ith no underclassmen allowed, the senior picnic was a time of joyous festivities for the class of 1992. Seniors had a chance to show their superiority over all the other classes on campus.

As the lunch bell rang, the class of 1992 began crowding into the senior quad. No one was admitted without a valid ticket. Seniors received free handouts of hot dogs, chips, cookies, and Del's lemon quenches. Not only was there free food, but the seniors also enjoyed listening to loud music. The most memorable event that happened at the Senior Picnic was the signing of the stairs in the senior quad.

The class of 1992 will have their names engraved in history.

By Shannon Moseley

Food and fun were part of the festivities at the annual opening of the senior quad. Added to this exciting event, was the seniors signing their names on the quad stairs.

nforgettable was this year's Homecoming theme. This year's Homecoming dance was one of the best. Not only did the highly decorated gym make the dance special, but the spirit of those attending gave it a great atmosphere. The long anticipated evening was topped off by the traditional King and Queen dance. This year's Queen, Kristie Mercado, and King, Robb Hammel, danced to the beat of this year's theme song "Unforgettable", along with their court. All in all, this year's Homecoming Dance was "Unforgettable!"

Style and class were shown in the clothing of the students on campus this year. Each individual had their own unique way of wearing their clothes so as not to look like anyone else on campus. Baggy clothing, dark colors, bright colors, floral prints and many other varieties show the style of students today.

Clothing wasn't the only unique style expressed by students on campus. This year's hair craze was one of extreme wildness. Some students had mohawks, and others dyed their hair different colors. All in all, students expressed their individuality in very original and unique ways.

By Shannon Moseley

Tanya Owens shows her creativity with beads and birds in her hair. This style was one of the popularity this year.

Wild! That is self-explanatory for Rhonda Allen and Gina Lee.

Lee Winborn was one of the individuals on campus who had a mohawk. However, shown here, his hair is down.

WINTER FORMAL

On Saturday, December 7, 1991, many Canyon High School students gathered in Canyon's Auxiliary Gym. They weren't there to get out of the cold, but to get into the spirit of the Winter Formal. The theme was "Ice Castles." The most exciting moment of the whole evening was the crowning of the King, Steve Modugno, and the Queen, Amanda Barr. Amanda and Steve each had their own memorable moments. Amanda remembers best when her date, Russ Rafkind, began singing "You've lost the loving feeling" to her while they danced. For Steve, his most unforgettable moment was when he saw his dad as he was being crowned. Although the turnout was not as great as expected, the people that were fortunate enough to enjoy the evening said that they had a wonderful time.

Have you ever seen something this gory? Kelsin Guitan was part of the Haunted House performance during the Halloween Holiday.

Mr. Pries knows how to show the holiday spirit. That tie is really wild!

Seen here are Cassy Baxter and Jessica Swinford, Jessica is being generous by giving money for the homeless people during the winter holiday.

Holidays are a time of every year when people gather together to show their enthusiastic spirits. During the month of October some students were seen on campus dressed in outrageous costumes to show their spirit for Halloween. Not only did students wear costumes to school, but the drama department created a haunted house for one and all to work through for the time of their lives.

Halloween was not the only holiday that was celebrated. During the last week of school, before the winter holiday, a canned food drive was created to feed those who are less fortunate during the holidays. Money was also collected to help buy food, clothing, and material goods for the homeless in the Santa Clarita Valley. Student's feeling the enthusiasm of the winter holiday were exchanging gifts with each other.

Generally, there was a very happy atmosphere on campus during the holiday seasons. Holidays really do seem to bring enthusiasm and joy to one and all.

Valentine's Day is a day where friends show how much they care and lovers show how much they love. Smiles, teddy bears, hearts, roses, balloons; these were just some of the gifts students were giving and receiving on Valentine's Day.

You can see it now! Come one! Come all! Join the fun! Seniors, juniors, sophomores, and, yes, freshmen too are welcome to join in the famous class competitions that take place throughout the school year. Here we see three: the Plunging Race, the Pepsi Challenge, and the Shaving Cream Makeover. All you have to do is join in on the fun, show your class spirit, and be all you can be!

COMES HOME TO US

Open up! At sunrise, on October 9th, 1991, Christo's 1,880 workers began to open the 3,100 Umbrellas in Ibaraki, Japan, and in Gorman, California.

Many enjoyed the watery reflections, luminous shadows, and the harmonious colors. Come! Enjoy the shade. It is for EVERYONE!

Christo augmented the natural beauty of two inland valleys for three weeks. In the lush green flora and limited space of Japan, like Umbrellas were positions close together. In dry brown and golden grassy hills and vast grazing lands of California yellow Umbrellas spread whimsically in every direction.

Christo also brought two powerful nations closer. He alone financed the 35 million dollar temporary work of art. But most importantly he sent a message to the world. In African countries it is illegal for those other than royalty to shade their head from the sun, even by parasol or umbrella. So he invited all, exclusive of race, religion, or wealth to come, rest, visit or to picnic but mostly just to "be" and be equal. And the public came. In this affirmative statement for human rights two lives were tragically and accidentally lost, but the lesson continues: no task is so great that it can't be accomplished by vision and a team effort.

Earvin "Magic" Johnson was told, "You're HIV-Positive. You have the AIDS virus" on October 25, 1991. He told Cookie, his new bride, and then, he told the world.

Above, Adrian Cole shares her pen and ink drawings of Magic. Below, Will Smith sends him a letter. Art student Michael Teter sketches Magic's name and number in two-point linear perspective. (lower, right) But it is Magic, with his shocking announcement, that gives everyone perspective: the AIDS epidemic has really hit home.

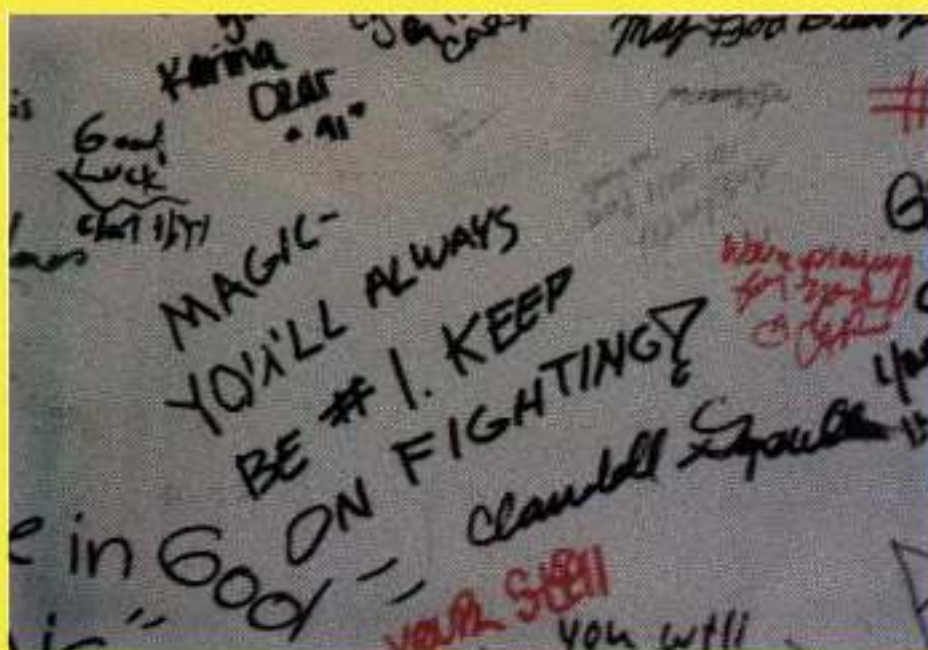

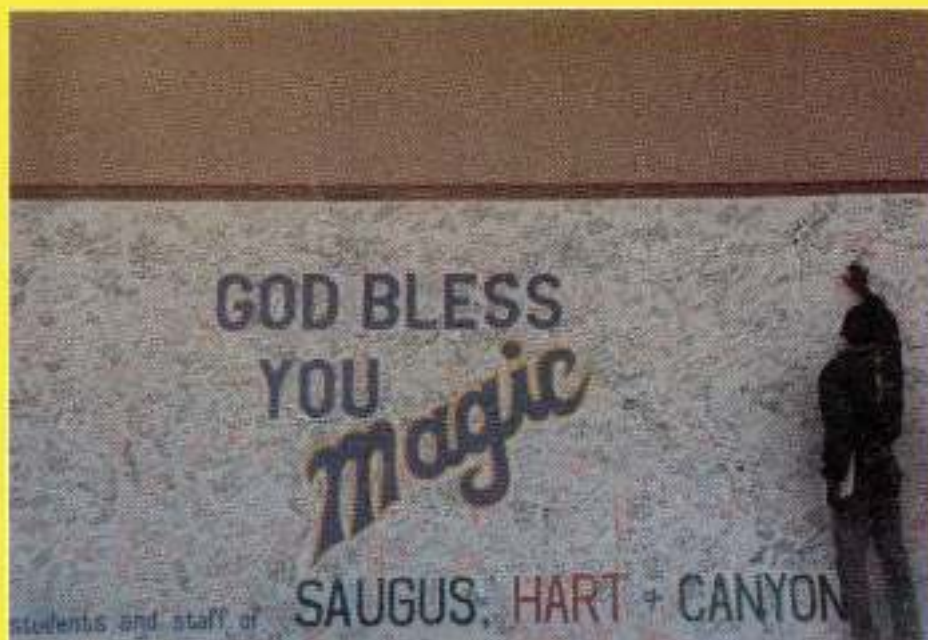

February 14, 1992

Magic vs. AIDS

In the Newspapers they say "the magic" stopped on the day Magic Johnson announced that he was HIV positive, but the magic did not stop. The magic will go on as long as he is remembered. All of Johnson's friends, family, and fans admire him for his courage. He is a great basketball player. His doctors told him that he should not play in the 1992 Olympics. He is going to play in the Olympics. That shows his courage and love for the game. Some members of the Australian team refuse to play in the Olympics if he plays in the 1992 Olympics. They think they might get the virus. I for one would be honored to play with him.

Will Smith

P.S. Good luck Magic.

Above, students from Hart, Saugus, and Canyon join together to sign an aply-sized card for a giant. Below, Richard Obenchain writes a poem.

Here's to you Magic World wide you're known
In a world full of music
You play your own time.
But we know what you're like
Beth inside and out
And no matter what happens
Whatever comes about
If horror should strike
from below or above
Never forget you have our love.

-Richard Obenchain

Johnson says, "The letters, telegrams and other expressions of support I received ... have been overwhelming. They've been as important to me as my doctors ... They've been part of my therapy." Yes, we care, he knows, and it does matter.

CROSS COUNTRY

...On the trail to greatness

Talk about a talented group of individuals! Talk about the Cross Country team! The girls' varsity team took Golden League. The guys fought hard and placed high in league. A great unit of dedicated runners is what composed this year's team. To have a group of individuals unite and give it their all, on grueling courses, is something that requires a show of respect. These athletes, these young women and men, have earned our appreciation and admiration.

The Girls Varsity Soccer Team experienced great success. They were the first team in six years to make it to the second round of playoffs for Canyon. When asked about the secret to their success members say that they tried their hardest and worked with determination to advance their way to the top. They remained undefeated through League. They had the ability to come back with lots of desire and decisiveness. Coach Harvey is awesome and helped them tremendously; he is an excellent influence. This team had many moments filled with energy and spirit. The results are in and they accomplished much.

"We learned the value of teamwork, and winning became a habit."

The Girls Junior Varsity team had a tremendous number of wins this season, going undefeated from beginning to end. A significant part of their success was credited to the friendship shared between the girls and their coach. Some of the girls called it, "bonding of the female species." They played best against the tougher teams like Quartz Hill, a game that was even played in the mud. They considered the Hart tournament a "shoot-out." They ended the season defeating a really tough Saugus team to take the league.

"We were a young team with a lot of talent."

SOCCER!!!

The Boys' Varsity soccer team made it through a rough season tackling some of the best teams in divisions 3 and 4. The Cowboys overcame steep obstacles to defeat a division 3 ranked 8th Burroughs Burbank team. The Cowboys, who were 1-5-4 in league, played some of the toughest Golden league teams. Despite a tough record, the Cowboys are looking to next season with a young team that has gained experience.

The Junior Varsity Team broke through significantly this season showing that they could go the distance undefeated. Team work and cooperation played a major role in the teams success. The Cowboys played a tough Quartz Hill and San Fernando game. The season, however, was considered most enjoyable especially playing cross-town rival Hart. The Cowboys were proud of their season and hope to carry it on next year.

