Hoisting a coveted first place trophy: Hart's Supermen are united in triumph at the tri-school Power Lift-Off.

VOL. 35

ALL IT TAKES TO BE A HERO IS TO BE YOURSELF AND STAND UP FOR EVERYTHING YOU BELIEVE IN.

$N(1)+\square$

Now is the time for heroes. Although we might not consciously think about our heroes, we all have them. Since each of us chooses our heroes for our own reasons, a hero can mean different things to different people. He doesn't necessarily have to be that knight in shining armor that we all read about in fairy tales. There is a specific image in someone else, whether they be real or imaginary, that we look up to and admire ... an image of what we wish we could become. To some, a hero is a friend or relative who is a role model by which they wish to mold their lives. To others, he is a person of high esteem in the public eye; and to still others, he is that cliche knight in shining armor or Su-perman-type hero.

Over the years, the trends of popular heroes have been ever-changing for high school students. Throughout the fiffies and early sixties, Superman and other comic book characters with super-human powers dominated the teen hero scene. In the late sixties and early seventies, teens lost interest in unreal, fantasy heroes, viewing them as silly and childish. Who took their place? Not another group of righteous do-gooders, but rebellious anarchistic type people. Any one who stood for defying authority was considered the ultimate idol.

But luckily the youth of America came to their senses in the late seventies, and a trend toward morality is once again on the uprise. In fact, movies and television have brought back the comic-book figures with super-human powers, making them appear sophisticated rather than silly and childish. Hopefully the teens of the future will continue to admire righteous heroes who stand for good, positive values.

Having heroes is a common need in all of us. Since none of us is perfect and we know where our faults lie, we choose heroes who carry those characteristics that we lack. Having heroes helps us to set our goals and gives us something to strive for.

1982 was a rough year for all of us. The economy was in trouble, inflation soared, unemployment was at an all time high, and tension was mounting around the world - in Poland, El Salvador, Northern Ireland, the Falkland Islands, and every place in between.

Heroes were never far away. The Hart campus had it's special stars. Groups like the spirited Terrible Ten and the War Party, whose exuberance was often contagious, winners of the Tri-School Power Lift Off, nine championship Golden League teams, and the victorious run-ner-up 2-A baseball and softball teams were all fine examples of our Hart High heroes.

But, with the help of those we looked up to and admired. . . our heroes, we overcame our problems. Our heroes, whose ideals we admired, served as a crutch for us to lean on, to support us and help us persevere. As long as we have heroes, we will remain strong in the face of not only today's troubles, but tomorrow's as well.

What does it take to be a hero? Can anybody be a hero? The answer is definitely yes! We are all heroes in our own way. All it takes to be a hero is to be yourself and stand up for everything that you believe in. Surely those who know you will admire you for who you are and respect you for what you stand for. Your individuality and uniqueness will make you a hero. After all. . . Now is the time for heroes.

The lives of the many heroes of history included new and often exciting experiences and thrilling activities. Throughout the 1981/82 school year the lives of Hart student's were likewise filled with new challenges and exciting events.

莳

Keeping track of over 1700 students was not always easy. The advent, at the year's outset, of a * new, stricter attendance procedure, along with an accompanying attendance computer, was not greeted favorably by new and returning students. As the year passed, however, both students and faculty adjusted to this unique approach to attendance, an approach that was fine-tuned throughout the course of the year.

This year, as did the previous one, brought with it a unique opportunity for students to observe, on campus, the work of Hollywood. The typical student's day was often altered by the presence of movie lights, cameras, and the occasional well-known screen personality, all serving to pique the curiosity of students and staff alike.

Hart spirit stepped up a beat, sparked partly by the repeated on-campus filming, indicative of the high maturity of Hart students in dealing with studio crews, and sparked primarily by the creation of the Terrible Ten, the War Party, red Spirit Towels, and the continued use of pöm-poms, signs, and spirited chants. ## What Makes The Hart Beat

What makes the Hart beat? Spirit made the Hart beat. School spirit made evident in ralles, rooting sections, and red spirit towels, During the 1981/82 school year people supported and rooted for their heroes, whether fictitious or not, and so too the Indians supported and cheered Hart and those teams and individuals who represented Hart. Rallies played a major part in maintaining the Hart beat. Throughout the school year students and faculfy alike demonstrated their high regard and support for Willam S. Hart High through ralles with their new teacher rooting sections, shaving cream antics, and percussion groups. One rally in particular- the yearbook rally - was a great boost to the students spirits, capping off the tremendously successful Hero Day.

The advent of the new red spirit towels, with their Hart High logos, and the unforgettable debut of the spirit promoting. morale boosting. Terrible Ten, gave Hart students other opportunities, eagerly capitalized upon, to stand behind and, with a great sense of pride, support their alma mater. The Hart beat stepped up a pace for the annual Spinit Night. Although Hart did not win the accompanying competition, Indians, with the support of the pep squads, flag team, and drill team, and the tenacious Terrible Ten. gave a rousing display of real Hart High spirit which was a one-ot-a-kind spectacle.

Spirit and a high feeling of pride for the school one attends, are vital to the success and enjoyment one experiences at that institution of learning. During the $1981 / 82$ school year, students and staff, together, contributed to the life force that kept the Hart beating, thereby making the school year successful and highly enjoyable for all

No Competition For Hart's Strong  Men

Weightlifting was the cause for excitement at the first Tri-School Powerlifting Championship held at Hart. Saugus and Canyon were no competition for the men from Hart. Mike Harvey and Dan Hollinger aced out their opponents in the lightweight and middleweight divisions with lifts of 145 lbs. and 170 lbs. respectively on the military press. Sean Garcia was second in the lightweight division lifting 135 lbs . and Mark Bach placed third in the middleweight division with a lift of 150 lbs. In the heavyweight division a tie-breaker gave the win to Hart with a lift of 200 lbs . by Ricardo Torres, Curtis Reddy placed third with a lift of 160 lbs .

Super-heavyweight Lloyd Swanson and Tony Drake placed second and third with respective lifts of 195 lbs .
At the bench press lightweight Mike Harvey nabbed first place with 210 lbs . and Sean Garcia tied for third at 200 lbs . Middleweights Hollinger and Bach took first and second with lifts of 280 lbs . and 255 lbs . Torres took second in the heavyweight division with 265 lbs.

Super-heavyweight Swanson beat his competitors hands down by lifting 310 lbs . Drake tied for second with 300 lbs . Saugus and Canyon proved to be no competition for the strength at Hart.

Through a great deal of determination and physical and mental training, these lifters demonstrated a great deal of heroics. Being strong has always been associated with heroes such as Superman and Hercules. These weightlifters are all heroes in their own way.

Hart Goes  HOLLYWDOD

HOLLYWOOD SHOOTING SCHEDULE
Time: The 1981/82 school year
Place: Hollywood's newest backlot-Hart High, alias Hamilton and Whitney Highs, a California prison, and other various locales.

Quiet on the set! Roll'em!
And so began many a day at Hart during the 1981/82 school year. Ironically the two major celluloid creations filmed in whole or in part at school were based on the exploits of heroes.

First, a real hero story, television's The Greatest American Hero. Several scenes were filmed depicting Hart as Whitney High and as a California prison. The story traced the further exploits of a mild mannered teacher with adopted, fantastical powers who often set out to restore truth and justice throughout the world.

In November a television movie was practically filmed entirely at Hart. Hart was known as Hamilton High in this movie, which did more than follow the adventures of a fictional, super-hero. Lorimar's Desperate Lives confronted a problem that has plagued many schools in varying degrees-drug use and abuse on and off campus. It presented a new type of hero, a concerned school counselor whose determination and patience resulted in the lessening of the drug problem, thereby saving lives from future drug abuse and possible death.

Both students and staff felt the effects of Hollywood in varying ways. During the year students often had to be cautious where they walked for fear of interfering with the work of film crews. Curiosity and the feeling of excitement in the air combined to turn many heads and detain many students whose curiosity over Hollywood's conversion of the campus into different locales got the better of them.

Perhaps the biggest effect on the students and staff was their participation, along with the Band, Flag Team, Pep Squads, and Hart's own "Christmas Choir" under the direction of "Choral Director" Mr. Lew White, in the filming of two rallies for Desperate Lives.

Throughout the 1981/82 school year a sense of spirit and pride in the fact that several production companies had found Hart and its student body and staff enjoyable and easy to work with was evident. This pride was often accentuated when one saw familiar scenes and friends on television.

Possibly one of the most important things to come out of the filming was the money the school and district received and what it was used for. Hart's front office, under the leadership of Vice Principal Mr. Lew White and with the approval of Principal Mr. Dan Hanigan and the district, took each filming proposal one at a time, arranged a contract with the production companies, which in the case of Desperate Lives included the school receiving on-screen credit, acquired and, with student and faculty input, spent the resulting funds appropriately. Total income for the year, including the summer of 1981, amounted to over $$ 18,600$, $$ 7,700$ of which was received for the filming of Desperate Lives. These funds were utilized to purchase volleyball nets and standards, three computers, a new movie projector for the auditorium, as well as several other items benefitting staff and students alike. In addition, each school club or organization was given an opportunity to earn money for participation in the rally sequences of Desperate Lives.

compurers Gets Students To Class

The computerized attendance system which was initiated at Hart High in 1981-82 was started as a nationwide experiment to see if taking roll every period would cut down the number of daily and single period absences.

Initiated by Mrs. Donna Seifert and programmed by Mr. Don Lund, the computer printed a daily list showing which students were absent for which periods. Hart High administration was very pleased with the results.

Faculty members noticed an increased sense of responsibility from the students to attend class. An accurate comparison to $1980-81$ is not possible since in 1980-81 only one attendance count was taken daily.

The new attendance system was financed by the school district as an experimental project to see what could be developed. With such outstanding results, Hart had plans for expansion and modification of the system. Future plans included doing away with readmit slips by speeding up the process, increasing clearances, and keeping parents more aware of absences. The goal was to keep all students in school and to make the system less of a burden.

What started at Hart High as an experiment that may someday be a nationwide procedure for taking attendance. Many schools had visited Hart to look at the system and had been pleased with what they had seen.

Although students originally didn't appreciate the system, they had accepted it.

You've Got The Look

Fashion consciousness reached it's peak at Hart in 1982. By the beginning of the year, designer jeans were already a thing of the past and the guys and gals were respectively turning to preppy and New Wave fashions. Although many of the boys and most of the girls still dressed comfortably in jeans, shirts, sweaters, and tennis shoes, the fashion conscious couldn't help but stand out with their new, different, and sometimes shocking outfits.

