MAKING IT

We seek every day of every year to make things special. This yearbook was made in the hopes of showing how Saugus High went about making life special in the 1983-1984 school year. So much time is spent with the problems of life and the people who make them that we often forget the events that make our lives so very special.

Every class that something new is learned in makes us feel a little better about ourselves. As the year comes to an end, each student has learned more about the world and his own life through academic achievements. Each day that passes something special has happened to make us different in some way. Along with the routine of going to practices are the very special games and meets that make them all worthwhile. Winning that baseball game, coming in first in a close race, and making a great play at a football game are special moments never to be forgotten.

The anticipation of the Homecoming celebrations makes all the work involved worthwhile. Even planning the Winter Formal is made worth while by the wonderful evening that seems to unfold around you the night of the event. All work is made worthwhile by the special moments which occur.

In the atmosphere at Saugus High School every student goes about his own way while meshing with others. Every individual has a part in making Saugus special, and this yearbook hopes to show just how important every person's impact can be on the outcome of this endeavor.

Making something, anything, special takes work and time. We all spend much of both on making our school and our lives at school special, this yearbook is about to show how this is done in so many different ways.

1. Raise your hands if you're sure of Saugus, Sandy Konigsfeld. 2. Two guys, Doug Fischer and Jim Ziese, really think they're both pretty special. 3. Great football players are always crowd pleasers 4. A hot french fry with Wendy Welch can make a person's day. 5. The Saugus dance team is sure a special sight in their blue and silver. Opposing page: 1. Oh my! Dave Beaver, Billy Steele, and Todd Smith are a tall sight to see

Making a difference here at Saugus has been Dr. Sproul's goal ever since he received the news that he had been chosen principal for the new high school in Saugus. He has really made that difference in ten years of hard work and dedication.

Dr. Sproul was not always a principal. He did not even become interested in teaching until after his years in World War II. He had always wanted to continue his education and, as things worked out, he went on to college afterwards. The world that opened up to Dr. Sproul after his years at college kept him in the educational system as an English teacher.

For Dr. Sproul, these years as a teacher were some of the most rewarding he has ever had. The time Dr. Sproul spends with students is still very important to him and if he could have his way, he would be more active with students now. As a very busy principal, though, Dr. Sproul's duties take him away from the students he so enjoys.

Despite changes in the educational system, Dr. Sproul has never become disenchanted with it. He feels very strongly that Saugus High is a wonderful place to get an education with a fantastic staff and many opportunities for the interested student. Our principal himself is looking forward someday to furthering his own education. Dr. Sproul would like to take some math classes to see what he can learn, art classes to see what he can do, and he would even like to teach a U.S. history class part-time. Dr. Sproul knows, from experience, how wonderful education is and he has spent his years here at Saugus and throughout the district making education a little more interesting! Dr. Sproul really is making a difference.

1. Dr. Sproul announces the long-awaited choice for homecoming queen. 2. The two top men concentrate on making it "just right." 3. Dr. Sproul takes a break long enough to joke with a friend. 4. Dr. Sproul and Mr. Alger look on with intensity.

MAKING THE COMMITMENT

To make anything special takes a great commitment on the part of all the people involved. Coaches, advisors, and friends all ask a person to make a commitment and get involved. If this commitment is not made, nothing will be quite as special as well done.

All team efforts take a commitment from those envolved to achieve its goals. The coach or advisor is the first to make that dedication known with the time and effort he or she spends on the team. Coming to school at 7:00 AM every morning to plan ahead for the team preparation and staying after every day, making practices, and advising team members. The support a coach gives his or her team is also emotionally draining and shows a dedication to the cause. The very coach who tells his team to make the commitment makes a great one himself.

Team members are asked to make and prove their commitments over and all again. Running in 100 degree weather in preparation for the cross country meet and playing tennis on a hot, smoggy. September day are commitments. Every sport requires such acts of those dedicated people who know how important the team effort is.

Game after game, practice after practice, the coaches remind their teams about the importance of making a commitment, and keeping it. The football team playing until 7:00 PM at practice and their continual work to improve are not the things people see, but these are the things that make a team.

No one can enjoy practice after practice as our dedicated teams often put in but the commitment to the team makes them very necessary. Often baseball and softball, along with all the other sports, are asked to play in difficult conditions, rain, muddy ground, fierce winds, but the team does it because of the great commitment made by each member.

Opposing page: 1. Eric Wong runs for victory despite the pain. 1. While Tammy Austin and Diane Raymond are hard at work, Kiki Gilchrist tries to catch on. 2. Melinda Deutsch is soaring for spirit. 3. Centurions play dirty against Hart

1. Saugus makes a scene with many colors. 2. Don't be a heel, this is the soul of the picture. 3. Karlotta White asks, "Who put the glue on my finger?" Opposing page: 1. Alex Vogel dressed to "paint the town.