If ever there was a team that dominated the volleyball court, that team would have to be this year's Girls' Varsity Volleyball team. These girls went all the way to the C.I.F. Quarterfinals undefeated. Have the idea yet? Talented, relentless, spirited-what can one say about these girls? All of these accurately describe all of the girls on the team. Team leaders such as Melysa Wilcox, Juli Mosier, Lisa Bussard, and Gina Sanchez led their team to one of the greatest seasons in the history of volleyball here at Canyon. Great defense, offense, and team cooperation were what led these girls to the level of quality in which they played. Credit must be given to Coach Linda Johnston who drilled her team to a standard of perfection that no other team could come close to achieving. There can only be one way to describe this year's Girls' Varsity Volleyball team: INTENSE!

...Hitting their way to the top

This years Girls' Junior Varsity volleyball team had a great season. Using the wide range of talents the girls on the team possessed, they played an unbeatable game. With such players as Heather Pilatic, Susan Brondell, and set by Carrie Essman, this years team was one of the best. Not only did good team play effect the girls' season, but strong coaching by Tami Aldrich brought the team to a high level of performance. Spirit and enthusiasm paid off, the Girls' Junior Varsity Volleyball team took Golden League.

This years Freshman Girls' Volleyball team had a great season. Their record, consisting of 8 wins and 2 losses, which were to Palmdale and Burroughs Ridgecrest, tells just how well these girls performed. "Our coach, Debbie Phillips, was great," said Erin Johnson, "she taught us a lot on the court as well as off." Whether it was great coaching or raw talent, these girls excelled all the way to first place.

"As the season progressed we became more confident . . ."

Rob Trilk

Pulling together was this year's theme for the Boys' Varsity Volleyball team. This season offered a chance for younger players to prove their skill at the Varsity level. With only three returning seniors, the team had to prove to themselves, as well as others, that they could go onto the court with confidence and determination. Their confidence showed throughout the season as the Cowboys went all the way to the second round of the C.I.F. finals. The team had a powerful offense consisting of such players as Rob Trilk, Joe Ferguson, Adrien Lorenzana and set by Brian Stires. The team jumped onto the court ready to win. And win they did, ending the season in second place in the Golden League.

The Junior Boys' Volleyball Team did surprisingly well this season coming out with a record of 7 wins and 3 losses. The Junior Varsity Team came together due to the inspirational leadership of Coach Linda Johnston and setter Brian Garrison. Brian Garrison played a very big role on the court as a setter; he was a part of every play. Yet it goes without saying that if it were not for the team as a whole, they wouldn't have had the outstanding season they played.

Freshman Dan Flynn is second best player on the Golf team. Dan is an incredible player for only playing for 3 years. When asked who his golf role models were he answered, "Payne Stewart and Jay Wolter." He enjoys the team because "it gives me a chance at meeting new people." To people looking to join the team Dan's advice is "to work hard." "Golf can be stressful, but if you set your mind to it one can achieve anything."

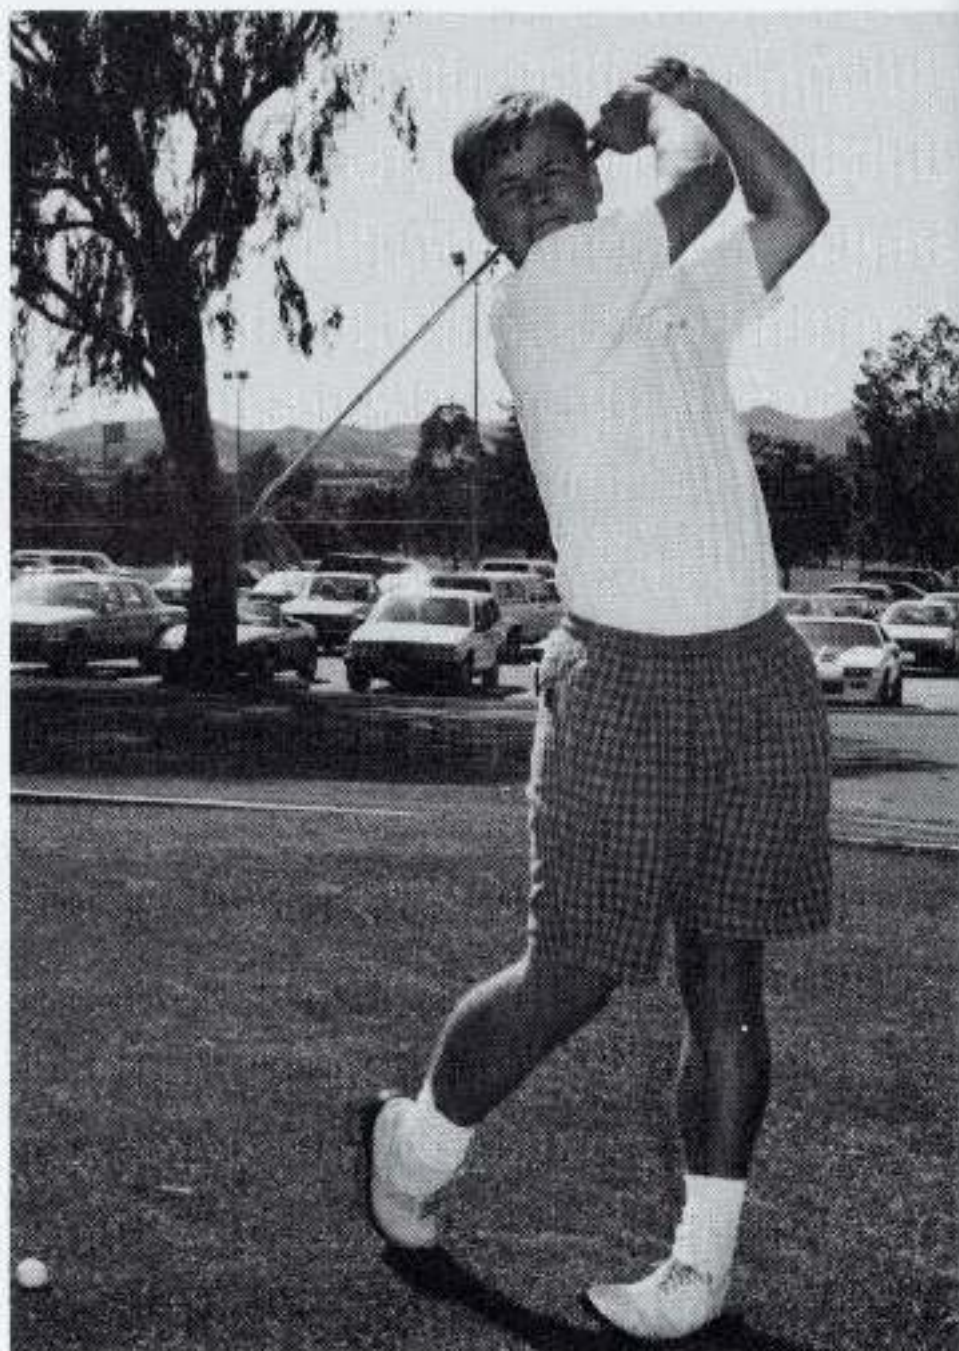

By Karen Spencer

The Golf team soared to great heights. The team was led by Coach Bob Meyers and Assistant Coaches Richard Kilgore and Ed Poturalski. When Coach Meyers was asked what his most important match was he answered, "The last Golden League match at Antelope Valley. We won by 32 strokes, to win the league championship. This 1st place earned our school its first league championship ever." With key players, Jason Wolter and newcomer Dan Flynn, the team was able to clinch 1st place in their division. Jason Wolter has achieved being Golden League champion and averages 76.9 strokes per match. Due to his great efforts, Jason qualified to participate in C.I.F. individual championship. The golf team has proven to be an exceptional team, that is open to both boys and girls. (Jason Wolter-right)

Miah Sparks keeps an eye out for what's behind him!

The Canyon Swim team had an extraordinary season this year competing and pulling the plug on some of the best. Canyon faced tough competition this year. The varsity girls were led by such swimmers as Corrine Gibson, Krista Zieler, and Shari Hischer. The boys were led by Mike Engbrecht, Tex Gibson, and a speedy David Wong. The Cowboys were constantly competitive and often proved themselves as the more talented team.

"The best part of basketball is the pressure of the game when the scores are close."

The thrill of the practices, the roar of the crowds, and the excitement of winning; these are not uncommon feelings of the Varsity basketball players. Among the team's many mentionable accomplishments was the stomping of Saugus. For the varsity players that have played all four years, this was the first time that they defeated the Saugus team!

When talking about Jason Wolter, Coach Hayes stated that "... he made a courageous comeback from a bad knee injury to provide stability and maturity for our team. He was a leader of a very special group of seniors."

A second player that should not be left unmentioned is Brent Stout. He provided a tremendous amount of energy into helping his team work their way up to many victories. Although the team was young, working together and positive energy definitely paid off!

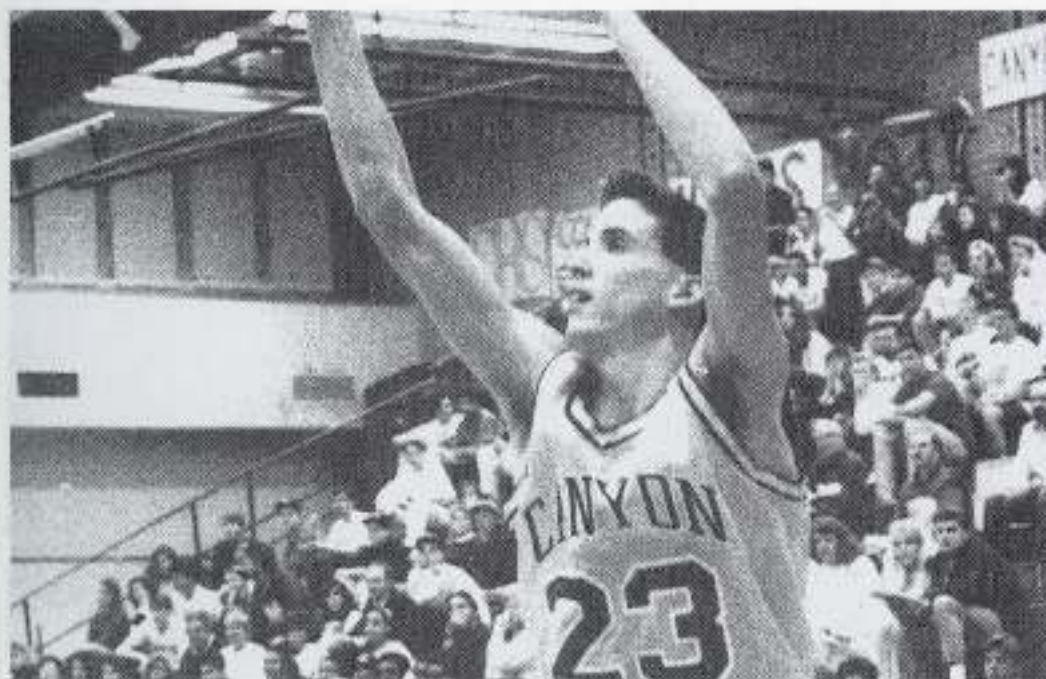

Mr. Albert, Mr. Lynch, and Mr. Kerr not only teach history in the classroom but record it on the basketball court! (Above)

Striving to work their way up to the top, the Boys' J.V. Team were always able to stay close to opponents. This team consisted of five talented juniors and twelve inspiring sophomores. These seventeen hardworking players achieved goals such as 84-35 win over Don Lugo, and a 74-61 victory over Morningside; both were pre-league games. Altogether, the team showed dynamic efforts and strong, supportive attitudes towards teammates and coaches.

Brian Connelly of the freshmen team said that "even though we didn't have a winning season this year, Coach Jeff White got us well prepared for the years to come." The freshmen worked hard and learned the meaning of teamwork. Players such as Sean Delong proved himself to be strong, positive player for the team. He demonstrated a growing improvement throughout the season.

"The best part of Basketball is the unity of the team and the challenges of the game," said Varsity Basketball Player, Wendy Wiggins. Wendy has put many hours of hard work into Canyon Basketball since her freshman year. She has been described as inspiring and admirable. As a junior, Wendy recalled a moment in time while she was playing on the freshman team. "With four seconds left, I got fouled and one free throw would have won the game. When I shot my first free throw I missed, but when I shot my second one, I made it and we won the game!"