The guys began to dress up . . . jeans, tennies, and $t$ shirts were seen less frequently as slacks, topsiders, ties and Members Only jackets set the new pace. The trend for classy dressing was set by senior Victor Figalan who was recognized on Victor Figalan Day where all guys on campus were encouraged to wear a tie to school in honor of Victor and his expert taste in school attire.

As the guys dressed up, the girls dressed out . . . way out. New Wave music brought a whole new wave of fashion to Hart. Gone were traditional clothing and rasic colors as new styles and flashy colors were seen everywhere. Suddenly everything turned metallic . . not just jewelery, but headbands, handbags, and slippers too! The first appearances of colored stockings, mini-skirts, knickers and extra-long sweatshirts turned many heads at Hart, but eventually were accepted by students as suitable school attire. The new fashions were here, but no one knows how long they would stay.

Everybody's Working For The Weekend

As we all know, we high school students cannot live by school alone. We thrive on extra-curricular activities to add to our lives. For most of us, this extra activity took the form of a job. Staffing nearly every fast food franchise on Lyons Avenue and entertainment centers such as the Mann 6 Theatres and Magic Mountain, Hart students were observed laboring countless hours, earning as much money as possible. Incentive for such fervent exertion came from each approaching weekend. Everybody's working for the weekend!

Except for money stashed away by frugal collegebound seniors, nearly every hard earned dollar was spent on the weekend. The local theatre, record store and clothing store were responsible for snatching up most of our funds.

Hit movies such as Raiders of the Lost Ark, Superman II, Stripes, and Arthur, were seen over and over by Hart's student body. Record after record was released, and record after record was purchased. While some students enjoyed the pop-beat of teen favorites such as Journey, Pat Benatar, and the GoGo's; other students preferred the sophisticated and worldly-wise music of greats such as Bruce Spingsteen and Jackson Browne.

Music meant more than merely records and tapes-it meant concerts! 1982 was the year that the Rolling Stones, Pat Benatar, and Journey came to town. No doubt, Hart students were there to make them feel welcome.

To other students, the extra-curricular spice came from everything under the sun - from sports, to horse ranching, to watching the daily soap operas.

Busy at school, work, or play, Hart students were always on the go in '82. It was a time to get a taste of life by holding jobs and having the freedoms that come from having extra money: Only to learn one thing ... life had just begun.

Sprolicing Fun

Bubble gum blowing, hot rods, and VW stuffing were all a part of the excitement at Sprolic Week when class competition reached its climax for 1982. The week started off with a bubble gum bubble blowing contest that junior Jamie Wendell won hands down, wiping out all opponents.

Grease a pole, stick twenty dollars on top, and see what kind of monkey will climb to get it. Hart had not only one monkey, but two. Using teamwork, Calvin Cox and David Slaughter proved that they didn't monkey around when ten bucks were at stake. They divided their prize money as soon as they swung down from the pole.

Monkeys weren't the only animals found as Sprolic Week. Seventeen freshmen, sixteen sophomores, eleven juniors, and fifteen seniors did their sardine imitation at the VW stuffing class competition. The freshmen won but they had their size working on their side. Juniors Mitch Gillespie and Mark Sullivan stuffed themselves as they won the Big-Mac eating contest. The contest might have been fun, but neither of them will ever eat another Big-Mac again.

Pull, pull, grunt, grunt! The mid-week tug of-war was no easy taffy-pull. Everyone had a great time but the senior boys and girls pulled it off in the end. The wheel chair race was thought to be a shoe-in for Hart's resident wheel chair expert Jay Travers, but darkhorse Mr. Dave Munroe took first place in the Sprolic Wheel-Chair Race.

Over fifty cars entered the Second Annual Hart High Car Show. Although so many premium cars made judging a tough job, first place winners were: Best Overall Car-Stephan Rau; Best Looking Car-Ray Maxon; and Most Popular Car-Bill Wolfe.

The Future Business Leaders of America sponsored a dunk tank and the sophomore class won the dry-ski race.

The highlight of Sprolic Week was Thursday night when Hart held its first drive-in movie on the football field. Young Frankenstein was the flick that students viewed from assorted lounge chairs and blankets.

The overall class competition winners were the seniors with 120 points which helped to prove Sprolic Week 1982 the best ever.

Indians Say Farewell To Golden League With Nine Teams Making CIF Playoffs

The athletic program at Hart got better each year reaching it's peak in 1982 with nine teams reaching C.I.F. This was the last year that Hart was a member of the Golden League-next year it will be onto the Foothill League.

The big heroes for ' 82 were the baseball and softball teams. They both won second place titles in the 2 -A division. With her windmill action, freshman Samantha Ford pitched every softball game compiling a 22-7 record that shattered several C.I.F. Southern Section records. Nancy Pugh placed sixth in C.I.F. career home runs.

What every high school baseball player dreams of almost came true for the Varsity Baseball team. Capturing the league title, the Indians traveled to Dodger Stadium to play well-matched Norwalk High in C.I.F. division playoffs, but unfortunately lost 1-0.

In track, the individual hero was Kurt Holden who with his bionic strength captured seventh place in the state for competition for discus throwing. Golf, football, Boys' tennis, and Girls' soccer (which was sanctioned last year) were eliminated in the first round play-offs.

Girls' tennis, and Boys' soccer were eliminated in the second round of playoffs. Many individual swimmers also went to C.I.F. play-offs-Gary Myerscough, Robert Griffiths, Tony Dos Santos, and Jim Cubbage. In diving Jeff Stabile placed second in C.I.F. competitions. Although interest in gymnastics was keen here at Hart the team was dropped due to the lessening numbers of competing Golden League teams. All in all it was certainly one of the finest years in the history of Hart athletics.

One For The Gipper

1981-82 was definitely a successful year for Hart's Varsity Football team. Coached by Carl Sweet, the Indians' had an all team effort resulting in an impressive 7-4 record. Going into the season, Hart was rated second by the Los Angeles Times only to top rated Crespi High School whom Hart trounced 24-0. Hart's on field excellence took them to CIF in 1981 where they unfortunately were defeated by the tough Bur-roughs-Burbank team 41-10.

1981-82 was not only a season for team success, it was a season for individual success. Six of Hart's outstanding players were selected for the Golden League Team. Kevin Burke, Kevin Chapman, and Rick Guillory for defensive positions: and Dale Frack, Rick Guillory, Dean Herrington and Mike McClure for offensive positions.

Life Before Varsity

The Sophomore football team really came through for Hart in an outstanding season resulting in an eight win, two loss record. Coached by Mr. Rick Herrington, the Sophomore team had finally begun to get the recognition it deserved. In the past, the Sophomore games didn't attract the big crowds that the Varsity games had attracted; but this year, the Sophomores proved that there is life before Varsity.

At the awards banquet the following players were honored: Curt Holden and Clint Hatton, Most Valuable Players; Tommy Bonds, Coaches' Award; Mike Gatto, Most Inspirational; Brian Lendmen, Special Teams Player; Tim McKeon Offensive Lineman; Doug Clow, Defensive Lineman; Ron Masino, Offensive Back

It was an exciting year for the Freshmen Football Squad. After the traditional "Hell Week" and two weeks of two-a-day practice, they were barely edged by Royal and Crespi High Schools. Their first victory came against Palmdale followed by a loss to a Saugus and a defeat against the unbeaten cross-town rival, Canyon High. The most notable game, however, was the team's performance against Alemany. With all members of the team receiving playing time, they came out on top with the final tally favoring Hart. The Frosh Football team finished second in the Golden League.

Out On The Warpath

The 1981/82 Basketball season proved to be another exciting and successful season for Hart's varsity team. The pre-season schedule of December resulted in a nine win-three loss state for the Indians. Hart won third place in the Cerritos-Gahr tournament with wins over Cerritos and Long Beach Wilson. The following week. Hart took second place in the Burroughs-Burbank tournament losing the championship game to Warren, 59-58.

The ever-competitive Golden League proved to be tough for all teams. Hart's two-game sweeps over Quartz Hill, Palmdale, and rival Saugus were followed by a home-court win over Burroughs giving the Indians a 7 win-5 loss record and third place.

Post-season honors went to Steve Mehr, Tim Fernau, and Deron White as All-Santa Clarita Valley selections. Deron White won M.V.P. of the Valley as well as the Golden League.

Junior Bucketeers

During the 1981/82 school year, the boys J.V. Basketball team, coached by Mr. Dave Munroe, had a very successful season by finishing second place with an 8-4 league record and a 14-7 record overall.

After losing their first two league contests, the young Indians bounced back and won eight of their next ten games, including six in a row. Hart played their best defensive game of the year in defeating Antelope Valley, 3732. The team played its best all around game in its second meeting against Palmdale. Led by Mark Ensing's thirty-three points, the Indians erupted with fortytwo second half points to defeat the Falcons, 69-61.

Among those honored at the basketball banquet were Mark Ensing, M.V.P.; Kevin Honaker, Coach's award; Doug Miller, Best Defensive Player award; and Mitch McMullen, who received the Most Improved Player award. Other players who made great contributions to the success of the team were Darryl Ingram and Kenny Bricker.

Coached by Mr. Bob Jolley, Hart's group of fledging basketeers, the Freshmen Basketball team, had a spectacular season as their $15-5$ overall and 10-2 league records proved.

The team took second place in league as well as other achievements. The 1981/82 team won the consolation prize in the Valley View Tournament freshmen team to beat Burroughs Ridgecrest on their home court.

The annual basketball awards banquet brought honors to the following Indians: Dirk Hare, M.V.P.; James Stephens, Most Improved: and Matt Friedman, Coach's Award. In addition to these outstanding athletes, the remainder of the players were a shining example of teamwork and comaraderie.

Fantastic Fourth

This year was the best year ever for the Hart Girls' Varsity Basketball team. With Mr. Chris Mansfield as coach, they finished fourth in the Golden League with a 7-5 record. The overall record was even more impressive as they had thirteen wins and seven losses. Laurie Russett, April Lallo, and Jenny O'Neil were named to the All Golden League team and Jennifer Porter received honorable mention. The same four girls were named to the All Santa Clarita Valley team, Laurie Russett made most valuable player. Outstanding recognition went to Jenny O'Neil who averaged sixteen points per game: April Lallo, 10 points per game; Laurie Russett pulled a total of 220 rebounds.

Moving Up

The Girls' J.V. Basketball team, coached by Mr. Max Friedman, compiled a record of thirteen wins and six losses with a 7-5 league record. Freshman Monica Burke averaged twelve points a game. Julie Brown averaged ten points and Mi chelle Samuels grabbed an average of thirteen rebounds. Individual honors went to Monica Burke, Most Inspirational; Michelle Samuels and Maria Rubino, Most Improved; and Chris Smith, Coach's award. The team showed great improvement this year and should help continue Hart's winning tradition in Girls' Basketball.