Our school today is made up of many different people making different statements without even speaking a word. These very different people are following fads, and these fads are making quite a scene.

On the first day of school we saw a great change in high school fashion and it affected people we probably never would have suspected. The shy person in your class last year, who never spoke a word, wore leather pants, a leather jacket with spikes on it, many different chains, and all sorts of odd belts and earrings. Looking around a little more, many colors of hair, not just the same old blond, brunette, and redheads, could be found, but a huge assortment of colors. Green and bright orange were popular, but odd cuts with many different colors were also commonplace.

If the leather and different color of hair didn' $\dagger$ make an impact, then plastic shoes, over-sized shirts as dresses, and torn clothes considered "chic" must have! Not to be forgotten are the conservatives who add to the general scene with penny loafers, blazers, and button-down oxfords with sweater pullovers.

Fads are great part of high school life and though the fads themselves change daily the basic idea of fads has been in the minds of teenagers with all their different fads. Fads helped make 1983-84 SPECIAL!

MAKING

Making up and making friends are two very important parts of high school. Without this, high school would only be class after class without any fun in between!
Because of this, making up and making friends become very important to making high school fun and special. Friends are obviously very great factors in making our lives special!

Those fantastic, irreplaceable people are the same we spend our boring lunches with. They're the people we goof around with in the lunch area. Hitting and pushing, acting like little kids, and goofing around, are half the fun of having friends. Even when it's a "serious" time, friends are there to make you laugh. That really boring class you barely survived was only make survivable by good friends. They are always there when the day goes badly and you don't want to go on. Friends are ears when you need a listener, and they're hands when you need help with a heavy load. The really wonderful thing about friends is the way they become whatever you need whenever you need them.
It's not always easy having friends, though. It takes work and love to keep a friendship together and a lot of making up. All friendships tak'e a great deal of work and commitment but the rewards are well worth it. Our friends make 1984 special.

1. Caroline Roemheld and her boyfriend Fred share a special moment. 2. An awesome group of friends are Mark Lyon, Brick Izzi, and Brett Whitestone in the lunch area. 3. A friendlier group you've never seen as Holly Quinlan, Maria York, and Debbie Prizer in it. 4 . Band members have fun with friends.

MAKING IT

Because of these very important people, who really make things happen, Saugus High School is a special place of education. We all have our favorites-the ones who make learning fun-and we all know quite a few whom we really like to talk with about everything.

Who are these people who make things happen? The faculty- (You knew all along, right?). The teachers and staff here at Saugus have genuine enthusiasm and are dedicated to the academic program and the kids at Saugus High. They do a fantastic job.

1. Mrs. Wilson plays Mrs. Mechanic. 2. Mr. Glahn and Mr. Headley talk in scientific notation. 3. Mr. Morphis makes it happen in the classroom. 4. Bob Badgett wonders what grade Mr. Tonkinson will let him earn next. 5. Mr. O says, "look out Fernando!" 6. Mrs. Allensworth counsels the counselors. 7. Mrs. Portnoy helps Pat Collar design his fabulous football layouts. Now that's Saugus spirit!

MAKING IT

1. A smiling J.V. cheerleading team is ready for excitement. 2. Kathy Crawford is drinking milk for good. 3. Class spirit makes Kathy Werner balloon with pride. 4. There is nothing like a crazy crowd to bring a smile to one's face! 5 . Our very own homecoming prince demonstrates the proper "pop" position. Opposing page: 1. Pretty smiles really are worth a thousand words. 2. Varsity cheerleaders lead that fantastic Saugus spirit. 3. Margie Coyne, Kim Smith, Rodney Bradshaw Julie Belding, and Judd Goodrich discuss the upcoming game.

Hard work, commitment, dedication, and a love for our school make the 1983-84 year the best ever. Our teams didn't win every game they played, but they did their very best and that is really what high school is all about!
In the classroom, on the field, at club meetings. . giving it your very best is necessary. If it is a tough class and the teacher expects a lot, it is not important what grade you get but if you did the very best you possibly could. A grade isn't really worth anything if you as a student know you've gained something from the class and have not given any effort to gain something from it

On the playing field, as in the classroom, whether you win or lose, it is not as important as the effort made to make the game a good one. If you win a game over a very poor team and didn't even give it your best, you aren't as satisfied with yourself as you are the times you lose the game but play your very best and really put yourself on the line.