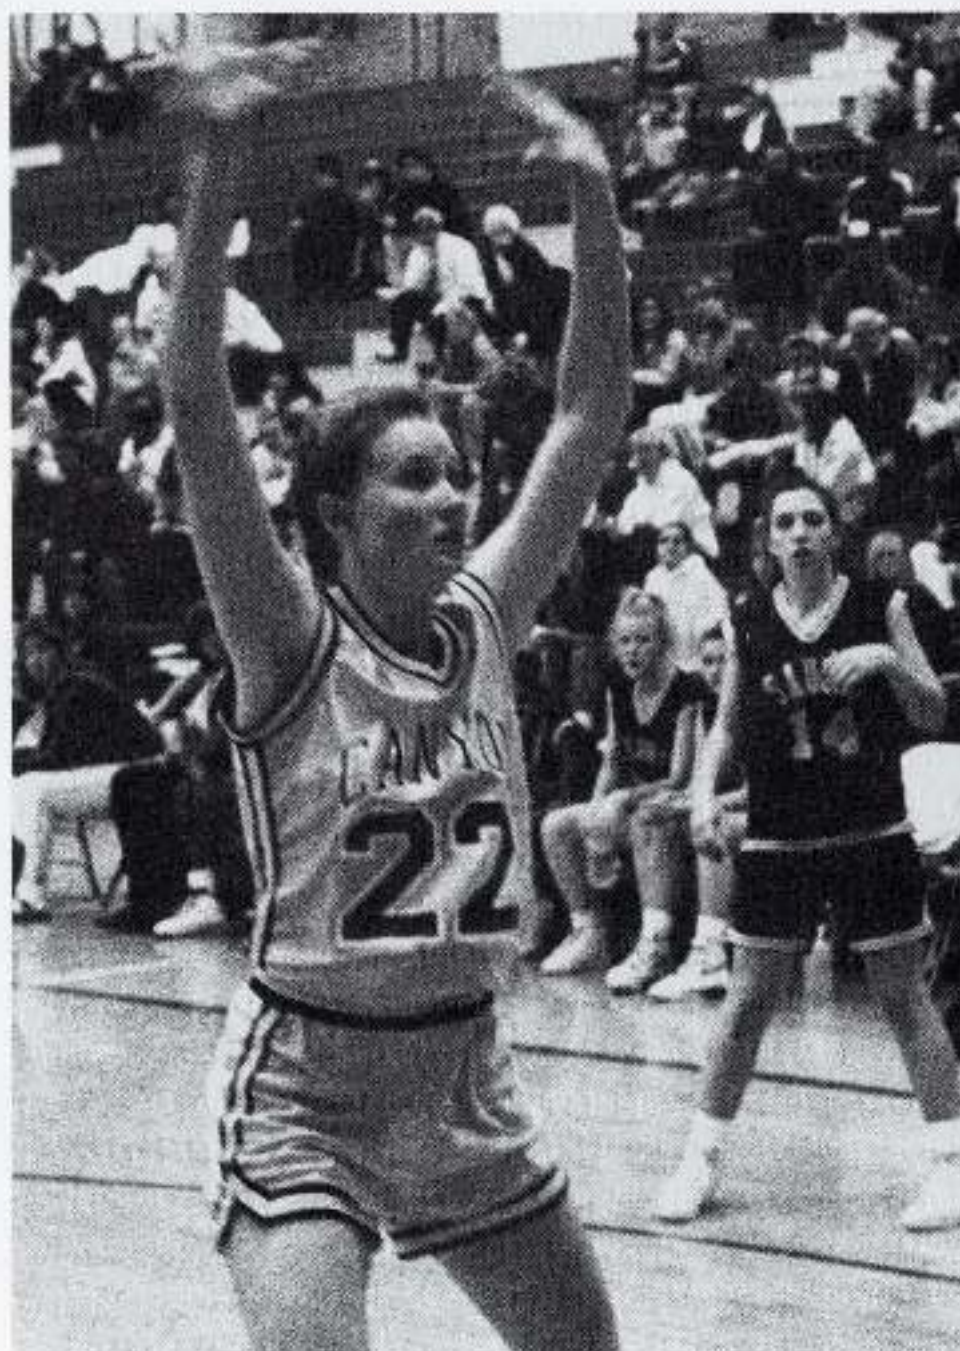

Wendy Wiggins

Beauty, brains and talent. What more could you ask for in a girl? This year's Girls' Varsity Basketball Team possessed all of these qualities and more. "They're a great bunch of girls with some good futures ahead of them. These girls went into the season with their heads up, lots of energy and good attitudes," said Coach Robert Collins (also known as Rocket). Two very strong points of the team were good attitudes and without a doubt, the character of each individual girl on the team.

"I have a great deal of respect for Rocket. I love the team as if they were my family," said a returning senior, Terra Bruessel. Along with Terra, Lucy Campos was a second returning senior on the team. Lucy said that the most memorable part of the season was when Canyon beat Hart for the first time in the four years that she played for Canyon. Lucy didn't get to play much this year because of a knee injury.

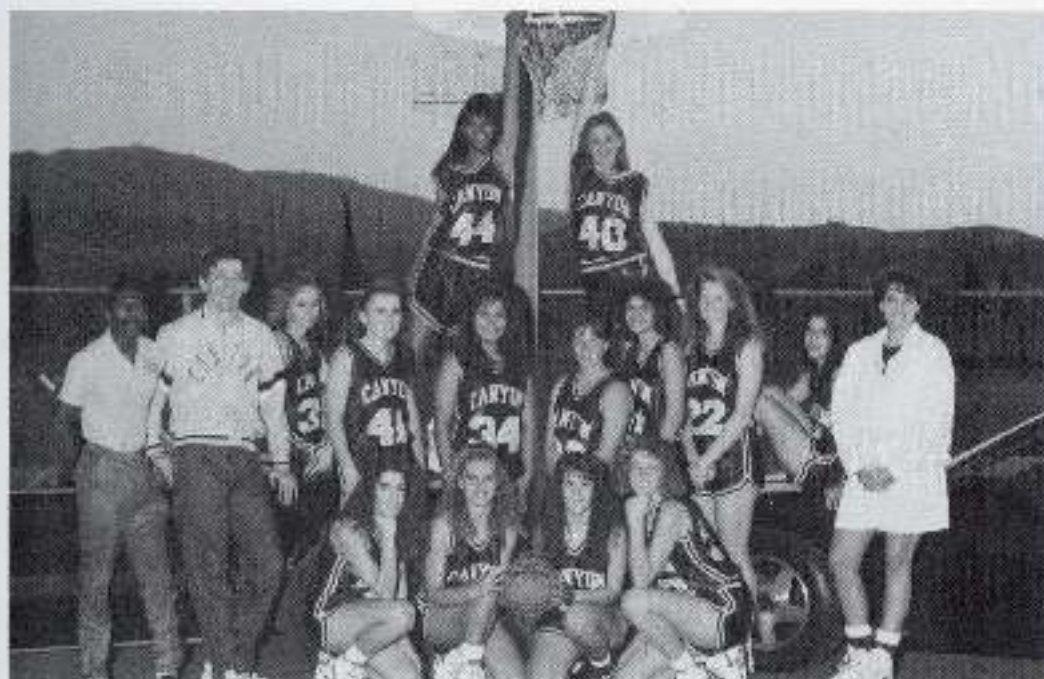

The team consisted of two starting freshmen, and five seniors. Freshman Laura Tweedy said that being on the Varsity team was awkward at first, but with time, she found that she fit in well. The experiences that were shared and the friendships that developed will not be soon forgotten.

Left, Kerl Lemasters concentrates as she prepares for a free throw. Below Jenny Rinkenberger shows her moves on the court as she tries to steal an in bound pass.

According to Coach Colebank of the Junior Varsity basketball team, the players all have an extremely bright future ahead of them. "The girls learned a whole new program. They caught on very quickly." For a team that just about started from scratch, these JV girls and coach showed a ton of talent and optimistic attitudes throughout the entire season, accomplishing victories such as beating a cross-town rivalry, Saugus, not once- but twice!

The freshmen team also soared high this year, accomplishing season-set goals. The team worked as a well-equipped machine, where every team member put in her own efforts and hard work. "Coach Dorsey tried to help us as much as she could," said Kelly Furman. "Hopefully we can all unite as a team next year!"

"To be successful, you must go the distance and that's what our team did."

Carmen Villaseñar

Once upon a time there lived a sweet group of girls who played catch in the grass on Sundays . . . NOT!! Varsity softball was anything but sweet to opponents. These girls played rough, hard, and mean softball. They grabbed any opportunity they could get to discourage other teams. They cost Saugus High the League title by beating them in the last league game. This group of athletic girls slammed their way to make themselves the second best softball team in Canyon's history! They slid all the way to the third round of CIF—only one game away from the semifinals.

How did they do all of this? Lot's of talent, dedication, and teamwork. "Once we got on the field, we put any and all personal problems behind us and played some hard Canyon Softball!", said third baseman, Charrise Lightfoot. "The best part of the season was going into every game knowing that we were the underdog, and coming out the winners!"

Allison Day debates on whether to proceed to third base or not. Better make up your mind quick, Allison!

When this group of excited Junior Varsity and Freshman girls got together as teams, they meant business! To the teams, softball was not only a game, but a strategic challenge. When they put their minds to something, it was accomplished. After losing to Burroughs Ridgecrest by one point, the goal of the J.V. team was to go back and take a victory from them. When those girls met up with Burroughs again, they took them 10-5!

Included in the freshmen's victories are a 23-2 win over Hart, and a 12-11 victory over Saugus—we took both of our cross-town rivalries on! As for some special recognition, Lissy Caldera earned the Most Improved Academic Athlete Award, Kassi Lemasters earned the Best Hitter/Most Valuable Player, and Shalyn Martinez earned the Most Inspirational Award!!

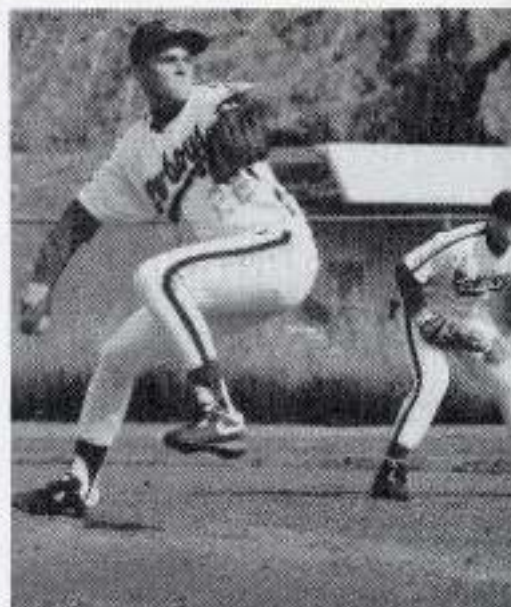

Brandy Parrish dives for the ball as Karrie Brode backs her up. Team works is always best!

The Varsity baseball team seemed to struggle early in the season, but made an incredible recovery, making it to C.I.F. The team, coached by Scott Willis, is made up of many exceptional players. One of them is Bill Sivley. Bill has played baseball for 4 years in high school; three of those years he played Varsity. Bill plays first base, but is also an exceptional batter. Other star players are pitcher Brian Avaxian, shortstop Andy Cleland, second baseman Chad Engbrecht, and catcher Chuck Schuster. Overall the baseball team not only did well individually, but combined as a team, they played with much determination and force.

The freshman baseball team seemed to play with confidence and with the right to do so. The team is coached by Frank Bildner and Assistant Coach Vinny Gallegos. The team's hard work paid off, making it possible to win Golden League with a record of 14-2 for the season. Freshman Eric Schmidt proved to be an excellent offensive player and on the defense are players Ron Jones and James Danforth. The "bench" also encouraged the players to play their best.

Being at the top isn't easy, but for the J.V. team it's something they worked hard at and managed to achieve. The J.V. team was at the top of their league for the majority of the season. The team started out the season with a 6-0 record and also beat rival-school Hart. The returning team players from the year before seemed to improve this year. According to Mike Kling, his hopes for next year's team is that they'll "keep the same attitude, win league and make it to C.I.F." Mike was the best offensive player on the team. He played first base but also led the team in hits, home runs, walks and at bats. The J.V. team was coached by Larry Rorick, a first year coach, who obviously knows what he is doing, bringing the team to play with high standards and incredible effort.