Although the Girls' Freshmen Basketball team's 1981-82 season was not a victorious one, it was marked with great improvement that will be encouraging for next year. These girls, coached by Mrs. Susie Mansfield, played very well together as a team in their first year of interscholastic competition. Special awards went to Kathy Volding. Most Improved; Michelle Grove, Most Inspirational; Jill Daniels, Coaches awara, and Kim Flowers, Most Valuable Player.

Wimbledon Here We Come

For the second consecutive year, the Girls' Varsity Tennis team, coached by Steve Love, became the champions of the Golden League. Although this was one of the youngest tennis teams in Hart's history, it proved to be one of the most successful winding up a powerful undefeated season with a Golden League crown and a trip to C.I.F.

In first round C.I.F., Hart beat Schurr High School in a nailbiting duel. Unfortunately Hart was defeated in the second round by the soon to be C.I.F. champions, Calabasa High.
In C.I.F. individual competition, singles player Donna Wolfe, and the doubles team of Diana Genkel and Carol Myerscough were finally defeated in second round play. Kim Hasbrook and Sonia Terpak won their first three matches before losing in Irvine at the sixteenth round. It was the furthest that any Hart team had ever gone in C.I.F.
Special awards were given to the following players: Carol Myerscough, Most Dedicated; Jill Faragher, Most Improved; Sonia Terpak. Most Inspirational; Donna Wolfe, Most Valuable; and Stephanie Rau received the Coach's Award.

$$

   }Last year's golf team was a combination of seasoned veterans and young competitors who gained experience and helped Hart capture their first Golden League title in five years. Hart was lead by senior Tim Fernau. Tim held an average of 76 in league, placing second in Golden League. Senior Scott Robinson was another starter who also showed excellent skills. Scott shot a 79 at Los Pasos in the Northern Regional in which Hart finished eighth out of twenty teams competing. Sophomores Steve Lengyel, Jim Armstrong, and Wayne Merich all finished in the top ten of forty-five golfers in the league. Freshman standout John Deeker averaged 82 in league. All in all, it was a successful season. The 1983 golf season looks promising with six varsity lettermen returning to the team.

The Cross Country team enjoyed many fine individual performances from a small squad of underclassmen. Brad Terpak led the Varsity team with his steady improvement while Doug McLeod, Boyd Stevens, and Tim Barnett led the Frosh-Soph team. Nancy Mattiace was the lone girl competing for Hart but placed in the top four in the league finals. The team competed in several invitationals and made a fine showing in the Bell-Jeff Invitational at Griffith Park. Brad Terpak was named Captain while Doug McLeod was Most Improved. Coaches' Award was earned by Nancy Mattiace.

Life In The Fast Lane

The Hart High School Track Team enjoyed a season of fine individual performances though the team as a whole did not score as well. Consistent performances in field events were led by Kurt Holden, Lloyd Swanson, Tony Drake, Ricardo Torres, and Dan Lange. In track events, Tony McCullough made many outstanding performances, specializing in the 330 low hurdles and the 440 running events. The Girls' teams exhibited some fine competitors. Freshman Jackie Porter ran the sprints while Macy Moring ran middle distance events. Nancy Mattiace did well in the long distance runs. At the end of the season, Kurt Holden, Macy Moring, Tony McCullough, and Nancy Mattiace qualified for CIF competition. Individual awards went to the following: Most Improved, Dan Lange, Matt Stevens, Kathy Volding, and Dominica Keller. High Point trophy winners were Tony McCullough and Macy Moring. ## Play It Again Sam!

In the history of Hart softball, no team has been more victorious no other team has had such an excellent record. The season record was an impressive one, 23-7. In league, they fought to remain undefeated 12-0. Coached by Mr. Dennis Ford, the team not only made it to the CIF playoffs, but also many team members made the All-League teams. First team: selections included Most Valuable Player-Samantha Ford: catcher-Lynn Neighbors; infield-Linda Csernay: and outfield-Nancy Pugh. Diane Garlinger was nominated to the second team with honorable mention going to Ellen Boyle.

The season was characterized by several outstanding individual performances. Nancy Pugh led the team in hits (30), home runs (3), RBI's (18), batting average (.441) and fielding percentage (1.000). Nancy's record of ten home runs in two years ranked her sixth in the CIF career home runs history book. Lynn Neighbors led the team in at-bats (85), putouts (379), triples (3), runs scored (18), and fielding percentage of .990.

Perhaps a great part of Hart's softball success can be attributed to freshman pitcher, Samantha Ford. Her outstanding record of 22-7 won her Ted Dawson's KABC Sports High School Athlete of the Week Award, along with a feature story in the sports section in the L.A. Times. During her rookie year at Hart, Samantha managed to break the following CIF Southern Section records: 373 strike-outs in 202 innings (the old mark was 256); nine no-hitters; sixteen shut-outs; and twenty strike-outs in a seven inning game. Samantha also led her team in assists (23), and stolen bases (7).

Twenty-Five Wins And A Trip To Dodger Stadium

So finally, it was official. The Indians had won more than any other high school in the Southern Section of CIF. With twenty-five wins, they were the only Hart team to reach the final 2A playoffs. Unintimidated by 4A schools, the powerful Indians went on to utterly devastate Gahr, Channel Island, and 4 A runner-up, Mira Costa High; ranked number one in the 2A CIF poll. For practically the whole season, the Indians never fell below the number two spot, winning the Golden League crown with an eleven and one record.

Coached by Mr. Frank Sanchez, ace pitchers Steve Grolla, Ron Masino, Jim Plante, and Jim Van Cott combined to pitch six shutouts during the year bringing out the best in their teammates each time they took the mound.

Nailbiting highlights of the season included losing in a fifteen inning game by a score of two to one to Whittier High, winning the consolation prize at the prestigious EI Segundo Baseball Tournament, and defeating Estancia High in a thrilling come-from-behind win.

When all was said and done, no one will forget the semi-finals game against Beverly Hills High School when Ron Masino came to the mound with the score tied in the seventh and the bases loaded. Ron struck out the first batter, the second batter popped up to first, the third batter reached full count, and the call was "Strike three, you're out!"

Young Indians Rally To Challenge

The 1982 baseball season promised to be an exciting one for the Frosh/Soph team as several key performers returned from the 1981 squad. Despite getting off to a rather slow start, the young Indians rallied to challenge for the league title, winning eleven of their last sixteen games. Going into the final game of the season. the Indians needed a victory over Antelope Valley to take the title. However, they fell short and had to settle for a second-place finish behind Antelope Valley. Sophomores Brian Lindman, Bruce Fuller, Tommy Bonds, Angel Leon, Rick Lagana, Kris Marquis, and Joe Baroni paced the Indians attack, and freshman Steve Toledo was the ace of the pitching staff. Several of the frosh/soph players will be moving up to the Varsity level to carry on the traditions of Hart Baseball.

Aquamen And Women League Champions

It was the first time in the history of Hart Aquatics that both the boys' and girls' Varsity swim teams, under the direction of Mr. Joel "Spider" Barr and were undefeated Golden League Champions. The boys' Varsity team also placed tenth in C.I.F. 2A competition - the highest ranking achieved to date. Notable C.I.F. individual performances included Jeff Stabilesecond in diving. Jim Cubbage, Robert Griffiths, Gary Meyerscough and Tony Dos Santos ninth in the 200 Medley Relay. Jim Cubbage took sixth place in the 100 freestyle and tenth place: and Gary Meyerscough twelfth place in the 100 butterfly.

Soccer Kicks Its Way To Success

The Hart Varsity Soccer team began with a shaky season, but finished triumphantly as the Golden League champions. Coached by Mr. Dave Ferree, they won the Golden League Crown with an impressive 8-1 league record. Competition for the C.I.F. championship was tough: Hart won first round play-offs against Blair, 3-2; then lost to Calabasas, 1-7.

Selected for the all-league team was Nick Forshager, Hart's leading scorer: Andre Genkel, Hart's Most Valuable player; Kevin Liske, who received Hart's Coaches' award; and Jeff Nadar. Andre Genkel was also named Most Valuable Player of the league. Most Improved player on the Varsity team was goalie Robert Benavidez.

The Junior Varsity Soccer team was not a C.I.F. sanction, but held practice and played a couple games with the few J.V. teams that existed this season. Outstanding recognition went to Pat Gubelli and Nick Gubelli.

This year, the Hart Girls' Soccer team was finally put into C.I.F. competition. They held a healthy record and placed third in league. Unfortunately, the team lost their first round in C.I.F. playoffs. Coach Wally McPheeters gave outstanding recognition to: Sonia Guzman, Most Valuable player; Kim Barnett; Michelle Pitchford; and Diana Genkel.

Moments To Remember

"Moments to Remember," was the theme for Homecoming ' 81 .

The evening began with a spectacular performance from the Marching Band, Drill Team, and the Flag Team. Also, the senior football players presentec their mothers with a kiss, a hug, ando corsage. The crowd rose and stooo proudly as the band played the "Na. tional Anthem."

The previous night, each class was provided with sufficient materials in which they constructed a frame and created a colorful float. A time limit of five hours was set for each class, in which they had to complete their floats. Imagination and originality were hard at work but the class of ' 83 stood proud as they were announced the winners.

During half-time, the court paradeo around the track in front of many anxious football fans. As the candidates walked across the field, Mr. Robert Henricks, counselor, awaited their arival to the platform. From the twelve candidates, Mike Zeile and Merci Le. vinson were chosen to be the King ano Queen.

Spirits were high and the team was fired up. Hart definitely proved that they were the stronger team as we were victorious over Burroughs, 34-6:

Just Between You And Me

"Just Between You and Me," was the theme for last years formal. Two hundred and thirty couples gathered at the center of campus in the gymnasium for the annual Hart Winter Formal on Saturday, December twelfth.

The gymnasium was cleverly transformed into an alluring atmosphere as the lights were softly dimmed and the candles were lit. The music of "Legend" helped to set the romantic mood for the evening. Although the dance floor was crowded, it was definitely worthwhile.

As the evening progressed, it was soon time for the moment everyone had been waiting for. The awaited moment of the crowning of the King and Queen and their court finally arrived. Ears and eyes alike were peaked wide open as Curtis Reddy and Heidi Eberly were crowned 1981 Winter Formal King and Queen.

The Senior class, along with the Student League, devoted a numerous amount of hours decorating and perfecting the gym for this special evening. Christmas trees, lights, a drop ceiling, and many enjoyable refreshments were provided.

Hoop-De-La

Hoop-de-la ' 82 was definitely a success. The annual event was held on February second during the half-time of the Boys' Varsity Basketball game.

The game was intense, but the buzzer sounded ending the second quarter. Various students raced about, in order to quickly set up the decor for the presentation of the royal court. The impossible mission was completed in a record time.