Even a club or group asks you to do your very best and though you may not be successful at all, you try to accomplish, so long as you give it your best try then you should feel a success has been made. If it is worth having then it is worth putting yourself out and losing sometimes also.

A loss can never really be a loss if you gave it the most you had. Even if you do lose sometimes, you gain something and know within yourself that you have given your best. Making it the best does not always mean winning. To make it the best - you must give your best (opposite page) 1. Lorri Jones can't believe the feeling. 2. Lisa Stanzione and Karen Nassif do as the Romans do. 3. Tracie Henderson is upset that she can't have the Iollipop, while Debbie Prizer enjoys her cookie. 4. Maria York, alias Arthur Murray, teaches Dexter Sanders how to dance. 5. Caesar Nuzzi blesses Kris Tedder. 1. Jill Grigsby shows Mike Carrozzo how to open wide for the dentist. 2. Derek Hughes and Julie Franchino cuddle in their sheets. 3. Brett Whitestone already knows how to open wide for the dentist. 4. Todd Smith plays "Jose" with Debbie Prizer's hair to Melinda Deutsch's delight. 5. Cheryl Belding shows Tim Whalen how to smile.

It was a celebration, Homecoming 1983, and a time to see old friends. After a successful Spirit Week, almost everyone celebrated at the festivities of the Homecoming game. Each class presented its float to, the thrill of the spectators. Then, the seniors celebrated their float's victory in the float competition. At half-time, Debbie Prizer was crowned Homecoming Queen. Unfortunately, the game itself was not something to celebrate about; our team was beaten by Quartz Hill's team 28-0. Still, at the dance afterwards, many students and alumni had a very good time. Also at the dance, Dexter Sanders was crowned Homecoming King. After the dance of the Homecoming Court, everyone continued dancing until midnight. All in all, Homecoming 1983 was really something to "Celebrate" about.

1. The prize-winning senior float. 2. The seniors celebrate their victory. 3. Freshmen display their "Olympian" effort. 4. The class of 1986 plan their reunion in 2006. 5. Juniors can't believe the new friends they've made.

It was a historical moment as Saugus lost its first ever homecoming game to Quartz Hill. The Centurions played hard throughout the game, but big plays by Quartz Hill and costly mistakes by Saugus turned into a $28-0$ rout.

1. Russ Hoglund thinks of a way to pull out a victory. 2. Stuart Yaross picks up his date at homecoming. 3. Fred Goetschel moves in for the tackle. 4. Doug Fisher grimaces after receiving a knee injury. 5. Centurions try to bury Quartz Hill in the sand.

THE DANCE

1. Queen Debbie Prizer and King Dexter Sanders celebrate their coronation. 2. Denise Kilvington sees a camera for the first time ever as Steve Tompkins looks on. 3. Lisa Lee, 'II've never gotten this close to royalty before, your highness." 4. Dance of the Homecoming Court. 5. Evonne Bacal and friend knock knees on the dance floor.

In the course of the senior year, the graduating student often has several dreams realized. These realizations can be a time of ecstasy or tragedy. In either case, they are a major experience, and as a result, they yearn to be expressed by the artist. These two pages are a permanent record of emotions, attitudes, and experiences. This is Saugus High School's seniors "making an expression."

Growing up

When I was a freshman,
I was romantic,
I took a bus to school.
A girl on that bus -
Had brown hair, a stylistic walk,
A calm, confident smile, and
Brown eyes.
Averting my stare when she glanced at me,
I lived my freshman life
Hinged on the turn of her head.
One day,
The bus was crowded -
Three to a seat -
And wonder of wonders,
I sat next to her!
I looked into her eyes,
So dark I couldn't see her pupils,
My heart beating,
I forgot to breathe
And fell through a void.
Anxiety!
Fear!
Hope -
She turned away -
The bus started on its way.
Branded with the force of her soul -
I turned to live another life.

I have grown since then
I am stronger,
I am a realist.
No longer Goddesses,
They have become
Only special.
A senior now,
I have had a good life,
I drive a car home.
Confident.
I drove a girl home,
Sandy blond hair, short,
energetic, kind, feminine, and
Blue eyes.
I dropped her off and Looked into her eyes,
Heart beating.
I forgot to breathe,
I fell through a void,
And my soul is touched again.
She turned away and said
Goodbye. She smiled and Went inside.
I linger and I hope -
I have grown up.

SENOR Officers MAKE IT GO

Senior Representative Mike Carrozzo, Vice President Kris Tedder, President Stacey Spencer, Secretary Christine Reiter, and Treasurer Russ Hilterman.

The Senior Class officers were responsible for making things go this year. They worked very hard to make the 1983-84 school year very special.

