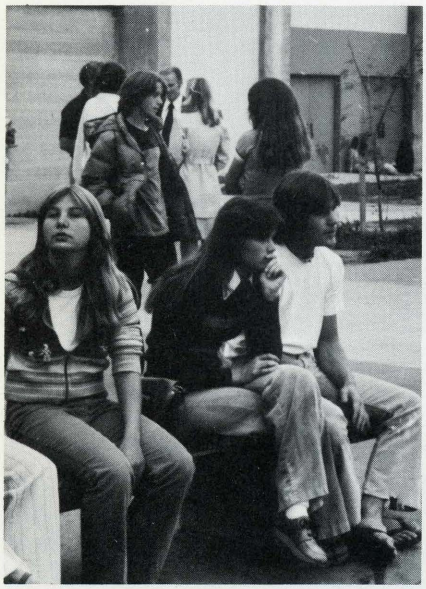
Participating — 10

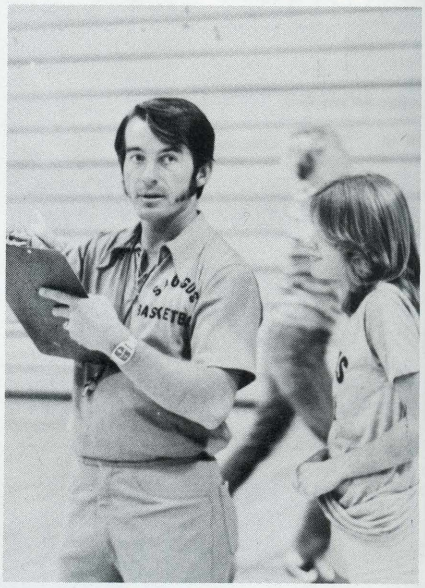


My place in life is not to stand by and watch, I am involved.

Competing — 48

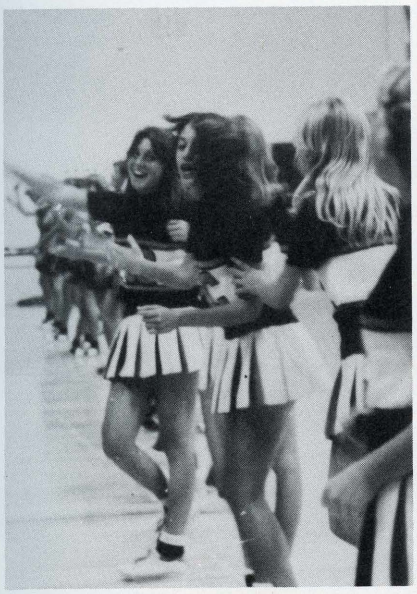
It seems I will always have opponents - someone else striving to achieve a common goal.

Learning — 88



May I never close my eyes to the wisdom before me.

Unifying — 114

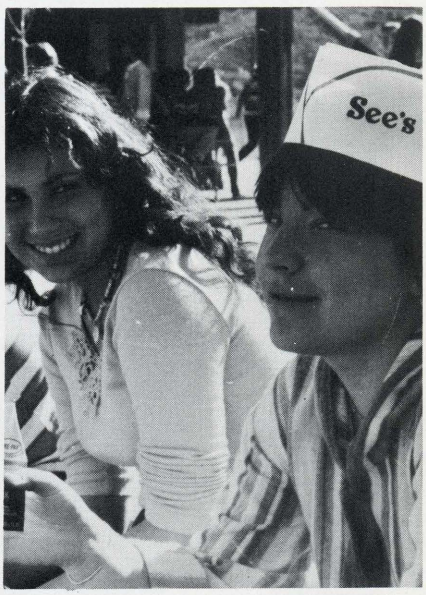


When we are not separate, when we have been joined, to work together.

Sharing — 140

Wherever I am, I hope to be always surrounded with good friends.

Advertising — 176



To be recognized you must speak up. Be firm, but not loud. Be confident. Be heard.

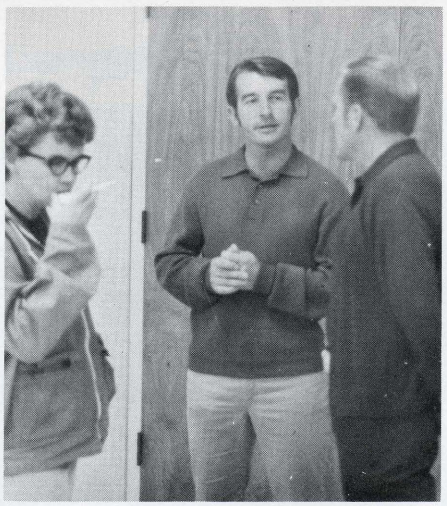
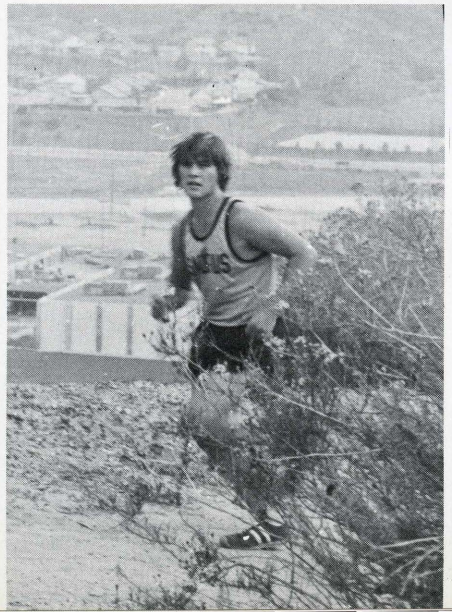
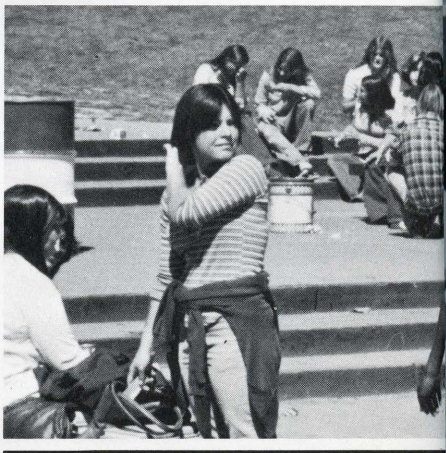
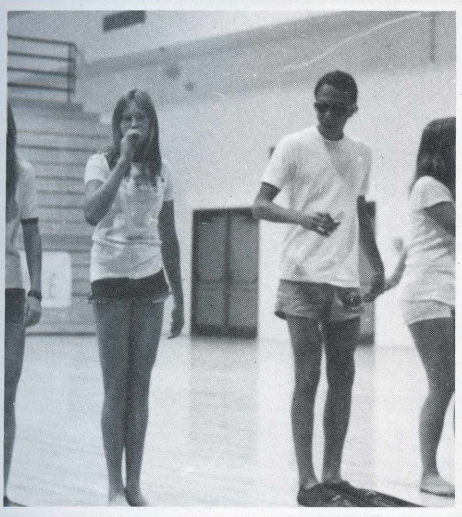
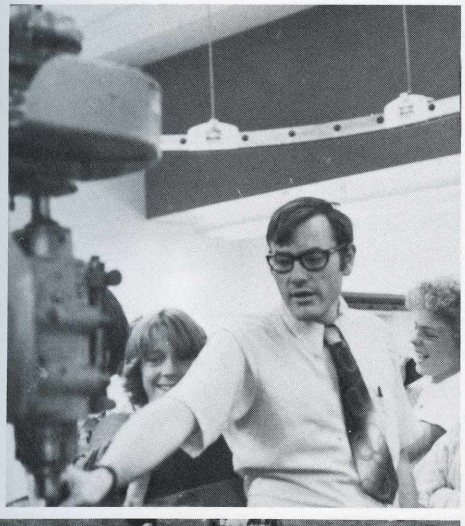
15