As Mr. Daniel Hanigan, principal, announced the court, they swiftly walked down the long aisle and onto the platform. Representing the freshman class were Kevin Honaker and Missy Fitzpatrick, and for the sophomore class were Ron Masino and Caroline Adair. On down the line to the junior class, there was a tie. That was soon resolved by choosing two couples, Todd Zeile, Karen Volding, John Mazzacco and Lorie Bennett. The senior class court consisted of Deanne

As the court was escorted off of the floor, the Varsity Boys' ran in, to do some heavy shooting before the third quarter began. The Indians were neck and neck all night long with Antelope Valley. In the last seconds of the game, the moves from the Antelopes were a liftle too fancy for the Indians as they edged out in front with the lead and the game, 59-60. All in all, the evening was exciting and one always to be remembered.

Dramatizations And Monologues

The 1981-82 Drama Club produced two spectacular plays during this school year. The first presentation was released in the winter to receptive audiences, entitled "Twain by the Tale." This presentation consisted of many dramatizations and monologues from Mark Twain's writings set to music.

The Spring play was a three-act drama, "Death Takes a Holiday" with a full set depicting Duke de Catolica's villa in Italy. The play was set in 1936 in October.

Both of these major plays were directed by Mrs. Elsie Smith and performed in Hart's auditorium by many students dedicating their extra time to rehearse and build props. All-in-all, Drama had a very productive and successful year.

Musical Entertainment At Its Finest

Another fabulous performance was presented by the hard working and talented students of Hart High. T.B.A., the annual music extravaganza was a big hit. The cafeteria was transformed into a dark, candle-lit night club. The atmosphere prevailed over the show while the audience enjoyed the vocal and instrumental works of the Sound Vibrations and the Chieftain Jazz Ambassadors. Expert and award-winning form was displayed throughout the evening. The Sound Vibrations put on another fine performance for their annual concert, "Encore." Both evenings compiled, became known as a fabulous work of art.

The 1981/82 Sound Vibrations, an important, energetic part of T.B.A., maintain a long standing tradition of fine entertainment.

Give A Little, Show A Little

Bloodmobile ' 82 was held in Hart's cafeteria on May 18. With the help of many dedicated student captains and the volunteers of the American Red Cross. Hart brought in 161 pints of blood. Although 200 donors signed up, 178 actually donated blood. Faculty members as well as administration also donated towards this life-saving project.

Another success to take place this year was Family Night at Hart. The traditional annual spring open house was changed into a chili dinner for the whole family in order to encourage attendance and add interest. Bowls of chili were served by the Pep Squad members in the quad to the accompaniment of dinner music from the Chieftains Stage Ambassadors. Afterwards parents walked through classrooms to talk to individual teachers about their programs.

A meal fit for a king. A helping of chill and onions prepared by the cafeteria staff was served at Family Night.

Carousel Of Colour

The thirty-fourth annual Tea and Fashion Show was a spectacular success. The cafeteria was immaculately decorated to correspond with the theme, "A Carousel of Colours." This spring social event was hosted by Student League. The evening began with the serving of delicious desserts to the music of Hart High's own Chieftain Jazz Ambassadors. The fashion show followed, featuring over 60 outfits from various boutiques in the Santa Clarita Valley. The many fashions were modeled by Hart students to the delightful piano accompaniment of Dawn Phillippi. Next, the Boys and Girls of the Month were announced by Mrs. Donna Seifert and assistant principal Mr. Lew White. The finale consisted of the announcement of the Boy and Girl of the Year, Dale Frack and Erin Patton. The evening, as a whole, was enjoyed by all.

The Best Of Times

The 1982 annual Junior-Senior prom was held at the Ambassador Hotel in the Embassy Room. The junior class of 1983 worked extremely hard for the success of last year's prom and dedicated it to the senior class of 1982. The theme, "Best of Times," was indeed the remark made by all at the end of the evening.

The evening began as the couples enjoyed dining and dancing. While afterwards, many couples waited in line for their memorable pictures, and then they began to dance to the sounds of "Legend." The evening concluded with the crowning of Tim Fernau and Steph Kraus as the prom king and queen. A new and sentimental touch was added to the prom this year, black and red lace and satin garters with the theme engraved in gold in the ribbon were given as souvenirs to all. The evening was definitely one to remember, "The Best of Times!"

Ready For The Big Day

June 10, 1982 was the magical day for the class of 1982. The thirty-fourth annual graduation ceremony was held in the stadium at College of the Canyons. Commencement was preceded by a week of traditional end of the year activities for seniors: Spoof Awards, picnic and student/faculty softball game, Senior Awards program, Baccalaureate, distribution of cap and gowns, panorama picture, graduation practice, and the last of final exams in high school.

After two days of rehearsing and practice, the seniors were more than ready for the big day-graduation. The commencement program began with the invocation by Mike Ehring, followed by a welcome from principal, Mr. Daniel Hanigan. Two sentimental speeches were delivered by Carla Aba, reflecting on the past, and Ed Nauman, reflecting on the future. Finally the long awaited moment had arrived as diplomas were awarded to the eager graduates. The presentation of diplomas was preceded by the traditional passing of the scholarship medallions from top academic seniors to top academic juniors.

The commencement program concluded with the benediction, delivered by Alison Ryan. Afterwards, hats flew, screaming, kissing, hugs, and crying happy tears were among the emotions of the seniors while they were proudly applauded by the audience. Many seniors then boarded the school bus bound for Disneyland-Grad Night. And others enjoyed a joyful evening with family and friends. The night was a memorable one for everyone as the class of 1982 began a new beginning.

Clubs Are As Important As Classes

4. wis soften sdid that involve wient sin schóol extra curricular clubs and organizations increased the enjoyment of the school vear: Hart High students, during the 1981-82 school year, had amplé opportunity to join a cluts or organization of their choosing or to start a new club.

The continuation of the restrictive five period day resulted in a large percentage of co-curricular groups maintaining their extra curricular status rather than the class status they once held. Even in the face of this five period day. student interest was high, as four new clubs were created and the membership of the others increased.

Although : a tradition on most campuses, Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA) began its first year at Hart. Sponsoring two movie classics, "Dr. Doolittle" and "Arthur". which were shown to students in the auditorium. Hart's FBLA got off to a slow but promising start

In addition, three smaller clubs made their debut in 1981-82. One was the Field Science Club, whose member's crowd stopping Reptile Show, sponsored by the Newhall Pet Center, exhibited several examples of snakes, including a Columbian Boa. Reticulated Python, and a Santa Monica Kingsnake. The other two new sorgam isations were thought pro voking Chess Club and health promoting Aeromic Dance

The California Scholarship Federation.(CSF) saw a marked increase in membership and involvement as eighteen seniors were awarded the rank of CSF Gold Seal-Bearer. The Associated Student Body (ASB) offered more extensive activities in conjunction with many of Hart's clubs, old and new.

The success enjoyed by all the campus organizations, the experience and knowledge gained by students, and the fun they had during the year all combined to support the conclusion that ex-tra-curricular activities were as important to an enjoyable, suc-

- cessful school year as classes. tests, and homework

Cheering at sporting events was merely the tip of the iceberg as far as school involvement went for last year's Varsity Cheerleaders and Songleaders. Their job was truly one of devotion. Two hour daily practices, painting signs, and baking cookies for the teams left these girls with little time for other activities. The best word that can describe last year's squad is originality. The Varsity Cheerleaders new cheer routines motivated spectators to crowd-participation heights never before experienced at Hart High. The original pom-pom routines of the songleaders were always crowd-pleasers.

The highlight of ' 82 for these girls was their television debut on "Desperate Lives," a movie filmed for television at Hart.

Black Turns To Red

It was a year of metamorphosis for the 1981-82 Drill Team. A new adviser, Mrs. Debra Warren, took the helm guiding the team through a busy but successful year. For the first time in several years, the traditional black skirts and sweaters were changed to red.

Throughout the competitive season, the Hart Drill Team brought home several awards including a third place trophy from the U.S.A. Drill Team camp at Santa Barbara, a first place trophy from the Canyon Country Frontier Days parade, and the highlight of the year, a six foot sweepstakes trophy from Chaffey High School.

With a combination of dance and precise military moves, the Hart Drill Team indeed dazzled the crowds with their numerous field show, basketball, and rally performances. The whole team worked hard and enjoyed a memorable year while at the same time learning about teamwork and cooperation.

Student Initiative Carries On Flag Team Tradition

The dynamic Hart High School Flag Team, pride of students and faculty alike, had a very eventful year as well as a year of change in several areas.

During the 1981/82 school year the team was basically a student organized group, lacking an adviser until December of 1981 when Ms. Deanna Brix, a former Hart Drill Team member who graduated in 1977, took over. The summer of 1981 saw the team members, twice, cooperating and working closely with one another, in the best Hart High tradition, washing cars to raise money to purchase their first new uniforms in six years. These uniforms were designed by the team in collaboration with seamstress, Miss Feather Tippets, who graduated from Hart in 1973.

During the year the members sold candy in order to raise money to pay competition expenses. At Hibbard High School, their first individual competition without the band, our hard working Flag Team took sixth place out of nineteen teams. The Claremont High competition brought the team a first place award, beating tough Claremont High by two-tenths of a point. Then, at the Chaffey Tournament of Champions, an invitational extravaganza pitting the top teams from California as well as other parts of the Western United States, our illustrious Flag Team took third place, again defeating rival Claremont High.

Throughout the year the team proved their excellence at several rallies, parades, football, and basketball games. The team brought a sense of pride to all Hart students alike.

We're Number One!

A tradition at Hart for many years, the Chieftains, during the 1981/82 year, were tremendously successful. From the year's beginning through the month of April, this group played in five jazz festivals in which they won three first prizes and two second. At the Chaffey College Competition, the most prestigious contest of the year, our illustrious Chieftains defeated the number one band in the nation, claiming for themselves that superior rank.

Punctuating the groups performances were outstanding arrangements by George Stone and excellent solos by George, Ken Raleigh, and Jim O'Shea. The truly fine assembled sound of the Chieftans marked them as one of Hart's finest groups in years. The Chieftains sparked pride and spirit in the students and staff of Hart.

In addition the group traveled to Orange County for the Fullerton Jazz Festival and most memorable candelight procession at Christmas time at Disneyland. ## Indians Dominate District Honor Band

The Hart High Marching Band of the 1981/82 school year did itself and its school proud. The Band's field show throughout the year was entitled "Collage" and featured theme music from Raiders of the Lost Ark, the Marquis de Sade, and Brian's Song, with George Stone, Ken Raleigh, and Ron Henry featured on trumpet. The street competition band won the overall sweepstakes for music and marching at the extremely competitive Frontier Days Parade. The drum major for the year was senior Tim Lynch. Tim did a fine job providing leadership in both field and parade competitions. Senior Deanna Reiber played a new role, that of Field Show Director, adding color and excellent leadership to an already terific performing group. In the course of the year the Marching Band won first place in the A division of the Cal Poly Pomona Field Show Contest, and second place overall in the AA division at the Chaffey High School Field Show Contest.