Activities like the Winter Formal, the two blood drives, the homecoming float, and all the activities that made this year special were their responsibility. They did a great job in making those things go. Working as a team, Stacey Spencer, Kris Tedder, Christine Reiter, Russ Hilterman, and Mike Carrozzo represented the Senior Class with pride and made each endeavor a success.

From choosing the Senior gift and planning Grad night, to planting and weeding the Bret Churchill Memorial Quad, the Senior officers' duties were varied. Class support was fantastic. Through hard work and leadership the Class of ' 84 won the homecoming float competition, had very successful blood drives, and a beautiful night to remember for many on Winter Formal night.

The faculty and staff here at Saugus rarely receive the credit they deserve. They have many responsibilities that students take for granted, for instance: the clean campus ... teachers spending their time with clubs and other activities ... janitors making the campus run smoothly ... the secretaries keeping the offices in order ... and the teachers educating us students. THANK YOU!

The 1983-84 school year has been quite memorable for me. Serving as Associated Student Body President has given me the chance to effect changes in our school and to grow personally. I hope that each and everyone of you have enjoyed this year, and I wish you success in the future. To the Student Counci I I give a big thanks for making me look good this year, you have all done a great job. Once again, thank you to all students, teachers, administrators, etc., for giving me many special memories. Remember, Saugus High will always be #1.

Sincerely,

John M. Nuzzi
A.S.B. President 1983-84

Faced by questions ranging from the trivial to the extraordinary, this year's Brainstormer teams competed for the privilege of facing the faculty team. Team members were required to have quick recall memory while maintaining calm nerves. Although there were winners and losers, most of the competitors testified to having a good time.

Aiding the Social Studies Department at Saugus, the Forum Club engages in many worthwhile fundraisers and activities. Among these many activities were the debates, discussions, and fundraisers held by the club. There is no debate that the Forum Club is great.

1. The Key Club advisor, Mr. Tokinson, is studying his notes. 2. Sean Vogt, Key Club president, makes his point during an important meeting.

The Key Club's purpose is to serve both the school and the community. The club was very active this year succeeding with this goal. The club started off the year with the established and successful tutoring and nursing home programs. As the year progressed, the club acted to serve other organizations such as the Santa Clarita Valley Chamber of Commerce, the Senior Citizens Center, the Y.M.C.A., and the Dodger Night Organization. All in all, the club was very successful in the 1983/84 school year.

Junior rep, Tammy Stepp: Treasurer. Rob Vahoviak: Secretary. Lisa Lee: President, Karen Nassif: Vice-president, Carolyn Pinching.

The juniors have been busy all year, working with their adviser, Mr. Glahn, making the major memory of our school year, the Prom. Led by junior president, Karen Nassif, the plans for the prom commenced in the spring of 1983 and culminated on a warm May evening at the Ambassador Hotel's Coconut Grove. Funds to help offset the cost of the prom were raised throughout the year by the junior class's many projects, including candy sales and car washes. Another highlight of the spring, the Prom Fashion Show, was organized by the junior class officers. Participants in the fashion show were chose for their willingness to participate in the flashy routines and their look at elegance in the newest prom fashions.

Eric Wong, a brilliant junior here at Saugus, has a variety of abilities and interests. Eric has maintained a 3.9 grade point average throughout his three years at Saugus. Furthermore, Eric is a member of the California Scholarship Federation. In addition, Eric has interests outside of school. He enjoys running and is a member of the JV Cross Country team here at Saugus. He also enjoys playing the piano and has received a certificate of merit from the Music Teachers Association of California. He has been playing the piano for seven years and is currently taking private lessons in Newhall. Besides these achievements, Eric is able to speak and write Cantonese and has recently completed three years of French. His current career goals include a study of law or genetics.

MAKING EIGHTY-SIX STAND OUT!

The Sophomore Class Officers, advised by Miss Lord, had a very productive year. Starting with creating a Homecoming Float, the Sophomores enjoyed many activities throughout the year. Along with selling class rings, the sophomore officers were in charge of planning and giving the Backwards Dance. Many hours were spent considering a unique theme for the dance which was held on March 16 in Saugus's own gym. The sophomores also held many fundraisers which included candy sales and selling Basketball game raffels. The officers really did a great job and had a lot of fun.

Lisa Sales is a sophomore at Saugus who has been involved in television for quite a while. Starting in fifth grade, her accomplishments in television have included Dial, Kodak, and 7 UP commercials. Also, Lisa has appeared on a charity telethon. In addition to television, Lisa has modeled for a clothing catalogue. Although she has taken drama classes and wishes to be involved in television acting and more commercials, Lisa mainly looks forward to a possible career as a doctor or lawyer.