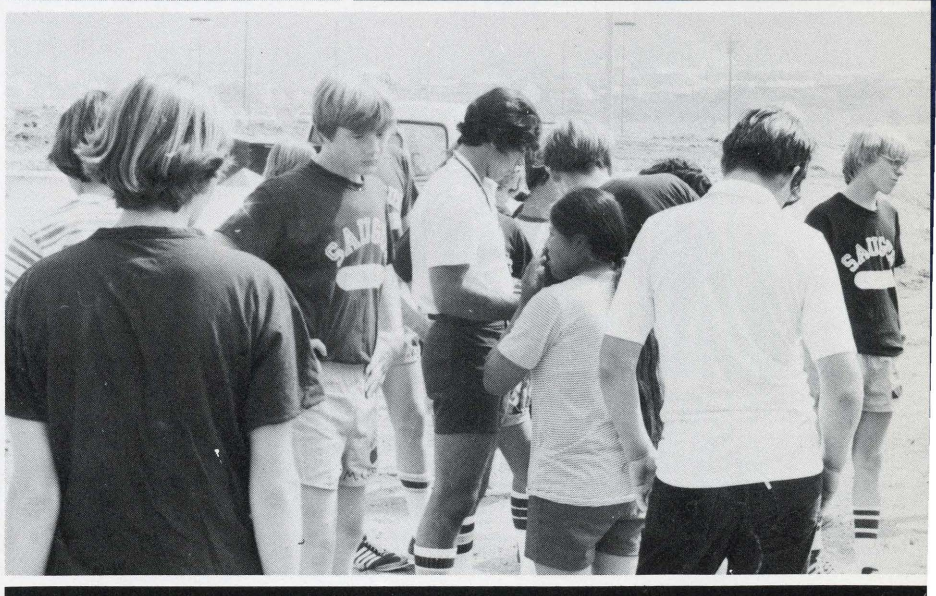


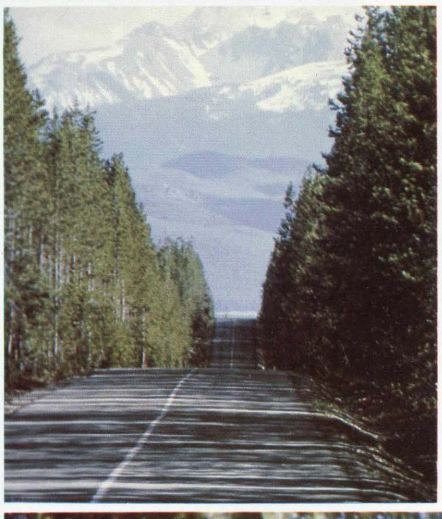


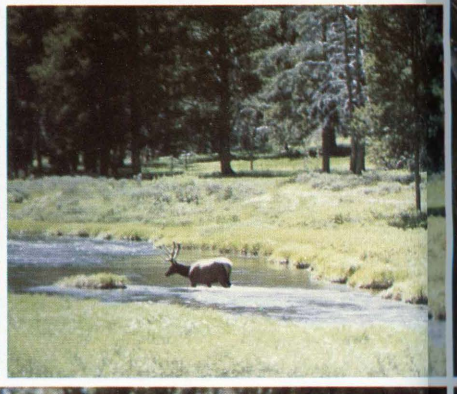


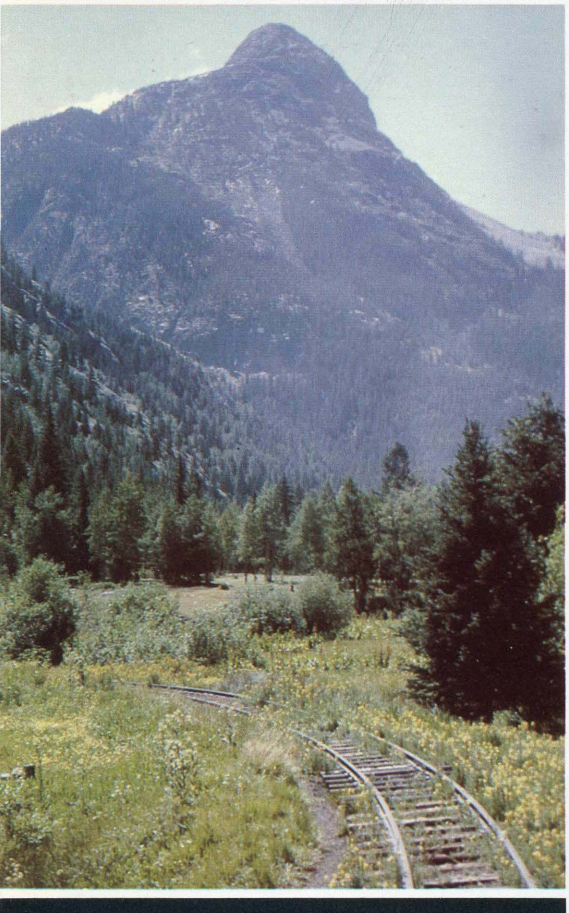


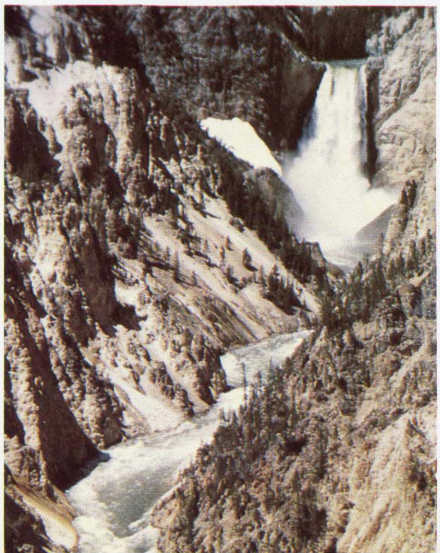


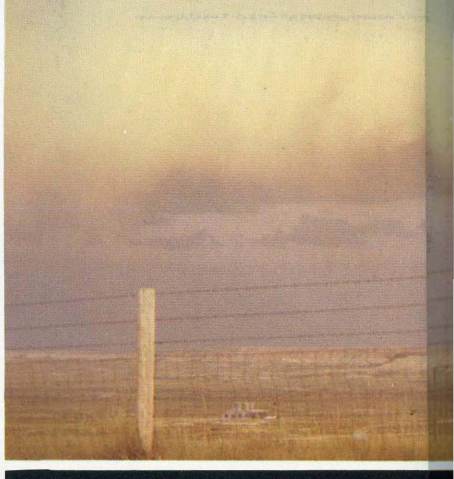


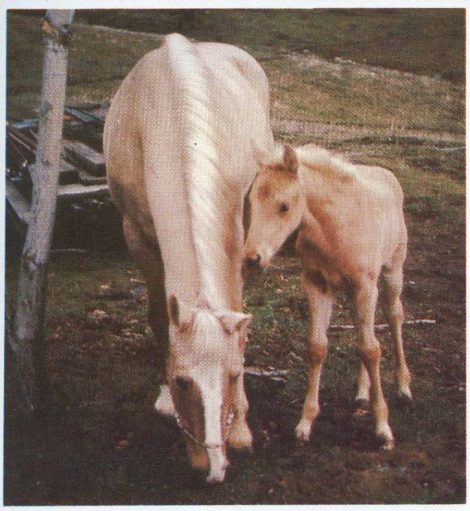


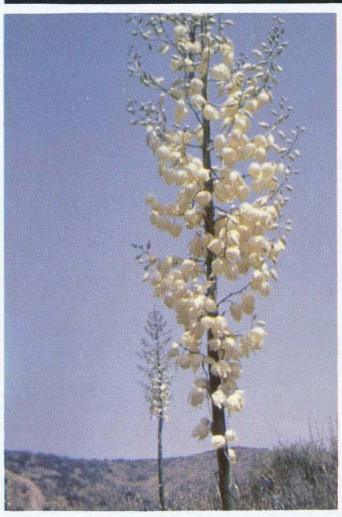












Show me the mountains and trees, let me breathe deep the clean air, let me watch the wild ones where they too love to be, and I'll be happy. Give me a chance to look inside, to love the person I am, to try to do things I never have. Then I will be one with myself.

American dreams created Saugus High stated Dr. William Banowsky, president of Pepperdine University and keynote speaker at Saugus' dedication, May 6, 1975. Education was the core of the American Dream, which vanished during the 1960's. Dr. Banowsky feels that the youth of today, with a realistic, not a perfectionistic view of the world, are reviving the hope of the American Dream. His charge to Saugus was to "preserve freedom of the individual and the soul of education."

Mrs. Ruth Newhall, managing editor of the Newhall Signal, related the history of the Santa Clarita Valley and presented a community view of Saugus High.

Also speaking on the program, placing the traditional Open House, were: Dr. Clyde Smyth, superintendent; Gina Paggi, ASB president; and Mr. Louis Brathwaite, president Saugus' Parents Advisory Committee. Mr. Robert Crozier and Mr. Kenneth Wullschleger formally accepted the school from Mr. Harry T. MacDonald, architect

Love destroyed
by racial prejudice

was the spring play's theme. "West Side Story" ran June 2-5, 1976, drawing sellout crowds each night.

"It was a challenge to obtain the proper stage setting with the few facilities provided," commented Mr. Trevor Best, producer and director.

Making rehearsals on time, learning lines correctly, and developing good attitudes toward each other were all part of the students' work to make "West Side Story" a success.

The show's stars, Carla Lufting (Maria) and Kurt Hansen (Tony) worked especially hard to get the feel of their characters and to project the emotional appeal of this love story.

Saugus Shuffle—
individual registration

for Centurions was a first. Developed by Mr. Ed Murdock, head counselor, and patterned after Hart High's system, it allowed students to select the period and teachers they wanted for previously approved classes.

Held the week before classes began, students were able to purchase ASB cards, yearbooks, and have ID pictures taken while at school to register.

Done in September on a trial basis, the Shuffle was so well received that it was repeated in February.

Centurions, grouped by grade and in random alphabetical sets, met in the MPR for general instructions. The next step took place in the gym where students exchanged name cards for class cards. Cards were checked, by volunteer helpers, a final schedule was made out, then a quick trip through the locker, ASB, yearbook and picture lines and the students were ready to go.

Once upon a hill
once covered with cows

grew a stalk of corn. Well maybe, just maybe that was the beginning of the ROP class Ornamental Horticulture, taught by Mr. Tom McAdam.

On Wednesday, January 19, from 1:00 to 2:30 p.m. ROP held a special open house, coordinated by Ms. Sandra Weil. Guest speakers included Mr. Wayne Fredericks, a greenhouse expert from Magic Mountain, and Mr. Santo who is a landscaping architect for Southern California Edison. Mr. Santo spoke on hydroponic gardening - growing plants without soil.