A group that played some of the most difficult but beautiful works available for concert bands, the 1981/82 Symphonic Wind Ensemble had a great year performing such fine pieces as "Mannin Veen" by Haydn Wood. From this group, forty-one of its members earned places in the sixty member Hart-Sau-gus-Canyon Honor Band. Principal chair players from Hart on this Honor Band were Jim O'Shea, Oboe; Karen Oehler, flute; Sibel Iren, clarinette; Duff Gardner, bassoon; Ken Raleigh, trumpet; Eric Morse, trombone; David Dolson, alto saxophone; Greg Wilson, French horn, Jeff Hill, tuba; and Vicki Nickel, alto clarinette.

The Concert Band was a fine group whose young performers honed their talents to make the Chieftains, Marching Bands, and Symphonic Wind Ensembles of the future better than ever. Hart's musical future looked good with this fine group performing at such a high standard of musicianship.

In 1981 and 1982 the tempo of the Hart beat was strong and sure, enticing the Indians who heard and felt it to move with the melody.

From Classical To Pop

Concert Choir, the advanced choral group at Hart, was composed of only the best male and female vocal talents of Hart. Concert Choir sings a diverse selection of musical numbers from classical to pop. The highlights of the year included a candlelight Christmas procession at Disneyland, Fullerton Jazz Festival, Southern California Vocal Association Festival, and performing at Dodger Stadium in the rain. Under the direction of Mrs. Judy Starr, this group made substantial progress through many hours of practice and numerous performances. Outstanding solo performances at the annual Christmas Concert were made by: Craig Smith, White Christmas; Melissa Bowman and Michele McCune, Silver Bells; Karen Tucker, I Was A Small Child; Stacy Rasmussen, I Was There.

During the year spirit and enthusiasm came through for A Cappella Choir. This small group served as a training chorus for Concert Choir. It took determination; but, was rewarding as it gave to members the opportunity to perform at festivals. With Mrs. Starr at the helm, the group made their debut performance at the Christmas Concert and later in the year performed with the Concert Choir at Choir Night on the Dodger baseball playing field.

The Old And The New

The Hart chapter of the California Scholarship Federation, an organization composed of academically superior students, had a successful and enjoyable year. This group under the guidance of Mrs. Lori Huenink and Mr. Tony Rose, conducted fund raisers to earn money for scholarships and spent a day at Disneyland. Federation officers for the first semester were: Tammy Kraye, President; Inger Tudor, Vice-President: Mary Gonzales, Secretary: and Karen Oehler, Treasurer. Officers for the second semester were: Hilary Sullivan, President; Mary Gonzales, Vice-President; Julie Osugi, Secretary; and Robin Beeby, Treasurer.

A newcomer in 1981 was the Field Science Club advised by Mr. Bob Jolley and created to provide a haven for those students interested in animal life, particularly reptilian. Of particular interest was the advent of a Reptile Show put on by the members to display a collection of reptiles of different varieties.

Throughout the course of the 1981/82 school year the hard work of Hart High School's Student Government resulted in activities and events everyone could enjoy and participate in. The Associated Student Body, (ASB), together with many school clubs and organizations, organized activities to build school spirit, promote school/community service, enhance school relations, and provide various special interest activities for staff and students. These events included rallies, assemblies, dress-up days, as well as others, all intended to support the curricular program by offering each students an opportunity to develop a sense of pride in himself and his school.

The League coordinated Homecoming with the A.S.B., it shared responsibility with the Senior Class for the successful Winter Formal, and it sponsored the 34th Annual Tea. Advised by Mrs. Peggy Stabile, the League's activities were a great service to students.

The Hart chapter of the Spanish Honor Society was established by Mrs. Maria Carlson. This collection of fine Spanish speakers held its induction ceremony on May 27th in the Library. The ceremony included entertainment provided by Tammy Kraye, Donna Wolf, and Chet Hecht's band.

At the same Conference, Cindy Anderson and Jamie Guffey finished fourth in a poster contest.
An after-school organization, the Drama Club, advised by Mrs. Elsie Smith, remained an extra-curricular activity for those students with a keen interest. The club performed two plays during the year "Twain by the Tale" and "Death Takes a Holiday."

Exploring Indian Hobbies

New for the year, the Aerobic Dance class, advised by Mrs. B.J. Smith, was formed so that students may have an opportunity to get into, and maintain, shape. Aerobics was an enjoyable way of trimming up and losing weight while listening and moving to popular music. The class met every Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday for forty-five minutes after school.

It was evident that many high schools had chess clubs, and during the $1981 / 82$ school year Hart was no exception. A new chess club was formed to bring together those students with the common interest of playing and enjoying the classic game of chess. The club was advised by Mrs. B.J. Smith in whose room it met daily at lunch. The group maintained a casual playing atmosphere that was always evident. Officers of the club were: President, Annie Benson; Vice-President, Jim Cubbage; and Treasurer, David Colf.

Firmly entrenched in the battlefields of Hart was the four-year old Conflict Simulation Club advised by Mrs. B.J. Smith and under the leadership of Andy Bouffard. The club met daily at lunch to play war and role-playing games. The primary feature of the year was the first Dungeons and Dragons Tournament held for, and opened to, all players. The club was formed to unite wargamers and to promote healthy competition between students. The club's officers included: Vice-President, Alan Costin: Secretary, John Thorpe; and Treasurer, Bernardo Rubalcava.

Affiliated with the Chinese Martial Arts Association of South Pasadena and the National Wu Shu Association of America, the Martial Arts Club, advised and led by Mr. Joel Barr, continued for the second year its practice of the Oriental arts of self-defense. The club emphasized the use of these arts for self-defense and refereed competition only. Meeting Wednesdays after school during the first semester, the club members learned and practiced techniques from Japan and China, including Wu Shu, China's biggest sporting event. Members participated in tournaments and activities with the club's affiliated organizations.

The third Christmas Canned Food Drive was a big success for those in need, a total of 2,630 cans of food were collected from students and staff and then given to needy families. The organization behind this successful project was Nosotros Unidos, meaning we are united. In its third year, this group, originally created to foster a school wide understanding of the member's Latino heritage, was advised by Mr. Joel Barr. As well as organizing the food drive, the club members held a bake sale on campus and, later, treated, for the third year in a row, the faculty to a Cinco de Mayo luncheon of Spanish delicacies. The club's officers were: President, Graciela Ruiz: Vice-President, Marta Arrias; and Treasurer, Lupe Mendoza.

Reporting And Recording

The 1981/82 Smoke Signal, supervised, proofed, and edited by Miss Diana Lee, continued in its second year as an after-school, allvolunteer activity. Fifteen dedicated students met monthly to receive copy assignments. After the finished articles were proofread, Mrs. Nancy Leather's period one Advanced Typing class typed the copy in neat three inch columns. The staff members met again each month to lay-out the typed copy of the $11^{\prime \prime} x$ $17^{\prime \prime}$ sheets upon which the newspaper was printed. This printing was done by Mr. John Garner's Graphic Arts classes. The paper was collated by Miss Lee's British Literature students and distributed by her Honors English 9 students. Distribution usually occured on the last Friday of every school month.

Thus, The Smoke Signal, a service performed without credit, by students, for students received the attention of many on the Hart campus.

Ten points short of a first-place rating, the 1980/81 Tomahawk yearbook received a second-place grade from the judges of Columbia University. Striving to produce as professional a book as possible, the 1981/82 Tomahawk yearbook staff, under the leadership of four year Tomahawk veteran Donna Nichols, and the guidance of Miss Mary Ann Guho, aimed for total school coverage and quality work. With Donna's experience, the typing of Susan Klehn, the advertisement coordination skill of Kristin Hill, and the fine writing skills of Andy Bouffard and Rob Edwards, along with the entire hard working, skilled twentyeight member staff, the 1981/82 Tomahawk was in good hands.

Work on the yearbook involved class time as well as many hours of each staff member's free time. During the year, the staff tried to keep the book's price to a minimum, eliminating the color from the senior section for lack of funds, and to compensate, improving the senior section in other ways.

A highlight of the fall semester, the yearbook theme day was a big success, drawing throngs of students to the same day rally to see such super-notables as Superman and Super Chicken.

The year ended, for the staff, with a frantic pace to meet publication deadlines, writing copy, completing typing, and designing pages.

Unsung Heroes Do Not Go Unappreciated

The unsung heroes of Hart were the faculty members whose efforts provided students with the knowledge they would use in their future lives.

The Hart faculty did not go unappreciated. The 1981/82 Teacher Appreciation Day, an annual tradition, was sponsored by the A.S.B. and was successful in expressing the student body's appreciation for the supervisory roles that the staff had graciously filled during the year. Following a donut-and-coffee greeting in the morning, the faculty was treated to a sumptuous buffet meal at lunch, a meal consisting of sandwiches and cold cuts

Earlier in the year a Faculty-Football Player Breakfast was served. Each varsity football player invited a faculty member of his choice, who then came to school wearing that players jersey. The morning's hearty breakfast of pancakes, scrambled eggs, and sausage was whipped up using the combined culinary talents of head chef Mr. Daniel Hanigan and assistant chefs Mr. Robert Mcelroy, Mr. Gerald Thon, Mrs. Nancy Leathers, and Mrs. Lori Huenick:

During the year Hart's teachers were not without school spirit as the faculty attendance at rallies grew markedly. In 1981; students witnessed, at pep rallies, the debut of the Faculty Cheering Section, a high spirited teamled by cheerleaders Ms. Jeanne Tong, Mr. Tony Rose, Mr. Max Friedman and Mr. Chris Mansfield.

After twenty-two years of shining service to Hart and it's students and faculty, Principal's secretary Mrs. Claire Soyster and Registrar Mrs. Eula Biddulph retired with the best wishes of staff and students alike.

If you've ever been to the administration office at Hart, you've undoubtedly met either Mrs. Claire Soyster, principal's secretary, or Mrs. Eula Biddulph, school registrar. This year both Mrs. Soyster and Mrs. Biddulph retired from their positions after many years of ardent service.

Both ladies agreed that one of the most enjoyable benefits of working at Hart was the amiability of the teachers and office staff. The faculty at Hart had proven to be quite a friendly group, giving Mrs. Soyster and Mrs. Biddulph many lasting friendships over the years. The school atmosphere and good student relationships made the days tick by like minutes.