As for the freshman team each player, as well as the determination of the coaches, led the Freshman team to outstanding records.

"A leader should strive to make her team the best." Jennie Stevenson is a junior and the No. 1 singles on the girls' team. When asked what she accomplished this year, she replied, "A more focused game and better determination."

Although this years Girls' Varsity tennis team had few returning players, they went against all odds and had as Dania Driggs stated, "a successful season."

After Coach Holomon analyzed each individual girl she picked a chemistry of single and doubles teams that placed third in the Golden League. This years team had strong and dedicated players including senior Katie McKeon, Jennie Stevenson, Anne Michaelsson, who along with their teammates, worked together to be the best they could be. Mrs. Holomon said, "I'm really proud of these girls, they were determined and grew together like a team should." The overall record this year was 8-4 with a 7-3 mark in the Golden League, good enough to send them into C.I.F. where they made it into the second round.

"We did what was expected to achieve our goal," proclaimed the Boys Varsity Team. As a team, they took and kept on taking. They performed like no other team in the Golden League. Not only were they awesome as a team, they kicked up a storm as individuals. Everyone provided necessary points to accomplish a season that was worth remembering. They loved getting those tans on hot days and continually supported one another. Even when the odds were against them they played to the best of their ability especially the contest played against Quartz Hill which they most enjoyed for the competition. This spectacular team took second place in the Golden League!

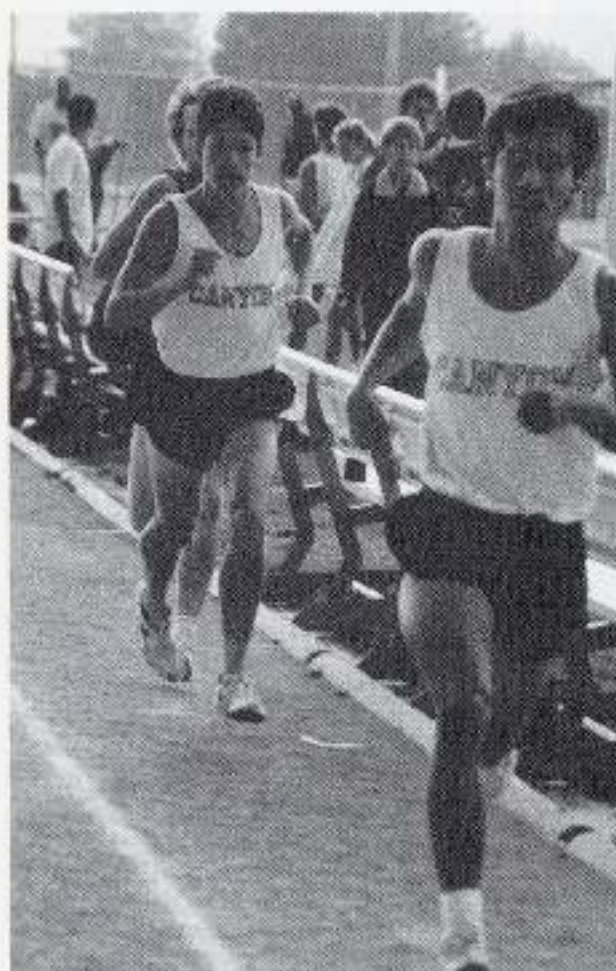

For the third year in a row the Cowboy J.V. Tennis Team has been undefeated in league. The team did better than they expected with an awesome record of 15-0 in league. You can't ask for much more than that! The cowboys worked well together and are proud of their league-winning streak, along with the players who will be returning next year that plan to carry on the proud tradition to the new Foothill league. Watch out next year as this team turns varsity!

"It's been a very memorable year. We achieved far more than we thought we would."

The Canyon Track team had another sensational season, winning 6 of 9 meets this year. They faced a tough loss against Quartz Hill. Canyon was the team to beat this year. Canyon struck fear in the hearts of their opponents as they constantly raced, threw, and leapt to victory. Canyon also took most of the medals in the invitationals and took almost two thirds of the medals in the S.C.V. invitationals.

The Canyon football team overcame many obstacles to become one of the best teams in So. Cal.; they made it to Division I quarter finals!

The Cowboys faced a tough pre-season schedule playing teams from Hart, T.O., and Long Beach Milliken. The Cowboys who were 3-1-1 in the pre-season were forced to forfeit two games due to an ineligible player, leaving them 5-5.

The season opener against Quartz Hill and A.V. dealt the Cowboys two losses. The Cowboys win the next three game outscoring their opponents 97-14, shutting out two teams.

The Cowboys opened post-season play against the tough Santa Ana team. In a packed stadium the Cowboys win 35-13. The Cowboys then faced their biggest challenge, Eisenhower, who ranked No. 1 in the nation. The Cowboys suffered a defeat, ending their season 6-6.

The Cowboys were gifted with the talent of several standout athletes: Jim Zopelis, Chris Spahr, Craig Reiter, Josh Van Deventer, Mike Kurtz, Steve Hallett, Chad Engbrecht, and Mike Torres. Other standouts included Chad Brown, Brian Scheffler, and David Pratchard. Three players singled out this year: Bill Sivley, as one of the top 10 tightends in California; sophomore Ed Williams who broke Chris Perry's single-season rushing record by rushing for 1577 yards; Chuck Osborne received honors on three all-state teams, all C.I.F., and numerous other honors, including being voted one of the top three defensive lineman in the western United States.

"If something is not important to you, you won't try hard to reach it. But if you really care about something you will find a way to get it done."

The Sophomore and Freshman football teams had exceptional seasons. The Sophomores end up with a record of 5-5 and the Freshman with a record of 8-2.

The Sophomore team is led by the attacks of Sean Connelly and Jared McKeon in the air and Arash Kiankhooy (a.k.a. A.K.) and Joe Kurtz on the ground. The battered Cowboys came from a 1-4 preseason to take league going 4-1 losing only to a tough Palm-dale team.

The Freshman look off to an awesome start going 5-0 in the preseason and an overall record of 8-2. They were consistently led by the powerful running of Corey Steinbach and the great leadership of Brian Bialas.

ATHLETE

OF THE YEAR

Chuck Osbourne receives his Athlete of the Year Award. Chuck received numerous All-American Honors for football.

Chuck Osbourne threw shot-put on the boys varsity track team for three years winning league all three years and going to CIF. Chucks biggest accomplishment, however, was football. He went to varsity his freshman year for playoffs and started defensive line every year after. Chuck received the highest of honors this past year; he was voted a Blue Chip All-American First Team number-four-ranked defensive lineman in the country, Tom Lemming All American Super-Prep All American, All State First Team, Press Telegram 'Best in the West', All C.I.F. Southern Section, All CIF Team MVP, Golden League Player of the year, All SCV and the MVP at the Shawn Akena Memorial Classic.

Chuck Osbourne was proud of his team claiming that, "in spite of distractions, we had an exceptional season." Coach Welch was his biggest influence, teaching him to be the best he could be. Chuck is going to Arizona on a football scholarship where he wants to major in sociology.

Keri Lemasters gets ready for the next serve in her 3rd season of volleyball. She also participated in softball and basketball.

When you think of volleyball, softball, and basketball one instantly focuses on Keri Lemasters. In her freshman year Keri began her list of accomplishments. She was voted MVP for both volley and basketball. However, she played varsity softball her freshman year and was chosen Most Inspirational and was quickly chosen First Team All-League and All-SCV. Her Sophomore year was not much different only this time the level of play for volleyball and basketball was varsity. She continued to dominate on the courts helping her volleyball team to a league championship. She also continued to excel in softball, once again, becoming a First Team All-Leaguer and All-SCV. The funny thing is that Keri is only a junior and yet has a full year of sports to go. Her junior year was her best ever. She took the Coaches Award, MVP, First Team All League, Most-Aggressive in Softball, and Honorable Mention in League for volleyball.

Keri wants to go to Westpoint where she will major in political science and history and then some day run for Congress. Good luck Keri!

SCHOLAR ATHLETE

OF THE YEAR

Seth Sushinsky receives his Scholar Athlete Award. Seth participated in Varsity Tennis all four years while maintaining a 4.27 GPA.

Seth Sushinsky not only excelled in tennis but in academics. Seth played on the varsity team for the past four years, he was voted MVP and ranked number one on the Oakwood tennis ladder. He also enjoyed basketball at church and long-distance cycling. But Seth didn't stop on the courts, in the classroom he maintained a 4.27 GPA. He participated in CSF, NHS, ASB, Spanish Honors Society, Pony Express, Brainstormers, Safe Rides, and took part in the Youth-in Government in the SCV. Seth has won the CIF Southern Section Most Exceptional Achievement Award three years in a row, the John Negrin Memorial Scholarship, and he was a Bank of America plaque winner.

Seth plans to attend UCLA as a pre-med honor student. His dad was his biggest influence and he remembers best when his dad went with the tennis team to Burroughs Ridgecrest and almost got stuck babysitting them over night due to heavy snowfall.

THANK YOU
TO MR. RICH OBAR,
VICE PRINCIPAL IN CHARGE OF CO-
CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES.

Juli Moiser receives her Scholar Athlete Award. Juli ran track and played volleyball while maintaining a 4.17 GPA.

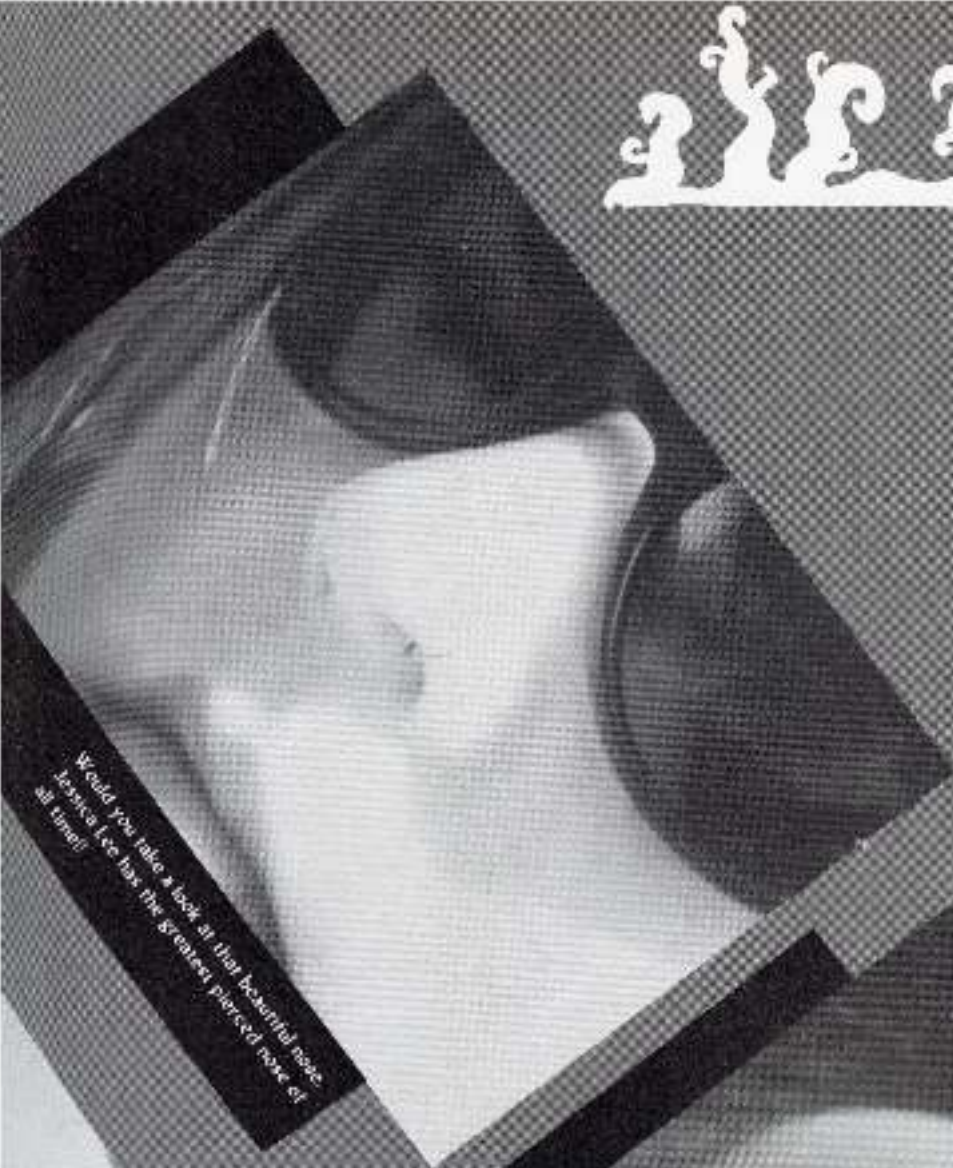

Juli Moiser is our female Scholar Athlete of the Year. She has maintained a 4.17 GPA while competing in volleyball and track. She was a major threat on the volleyball court for four consecutive seasons. A teammate said "She never quit; she was always aggressive". She was voted MVP, received All-SCV and Golden League honors in volleyball in '91. She ran the hurdles on the track team; Julie was Rookie of the Year in '89 and received MVP honors in '90 and '92. Also in '90 she received tracks' Academic Athlete and in '91 was chosen Most Valuable Sprinter. Juli's most memorable moment is from her freshman year. Her team was trailing in the one-mile relay. In the last leg of the race Juli came through to win the race and the League Championship.