BIPS? Huh? What in the world . . .? What IS a BIPS?

On Monday, January 24, a Centurion special came to life - BIPS. BIPS stands for the Best of Introduction to Physical Science (Best of IPS).

Mr. Walter Prelle, Mr. Dave Okasaki, and Mr. Michael Glahn sponsored this surprise. Students had a sludge test going at this time and they were asked to bring in a decorated shoe box in which to store the experiment. The object of the contest was to be the most creative cover designer.

Winners and their box categories were: Box of the Year, Scot Engles and Scott Drake; Designs Incorporating Space Ships, Judy Kraft and Julie Kangas; Best Use of Old Assignments, Kerri Kerbock and Robin Jacob.

Mr. Dennis Wendt was the guest speaker for the afternoon, lecturing on TAENIA PISIFORMIS - in other words, tapeworms.

A pot luck lunch was served.

Jack-in-the-Box

Del Taco, 31 Flavors, or Vencoa was the choice Centurions had for lunch fare. During the summer of 1976, the ASB Executive Council worked with the Administration and the District Administrators to allow students to leave campus for lunch.

"One of the reasons we did not have an open lunch last year was because the kids had no place to go. Few were of legal age to drive. If the students walked, there was a chance of increased tardies to period 5," observed Dean Ben Greene.

Most students were in favor of the open lunch which was allowed by the Board on a year-to-year basis, subject to evaluations.

Ron Thebeau, "I live right across the street so it's better than last year."

Polly Nieto, "I think it's great because now people can go to the best place in the world - 'McDonald's!' "

Hard work and high hopes paid off

As the Drama Club took to the stage in "The Mouse That Roared." The play however is not about a mouse but a small town, called Grand Fenwick, in Europe, that declares war on the United States. The reason for this action is that the US is producing the same wine as Grand Fenwick, and is selling it for half the price. So Grand Fenwick decided to declare war and lose on purpose so that the US would pay them money and give them food and support. The people of Grand Fenwick resolved to kidnap an American. The ruler of Grand Fenwick went to America and kidnapped a professor who just happened to have the American H-bomb formula. The people of Grand Fenwick needless to say, won the war.

Dancing to the sound of Tender and other groups, Saugus students enjoyed the almost monthly dances held in the auxiliary gym.

Along with the dances the Associated Student Body sponsored most of the activity days. Such activity days as Freak Out Day and Spirit Day were participated in by a number of students. Centurions also participated in such contests as toilet paper wrapping, bottle drinking, and banana stuffing.

With the success of the varsity basketball team in their achievements to CIF finals, many Pep Rallies were held to help cheer the team on and show school spirit. Class competition was favored as classes had a chance to show who had the most spirit. Pep Rallies were also held for other sports.

Assemblies were held in order to hold class and school elections. Films on mountain climbing, water skiing and other interesting speakers came to entertain Saugus Centurions.

Seasonal melodies and Scrooge came to SHS

the evening of December 16 for the annual Christmas program. Festivities commenced in the main gym where the Concert Band, under the direction of Mr. Gary Downs, presented a program of Christmas selections.