When asked about Mrs. Soyster, Mr. Daniel Hanigan replied,

For over twenty years, Mrs. Soyster has provided compettent assistance to five differ-ent principals at Hart. Having worked with her for the last eight and a half of those, I will miss not only her competence, but her pleasant manner, sense of humor and ability to cover my mistakes.

Mrs. Soyster claimed the reason for her survival at Hart for so long was that, "working with the young keeps you young," It was her youthful spirit and professional manner that kept the front office running smoothly and efficiently for many years.

Although being registrar gave Mrs. Biddulph the greatest satisfaction, she had also worked at Hart in the attendance office, A.S.B. office, and counseling office. Being responsible for thousands of transcripts and student records each year was not an easy job: Mrs. Biddulph managed with a calm manner and true skill.

A Fond Farewell

Mrs. Eula Biddulph
When Mrs. Biddulph announced her retirement Mr. Hanigan commented.

Without Mrs. Biddulph we will be losing eighteen years of experience in the registrar's office. She has been an expert on data processing, all records connected with grades, transcripts and school schedules. She will be missed as a person and as an expert in her field.

Hart High staff and students were very sad to see such fine, experienced people leave the school. Mrs. Claire Soyster and Mrs. Eula Biddulph were both formally honored by the school district at individual retirement teas where staff, family, and friends showed their appreciation for their many years of service.

AGADEMICS

First And Foremost To Educate People

William S. Hart High School was, first and foremost, a school, a facility to educate people. The academic curriculum at Hart during the 1981/82 school year offered instruction in a wide array of studies, in both required and elective courses.

The 1981/82 year saw the continuation of the five period day resulting in the low enrollment and resultant elimination of some electives. This continued cut back was extremely hard on those academically oriented students who, after finishing all required courses found themselves with few opportunities to explore other subjects.

The computer bug hit Hart during the school year. The wide use of computers on campus was evident as both the Math and Business Departments acquired home computers to aid in providing future students with the knowledge and ability to utilize these powerful machines.

On May 12 the Hart High counseling staff hosted its second Santa Clarita Valley College Night inviting representatives from thirtytwo colleges across the country. The evening was a great success as countless Juniors as well as Seniors listened to and questioned the myriad assortment of college representatives there,

Math Department Receives New Computers

As the years passed man's scientific and technical achievements resulted in the formulation of new and more challenging, ever vital, problems and questions about the multiverse around us. The Hart High School Science and Math Departments, under the skilled practiced hands of Mr. Robert Henson and Mr. Robert McElroy, and with a staff of professionals, was prepared to instruct and lay the ground work for, those men and women who would pass from Hart's halls to tackle and solve those problems of yesterday, today, and tomorrow.

In the Science Department a few innovative changes were made from the year before. These included a team teaching setup which permitted three teach-ers-Mr. Henson, Mr. Roy Rork, and Mr. David Ferree, with the aid of a collapsible inter-room wall, to share in the teaching of two Biology classes at once. The Department offered a variety of courses, including aviation science which, if passed, would qualify as ground school for those interested in learning to fly, and a multi-science which, over the course of a year, had four instructors switching fields of study every nine weeks.

After the loss of Mr. Louden Stanford to retirement last year, Mr. Robert Jolley was added to the staff to teach Biology. A unique part of the Science Department's curriculum, Health and Driver's Education, two paired one quarter courses which were required for graduation, was taught by Mr. David Munroe. Through the help of guest speakers as well as Mr. Munroe's instruction, students learned about their health and what can jeopardize as well as help that health.

Along with General Math and Senior Math, Algebra, Geometry, Advanced A.lgebra and Trigonometry, Math Analysis, and Calculus, were three special semester versions of Algebra and Geometry geared for those students who required more assistance in learning, were offered during the school year. In the word's of Mr. Robert McElroy, Math Department Chairman at Hart for the past fifteen years, "We try to offer a well rounded curriculum preparing students for post High School life as well as College Mathematics."

Of paramount importance to the classes taught by the Math Department, are the Department's computers and computer oriented instructions. Hart, one of the first schools to acquire one, has had a large computer since 1971. In addition to this machine Hart had four Apple computers with supplementary equipment as well as a donated TRS-80. These computers were put to excellent use during the 1981/82 school year as the Math Department offered classes in Basic, Assembler, and Fortran Computer Programming. In addition, Mr . Don Lund, Math Analysis and computer programming teacher at Hart, gave up a considerable amount of time over the summer of 1981 to set up and program the new attendance computer in the administrative office.

Meeting Future Needs In Language Arts

The aim of the English Department under the leadership of Mrs. Lori Huenink didn't change, it stressed the basic reading and writing skills, focusing on the classics of literature. In addition, other more diversified subjects, unchanged from previous years, were offered by the Department. These included studies in Science Fiction, Mythology/Folklore, and British Literature. During the 1981/82 year a new, full time English teacher, Mrs. Debra Warren, took over as the Humanities instructor. The Honors English system began its second year, as the same group of students remained together advancing up the ladder of specially structured, more advanced English courses.

During 1982 the California State University system joined the University of California system in requiring four years of high school English as a prerequisite for enrollment. In Mrs. Huenink's words, "This will require students to focus more on college preparatory English courses offered here." The Hart High English Department was, and still is, well prepared to successfully meet the English needs of Hart's student in the future.

During the 1981/82 school year the aims and philosophy of the Foreign Language Department were to instruct, in increasing levels of difficulty and expertice, as many students as possible in the linguistic pleasures and pitfalls of Spanish and French. While not only teaching students vocabulary, spelling, and punctuation, the instructors undertook the teaching of customs, geography, and history of the respective nations.

In 1981/82 Mr. Jim Droz, Spanish instructor, was on leave the entire year and Spanish teacher, Mrs. Maria Carlson was on leave during the first semester, returning for the second. To bolster Hart's foreign language teaching staff, Miss Jill Zubov and Mr. Richard Lawhead were hired to teach Spanish.

Hart High School was and still is one of the few schools in Los Angeles county which offered, and will continue to offer classes in all seven of the social studies areas of political science, economics, geography, sociology, psychology, and anthropology.

Under the leadership of Mr. Dean Roland, the Social Studies Department was unique in the wide scope of its various courses. This highly varied program was designed to meet both the needs and interests of students. In Mr. Roland's words, "when one cuts back on social studies, it results in and qual, undesired, cutting back of knowledge and respect for America's institutions."

During the 1981/82 school year the Department began moving in the direction of requiring its staff members cover a minimum group of concepts in each course. Thus guaranteeing that students who moved on received exposure to the most important aspects of each class.

The Practical Approach

This nation prides itself in its system of free-enterprise composed of big and small businesses. And for as long as this system and its inherent business concerns endures there will be a need for people with a large number of business oriented skills.

The first semester of the 1981/82 school year saw the Business Department led by Mrs. Nancy Leathers who, after five years of service, gave her chair position to colleague Mr. Tony Grande. The Department offered a diverse choice of courses with the aim of teaching student skills that would help them get a job after high school.

The biggest accomplishment for the Department during the 1981/82 school year was the establishment of a national business club known as the Future Business Leaders of America. This organization brought students together to learn more about, and possibly prepare for, a future in business.

With its plans for future courses for college bound seniors, including speed writing, speed reading and note taking, and its desire to initiate a computer accounting program, Hart's Business Department took bold but sure-footed steps in preparing students for a business laden future.

The Department was fortunate to receive a new business computer which was planned to be used to introduce both the Department staff and students to the use of computers in business.

Preparing students for a trade, the Industrial Arts Department led by Mr. Rob Gapper utilized both in-shop experience as well as guest speakers to train its students. In addition, through the Department, students had the opportunity to gain practical on-the-job training in the R.O.P. program in fields like welding, auto airconditioning, and silk-screening.

During the school year a select number of students, chosen for their artistic, technical skills, and members of Mr. Gapper's Advanced Drafting class, worked together as a team to design and assemble an information booklet. This booklet, envisioned by the group to serve the public, contained technical drawings and specifications for all pertinent facilities at Hart which the public would be interested in utilizing. These junior architects and draftsmen designed much of the new landscaping around campus as well as the renovation of the student parking lot. These contributers to the school were sophomores Robert Benivedez, Nick Gubelli, and John Stafford, and seniors Greg James, Bill Krumrei, and Robert Orosco.

The Arts Of Hart

Even with the continuation of the five period day and the low enrollment of girls in team sports, the Physical Education Department continued its diverse course offerings. Formulating a standard philosophy, the Department trained as many students in as many areas as the shortage of funds and full time teachers would allow. Last year classses included karate, volleyball, tennis, and weight lifting. It was, and still is, the philosophy of the Department to give due attention to each of the four major areas of physical education: to subject students to the mental aspects of sports including rules, strategy, and scoring: to bolster self confidence in students; to improve the flexibility, kinetic skills, muscular strength, and coordination of students; and to promote interaction between players, leadership skills, sportsmanship, and teamwork.

The staff was principally the same from the previous year. Mrs. Debra Warren continued in her advisory capacity for the Hart Drill Team. Absent the first semester, Mrs. Pat Cheek returned for the second semester, to prepare Hart's Drill Team hopefuls. Mr. David Munroe taught one period of tennis while Mr. David Ferree coached gymnastics during the first semester.

The Art Department offered courses ranging from Experience in Art for those with no art background, to more advanced courses like Drawing and Ceramics. Due to the steadily increasing demand this year four ceramics classes were offered spring semester. In addition to the studio experience students were exposed to outside speakers from professional art schools. Student artists Robert Jackson and Jeff Phipps represented the school in an art contest sponsored by Congressman Barry Goldwater, Jr. and Jodie Rollans received a first place award for her poster entered in a local contest entitled "Save the Bus."

Hart's Music Department was well represented by the forty students whose skill in their respective instruments earned them a position on the Santa Clarita Valley Honor Band. This organization new for this school year, brought together the top musicians of the high schools of the Santa Clarita Valley. After two rehearsels, this group put on a performance before a packed audience. The Honor Band under the direction of California State University Northridge guest conductor Dr. David Whitwell, enjoyed a successful, musical show.

And The Winners Are

The Academy Awards Show was a big, glamorous event for Hollywood where our on and off screen heroes were celebrated in grand style. Throughout the school year Hart had its own heroes whose Academic Awards earned them the respect of all. Among these scholastic stars was senior Deanna Reiber, whose Bill of Rights Competition essay on the Ninth Amendment earned her first place. Senior Andy Bouffard outlined his optimism for our country in his, "Why I Am Optimistic About America" essay for the annual Optimist Club Essay Contest. His essay earned him first place at the local, area, and zone competitions. A fine orator, junior Inger Tudor won first place locally in the Lyons Club Speech contest, and then went on to the next level.