Colin Meghoo, who is an exceptionally bright sophomore at Saugus, originally came from Jamaica. Four years ago, Colin moved to California, and is now doing very well in the academic process here at Saugus. At the present time, Colin is a member of the Forum Club and the Computer Club. Additionally, he is involved in the Key Club as committee chairperson and is responsible for setting up people with academic difficulties with tutors. Also, he is a member of CSF and, after high school, he hopes to be involved in a pre-med curriculum at UCLA.

Valerie Silgero is a freshman at Saugus, who spends her spare time riding ATC motorcycles. Valerie first got interested in ATC motorcycles when her brothers started racing in tournaments. Because her father is assistant manager at Indian Dunes, Valerie had plenty of opportunity to practice on her 70 ATC. Although Valerie just rides for amusement, prior to eighth grade she was involved in racing and has won two trophies. At the present time, Valerie works at Indian Dunes giving out trophies to winners.

To be a member of a Saugus sports team, one must: give total dedication to a team. . spend uncountable hours for the team. . . give 100\% effort at every practice. . . Coaches must: have unlimited patience... dedicate themselves to the younger generation. and be willing to spend weekends and holidays with the kids... all must have Centurion Spirit

The 1983 varsity football squad had plenty of spirit and enthusiasm, but it did not have the experience necessary for a winning season. Brett Whitestone, Tim Whyte, Mike Carrozzo, Brick Izzi, and Jim Radding were the only seniors that had varsity playing experience from last year. Other less experienced seniors played well for the Centurions, but not well enough as Saugus had only a tie with Palmdale as a high point in the season.

2. Brett Whitestone moves in for the tackle. 2. Saugus football was full of high hopes. 3. The tension mounts as both teams wait for the ball to be shapped. 4. Lee Sharman calls the signals. 5 . Brett Whitestone dives for the 1st down.

MAKING THE BIG PLAYS

The sophomore football season was brilliant. A 7-1-1 record was the result of outstanding play by Rodney Bradshaw, Joel Condren, and Lance Ane. The Centurions' only loss came against Antelope Valley and was lost only in the final seconds. Against Hart, it was a frustrating battle that ended in a tie for Saugus. Much of the success of the sophomore team can be attributed to excellent coaching.

1. No matter what, Centurions keep the ball. 2. Running for his life! 3. Huddle up. 4. Concentration!

1. Joel Condren calls the signals. 2. Time for strategy is important if the team wants to win. 3. Coaching is a fine art for Louis Luepke.

This year's Varsity Volleyball season was marked by many wins but not in the win column. The team was plagued by close losses in which Saugus could only take two victories out of five in many matches. All the players played well during the season. Stand-outs were Holly Quinlan and Holly Ingersoll. Coach Fred Crumett's first year as varsity volleyball coach proved to be a learning experience.

1. Diane Raymond uses perfect form to bump the ball. 2. Centurions devise a new strategy between games. 3. Coach Crummett shows Kiki Gilchrist where to position herself on the court.

A great year for the JV girls' volleyball team! Sue Thompson, Margie Coyne, and Rosa Cevallos lead the team to their many wins. Much of the JV squad's success was due to the talent of the Sophomores and the experience and poised play of the Juniors. The success of the JV's should make for a powerhouse varsity team next season.

1. Susie Thompson winds up on her serve. 2. Don't watch the camera, watch the ball! 3. Cruz Aguire waits for the ball in suspense. 4. Marge Coyne, Cruz Aguire, and Julie Allie, try the three-way bump.

MAKING OF ค TEAM

The 1-8 record of the frosh team does not do justice to their overall talent. Outstanding play by Jerry Badillo, Brad Rasmussen, and Scott Johnson was a bright spot for the frosh season and hope for next season. Jerry Badillo, the leading rusher for the frosh team, made the difference in Saugus' only victory over Notre Dame. Also, a stand out player during this game was Andy Kugl. It was a tough year for the frosh squad.

1. Centurions try to hang up Hart. 2. Centurions make a show on the line of scrimmage. 3. Seeking victory, Centurions move forward. 4. Watch out because the freshmen are moving in. 5. A Centurion sandwich! 6. Jerry Badillo corrals his opponent.

The Frosh girls played quite well the whole year. Mary Viereck, Anna Arambula, Heather Nichols, and Stephanie Christman were stand outs on the team. The Frosh team learned quickly as it won most of its first games. Playing consistently throughout the whole season, frosh volleyball had an impressive year.

1. Centurions get up high to block the spike. 2. Concentration remains on the ball as it is served. 3. Anna Arambula sets the ball to her teammate.