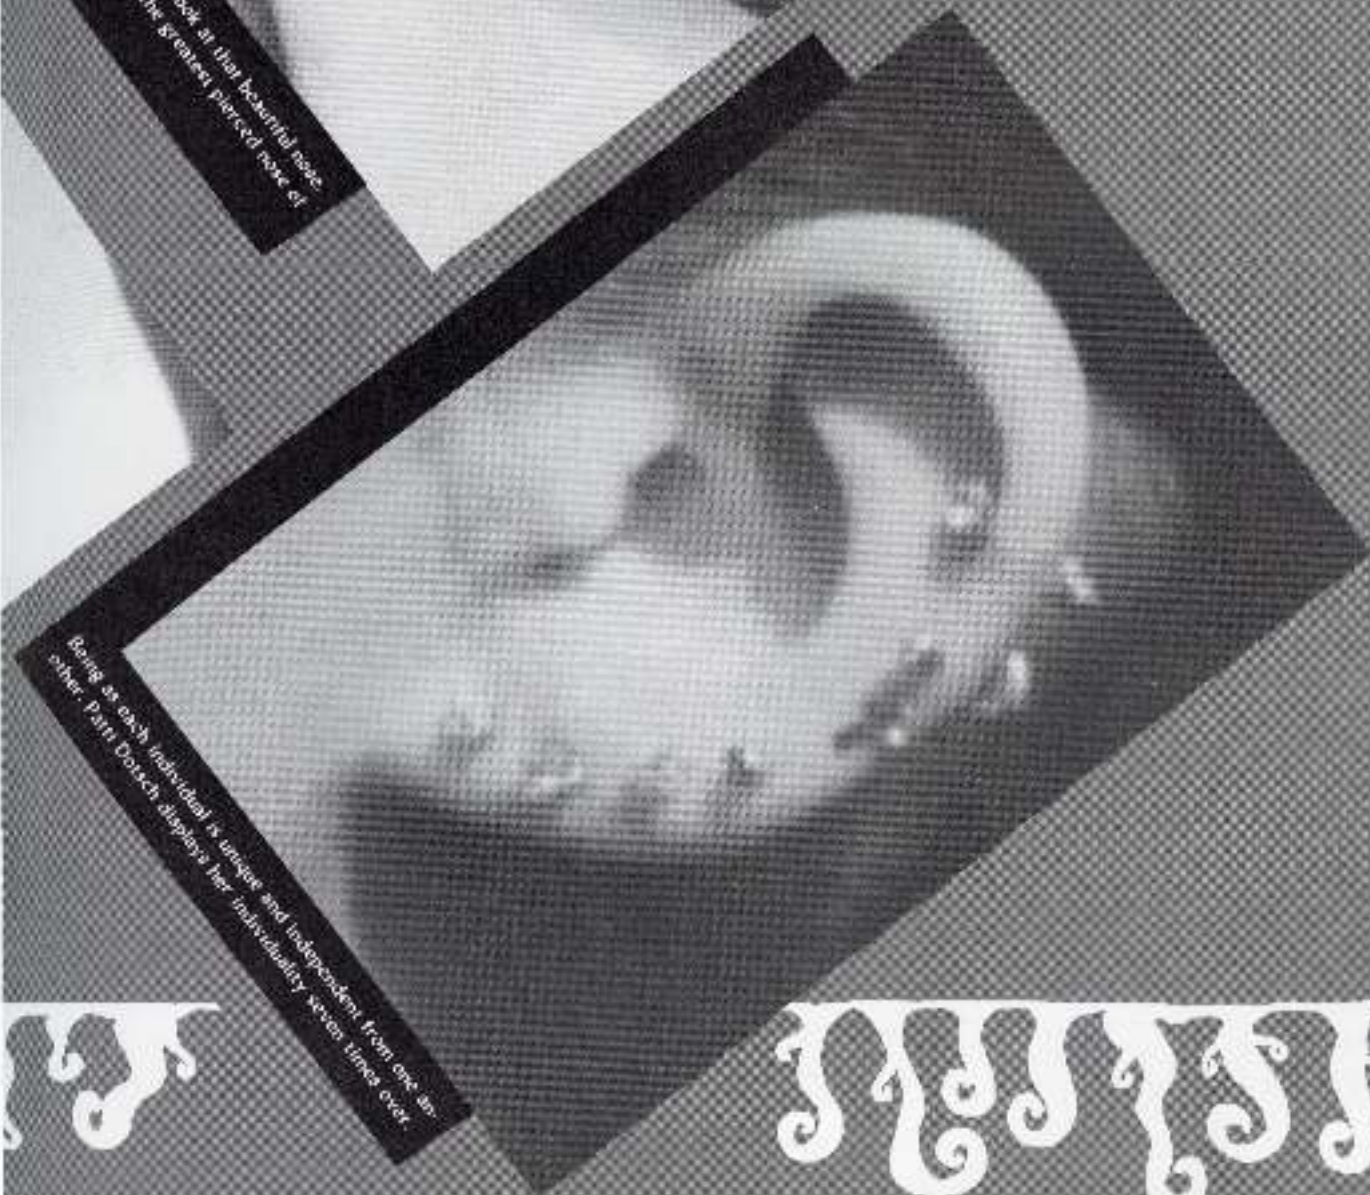

Juli plans to attend UCSB or UCSD as a history major, still pursuing sports. She plans to become a lawyer. Her biggest influence is her sister. She pushes Juli to be "better in everything".

Sparks of Energy

To whom does this pierced navel belong, no? Why the proud owner is none other than the illustrious Coby Redfern. (no, it didn't hurt)

Would you take a look at that beautiful nose.
Jessica Lee has the greatest pierced nose of all time!

Being as each individual is unique and independent from one another, Pam Dorach displays her individuality seven times over.

Seniors

Four years of High School have whizzed past; now our Senior year draws to a close. Memories in the shape of celluloid rolls and paper slips of the class of '92 will always remain.

The present is the culmination and acceptance of the past as it is the realization of the future. The past is what has happened, the present is what is, and the future is what inevitably will happen. For those minds ahead of us to look at what we've done—now in the present—and study it as past, for those future persons to learn from us as we have learned from those in our past, is reason enough for us—as beings living in the present—to extract the maximum amount of life from this moment. This now, this time in space is the most important time because it will soon be past.

This now is the realization of our lives, it's the realization of our actions, and through this accomplishment we are alive; we've attained this greater purpose, we've attained LIFE!!!

We are the sparks of energy that light the night sky. Our intense energy will never extinguish!!

Mark White, 'Canyon Knight', has been playing tennis since he was a freshman. He started his football career as a junior and also played as a senior. A memorable moment is when, in the third quarter of the Homecoming game, he broke his arm. He had a cast for four weeks, luckily it was removed in time for him to participate in the Eisenhower game on November 29th. His most embarrassing moment is having his "picture in the football program". If he could change anything it would be to be "twenty pounds heavier".

Mark says that little ears make him special. Parents are okay but outspoken people are on his list of pet peeves. His favorite movie is "Cape Fear" and he likes reggae and 'metal' music. He spends most of his time with Josh Van Deventer and Josh's two brothers. They enjoy riding motorcycles. After graduation he is looking forward to some free time and then college.

As you can see Mark White is 'out-of-sight'.

A Senior with vision looks forward to her future, "I look forward to handling my own responsibilities, going to college and trying to reach my goals." This statement enlightened us as to Aida's future goals. In the future she intends to attend a Junior College, eventually marry and run her own business.

Aida believes that always being there for her friends makes her special. Her musical tastes are R&B and rap. Her pet peeves are when girls fuss over themselves or when skinny girls go around saying they're fat. The hardest year for her was freshman year when everything was new to her.

Aida says she respects her mother the most because she set a good example for her and she's someone to look up to because she's always there when you need her.

Some of her memorable accomplishments are her place on the honor roll and her involvement in T.I.M.E.

Alicia Broderick is a girl with a goal. She hopes to attend U.C.L.A. and major in broadcast journalism. She aspires to eventually be a broadcast journalist on a television station. As a highly energetic student, Alicia involved herself in ASB as well as dance and drill; last year she was appointed captain. Along with drill team, she is the news editor of the Pony Express. Alicia describes herself as energetic, determined and outspoken. Her friends have described her as a good friend and a great captain. Her pet peeves are people who smoke and people who do nothing but complain. Alicia said her most embarrassing moment was at her first drill team competition. "My skirt (that was only held on with velcro) fell off as we were on the field competing. I only had a skimpy leotard on underneath. I was so embarrassed, but I went back and picked it up ... in the middle of the show!" When talking about graduation, she said, "All of the good and bad times that I have experienced in high school will be tied together as steps toward that moment."

A senior and an athlete, Mike Torres is an individual who holds great promise for the future.

Mike has been involved with Canyon Football since his freshman year of high school. The spark that first set off his passion of football was a childhood friend, this influenced has led Mike through a high school football career.

Mike is a strong individual with outstanding goals. His unique frame of mind sets him apart from the stereotypical "Jock," and he prides himself on his style and fashion sense. In the future Mike intends on furthering his goals. Mike's goal is that of becoming a physical therapist. He has witnessed firsthand the help physical therapists can offer athletes, and would like to contribute to the health of future athletes.

Being the senior she is, Jerriann Glassnap is beaming with joy at the Senior Picnic as she smiles.

To the left we find Johnny Snook displaying his individuality. Embracing himself in crossed fashion Johnny cocks his head to the right with that G-Q charm. A senior, Johnny is currently involved in Canyon Drama.

While below, Andy Ness is sporting the "I just swallowed a sour ball" look. He's either winking at someone, puckering for that kiss, or sneering (possibly all three). Andy is definitely an individual with ambition. Andy plans on attending a school of photography.

Directly above: Deep in thought Cody Redfern is unaware of the camera's presence. Cody is a senior who brightened up the campus this school year. Her unique sense of fashion displayed her personality.

Adrian Lorenzana can very well be considered the most unique individual at Canyon High. He said that the biggest contribution to his individuality is his humor. His proudest accomplishment at Canyon was contributing in the volleyball tournament at UCLA during his junior year, yet his biggest regret was "not being academically inclined." When asked what he looked forward to most after graduation, he responded, "No more waking up at 7:59 for school!"

"I'd like to thank all the little people who made this possible," said Jim Zapella standing with friends Kristie Mercado and Sarah Trudell.

Adrian has proved himself to be school spirited and to have an all around positive outlook on life. He enjoys listening to music by Red Hot Chili Peppers, Primus, Nervona, The Specials, and Selector. In his spare time, Adrian enjoys snow boarding, hanging out with his "chums", and mud whomping in his truck he calls "Slugo".

Friends socialized with each other, having fun in the sun at the annual Senior Picnic. Here we see: Andrea Harkins, Carolyn Harlan, Brenda Gomez, Nadine Miller, Jerriann Glasenapp, and Jane Daskalos.

Shannon Moseley and Carrie Lawrence pose for the camera as they relax in the shade.