The Los Angeles Lakers again offered their two scholarships to seniors within forty miles of the Forum. Senior Rob Edwards successfully placed as one of the top ten finalists of this tough essay and academic competition. Rob did not receive a scholarship, but did receive Laker's tickets and acknowledgement at a Laker's game. Fourteen students were selected to represent Hart at the annual Bank of America Achievement Awards. Certificate winners were: Marcelo Chiodi, Social Studies; Barbara England, Home Economics; Dale Frack, Mathematics; Robert Jackson, Art; Stephanie Rau, English; Scott Schaefer, Trades and Industrial; Scott Smelser, Laboratory Science; Hilary Sullivan, Foreign Language; Julie Torres, Business; and Stephen Wright, Music. Those students honored with engraved plaques and who were eligible to compete in the second step debates were: Susan Klehn, Vocational Arts; Bryan Merich, Fine Arts; Deanna Reiber, Liberal Arts; and Susan Ridenour, Science and Mathematics. These four plaque winners achieved high honors in the accompanying debate. Susan Klehn placed fourth and Bryan Merich placed second.

Hollywood's Academy Awards celebration honored the best of the year in each movie related category. Hart's Academic Awards likewise honored the best of the year in two particular groups. The hard working and deserving top Ten Juniors were: Krista Anderson, Sherry Duval, Bob Englander, Mary Gonzalez, Chris Gunn, Laura Hubber, Arthur Lucarian, Karen Oehler, Julie Osugi, Becky Sawyer, and Inger Tudor. Equally hard working and deserving, the top Ten Seniors were: Michele Boyer, Rob Edwards, Jennifer Olsen, Erin Patton, Stephanie Rau, Deanna Reiber, Susan Ridenour, Scott Smelser, Hilary Sullivan, and Mark Xitco.

Mankind's heroes, throughout history, have been repeatedly acknowledged. Hart, its faculty and student body, and the society in which it functions, acknowledged these scholars, providing them with valuable experience for the future and assuring these students that their academic prowess would not go unrecognized.

Special Honors For Special People

The outstanding seniors of the class of 1982 were honored for their service and academic achievements at the thirty-fourth annual Senior Awards program. As this evening tends to be one of the most significant events of the senior year, the presentation of the many awards and scholarships was indeed very special. The ceremony was attended by the award-winning seniors and their proud parents.

Fads Come And Fads Go

Fads come and fads go every year, but the fads of 1982 at Hart were not only unique and original, they were fun. The first to hit Hart was the Rubik's cube. No other object in the history of Hart was able to tantalize the brains of practically every member of the student body. Everywhere you looked you saw that unsolveable cube ... in cars, on desks, even on keychains.

Pac- man fever hit Hart hard in 1982. Countless quarters were spent on Pac-man and countless other coin-operated video games in bowling alleys, arcades, and practically every shop in the valley. These games became increasingly more addicting as the video-junkies wanted to play just one more game to beat their previous high scores.

When KLOS radio station began distributing rainbow stickers as concert promotions, they had no idea that the idea would be so successful that a trip to Hart's parking lot would show that nearly every car had at least one rainbow sticker on it. Rainbow stick ers not only added individually to each car, but also were a way of letting students tell everyone what concerts they had seen. Most commonly seen stickers at Hart were: Pat Benatai Journev, and The Rolling Stones. What will be next

Terrible Ten

It all began on a cool September evening at the Hart-Crespi Varsity football game A group of twelve students, mainly Varsity basketball players, banned together to form a highly spirited cheering section: Because of their contagious enthusiasm, this group of ten managed to bring the fans to their feet wildy cheering their team onto an impressive victory. Following the example of this most spirited group, the fans also formed a cheering tunnel across the width of the field at half-time.

The group consisting of Mark Borden, Mike Ehring. Iim Fernau, Randy Floyd, Jeff Long, Steve Meht. Brian Patten, Scott Robinson Scott Smelser, David Strauss. Dean Troxell, and Deron White. continued to spread spirit throughout the season and right-fuly earned the title of the Terri ble Ten At later football games the Terrible Ten identified them selves by wearing costumes of green army pants, white thermal tops with Terrible Ten printed on the front, and the faces painted like Indians Terrible Ten will be remembered for many years to come for ther contribution to school spirit.

A prospective Eagle scout must meet many rigorous qualifications such as a service project for the benefit of the community. Even with the help of fellow scouts, this project took many hours of manual labor in addition to the time spent planning.

Traveling Indians

In July of 1981, ten fortunate Hart students, Belinda Como, Tony Como, Robert Edwards, Darren Elliott, Sue Klehn, Dee Dee Myers, Kim Myers, Wendy Rawson, John Vradenburg, and Lisa Wycall, took a two-week, once-in-a-lifetime trip that covered nine states of the U.S., and two providences of Canada. This trip, sponsored by the North Valley YM.C.A. consisted of forty-three participants, nine of which were staff members. Although the trip began slowly with a great deal of driving, it soon proved to be a fun-filed and exciting vacation.

The most memorable thing about the trip was the breathtaking scenery of the two countries and the close friendships formed. Highlights of the trip included participation in a white water rafting trip down the Snake River in Wyoming, and a day-long excursion to the "Calgary Stampede", the largest rodeo-camival in all Canada.

Broomball

and what do you have? You have broomball. Broomball. a variation of hockey and rugby with a sprinkling of soccer, is a game played without referee or honor system.

During the 1981-82 school year three Hart students participated in this sport-seniors, Scott McCormack, and Todd Brandt, and junior Darren Allen probably the most unique feature of broomball was the time at which it was played-between 2:00 A.M. and 3:30 A.M. on Saturday or Sunday mornings when the Van Nuysiceland Rink was closed to the public.

To play broomball one must have guts, be well coordinated, agile. and a little crazy. Players would tell you that they played because it gave them a feeling of personal satisfaction and was an outlet for aggression. But most of all, they played because they loved the game.

Nine Uneasy Months

For most of us the unrest in Iran during the late 1970's and early 1980's was half a world away and, except for 152 fellow Americans held captive, had little influence on our lives. Senior Chris Hamilton had another story to tell.

With his sixteen year old brother Logan, his mother, father, and poodle Jock. fourteen year old

Chris, in 1978, arrived in Iran. Here Chris' father worked as a computer field representative, instructing tranians in the use of computers.

For nine uneasy months the Hamiltons lived in the city of Isfahan. The boys aftended the American School of isfahan and found entertainment in flying model airplanes.

After those months of mounting tension. Chris and his family were given forty-five minutes to get out of the country. With little but the clothes on their backs, the boys, whose mother had left earlier, huriedy boarded a Lufthansa jet, leaving Chris' father behind to destroy the computers. The brothers quickly realized the aircraft they had boarded was actually a CIA spy plane and soon found themselves in Frankfurt. West Germany amidst throngs of questioning reporters.

Kari Vitanen and Claudia Schwarm have many warm memories abouf their year at Hart:

Foreign Friends

This year Hart had two European students on campus: Claudia Schwarm and Kari Virtanen.

Claudia was from Switzerland, from a town near Zurich with the pronounce-at-your-own-risk name of Untersiggenthal. She really enjoyed taking classes at Hart, and the freedom to choose electives. School was much easier here for Claudia than it was in Switzerland, where students spend forty hours a week in school and speak four languages fluently. fluently.

Kari Virtanen, from Finland, liked California weather and fast food. which he said was much better than Finnish hamburgers. He also felt that school was easier here. but missed sking back home.

Both Claudia and Kari were very impressed by the openess and manner in which Hart's students treated them. Although they looked forward to going home they regretted leaving so many friends.

I Knew Them  When

Two years of guitar lessons and a great deal of family influence lead Hart senior Doug Shannon to organize the three-member rock band. Direct Approach. The "hard rock" that Direct Approach plays can also be described as progressive rock. It is music that musicians rather than the average pop-music fans, can appreciate.

Direct Approach played mainly at parties and schools such as C.O.C. and Canyon High, but through a promotional agent got a booking at Gazzari's, a Hollywood club. Practicing in a basement for two hours a day may sound like a tremendous sacrifice to make, but the self satisfaction that Doug received from performing in front of an audience made the task of practicing a labor of joy

The popularity of Direct Ap proach had spread quickly by word of mouth. Maybe someday when we're all buying "Direct Approach" records, we can say. knew them when

During all the confusion Minh was separated from his family, who now live in Hong Kong. From Malaysia all three young boys flew to Los Angeles and later settled in the Newhall area.

The three boys enjoyed their freedom of being able to do and go where they wanted. Each of them had Graphic Arts classes with Mr John Garner, who had been a great help to their adjusting to American schools. Bich planned to attend college, majoring in the field of engineering. Nguyen and Minh also planned to pursue a college education and a career in the printing field. Minh hoped to rejoin his family in the

CHORUS LINE

Dedication pressure frustration and exphlifation all describe dancing for Sibel Iren who had been a ballet and jazz dancer since the age of six. In sixth grade, Sibel was admitted by audition to the Performing Arts School in Cincinnati for music and dance. A year later when Sibel moved to valencia, she continued her lessons at the Santa Clarita Valley Dance Center under the tutelage of Marionie Alison.

Although sibel spent most of her time concentrating on traditional ballet, her interest had shifted to jazz where she enjoyed the freedom of motion and quick: intricate, stylized movements. Sibel was one of the principle pertormers at the S.C.V.Dance Center's annual performance where she demonstrated exercises, contemporary ballet, and national dances from the Balkan countries. Her main talent lies in flexibit ity and feight of jumping

Inspired by Juliet Prowse: Sibel had the opportunity to train under protessional theatrical and movie choreographers who had helped her to decide on the future career of movie or chorus line dancing.

Working with horses is more than just a hobby for Wendy Marzinzik. it may become a career. Wendy's fascination with Tennessee Walker horses began five years after she moved to Ne whall. Although she usually shows her father's horses, her main pride comes from a four year old horse called "Go Boy Magic Mist" which she trained from birth. ## S.C.V. Car Clique

If you ever thought that starting a new club would be difficult :.: , you're wrong! Three Hart seniors; Jon Eliasburg, Dave Silvester, and Jim Stefansk founded the Santa Clarita Valey Custom Car Club completely on their own-a club not only open to Hart students. but to any member of the community with a custom or - semi-custom car. Custom cars and semicustom cars are set apart from others cars by their fog lights, nice paint jobs, headers, air horns, wink mirrors, wide tires, rims, and other special features.

Sponsored by the Optimist Club of Canyon Country, the custom car club had a membership of twenty-one at the end of the school year, which will surely increase by 1983. Membership requirements other than having a custom car were relatively minimal except for a twenty dollar fee which covered dues, club hats, and club shirts.

The highlight of the year was a afternoon picnic planned by club members of Hart Park.