After intermission the program continued in the MPR where the Concert Choir presented Christmas songs. Wendy Miller, Karen Chafin, Tina Celay, and Judy Ogden were soloists. A duet was presented by Karen Murdock and Kim Austin. Accompanists were Donna Lucas, piano; Mary Blundell, guitar and Kim Pearce, bells. Mrs. Doreen Blundell directed.

An adaptation of "Scrooge," written and directed by Mr. Trevor Best, concluded the evening. Mr. Best's setting was the 1970's, but Scrooge was still visited by the Christmas spirits and finally became a man of compassion.

Professional

came to take on the Saugus faculty. Such Saugus players as Quick Crummett and Fireball Phillippi took on the Red Heads.

The Red Heads are a team of professional women players who travel around the States performing their basketball skills. The Red Heads get their name from the color of each member's hair - Red.

Demonstrating their ability to handle a basketball skillfully, they put on quite a performance for the audience during half time which continued throughout the game. After an interesting game, the Red Heads were victorious. Sponsoring the Red Heads was the Associated Student Body.

Miracles Out of Nowhere

To lie upon my back
And stare up at the sky
To follow a falling star
Is to watch a miracle go by.
To stretch to meet the day
In the early light of dawn
To watch the sun rise up
Is a miracle begun.

All day long, and through the night, miracles great and small occur. Those that seem trivial are taken advantage of, those that seem great are not explored further. Other things take up our time, and our eyes are destracted from those things we should see.

Miracles can be found ANYWHERE!

After a spring rain . . . There you go! Rain. Isn't that a small miracle? Moisture condensing in the air to form water droplets, which, falling to earth, water nature's garden.

Spring, yet ANOTHER miracle. How and why do the seasons change? How do leaves know to fall off the trees come autumn? And dark furred critters transform to white in winter, an excellent camouflage against larger enemies in the fallen snow.

The intricate network of a web. The unbelievably strong, but delicate texture woven together as a means of survival. Imagine man, a crew of contractors and architects, planning a structure like that. Man can't copy the perfection of nature, but still we try.

After one of those nice heavy rains, you know, the knd that washes all the pollution out of the air, the sun usually comes out and a brilliant rainbow stretches across the sky. Of course you hear some ooh's and aahh's! But then it's forgotten. A rainbow is the final touch, the finale after the storm.

Walking in a seemingly deserted field of weeds and dry brush could open up a whole new world of creations. Next time, instead of hurrying through, anxious to get away, stop for a minute. Kneel down and LOOK. You may happen to witness the miracle of reincarnation - a caterpillar emerging from the cramped confines of its cacoon to spread and dry its wings on the winds of a new day.

Speaking of the miracle of creation, how is it that you are able to read and understand the symbols written on this page?

We are the most complex miracle imaginable. Our eyes taking in and separating the individual reflections of light, then sending the picture, through nerves, to the brain. The brain inturn makes the decision on what action to take, and wasting no time, relays the answer and plan for action. An operation like that takes a split second to carry out. What precision! What speed! What a miracle!

But going further than that, back to the beginning - the very birth of a child.

To grow, and feed, and develop in the safe enclosure of a mother's womb, starting from the size of a rice grain. In the nine months waiting period, fingers and toes wriggle, features emerge from a shapeless head, blood circulates through the veins, pumped from the heart. It's alive! A living, breathing and, in time, a walking, talking, thinking person!

It is funny isn't it; the things we never notice that have always been there?

How infinitely small and ignorant we would feel if we could see ALL that unfolds before us, before our VERY EYES, just as we turn our heads.

Anatevka, Russia

in Saugus, California?

Yes, complete with "Fiddler on the Roof" as the Drama Department presented their spring musical.

The plot revolves around Tevye, a milkman in Anatevka, who manages to keep his wry sense of humor about him even when his world is threatening to fall apart.

Engaging in an almost constant dialogue with God provides Tevye with the wisdom and strength to cope with deteriorating tradition and a house filled with six women, on the eve of the Russian Revolution, 1905.

Star performances were rendered by all, with Marty Yawnick as Tevye, and Suzanne Young as his wife Golde stealing the show.

Playing to large audiences, running June 1-4, the cast received standing ovations each night.

Directing the production was Mr. Trevor Best. Ms. Lynn Rabinov worked closely with Mr. Best in the areas of dance production, costumes, and make-up.

The overture was recorded by the Centurion Concert Band, with professional tapes used for all other music.

Practice ran for four months prior to opening, with the final dress rehearsal a special matinee performance for the junior highs.

"Fiddler on the Roof" was written by Sheldo Harnick; the book by Joseph Stein was based on the stories of Sholem Aleichem. Music was by Jerry Bock.

CIF, CIF, CIF

Long Beach, Long Beach

echoed through the COC gym as Saugus won the semi-finals against Morrow Bay. The Centurions were on their way to the Long Beach Sports Arena for the CIF IA Championship playoffs.

The first rung on the ladder to the #2 spot was Bishop. Traveling 5 hours, Saugus came through with a 67-71 victory. Gary Luster made 34 points, an outstanding game. Bob Skophammer had 17 points and 11 rebounds. Coach Fred Crummett felt both Bob and Gary had great games.

Hosting the next game, Saugus met Bishop Diego. Coach Crummett said the key to this game was that the team was very unselfish. Richard Walsh had 12 assists, responsible for 24 points. "That's a mark of a good team, when they put the team as a whole before themselves," stated Crummett.

Winning these first two games, Saugus earned their place in the semi-finals which were held at the COC gym. Their third opponent was Morro Bay. Again Saugus came out victorious, 65-50. "It was a very exciting game. Playing very well offensively and defensively were Jerry Tucker and Richard Walsh. Together they put in 33 points compared to Morro Bay's guards with 4," said Coach Crummett.

The CIF Championship game was against Perris at the Long Beach Sports arena. Saugus was the first Santa Clarita Valley school to have a team make it to the CIF finals. "Saugus played very well, as a whole, although they did not play one of their best games, missing layups during the game," reviewed Coach Crummett.

Saugus was led by Jerry Tucker and Gary Luster's 20 and 16 points respectively. The final score was Perris 60 - Saugus 54.

"I was very happy and pleased with our performance throughout the CIF. Unquestionably playing in the CIF Finals, was a great honor and thrill for me and my players," was Coach Crummett's final comment on the season.

Bidding on, and purchasing a teacher

may seem like a funny way to raise money, but it worked for the yearbook.

Teachers submitted a service contract, then on March 16, at lunch the students bid on the contracts. Some of the services included: picnic breakfast for ten, offered by Mr. Fred Fels and Mr. Ed Murdock; lunch in Dr. Sproul's office; lunch for six at Shakey's offered by the women PE teachers, and water skiing for four by Coach Crummett.

Services went to the highest bidder. Mr. Jerry Bartak was auctioneer, assisted by Dean Ben Greene. Money collected went toward payment for the 77 Sword and Shield.

was not the story at this year's donkey basketball game, January 6. If the participants were lucky enough to get on their donkeys, they were faced with another problem, making him go the way they wanted. Everybody seemed to do alright, except Mr. Steve Spraker who was injured at the beginning of the game.

The faculty team consisted of Mr. Al Hansen, Mr. Dave Okasaki, Mr. Ben Greene, Mr. Jerry Bartak, Mr. Taylor Barnes, Mr. Doug Worley, Mr. John Bunn, Mr. Dennis Collier, Mr. Steve Spraker, and Mr. Fred Crummett. Also on the faculty team were some of the Saugus cheerleaders.