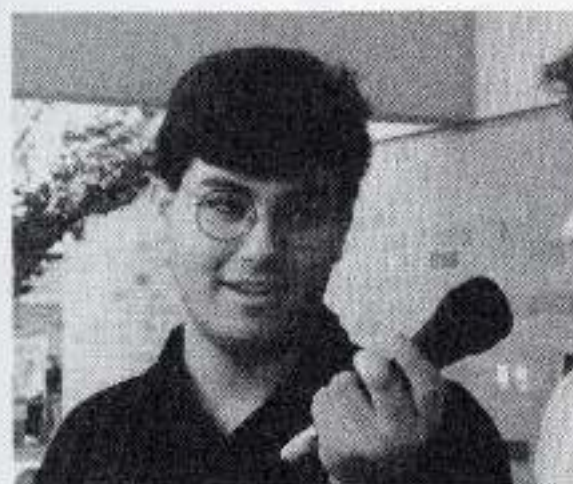

Kristen Howard speaks out about racism.

Ron Ippolito shows off his leadership abilities at one of the class competitions. . . . "getting involved in school activities changed my life. I'm glad I did it."

Nick, is that food on it's way in or on it's way out? The senior picnic, as always, provided the food while students like Nick Lusica provided the fun.

We can't forget our exchange students who always made a difference. Canyon wouldn't be the same without them. Pictured here is Anne Mikaelsson and Susann Haggeborg.

What would high school be like without seniors? Face it, seniors added the character to our campus. Towards the end of the year every senior was overflowing with excitement, anticipation, and so much energy, that some underclassmen may not have recognized those cool, civilized mature seniors that they once knew. If you looked close enough, you could see huge energy waves flowing from senior-to-senior. It all started with the senior picnic. Next thing you knew, they were on a senior cruise followed by a recognition night, prom, graduation . . . What's next? Disneyland?! On one hand the seniors couldn't wait to "GET OUT OF HERE!", on the other hand, they had to say goodbye to friends that they spent four years of their lives with from English class to Winter Formals. Although these seniors said goodbye to some of the best years of their lives, they all opened a door to new and exciting adventures for themselves in their futures. Let's see . . . Robin Heidt as a future Olympic runner and Jim Zopelis as a presidential campaign manager, holding a sign saying "Elect for President. Republican Daryn King." Whatever the future may hold for '92 graduating seniors, may the best of opportunities come upon you. Good luck class of 1992!

On May 16, 1992, it was "Almost Paradise" for the seniors and juniors that attended the Senior Prom. The highlight of the evening was when Chris Spahr and Kim Wilson were crowned King and Queen. For all who attended, this will be a night to remember for all the years to come.

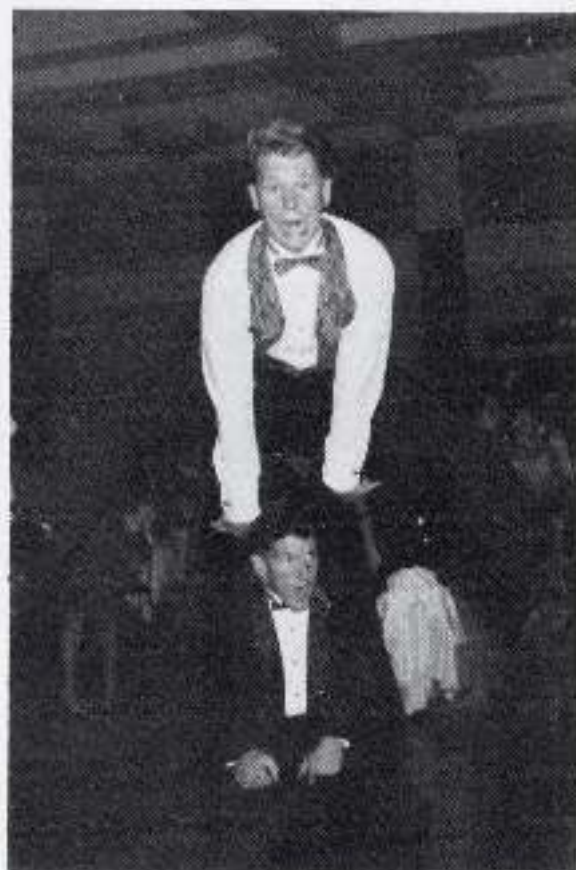

By: Kelly Williams

Slap a wet one on me baby! Both Josh Malneck and Chris Spahr were swept away by the fun and romance in the air.

The night of the Senior Cruise was a night no senior in their right mind could ever forget! Despite arriving late, the night was filled with good times. Sure, the bus driver took us to the wrong port, and we were all pretty tired of sitting in the bus, yet when we arrived at the right port, we had a blast!! With food, dancing, "gambling", and the announcement of the "Senior Bests", Saturday, June 4, 1992 was one of the most memorable nights of our Senior year.

MOST INSPIRATIONAL TEACHER
Mr. Burill

After the bus ride, what was eagerly welcomed by all was the grub! (left to right) Joe De La Rosa, Michelle Primicerio, Millie Guzman, Danielle Armstrong, and Russ Raffkin.

Enjoying the dancing just as much as everyone else was campus supervisor Joe (Jocko-narc).

Yeah, so I've got a chip in my hand, what of it? Tom Webster enjoyed the gambling.

"Get down, Hoogie Oogie Oogie Oogie". Dancing the night away was Bruce Fu. Everyone enjoyed the cruise that brought the senior class together for one final night.

Graduation

Yes, we made it!! Bursting with excitement is one of Canyon's brightest students.

Far below, Walking arm in arm down the pathway to their futures are Sean Owen, Nicole Trochez, Jenna Reardon, and Darin King.

Directly below: The joy and anticipation of graduation is evident here as Ron Ippolito and Dr. White embrace.

Graduation can be defined as a commencement, to have a first existence, to begin in a new state of character or a rebirth into the "real" world.

This year's class has taken a new rise in full knowledge of themselves in this light. They are the best and brightest group of individuals that has emerged from the womb of Canyon High. Once out from that safe place, every graduate faces the uncertainty of this outside world. Yet the enthusiasm swelling within each graduate is intense enough to set any fears by the side, and high expectations rise once again.

The class of '92 will shine ever on.

—Thebes

Far left: In an eloquent speech directed to the graduates, Desire Sagray asked questions which prompted much thought. Her speech dealt with dreams and choices in life.

Eagerly, yet patiently, waiting behind the scenes at graduation, are Valedictorian Rima Ahmad, and Salutatorian Mike Hubbard.

Because he's a bit shy, Mike didn't deliver a speech, so Rima with "the help of her friends" did so.

Right: In his last address to Canyon's graduates, Dr. White made a moving analogy between Disney's "Beauty and the Beast" and life in general.

Juniors

The Junior class is a groovin', shoe-lace-lovin', 3-D group of chickens. They are the Canyon-folk who shall inherit the earth? No. "Who shall inherit the Canyon High School campus in the Fall of 1993."

This diverse group of poultry will be the movers and shakers of this campus in '93. The goal of this group is campus dominance, a goal that shall successfully be achieved. These sparks of energy will definitely glow in the school year to come.

Who, or what really make up the sophomore class? This class consists of a group of highly energetic and creative individuals. These cool-cats are going to be roaming the campus for several years to come. They have the ability to help shape and mold this campus. The class of '94 will emerge from this high school with some of the most incredible ideas! Ideas that were fostered right here, at this very school. These cool-cats have the energy.

Below: The coolest-cat of all time—Lee Winbornel But just what is it he wants to say? Middle: Hey I'm tired O.K.—Mike Kling stands shirtless after a hard day working out.

Above: Who can decide on what to focus on these days? Erica Eichman, Kirk and Hal Hodgson can't seem to make up their minds.

What are you hiding? Karen Necessary hides something. Funny huh?

Mr. Lynch thinks that there is always enough time for a coffee break!

The Academic Decathlon showed off the intelligence of many students representing Canyon High. 70 schools gathered on the campus of San Gabriel High School, to compete in a day-long series of events. This team achieved excellence, placing eighth out of seventy. Captain Ron Ippolito led the team with seven medals. Desiree Sagray, Becky Rodriguez, and Miguel Olano all earned two medals, while Scott Beltz earned one for the Super Quiz. Altogether, Canyon did a great job, and placed higher than ever.

The Varsity Cheerleading squad pushes through the year with spirit and enthusiasm.

parked-up

"Go! Fight! Win!" Where would the students be without our cheerleading squad members to lift our spirits? Cheerleaders are an integral part of this school whether it be performing cheers, dances, or stunts in front of thousands at a rally or a game, or staying after school to make posters, that root on the athletic teams. Our cheerleaders have shown through their hard work and determination, that their dedication to support the school, is one that takes much effort, but definitely pays off.

Led by advisor Mrs. Wheat, captain Kristie Mercardo and co-captain Kelly Cunningham, the varsity cheerleading team worked hard all year to keep school spirits high.

By Carrie Lawrence

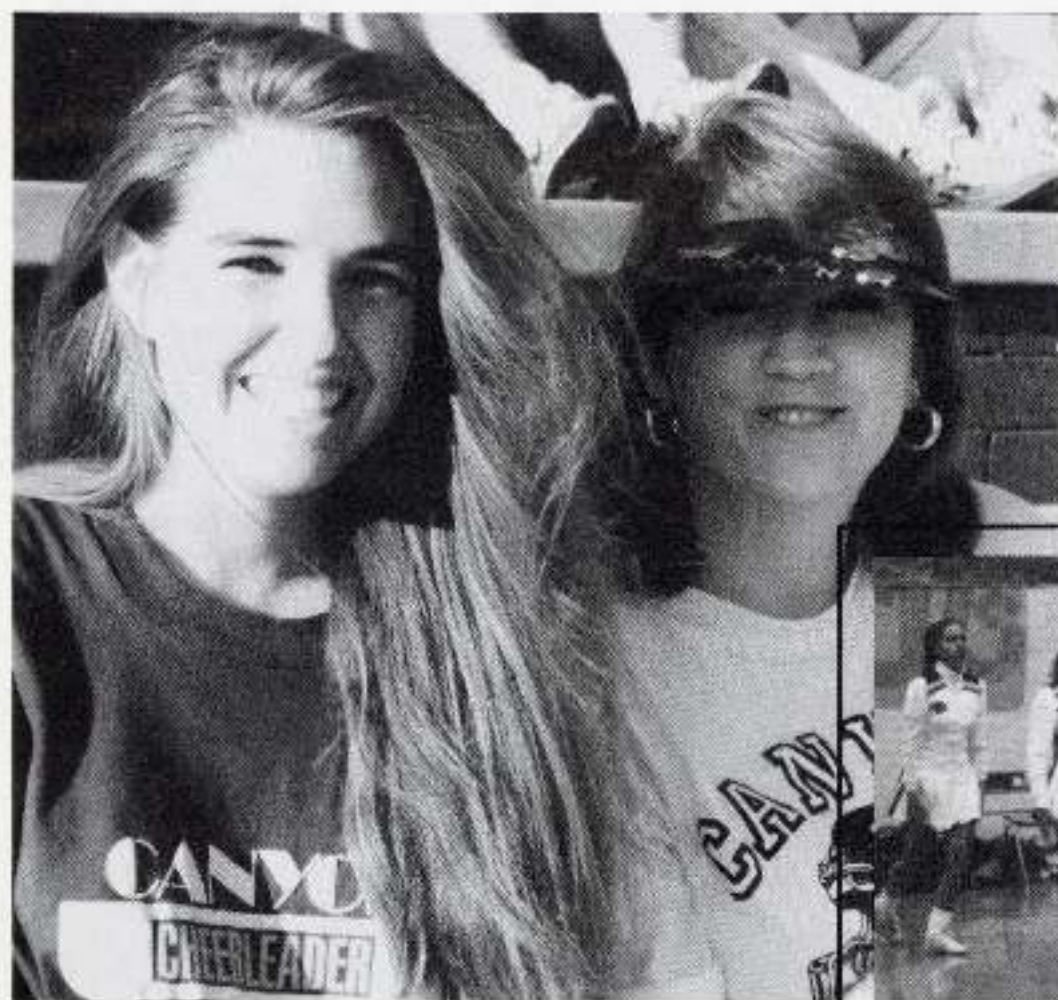

Angela Bradford, a senior and a new member to the team, said that "getting the crowd involved at the rallies and games is hard work, but it is worth it." When asked if she would change anything she replied that she "would have tried out as a freshman, because it was a really great experience. As a new member, I felt welcomed."

When pondering over cheerleading moments, Angela says "Trying to change on the rooter bus was always interesting" Angela is a perfect example of the dedication that is needed.

Bottom left: Nonnie McKean, the school mascot, puts her hands together to heighten the intensity of the spirit of the crowd.