PROFITABLE HOBBY

What was once a summer project for sophomore Drew Skelly became a profitable job and hobby. He was the author of a monthly stock report newsletter called Skelly Stock Service. Drew's interest began when his father bought him some stock in Newhall Land and Farm. With his mother acting as his secretary, he prepared the two-page report each month for publication. The newsletter which he started in August of 1981 had a circulation of 5 and costs $$ 25.00$ a year. Subscribers who appreciated his analysis of 5 stocks in each issue included a stock broker, a judge, and a lawyer.

Inspired by a stock broker. Drew learned how to read the stock page and make graphs. He spent approximately one hour dally reading the stock report and business periodicals such as "Business Week, " "Forbes," and "Fortune.

Drew's work was definitely worthwhile-one month he picked Garfunkel/Brooks Bros. as a good bet which merged with Allied stores Those who took Drew's advice doubled their money.

łMEN FRESHMEN FRESHMEN FRESHMEN FRESHMEN FRESHMEN

Olympic Hopefuls

Many Hart athletes have demonstrated determination and dedication to their sport, but none with the admirable reverence of Alicia Arias and Kristen Volding two superior gymnasts from Hart. The training routine in which the girls had participated over the past six years included practicing five hours a day, six days a week. The girls were hopeful that their extensive and grueling training would culminate in a spot on the 1984 Olympic team then on to collegiate competitions.

Inspired by family members and gymnastic greats such as Tracy Talavera, both girls had been competing in gymnastics since they were five years old. Alicia and Kirstin were both members of the Gymnastics Olympia team where they respectively held the ranks of "elite" and "first class".
and have had the opportunity to participate in competitions in Texas, Arizona. Nevada, and California. Each year their season ended with the state regional nationals where in 1981, the team ranked 8 th out of the 16 teams who participated.

Practicing and training at almost every spare moment made it difficult for the girls to do their homework and lead an active social life, but the high goals they set for themselves and the satisfaction of attaining those goals made the sacrifices seem meager and worthy of their dedication. Because it always took longer to reach goals than the girls anticipated training also became a frustrating experience. True success depended on a good mental attitude, dedication to the sport, a competitive spirit and the physical stamina to drive oneself to the point of exhaustion.

A Year Of Years

September 8, 1981 To June 10, 1982

Every year has its characteristics. The period between September 8, 1981 and June 10, 1982 was 276 days of conflict and peace, discovery and puzzlement. victory and defeat. It was 276 days that will never be repeated in the future. It was a year in which we atfended Wm. S. Hart High School while all around us, related to our lives yet unrelated, the world, with all its history making events, revolved.

It was a year of international strife and international success. Perhaps the most important event of this period was the tragic assasination of one of the world's greatest men of peace, President Anwar Sadat of Egypt. who, on October 6,1981 , was gunned down at an Egyptian military review. Of equal importance to world peace was the state of martial law declared in Poland and the confinement of Poland's Solidarity leader and national hero Lech Walesa. These events caused tension and tempers to flare throughout the Middie East. Europe, and the rest of the civilized world. We saw other important events take place as well. in early November a Soviet submarne went aground near a highy secret Swedish naval base. heightening ant-Soviet suspicion the world over. American NATO commander, General James Dozier was kidnapped and held by members of Italy's largest terrorist group, the Red Brigade. After over a month in captivity, General Dozier was freed by Itaian police, who later swept through the country, arresting many Red Brigade members. Istael made its final withdrawals from the Sinai, in accordance with the dictates of the Camp David Agreement, withdrawals that went smoothly except for occasional lsraeli settlers who were removed by force. Strife and violence erupted between israel and Lebanon as bombings and terrorism, sparked by Lebanese-based P.L.O. forces, reached adhorred heights, bringing open miltary conflict late in the school year, as israell forces aftacked Southern Lebanon, seeking out and destroying P.L.O bases and forcesk this action on Israel's part soon brought other Arab nations nta the fray miliarly, poitically, and/or economically -r.:

Eventually we would see Bnitish soldiers invade and Eventually we would see British soldiers invade and struggle to raise the British flag over the Falklands democratic natiors met at the Chatecu de Versailes outside Paris. The members of this economic summit discussed trade and international economics. During the previous summer the world watched as Prince Charles of England wed Lady Diana Spencer: Several months later, during the school year, the citizenry of Great Britan were overioyed to learn that the royal couple were expecting an heir to the British throne

It was a year of domestic trials and tribuiations. It was the year that President Reagan made good one of his campaign promises. The President appointed the first woman justice to the highest court in the land as Sandra Day O'Conner took her seat on the bench of the United States Supreme Court Early in the school year President Reagan signed a measure orcerifg, further research and construction of the MX mitssle and the B. 1 bomber The 198 1-82 schoolyear was also the year that Congress, with coaxing by the President, approved the sale of several AWAC reconaissance planes to Saudi Arabicia sale that wgs: met wilh rauch criticism from home and dibroad: The year brouigh withit discoid among the prost: dent's staff: as the Presideni's economic adviser, Do: vid Stockman, publicly spoke out against Reagáno: mics, and the White House Security Adviser, Richard Allen was investigated and resigned for allegedy. accepting bribes In earty 1982 President Reagan announced his plans to transfer funds and control of several government programs to the state government level.

In Washington D. C. and else where, aircraft accidents caused the FAA and society in general to look seriously at the problems and safety of aircraft and airtravel. Horrendous spring storms swept through the - Mid-West and East. destroying milions of dollars worth of property and claiming many lives finally. the proponents of the Equal Rights Amendment suffered a major setback as the June 30. 1982 ratification degaline neared. ERA was successfully shelved in North Carotina, as supporters continued to fast in illinois and the three-state ratification appeared unattainabe.
It was a year of economic problems. in early October of 1981 the national debit of the United States rearped the dppaling sum of one-rillion dollars On antoger 1, "1981 President Reagan's budget cuts went into effect and in May of ' 82 the Republican and Democriatic leaders of our government failed to complornise and agree on a new budget, ending hopes of a bi-partisan agreement and resulting in both sides using the other as a scapegoat.

The spring of 1982 brought with it economic problems and eventually bankruptcy to Freddie Laker and his Laker Airines, pioneer in low cost airfare and victim to risky price wars and economic competition with major airines. Similarily, Braniff Airines went under, resulting in the major airlines hotly competing for Braniff's old routes in early June we witnessed the level of national unemployment reach $9.5 \%$, the highest since 1941.

It was a year of discovery and achievement. It was the year that the world witnessed the first re-useable space vehicle lift off for a second and third trip, In November, two astronauts, Joe Engle and Richard Twily spent-three daysth Earth orbit experimenting 4. 2 with'the functions of the Shuttle Columbia, only to be called'back eariy due to mechanical malfunctions in astroncuts Jack Lousma and Gordon Fullerton put arnother rilion miles on the Columbia's odomefer - as they spent eight days of a planned seven day mission.experimenting with the Canadian mechani: cal arm ond sample cargo loads.
IT was a year of champions: On the one-hundred yard battlefields of the country the professional foot: - bolt teams of the nation enioyed a successful year. It. culminated in two surptising tearms, the San Francisco Forty-Niners and the Cincinnati Bengals, going to Pontiac, Michigan to play the Super Bowl, where the Forty-Niners came out on top. In baseball the Los Angeles Dodgers came from behind to join the legendary New York Yankees in the World Series, where the Dodgers surprised George Steinbrenner's Van-kees, winning four games to two. In the world of basketball, after an exciting season, the Los Angeles Lakers and the Philade phia Seventy-Sixers played in June in the NBA championship, resulting in a victory for Los Angeles. The fast, exciting sport of hockey enjoyed an exciting season as two excellent teams, the New York islanders and the Vancouver Canucks. competed for the coveted Stanley Cup, a competition which was won by New York. The U.S. Tennis Open was won by falented John Mc Enroe, competing against Bjorn Borg, and young Tracy Austin, playing against Martina Navratlova.

At the end of the 1981 baseball season top honors went not only to the Dodgers, but to their rookie pitcher Fernando Valenzuela, who was awarded the Cy Young Award in the world of football the networks paid the NFL. two million dollars for the right to cover games during the 1982 season. And the Oakland Raiders won a major court victory in their attempt to move to Los Angeles

It was a year of blockbusters, cinema heroes, and tragic losses in the entertanment field. Throughout the 1981-82 school year Hollywood cranked out several box office winners. Movie fans enjoyed the exploits of Indiana Jones in Lucas' and Spielberg's Raiders of the Lost Ark. the Italian stalion in Rocky III, and the epic story of American journalsts in Reds. The Academy A ward winners for 1982 included both surprise and expected recipients. Surprising many, the English production. Chariots of Fife won the Best Movie award. Best Actor was Henry Fonda. Best Actress was Katherine Hepburn, both won for their roles in On Golden Pond.

Tragedy befell the entertainment industry as such motables as Natalie Wood, Willam Holden, costume

- designer Edith Head and comics John Belushi and paulynn passed away. Allwould besorely missed:by their entertainment peers and the rest of the world. The life of a sludent during the nine montibs fiem September to June was offen times filled with the pressures and pleasures, werds thoughts, and ac-* tions of school life. We as students with se much on fions of-school life. We, as students with samuch on our minds, often did not fully absorb the myniad hap:- penings of the world around us. Only when we stop. turn around: and look back af what has occured. can we truly accept, refiect upon, and view in proper perspective that which was the period between :September 8, 1981 and June 10, 1982, a year unique unto itself-a year of years.

James Reynolds

James Reynolds, a Hart senior, was killed in a car accident on early Sunday morning. March 28. James lived in Valencia and during that time attended Our Lady of Perpetual Help Elementary School, Placerita Junior High, and Hart.

James had many hobbies, two of those being tennis and skateboarding. James was very agile and competed in both sports. Another of James' interests was guitar. James took lessons and enjoyed his music immersely. James' main interest was surfing. a sport demanding much coordination. He loved the ocean and spent much of his free time at the beach.

James' sincere and genuinely kind manner won him many close friends and his sense of humor was enjoyed by everyone who met him. James will be missed by his family and by his many close friends.

Doreen Haas

On October 27, 1981 at age sixteen, Doreen Haas, a senior, died of a massive brain hemorage at Henry Mayo Hospital, Newhall. Doreen had kidney failure due to a disease called Lupus, a disease which demanded dialysis treatment three times a week.

Doreen came to Hart in March, 1981 from Canoga Park High School, where she had previously attended since her freshman year. Doreen's quiet manner was concealed by her winning smile and caring attitude. She had a great love of animals and had future plans to work with them.

Doreen will be missed by her close friends, classmates, and foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jensen of Valencia.

A glare in the eye, senior Guy Avagliano stands before the Mann 6 theater, a favorite entertainment spot for many students.