The students led only once during the game, but they put up a good fight. The victory went to the faculty, with a final score of 68-56.

Centurion Academy

of Pupil Recognition

held its first session on Tuesday evening, May 31 at 7:30. The Academy, known as CAPR, was founded for the purpose of giving recognition and honor to those students who excelled in various academic areas.

The program and award selections were coordinated by Mr. Ed Murdock, head counselor. Recipients were selected by the various departments.

Forty-six awards were given in a total of 13 areas. Department chairpersons or their representatives made the presentations. Master of Ceremonies was Mr. Fed Fels, who had put together a most interesting slide show featuring baby pictures of selected award winners.

Two special awards were presented in the Principal's Choice category. These went to two parents whose unselfish devotion to the school and continual help and support have benefited the students, the staff, and the community. Active members of the Boosters, they were Mrs. Vivian White and Mrs. Terri Justice.

The evening of presentations was spiced with a variety of entertainment features.

The Barbershoppers presented some old-style harmonizing. The group was composed of Dave Benzel, Dale Hanie, Kurt Hansen, Dave Spradlin and Don Swart, all Saugus students.

Marty Yawnick, who was to star as Tevye, presented an excerpt from "Fiddler on the Roof." A solo was sung by Christina Cely, and the Stage Band played several selections.

The evening closed with an outstanding solo by Mr. Murdock - "Love Walked In" - who was accompanied by the Stage Band.

Cotton candy, fun

filled the Saugus campus Saturday, May 21, 1977.

Many booths were sponsored at the 77 carnival. The major attraction was the prison booth, sponsored by the 78 Pep Squad. For 25¢ you could have anyone of your choice put in jail. Other booths were a dart game, basketball shooting, sponge tossing, lollypop drawing and a make-your-button-booth.

For interested people who attended, the Boosters Club held a bake sale and a raffle for an air pot thermos. The sophomore class had a dime toss where they donated their own stuffed animals.

The ASB put together the carnival for all the clubs and organizations to make some money for future use.

Good friends,

good music, good food

combined to make Saugus' first all-school prom a success. Pastel colors carried out the theme Poems, Prayers, and Promises at the Courtney Club, Saturday, May 7.

The evening began at 7 with a buffet style dinner featuring roast beef and Polynesian Lamb. Dancing to the music of Tender continued until midnight.

Highlight of the evening was the coronation. Francine Watson, assited by Carla Firm and Linda Pierce announced the court. Gina Paggi was crowned queen and Richard Walsh, king.

Prom committee members were Cathy Sutton, Francine Watson, DeAnn Warr, Dianne Clough, Donna Nuzzi, Maria Greene, Gina Paggi, Sarina Sidles, Danielle Cook, Cindy Sisson, Carla Firm and Karen Doane. The committee extended "special thanks" to Mr. Roland Huenink, junior class advisor.

Chaperones for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Roland Huenink, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Barnes, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Bair.

It seems I will always have opponents - someone else striving to achieve a common goal. But I have hopes to join forces then, instead of conflicts in loss we will find fullfillment in victory.

runners on the cross country team, coached by Mr. Steve Spraker. Twenty young men came out for the team and proved their ability to run. They were divided into three teams, varsity, JV, and frosh-soph. All three had a great season.

The varsity competed in four invitationals, bringing home two trophies - a first, and a third. The JV team placed fifth and sixth in the same invitationals. Consisting of only 8 men, the frosh-soph team competed in only three invitationals.

Commented Coach Spraker, "This team was much improved. Two of the 'freshies' made varsity! Outstanding work was done by all."

CIF was the goal of seven varsity girls

on Saugus' cross country team. Throughout the year high placement was not unusual for Tammy Ragen, Kathy Devine, Mari Mitchell, Jan Fisher, Leta Stanford, Kelly Green, and Paula Burch.

Ojai and College of the Canyons invitationals became scenes for two first place wins. The team went on to take a second in both the Mt. Sac and Bell Jeff Invitationals.

These high placements for the team were due, in part, to Coach Steve Spraker and Coach Jay Headley. Hard work and training given to the girls by the coaches got them into the CIF prelims. For this achievement each girl on the team was awarded a CIF tee shirt. A special best runner of the team award was presented to Tammy Ragen. The team missed going to the finals, and took sixth in overall standings.

Approximately ten thousand miles were covered driving the team to meets and on trips. For one trip the Coaches, Spraker and Headley, took the team to Palm Springs where they stayed for the weekend.

Saugus' first

took shape during the summer when 37 eager young men tried out. The clashing of pads and helmets marked the initiation of practice under coaches Al Hansen, Al Gilreath, and Mark Jones.

"They were enthusiastic - always kept at it," was Coach Gilreath's analysis of the season. They played teams consisting of mainly seniors, which gave the opposing teams a year's advantage.

The coaches agreed the team did a good job under the circumstances. "The guys really enjoyed playing football," commented Coach Hansen.

On the evening of December 11, 1976 an awards banquet was held. Spectacular 10-inch team awards were given to: Most Improved, Jerry Schultz; Most Inspirational, Bill Luster; Most Outstanding Back, John Zavala; Most Outstanding Lineman, Mike White; Special Team Captain Award, Jeff Fulton; Coaches Award, Bob Skophammer, and Most Valuable Player, Gary Luster.

Combining skill hard work and practice

the sophomore football team left the season with a 4 win-4 loss record.

Mitch McKnight, outstanding offensive player, rushed for 605 yards. Mitch also led the team in scoring with 7 touchdowns. Jim Moran led the defense with 303 tackling points.

The coaching staff, composed of Dennis Collier and Steve Danton, put in a great deal of time and effort.

Honored at the December 9 awards banquet were Most Valuable Player, Jim Moran; Most Improved Player, Kevin Rasmussen; Most Inspirational Player, Adrian Graggs; Coaches' Award, Mark Fields; and special team's captain, Randy Engle.

Stiff competition forced increased work for the freshmen. Not only were they new to the school, but their coaches were new. Coach Coghlan and Coach Gullotti made their debut with the Saugus football program with enthusiasm and high hopes for the season.

After a disappointing first half of the season, the freshmen fought back behind the superb blocking of Dennis Babineau, Jim Bendel, Don Saunders, Bob Rose, and Bill Ingraham. Leading offense was the explosive passing attack of Joe Skophammer to Ed Harrold, or tight end Jim Vankerkhove. The running attack was led by Mike Poirer with support from Joe Skophammer to Brian Smith, Steve Prather and Dana Provost. The defense was led by Dennis Babineau, who played strong linebacker, and defensive standouts like Jorge Lopez, Kim Karzin, Keith Karzin, Tony Clift, Eric Sorensen and Howard Rutherford.

The awards banquet was held on December 8 recognizing Most Valuable Player, Joe Skophammer; Most Inspirational, Ed Luster; special team's award, Jim Bendel.

echoing throughout the gym as the volleyball teams start in on their seasonal workout.

Much stress and strain was put on coaches Ms. Gail Fulkerson and Mrs. Cindy Larson as well as the girls in their rush to become familiar with the skills and rules of the game.

Practices began on September 11 and lasted every night after school until 5 p.m.