Three victories were all the girls' tennis team could come up with this season as they defeated Antelope Valley twice and Burroughs-Ridgecres $\dagger$ once.
The season for girls' tennis was highlighted by the superior play of Marcy Friedenthal. Winning virtually all her matches, Marcy went to the League finals where she finished 2nd among 8 other competitors.

1. Janice Park gets ready for a smash. 2. Julie Garelick works hard in practice. 3. Coach Teri Lord instructs the team in basic strategy. 4. Marcy Friedenthal shows her #1 tennis form.

MATCH POINT

Two games to go-no mistakes now Make the shot, relax, you know you know how.
Hold your own, don't give in
Stay aggressive, get this win.
Play every point, don't plan ahead Take a chance, here, do what Coach said.

One game to go- 4 points and you're through
One at a time-it's up to just you
Concentrate! Concentrate! Match point Hit the smash! Give a sigh-and a cheer!

FOOTBALL GLORY

Tackles are glory
Intimidation is glory
The crunch of helmet and pads,
Pain-that's glory
Not the mud, not a loss,
Not frustration
Will erase that one moment of glory,

by Thaddeus Clemens

The pressure is on, His lead grows wider, He takes a step, and then another.
Concentration never lacking,
He makes a decision, It's go! Go! Go!, he has completed his mission.

by Anthony Burgess

THE RUNNER
He runs hard and long. He sweats and sweats
Trying to win, to accomplish. He stays in shape
Athletically keeping strong. His parents are proud
So he runs for them.
His coach is tough
So he runs for him.
His fans have spirit
So he runs for them.
But mainly, He runs for himself.

As usual it was an excellent year for both the boys' and girls' cross country teams. Leading the boys' team to a second place finish in the CIF finals were runners Bob Badgett, Mike Fritz, and Jeff Yaross. For the girls' team it was the swift running of Pam Thompson, Suzanne Warden, and Michele Chodur who brought the Centruions to 1st place in league and 8 th in CIF finals.

1. Sue Worden makes it to the finish line no matter what! 2. In some pain, Bob Badgett makes it to end.

1. Curtis Georgeson lengthens his stride as the finish line appears in his sight. 2. Saugus runners break away from the pack and set the pace. 3. Julie Badgett labors up a hill at Mt. SAC. 4. Jeff Yaross steps it up for his competition.

Making the break is something that the boys' varsity basketball team did well throughout the year as the fast break offense of the Centurions led them to two tournament victories and an 8-0 record. Before hitting league, Saugus ran into some trouble as they went 1-4 closing out the pre-season. In the pre-season Chris Reese led the team in scoring and rebounds. In league it was the steady play of Ron Stapp, Dexter Sanders, Todd Tredick, and Mike Coyne that assisted in many important victories. New records were set this season as Derek Hughes broke his own assist record and Saugus scored 94 points in the CIF Wild Card game. Coach John Clark should be quite happy with the success of his team in his first year at the varsity helm.

1. Mike Coyne looks on as Chris Resse shoots the jumper just out of the reach of an AV player. 2. Coyne slaps the board to insure the lay-up. 3. Derek Hughes is intense on defense. 4. Todd Tredick looks for the open man.

1. Chris Reese makes a tough pass. 2. Dexter Sanders is surprised to see Chris tying his shoe in the key

2. Derek Hughes jumps up for two points (and for joy). 2. Chris Reese and Mike Coyne choreograph their defense. 3. Mike Coyne and Mike Harand protect Dexter Sanders fo from the enemy. 4. Dexter Sanders and Ron Stapp want the ball.

3. Chris Reese blocks out and gets the reeb. 2. Todd Tredick moves upcourt with confidence. 3. Palo Verde made the mistake of leaving Dexter open. 4. Ron Stapp shoots one of Saugus's win-ning-margin free throws against Palo Verde.

The JV team started the season off with some bad luck in the La Canada tournament as they went 1-2. The pre-season seemed to be a learning experience for the young JV team because in league they showed what they had learned. The team pulled together and managed to put the pressure on Canyon and Burroughs. The JVs finished third in league with a 6-4 record. Jim Ziese, George Aliano, Ron Martinelli, and Don Romeka led the team in the second half of the season. Vince Tellez and Greg Meade also played well.

1. George Aliano jumps high for joy (and two points). 2. Jim Ziese saves the ball from "The Hand." 3. Greg Meade rises above the other players as he releases the ball. 4. Ron Martinelli wins the tip. 5. Ron Martinelli corrals a burro to get the rebound.

