Dedications

to the Graduates from the Staff

Here's to the class of '94. May the hard work and dedication that you have exercised here at the Learning Post be a springboard for success in the future. I have no doubt that it will.

Sincerely,
Harlan Perlman

To the Learning Post class of '94....best wishes for a successful and happy future.

Karen Parker

To the class of '94 - I wish you health, love, and life work that you enjoy and a reason to smile.

Judy Webber

To the class of '94 - May your lives be filled with much peace and contentment.

Sincerely,
Ann Simon

My heartfelt congratulations to the graduates for their hard work and persistence. I wish you all the same pleasure and satisfaction you have brought me during your time at the Post. I hope you'll find time to return occasionally to share your on-going success and accomplishments.

Sincerely,
Mike Ehrhart

When you venture into "real life," with pressures, bills that add up to strife, you will look back fondly on your days at the "Post," and remember the times that helped you the most. The times of learning, and times of play. All of the times that brought you to this day. Graduation Day is when you take a giant stride. For you and your family, it is a day full of pride. So, since you have nothing left here to do -

Good luck, Class of 1994, from me to you.

Jeff White

To the class of '94 - Wishing you the very best life has to offer.

Congratulations Graduates,
Holly Gravett

Mike,

There is nothing I can say to express how much I owe you and how thankful I am for everything you've done to help me out. You are truly a very special person and a one-of-a-kind teacher. You are the only one I've ever met that truly defines the real meaning of the word teacher. Thank you for everything. Take care of yourself.