Coach Fulkerson commented "the varsity team, in their first season, did very well and should do even better next year." Their record was 1-7.

"Absolutely rowdy!" was the first comment made by Coach Larson. The team was composed of eight players, who, according to Mrs. Larson, were "just fantastic."

Their awards banquet was held on December 6. Trophies were awarded to: Varsity - Most Inspirational, Jo Anne DeMeo; Most Valuable, LaDonna Allsman. JV - Most Inspirational, Nancy Cordove; Most Valuable, Teresa Terrones.

proved quite successful. The team ended their season with a 21-7 record, and traveled all the way to the CIF IA finals.

Throughout the season, the team played remarkably well. Bob Skophammer led with 454 points, averaging 15-17 points a game. Gary Luster had 74 steals for the season. Highlighting assists, Richard Walsh had 97, excellent for a guard. John Zavala, coming off the bench, ended the season with 137 rebounds.

Jerry Tucker was excellent as defensive guard and showed the most improvement at the end of the season. Bob Skophammer made first team All Valley. Along with Bob, Gary Luster, and Jerry Tucker also made the Citizen Savings IA All Star Team. In their first tournament, the Nordoff Tournament, Bob Skophammer and Richard Walsh were chosen First Team All Tourney.

"The team displayed self-sacrifice and self-discipline. They had to spend much extra time practicing to achieve the high goal they did," stated Coach Fred Crummett.

Varsity basketball awards were handed out to: Most Valuable - Bob Skophammer, Most Improved - Harry Cribbs, and Most Inspirational - Terry Tucker.

"This was a successful year, especially as juniors. Next year they will be expected to play as well as they did this year or even better. They will be competing in CIF 3 years in a row, not too many players have. It will be a new goal for the seniors," commented Crummett.

For the '78 season, Saugus wil be in the New Golden League, consisting of 7 teams. Their opponents will be: Palmdale, Antelope Valley, Quartz Hill, Ridge Crest, Canyon, and Hart.

The team had some good things going for them. They had a great coach, and new and interested players, and a record to set for Saugus high's books.

The boys played a defensive season and showed the teams they played this year what was in store for them next year in the new league.

Spirit was always high and the team was prepared for whatever happened next. The season record was 23 and 1.

At the awards banquet in March the following awards were given:
Most Improved - John Deutsch
Most Inspirational - Pat Henry
Most Valuable Player - Bret Rollins.

With the growth of the girls' basketball program from one JV team in the '76 season to two teams in the '77 season came the welcome addition to the coaching staff of Dave Harris. Sharing coaching responsibilities, Michelle Stefanko, last year's coach, and Coach Harris worked hard with both teams during the season.

With a 6-10 record, the varsity team brought home their first trophy early in the season. "Capturing the consolation trophy inspired the girls to devote many hours after school to concentrated practice," stated coach Michelle Stefanko. For most of the girls this was their second season of competition.

The JV team had a very competitive season, ending the year with a 8-7 record. "All the girls proved that they could compete successfully with schools that had established programs of many years," said Coach Stefanko.

An awards banquet was held at the end of the season, and awards were given to all girls who participated. Special honors for the Varsity team went to Most Valuable Player, Pauline Code; Most Inspirational, Donna Cadicomo; and Most Improved, Lori Keating. The one-on-one trophy went to Chris Haire and the Captain's trophy went to Pauline Code and Karen Brooks.

Long hours of practice paid off

for the gymnastics team as they ended their first season with a 9-1 record. Their only loss was to Hart.

Hart was the class 3 champion, and Saugus, in Class 3 also, lost only by 17 points. The Hart gymnastics team felt Saugus was one of their toughest competitors.

Floor exercise, balance beam, bars, and vaulting were some of the areas the girls worked in. Practices were held Monday to Friday, from 2:30 to 5. Some Saturday practices were held.

Each of the girls came up with a high 7-8 average, out of a possible 10.

"The team was very solidly developed. You could count on everyone to pull the team up. It wasn't just a few strong people," stated Coach Larson.

The team consisted of Kay Stringer, Linda McCarley, Jeanette Reina, Bridget Porter, Dana Ireland, Sandy Morse, Sandy Owens, Laura Kester, Risa Hilterman, Gina Mendez, Kristy Downey, Kim McKay, and Manager Cindy Wilshire.

Many splashes

and chlorinated eyes

were just the beginning for the boys' swim team. The coach, Mrs. Carol Ruffel, explained that, "last year we had to fight the board in order to have a swim team this year." Mr. Dick Bunn also coached and took all pictures this year.

Many thanks go to Mr. Bunn and Mrs. Ruffel for the many hours they spent in training, even before the season began. The boys had a tough season, but they came out with a season record of 4-4 and 1 tie.

Mrs. Ruffel commented, "We had a few good swimmers, but not enough to quite fill out a Varsity and a Frosh-Soph team. Also, Roger Whitney now holds the school record for backstroke; we had a CIF qualifier (prelims), Steve Lockhart in Breaststroke."

"I'm very pleased," stated Mr. Bunn, "with the half-dozen swimmers that we had, and would like to see them again next year, so we can have a stronger team and win even more."

practiced on Saugus' own tennis courts. Of course, we're talking about the boys' tennis team.

Under the coaching of Mr. Al Gilreath the boys' tennis team achieved a record of 7 wins 8 losses.

With the growth and development of the boys' tennis program came the welcome addition of many new participants. The members of this year's team included Robert Brainard, Doug Blackwell, Dennis Cochran, Greg Elam, Dave Ferimen, Dave Foerstel, Marc Glaser, Kevin Kavanagh, Brian Knapp, Craig Lewis, Glenn Medford, Richard Muhlhauser, Kevin Neely, John Rubacher, Ray Sandoval, Todd Shuman, Gary Smith, William Weeks, Mike Wolf.

"They were young this year and inexperienced, but by the end of the year they had gained a lot of needed experience," stated Mr. Al Gilreath.

Awards were given to the most Valuable Player and the Most Improved Player of the Varsity and J.V. teams. For the Varsity the Most Valuable Player was Dave Foerstel and the Most Improved was Glenn Medford. For the J.V. team the Most Valuable Player was Dave Fernimen and the Most Improved was Doug Blackwell.

Girls with pep and devotion united

for a remarkable Girls' Tennis season maneuvering like experts, the girls sought out and battled even the toughest competitors putting on a good demonstration of power.

Coaching the Girls' Tennis this year was Ms. Barbara Eldridge from Arroyo Seco Junior High, the first female coach for Girls' Tennis at Saugus.

The season was played on one-squad competition, allowing them to play teams of varsity, junior varsity, and C levels.

"The season was phenomenal from the start. Stress was made on their serve, ground strokes, and vollies. Everyone on the team worked very hard; next year should be a good one," stated Coach Eldridge.

The team, along with Boys' Tennis, purchased a ball machine which will aid in developing strokes and form.

The awards banquet was held in December. Awards were handed out to: Maria Green, most outstanding player; Paulette Hershey, most inspirational; Kiki Quiralta, most improved; and Joy Sneed, most dependable.

Maria Green also went to CIF first round pre-lim play. Although she lost, she represented Saugus well.

Clubs, Spaulding,

irons and tees helped

Saugus High's second golf team get started into their season.