Careful girls . . . don't fall! J.V. show their stuff, by creating a pyramid.

Angie Lambourne leads her cheerleaders in the spirited Valentine's Day Rally

The spirit of Canyon High is definitely led by the cheerleaders. This year the Junior Varsity squad did a wonderful job of leading the sophomore class into a spirited mood. The team, led by Mrs. Wheat, performed in front of us at rallies, football games, basketball games, and much more! The Sophomore Class won the Spirit Stick many times because of the J.V. squad. Cheerleaders are the cause of our spirit, especially the J.V. team. Good job girls!

The J.V. Cheerleaders are showing their spirit to Canyon High.

The pressure was not only moving from Jr. High to High School, but having to learn cheers never performed before, to bring out the spirit of their very large class. Throughout the year freshmen are usually always criticized for being the "Underclassmen", by the "Upperclassmen". But this year the freshmen squad also showed their spirit and entertained the crowd in many events. Tricia Landtiser commented that she feels "lucky because the Frosh Squad is very unified and hard working." This is a view shared not only by a member of the freshmen squad, but also by the rest of the school.

This years Cowboy Band, along with the other marching units, showed their stuff while competing and performing in many different events. Whether it was at a competition, rally, or at a home football game, you heard our band always at their best playing the Cowboy Tunes. The Band, led by Mr. Gilpin, performed at many competitions. They, in fact, did very well. The band traveled to the Hart Tournament, taking second place, and the Savanna Band Tournament, taking second again. These were only a few tournaments they competed in. This years Band was definitely music to our ears!

Pas de boure and sache with your left foot first, point your toes, don't relevé, put your right hand into a fan and your left hand in a stopper. Let me guess what your thinking. What does this mean? Is it painful? Or is it in code. You guessed wrong it's vocabulary used by Canyons own Dance and Drill team. You may have seen a performance and thought it looked easy, but what you see takes many hours of practice and hard work. The captains Alicia Broderick and Autumn Rich choreographed all the routines.

Spring ASB: Dr. White, Recording Secretary-Adrian Stanford, Corresponding Secretary-Shane Ramey, Treasurer-Darin King, President-Ron Ippolito, and ASB advisor-Bob Vincent

Freshman Officers: Secretary/Treasurer-Jessica Nielson, President-Amin Kiankhaezy, and Vice President-Mandy Templeton

Fall ASB: Dr. White, Recording Secretary-Marina Soto, President-Issam Sweiss, Corresponding Secretary-Suzanne Reed, Treasurer-Nick Snowden, Vice President-Nonnie McKeon, and ASB advisor-Bob Vincent

When Sarah Trudell was asked what the main goal of ASB was, she answered, "to provide activities to make school a place where students want to be, rather than a place that students feel they have to be." ASB is led by Mr. Bob Vincent. The ASB students work together to bring the school such activities as rallies, class competitions, food day, and most important of all, formal dances. The students have shown much effort.

Remember to vote for those student candidates running at your school.

aking Charge

Junior Officers: Secretary-Carolyn Meeker, 1st semester Vice President-Issam Sweiss, President-Theresa Blanco, 2nd semester V.P.-Tricia McKeon, and Treasurer-Jimmie Nelson

Senior Officers: Secretary-Kristen Howard, Vice President-Craig Reiter, President-Margie Bergin, 1st semester Treasurer-Darin King, and 2nd semester Treasurer-Heather Hanes

Issam Sweiss was this year's ASB president. When getting involved in ASB, Issam was looking to gain leadership skills, to be able to be successful in the future. Issam realizes that ASB is alot more work than he expected it to be. As the school's president, Issam responsibilities consist of running the ASB class, writing an article for the Canyon Echo, and to represent the student body at the PAC meetings. Becoming president of his school has been something that Issam dreamed of since the 8th grade. He feels ASB is a great opportunity.

Together We Made it Happen.

Throughout the year, the Trails '92 yearbook staff put forth a great effort to create a book full of students, teachers, friends, and many memories for us to share in years to come. Drawing layouts, writing copy, gathering pictures, and struggling to make our deadlines was all a part of Yearbook. We worked as a team and got through all of it together. Though yearbook was brand new to most of us, we had some great experiences and learned a lot. Creativity was the most important factor in Yearbook. Alan Lewis gave us all of his creativity by designing the cover. We had a great year together and we finally made it!

T and Turnin' tossin' . . .

This year's Flag Team, lead by advisor Michelle Mancini, was one of Canyon's best. They won several awards, including first place at the Cal Poly competition. Michelle says, "This year's team was one of the hardest working teams I've ever worked with." The Tall Flag Team was lead by captain Nanci Tallent, and co-captain Virginia Moore.

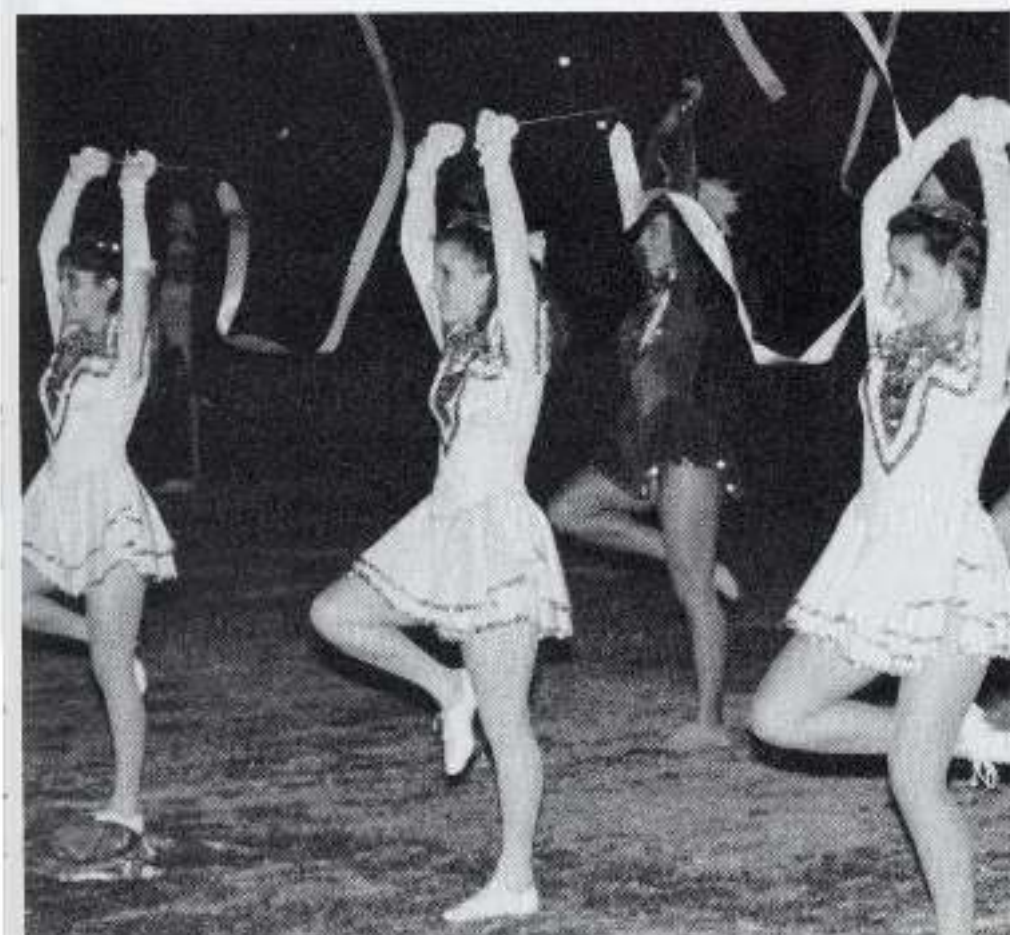

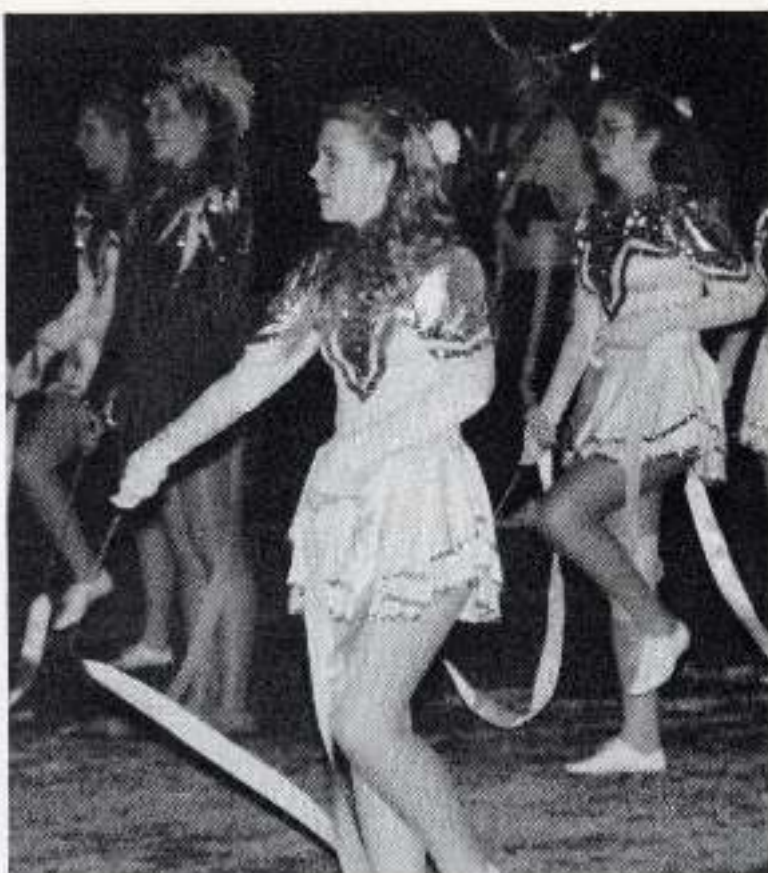

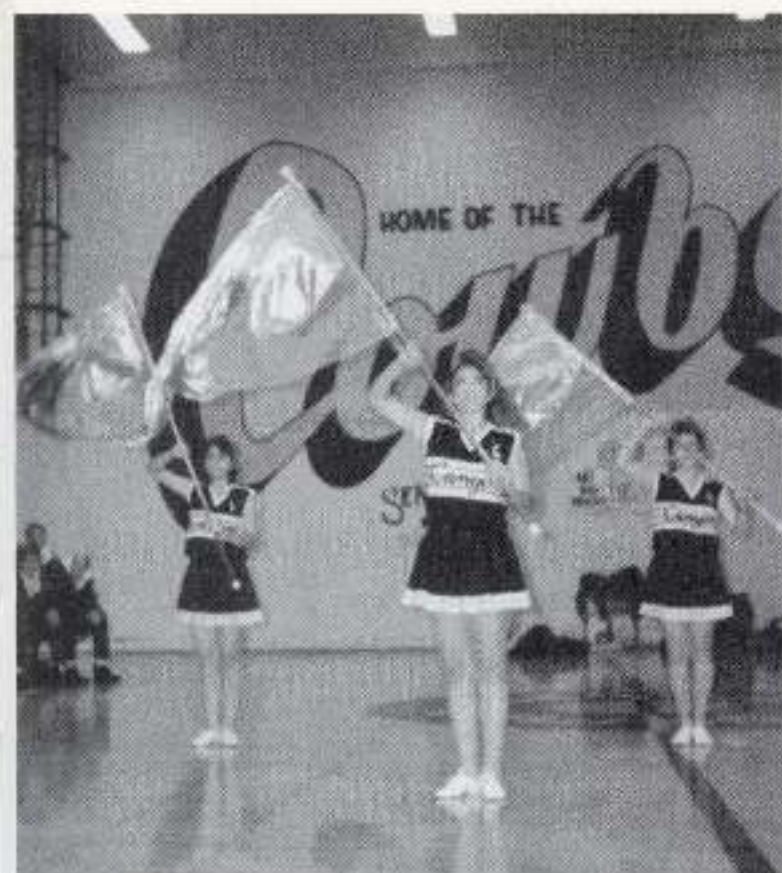

Debbie Doswell, Missy Daniels, Destree Sagray, Serena Sagray, Cynthia Johnson, Shauna Downey, Harola Galo, Jana Yechim, Kristi Rogers, Dayna Bertsche, Corina Smith, Connie Hoffman, Amanda Vannah, Ann Hopkins, Sarah Stevens, Carrie Millen, Brenin Marrin, Carrie Wozniak, Emily Marshall, Virginia Moore, Nanci Tallent (L-R)

S Just for You ingin . . .