The boys' Frosh basketball team earned the respect of many teams in the pre-season. With the help of Dan Fapp, the Frosh team recorded a winning first half. A milestone for the team came in an exciting victory over a tough Hoover team. In league the Frosh opened up with a win against Quartz Hill, but could no $\dagger$ keep it going as they fell apart in league. Winning many, it was a year that the Frosh should be proud of. Leading Laugus to many of its victories was the outstanding play of Jack Clark, Greg Weber, Chris Johnson, Tom Calvin, and John Thomas. Overall, it was a team effort that kept the Frosh team playing well.

1. Chris Johnson goes up for two. 2. John Stapp leads the fast break. 3. Looking for help, Greg Weber protects the ball.

MAKING

The girls' varsity basketball team came ever so close to getting into the CIF playoffs. The Golden League is one of the toughest leagues in the 3-A bracket with Palmdale, Ridgecrest, and Antelope Valley all in the top ten of the CIF polls. Saugus was $5-3$ going into the last two games of the season and ended up 5-5, one win short of reaching the playoffs. Sue Vercelli was chairman of the boards for Saugus as she led the team in rebounds. High scorers for Saugus were Holly Ingersol, Patti Miller, Kim Blair, and Sue Vercelli.

1. Sue Vercelli ... on your mark ... get set . . . throw! 2. This senior threesome gave the team plenty of spirit. 3. Kim Blair outreaches her opponent.

The JV girls' basketball team had an improved season, winning two more games than last year's team. Another high point of the season for the junior varsity squad was defeating Canyon twice in league. Leading the team inpoints and rebounds, Kristy Duncan was voted the MVP of the team. Other awards were given to Shelly Bietler as the most inspirational, Nicole Freeman for the most improved, and Karin Spychieger received the coach's award.

1. Starting the fast break, Shannon Large looks for the outlet pass. 2. Debbie Blaylock can make her free throws. 4. If it goes, we win ... 5. Kristy Duncan opts up high for the tip. 6. Michelle Borlund looks for help against a massive defense.

The Freshmen Girls, under Coach Dee Ellem, brought home six victories. Kristi Thornton as point guard directed the offense and led the fast break. Forward Carol Furney, high scorer, joined Julie Bechtloff in hitting the boards for essential rebounds and brought the freshmen girls the thrill of zapping both Hart and Canyon.

2. Sarah Hamberger takes on the Cowboy defense. 3. Jane Moore takes her jumper. 4. Jane Moore plays awesome defense, too.

It was a crazy year for the Girls' Soccer Team as they won many games but lost too many close ones. Team captains Chris Tedder and Barbara Spittler kept the team winning and smiling. Other players such as Susan Peoples and Anna Arambula helped Saugus to many victories.

1. Chris Tedder and Emily Blanksford petrify their opponent. 2. Susan Peoples heads up field. 3. Goalie Anna Arambula boots the ball out of trouble. 4. A booming kick!

1. Barbara Spittler goes for the steal. 2. Emily Blanksford makes a picture perfect throw.

188-BOYS' SOCCER

Saugus Varsity Soccer made the playoffs, but lost in the first round to undefeated Bell Gardens by a score of 4-1. Still, the varsity soccer team was one of the strongest fielded by Saugus High ever, with incredible effort by team captains, Mike Hall and Steve Lazarus. Also adding impressive power was forward Johan Aronsson who learned his soccer tricks in Sweden and who taught his American teammates a thing or two. Craig Lyznick also had an outstanding year at halfback. Goalie Dave Armstrong kept the league offenses stymied through most of the season. Varsity soccer was coached by LA Baptist coach, Mr. Wright. JV soccer also had an impressive year and promises to make Saugus a force in next year's playoffs too.

1. Mike Hall, team captain, dribbles out of trouble. 2. Johann Aronson keeps the ball from his opponent. 3. It's the original "Look Ref, no hands" trick. 4. Steve Lazarus prepares to kick the ball.

1. Don Lutes and Craig Lyznick pass the ball while refining their levitating skills. 2. Brett Pelch aims for the goal while Mike Hall and Ron Johnson cross their fingers. 3. Don Lutes kicks with style. 4. Martin Dinsenbacher trips lightly to the ball.

Coach Doug Worley's Varsity started fast with early season victories over top-rated teams such as Glendale High. Mike Bible, Tim Whalen, and Mike Carrozzo are expected to provide the offensive punch with the pitching of Whalen and fielding of Raniel Caranto at short keeping the defense going. (See summer supplement for complete stats.)

1. Tim Whalen holds a conference before the first pitch. 2. All that power - but Dennis Morand slugs a foul. 4. Rod Murachanian legs it for a double. 5. Tim Whalen sails his fast ball by the Glendale batter.