With the help of Al Wagner, at Hasley Cyn. golf course and 6 hard weeks of learning special techniques, Saugus High turned out a Golf team. Mr. Larry Sameulson said, "We had a young and inexperienced team because we are not basically a golfing area. We had an enthusiastic team and the future of Saugus' golf life lies in some of its youngest golfers."

Good matches were set up for Saugus, and they were a great learning experience.

Some statistics for a good high school golfer on regulation courses would be a high 70 or a low 80. On Hasley Canyon golf course, which is a par 70 regulation course, our golfers were golfing in the mid 80's.

An awards banquet was held on May 24, 1977, for these boys. Awards were received by:

'I got it!' is a call that has been recognized for 6 centuries now, and it is still happening on Saugus High's baseball diamond.

The varsity team was coached by Mr. Doug Worley. Fielding and batting were the main things to be concentrated upon. After all their hard work was done, their new learned skills were put to a test at their games. Their season record was 12 and 10.

"We started out slowly but we finished our season well by winning 10 out of the last 12 games and narrowly missed CIF playoffs! We are a young team and a rapidly improving one, and we should be very competitive in the new league next year," was the comment made by Coach Worley.

An awards banquet was held on June 2, and was given by the Boosters Club. Awards were presented to:
Most Valuable - Jim Greene
Most Inspirational - Steve French
Most Improved - Dan Jimenez
Coke Award - Richard Walsh (best defensive play).

were part of the every day life of Saugus' girls' track team.

The girls' track team participated in four invitationals this season including ones at Palos Verdes, Ventura, Chadwick, and Laguna.

The girls ended their season with a 2-5 record competing against such team schools as Hart, Calabasas, Fillmore, and Westlake.

This year's team had 13 hopefuls entered in CIF preliminaries. But, by the time the finals came around the number was cut down to 7. The girls did exceedingly well in the finals with Tammy Ragen taking second place in the 2 mile, and Mari Mitchell taking a fifth, also in the 2 mile. Tammy Ragen then took a third place, and Kathy Devine took a fourth place in the mile.

CIF Finals 1977

the Olympics in 1980!

Such was the cry of Saugus' track team as they sent seven boys and three girls to CIF finals.

Making history for two-year old SHS was Chuck Cathy in the frosh-soph race. Working against winds, a muddy track, and strong opponents, Chuck brought home a Saugus' first CIF championship.

Allan Schermerhorn took home four ribbons. He finished sixth in the mile relay, fifth in the 330 low hurdles, and second in the pole vault.

Placing second in the grueling 440 was Randy Engle. Gary Luster took sixth in varsity long jump, and Todd Meyers finished the day with a sixth in the pole vault.

Long hours of practice and discipline under the watchful eye of Coach Steve Spraker paid off for the team. Mr. Jay Headley worked closely with Coach Spraker and the team.

Work, ridicule,
and oft unseen rewards were all a part of a day's work for members of the Wm. S. Hart Union High School District Board of Trustees.

Trustees have the assignment of overseeing and maintaining the operation of the district. Primarily a policy making organization, board members, unpaid, devote countless hours to the welfare of all schools.

Board elections are held every four years, on a rotating schedule. Three board seats were up for election. Two incumbents were re-elected, Mr. Tom Hansen and Mr. Ken Wullschleger. The new member was Mr. Louis Brathwaite, who replaced Mr. Robert Crozier.

BOARD MEMBERS:
Mrs. Connie Worden - President

(4) "Working for the Hart District has special meaning, because I attended school in the District myself and was a member of the very first graduating class in 1949," retorted Mrs. Barbara Brown. (5) According to Mrs. Nancy Hall education is learning experiences which you attain through all phases of not only schooling, but life. (6)

"I think Saugus High is a great school and I enjoy working here very much," remarked Mrs. Linda Watkins. (7) "I enjoy working with high school kids and helping them find a life career where they can grow and be happy," replied Miss Sandy Weil.

Aiding teachers

for students is a part of the administration's role. They also give support to parent groups such as the Parent Advisory Council and the Boosters Club. They provide co-curricular activities that will offer the most benefits for the majority of students. The administration also provides, to the best of budgetary limits, those instructional materials, supplies, and equipment necessary to properly conduct classes.

The administration also reveiws, continually, all course offerings to make them more suitable for the needs of students today. They are in charge of planning and developing new, additional campus facilities.

The counseling department works with each individual student to achieve an understanding of his/her abilities for educational and vocational opportunities.

In its second year, the ROP program was under the direction of Mrs. Sandy Weil. She feels that "the program had great success," and hopes to offer a wider variety of job training experiences next fall.

Mr. Lynn Lozar was in charge of the work experience program which helped students find jobs. They must attend a class during lunch so that they will receive credit for working.

The nurse's office was run by Mrs. Verlene Rosenbrook. Her job was to send sick students home, and check on measles shots and emergency cards.

College prep or life on the outside whatever their choice, students could find classes with meaning for their futures in the English, Social Studies, and Foreign Language departments.

The largest growth in all three of these departments was in the elective program. Most basic requirements are out of the way early, so juniors are able to select courses they are interested in.

The English department, under the direction of Mr. Richard Artzer, strove to provide individualized classes to meet each student's needs. Reading programs were expanded, and elective classes like Sports Lit., and American Scene were added.

In the area of Social Studies, Mr. Ed Morphis, chairman, students met programs like Psychology and the American Indian.

Foreign language added more advanced classes, but continued to offer selections only in Spanish and French.

Numbers in many varied forms appear in the areas of math, science and business. Although each department is geared to explore different phases of knowledge, all three require some proficiency with numbers.

Expansion of course offerings to meet the demands of a junior class was basic in all areas of the school. The business department added shorthand, taught by Mrs. Jean Jerry, and several of the girls reached outstanding speeds. Mr. Roland Huenink was the department chairman.

Advanced algebra and trig were the marks of growth in the Math Department. Mr. Gary Phillippi and Mr. Don Steele co-chaired the department.

Science developed new courses, and an enjoy-science attitude that led to special programs like BIPS. Mr. Wally Prelle was head of the department.

The Home Economics area was under Mr. Roland Huenink. Miss Marty Wooddell was the only teacher. Her classes in foods, nutrition and clothing drew both boys and girls. The cooking students helped with the spring Open House - Centurion Way - by making cookies. The sewing classes sponsored a Simplicity Fashion Show in the fall.

Title IX, and an intermediate band were just a couple of the new things in the PE/Fine Arts department.

The Physical Education department had many changes this year. One of the most important was Title IX. This meant the boys' PE classes could not refuse the enrollment of a girl. And the same went for the boys, they could enroll in the girls' classes. Another change was using the point system. All the teachers graded the students on the point system. "As a whole it was a very smooth year for all the boys and girls. And all the activities worked out well," stated Kirk Kirkpatrick, the chairman of the PE department.

The Fine Arts department also had many changes. For instance, there was that the Varsity band marched at the football games. And the stage band was involved in, "The Battle of the Bands." Mr. Gary Downs, the band instructor, stated, "With the tremendous success of the band this past year, we might have a second stage band next year."

Another part of the Fine Arts department is the choir class headed by Mrs. Dorine Blundell. This year's choir went to the Music Festival at Hart High, and participated in a music performance at Arroyo Seco Jr. High. They also gave a special performance at Newhall Nursing Home.

hit Saugus High's ASB

as 9 of the 11 executive council offices were filled by females! Elected in the Spring of '76, the ASB board began then to plan for an exciting and full '76-'77 school year.