Singing is a talent given to some people as a gift, but to others practice is required to perfect their singing capabilities. Those who have perfected this talent are formed together in a group called the Madrigals. Madrigals are the most elite chorus class at Canyon. In order to become part of this group one must try out. Don't be fooled by the name of this elite group because although it sounds like a group of girls both boys and girls make up the Madrigals.

By Shannon Moseley

From Top Left- Kevin Rosten, Debbie Jones, Shari Hilscher, and Simon Harrison watch for their instructions while they perform to their best ability.

Concert Choir is a class for all to join. This class gives both boys and girls a chance to show their talent in singing. To enroll one must audition. Not only do they sing but while they sing they show emotion through expressions and gestures in order to show that their beautiful music comes from their hearts as well as their vocal chords.

To hear all girls singing with great talent one needs to listen to the Women's Chamber. They really take singing to heart. An audition is a must to become a part of this magnificent spectacle of women's voices. As Deanna Sanchez says, "It is an A-period class that meets everyday, but its definitely worth it."

Shari Hilscher performs at the Jazz Pop Concert by singing "Don't Cry for Me, Argentina."

Girls Chorus is the perfect class to enter if you happen to be female and you wish to sing. There is no need to audition for this class; it is as simple as 1,2,3. Just register for this class and you're in! Mrs. Mary Purdy is the instructor.

Girls' Chorus I-R, (up) Mrs. Purdy, Julie Lundt, Susie Setzer, Heather Horsting, Heather Moore, JoAnn DeLoera, January Standard, Danise Bonus, Kristen Perry, Millie Guzman, Jennie Ruiz, Middle: Jennie Durante, Cara Henry, Stephanie Rowlett, Tammy Folven, Melissa Faircloth, Tiffanie Holaday, Yoon-Mee Woo, Kristine Matulevicius, Lynsey Best, Bottom: Marleen Rios, Carrie Miller, Nicole Conway, Deanna Caputo, Jennifer Prach, Sandra Hughes, Kathy Parker.

Look at all of these holiday cards! Mr. Lynch is smart and popular, too!

Want to earn college credit in high school? These A.P. students do! While a person may 'test into' an Honors class, students who wish to be in Advanced Placement class must apply and then be selected. Classes tend to be small with approximately 15 to a class. In May the students take a grueling four-hour test, and what a test! If they do well enough, they've earned college credit. Many students become very close-knit because of the experience, so it's a real 'win' situation no matter how you look at it. It is a challenge, but what an opportunity!

Every Avenue

xplore . . .

The teaching staff at Canyon High School was not only helpful and supportive, but also qualified in every way. Creativity and imagination came easily to these teachers. The work, tests, and essays were creative in their minds, but always confusing in ours. To have their students appreciate and completely understand the subjects they were teaching, was a major goal of most teachers.

Many new teachers appeared at Canyon this year, bringing with them an abundance of knowledge. As a result, many new talents were found in their students.

Rickard Sjöberg and Anne Mikaelsson are disrupted by our persistent photographers as they try to enjoy a peaceful lunch. (Above)

Throughout the year Canyon High develops many different clubs. One was the French Club. During the year they had a French Movie Day, and they also took a trip to a French restaurant for an elegant dinner. Their club is for anyone who was interested in learning about France and the French culture.

There is also the Spanish Honor Society. They took a trip to a restaurant for their year-end event.

STYLE OF OUR OWN

President of photo club, Marsha Wolfe, is carefully looking over pictures deciding which will be in Canyon High's first photo magazine, In Focus.

Though being on photo club means a lot of extra work, you will always find a smile on the member's faces, as Renisa Andika shows us. (Far below)

This year for the first time in Canyon High's history, the photo club created a photo magazine. In Focus is created entirely on our campus. The graphic arts department prints it, Canyon students take artsie black and white pics, and Mrs. Valentine fulfills a career ambition.

by: Carisa Ammon

Robert Bell, Nicole McCraw, and Ahmed Sharna sort through pictures, trying to decide which ones they like best.

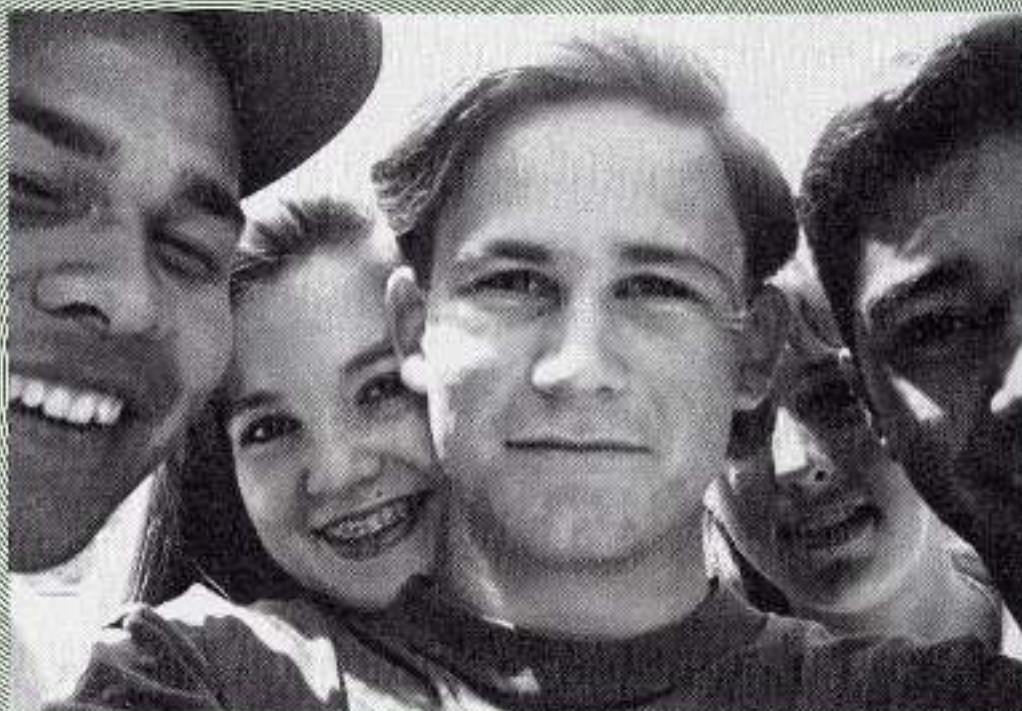

Jason Mesa, a N.A.H.S. member, daydreams about the next art project he will attempt. He is a person who is very dedicated to his work. National Art honor society is a club that is given a 'thumbs up' by its members.

Mark Goebel as "Digory" watches in the shadows as Stacy Van Seenk ("Polly") confronts Brian Hook ("Uncle Andrew"), the magician, in The Magician's Nephew. (Upper right corner)

Kristie,

It seems like only yesterday when you flashed us that first smile and then you started talking and could go for many miles.

That very first day of kindergarten you thought you'd never last and then you graduated from grade school wishing the present was past.

Going all through high school sometimes the hurt never seemed to stop. The ups, downs, old friendships, and new friendships-you took them all in stride.

Now here you are just out of high school and ready to brave the world, but always remember-WE LOVE YOU and you're still our little girl.

LOVE,

DAD AND MOM

Here it is in print for all to read and see.

I am very proud of my little sister, Kristie.

Love,

Susie

The Beginning of the End

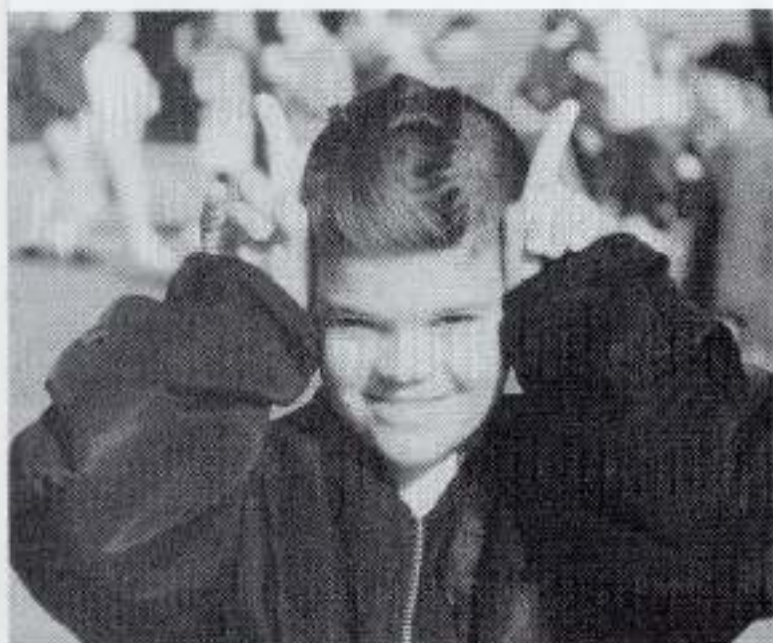

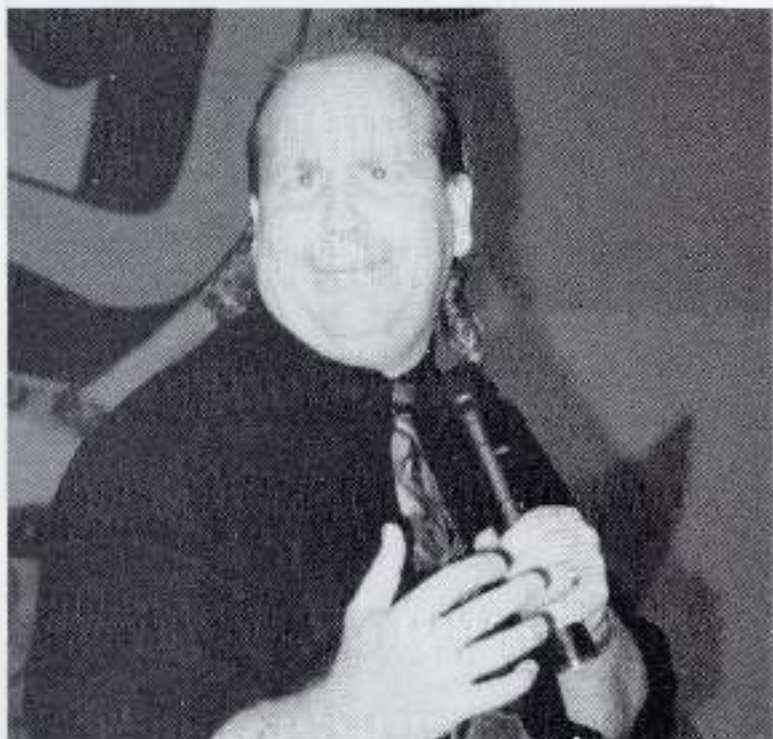

Above: Life would be so much easier, if this guy would just move his foot. Mike Torres desperately tries to sign the senior stairwell.

Above right: Is it possible, that Amy Shellberg might be Voting 4 Buck? Nah, didn't think so. She's competing for Ms. Olympia.

Potential energy

Po • ten • tial en • er • gy, n.

(po • ten' sha l • en' èr • jè

The energy of a body resulting from or depending on relative position rather than motion as that of a coiled spring or a rock at the top of a hill.

As this year comes to a close, many students will be leaving this campus forever, and venturing out into what most call "the real world". Well, "the real world" is in for a pleasant surprise, because many of these adventurers have a amazing amount of untapped energy, just waiting to be discovered by some knowledgeable soul. So, to all those knowledgeable souls out there... beware, we're on our way.

Patricia Dotsch

Top: Who is this gay anomaly? Why, he's the guy who did a comedy routine about teen issues. Meet Mr. Gary Zelesky. Above: Lil' devil, isn't he? John MacLure shows his true self.

Lisa Bernardi

Memories from a friend,

There are so many things about Gina that could be written: but words aren't easy to write. She was the one who brought us laughter when no one else could, she was the one who everyone went to when our problems were almost too much. She was the one we leaned on when we were alone. She was the one we looked to for inspiration and advice. Gina was strong, opinionated, and loving all at the same time. Sometimes it seemed like she could fight the whole world if necessary. The memories we made together are ours alone, but one thing to remember is that Gina was a best friend to everyone, and no one will ever forget her.