Under the direction of their advisor, Mr. Taylor Barnes, the executive council met daily with class officers during Period 4. Executive Council meetings were held on Wednesdays to conduct the major business of the ASB.

The Executive Council sponsored dances, activity days, assemblies, pep rallies, noon movies, and trips.

The ASB raised funds and coordinated club fund raisers. Funds were distributed through ASB to aid in financing the sports program at Saugus. Monies were also used to benefit the general student body.

The executive council worked with the Hart District School Board to implement changes that will benefit Centurions.

Food drives and bowling tournaments

were a part of the year for Centurions. A variety of clubs gave students an opportunity to pursue many interests.

Under the direction of Mr. Orlando Madrid, the Spanish Club was very active in the fall semester. Their major activity was a canned food drive for needy families for Thanksgiving.

Active throughout the year was the bowling club. With lanes reserved at Newhall Bowl, they bowled each Wednesday afternoon. Membership was open to any interested student, or faculty member.

At the end of the year, on June 10, Mr. Bill Read, advisor, presented trophies to the winning teams, singles, and other outstanding bowlers.

Also on June 10, the students in the IPS classes announced the winner of Miss IPS . . . another science department first. Presented with a lovely pink rose bud corsage was Julie Bruchie, Miss IPS 1977.

New people, year, and a fresh start were the themes for this year's drill team. Working under the direction of a new advisor, Ms. Jill Taniguchi, the team developed a strong bond of concern and understanding for each other.

"I'm really proud of what we did, especially when you consider that we didn't really get started until after school opened," commented Viki Meyer, captain. Experiencing the same problems with uniforms that the pep squad did, the team was aided in the selection of a uniform company by the pep squad.

In order to help the girls improve their routines, Mrs. Ruth Meyer, Viki's mother, took movies of the performances. The result was better performances, partly because they were being filmed and partly because they had seen themselves and were able to objectively critique their individual performances.

The team performed at the football game against Canyon, at home basketball games, and at pep rallies. Kim Kavanaugh, whose sisters were members of Hart's drill team in past years, developed a "Little Man" routine for the team similar to Hart's.

To raise funds the girls sold candy canes prior to Christmas and had a special giant candy cane with special delivery sale as well. Monies raised were used to purchase drill team letter sweaters and letters.

had a chance to see what college is like. The CSF is divided into spring and fall memberships.

To become a member of the California Scholarship Federation, you must have at least a B grade average. The officers were: Sarina Sidles, president; Gina Paggi, vice president; and Michael Doane, treasurer. A candy sale was held to raise money for scholarships.

The Interact Club was sponsored by Rev. James Hall and Mr. Mike Sherreitt. This club was involved in helping the underprivileged. At Christmas they held a party for underprivileged children, giving them presents, and helping their families to have a Merry Christmas. They also had a club party, and a special award was presented to Michael Doane.

Jog-a-thon, wind-breakers and banquets were just a few of the activities the Booster Club was involved in during the '77 school year.

The Booster Club was made up of any adult from the community who wanted to join, but mostly it was parents of Saugus students and members of the faculty and administration. Their main function was to raise money to promote and support extra curricular activities of the student body.

The elected officers of the Booster Club were Charles White, president; Joel Justice, vice-president; Arleen Seals, secretary; Vivian White, treasurer; and Ed Murdock, faculty advisor.

Along with providing money for the student body, they provided volunteer help for anything the school needed, such as a work party on the baseball field, working the eye and ear testing at school, and putting on a teacher luncheon at the end of the year. They also asked community businesses to support the school by buying trophies for all sports during the year. What they didn't collect they paid from the Booster Club's funds.

life with freedom and responsibility in written form in Saugus' high's newspaper. The "Saugus Scroll" was published monthly by the journalism classes, which met everyday during second period. The advisor was Mr. Richard Artzer.

There were two journalism classes, Journalism Lab and Journalism I. The lab class was responsible for the production of the newspaper.

The paper was a showcase for all kinds of student writings, such as features, editorials, sports, and news.

Journalism I was for students to learn how to develop newspaper writing skills.

"The Scroll's main purpose was to keep students up on what's happening in and outside of school," commented Mr. Artzer.

Increased numbers

and new perspectives were evident in this year's pep squad. A varsity group was added since Centurions were now participating on a varsity level.

Still another change took place in the area of advisor. Handling the try-outs was Mrs. Cindy Larson. During the first portion of the year Miss Michele Stefanko was advisor. Then, in December, Mrs. Jean Jerry took over the advisorship of the squad.

A mix-up in uniform orders meant a middle-of-the-football-season delivery, so the girls made-do with practice uniforms at the beginning of the football season.

Varsity squad members were: Tammy McKay (captain), Donna Miller, Cathy Coveney, Dana Ireland, Kathy Roemheld, and Carla Lufting.

JV members were: Kelly LaVigne (captain), Briget Porter, Paula Richardson, Denise Clarke, Paula Downs, and Lanette Weaver.

Freshman squad members were: Cristi Brown (captain), Debi Nunley, Kim Petler, Theresa Rio, Rosie Henry, and Laura Deutsch.

Sammy Centurion's
living counterpart

was Cindy Sisson, Saugus High School's first mascot. Selected in the spring of '76, Cindy commented, "It was hard being the first mascot. You have to start from scratch. My mom and I designed and made my uniform. I really loved being first mascot."

Continuing with the tradition of firsts, Songleaders were added to the Pep Squad. They were Cathy Sutton, captain, Polly Nieto, Karen Doane, and Francine Watson.

"I love it. It was hard to be the first Songleader because we didn't have anyone to follow from the years before. I liked our sweaters with the blouses, but I wish the skirts were different. I also liked wearing the Friday uniforms," was Karen Doane's response when asked how she felt about being one of the first songleaders for Saugus.

The songleaders as well as the cheerleaders had problems with uniforms. Not receiving them until the middle of the football season, songleaders wore their Friday uniforms to the first few games and Pep Rallies.

A year of changes and hectic schedules

marked the '77 Sword & Shield's production. The staff numbered 18 in the fall, however second semester saw only 7 opting for a full year's credit. The majority of the book was produced by those seven during the second semester.

The delivery date was changed to September, instead of the originally planned June. One advantage was the inclusion of the prom - another of Saugus' firsts.

Advising, complete with pleading, lectures, and headaches, was the role of Mrs. Susan Bair. Printing was done by Taylor Publishing Company, Mr. Viga Hall, representative.

One day at a time
no massive goals yet

was the sophomore philosophy. With two more years to go in high school, the Class of '79 concentrated on enjoying the present.

Mr. Gary Phillippi was their advisor. Officers were: Kirk Alger, president; Cathy Coveney, vice-president; Joanne DeMeo, secretary, Jeff Pribyl, treasurer; and Donna Miller, representative.

"We wanted to do what they wanted to do.

You only go through high school once, so they should be fun years," stated Lisa Hall, freshman representative. The freshman officers for the '76-77 year were: Representative Lisa Hall, President Renita Armour, and Vice-President Lisa Sisson.

They planned many activities, including a Christmas dance, freshman assemblies, and rooter busses to freshman basketball games.