When the yearbook went to press, the varsity softball team looked as though they would have another winning season. The team's defense will be outstanding with Diane Raymond, Jory Jacobs, and Patti Miller pitching for Saugus. Also, captains Diane Raymond and Vicky Vanderhock providing the team with experience and poise should contribute to an excellent year for Saugus. The junior varsity softball team was not formed before the yearbook deadline. Don't forget to see them in the yearbook supplement next year.

1. Barbara Spittler rifles the ball for the putout. 2. Lori Reichard, keep your eye on the ball!

192-TRACK

Track was off and running as the second semester began. With great winter weather, (meaning no rain) the track team got off to a great start, the guys defeating Ventura, Newbury Park, and Burroughs in pre-league action. Rodney Bradshaw and Greg Meade were most promising. The girls, hurt by the small number of participants, fared poorly early in the season but hoped to bolster their squad with new recruits. Garnetta Brown and Suzanne Worden led the team. A complete rundown on the track team's season can be found in the summer supplement.

MAKING A SMASH

The boys' Tennis team led by Jiri Chodur, Schuyler Murdock, and Dan Badillo as it looks now should capture the league crown. Other people that should give the team a big lift are Diego ludica and Mike Sills. The team started well, defeating C.V., Filmore, and Hart. The Boys' Tennis team as it looks now will have a very successful year.

1. Diego ludica hits a smash. 2. Dan Badillo makes a great backhand return.

The 1984 Girls and Boys Swim Teams are up for another successful year. The Girls' Team is looking for Golden League titles and have the power to do it. While the Boys' Team doesn't look as promising as the Girls', their dramatic improvement and increase over the past few years have given them a chance to take the Golden League and a spot in C.I.F

MAKING

NOISE

The Saugus High noisemaker, in order to produce the optimum crowd response, must meet all of the following requirements: does not have two left feet (as Saugus has too many problems buying shoes)

Is able to twirl flags, hold a note, jump up and down, or dance for an hour; is also able to march in cadence while balancing flags on shoulder, play Beethoven's Fifth Symphony, do three consequetive back flips while standing on yell leader's shoulder, and dance the Nutcracker Suite (respectively).

1. Lorri Jones asks, "Where's the beef?" 2. David Beaver seems ready to take on the crowd. 3. The mascot, Bobbi Keene, arouses the spirit of the crowd. 4. The new fashion flare at Saugus High? 5. Jennifer Harris smiles during her flag routine. 6 . LeeAnn Rasmussen sits calmly at a rally. 7. The Short Flag Team is happy after a good performance. 8 . Dave Shaw and Billy Steele are ready for the relay to start! Opposing page: 1. Saugus High shows its spirit singing the Alma Mater. 2. The JV cheerleaders show their enthusiasm. 3. Making Spirit is something Saugus High can do! The students at Saugus have, by far, the most spirit in the Santa Clarita Valley. From winning Spirit Nite five years in a row to faithfully attending football games, basketball games, and all the rest of the athletic contests, Saugus has shown its spirit every day of the 83-84 school year. Making Spirit is one thing Saugus High is special for.

HALLOWEEN DRES5-UP DAY

It seemed just like any other day at Saugus High with students dressed in funny clothes. Actually, it was Halloween and the spirited students of Saugus dressed up for the occasion. Thus, the ghosts and goblins were really students in disguise.

1. Mr. O. gives his regards to Saugus. 2. Students tremble with fegr as Mr. O. inspects them. 3. "You've gotta be kidding! I've signed up?" 4. "Don't you dare try to take my doll away from me," says Bobbi Keene. 5. Crayons, Stacy Moore and Heather Bridge, make the pumpkin.

First Semester's drama production, Heaven Can Wait, met and surpassed all high expectations. It was a success both financially and artistically. There were several several reasons for this such as good sets, direction, script, and a talented cast. Among those jeople who should be congratulated are Trevor Best, the director, and Brian Blake, who did an excellent job playing the lead character of Joe Pendelton.

THE CRYSTAL BALL

The dressed up gym warmed the hearts of couples as they came out of the cold and into "The Crystal Ball." As the D.J. played the music, friends laughed, talked, and danced together. Then, Dr. Sproul announced the king and queen; they were Tim Whalen and Cindy Whitaker. After the king and queen danced their special dance, all couples continued to dance and enjoy themselves. Thus, the Winter Formal, sponsored by the Senior Class, would seem to have been a great success.

WINTER FORMAL 1983

1. Break-dancing Saugus style. 2. Queen Cindy Whitaker and King Tim Whalen demonstrate the royal way of dancing. 3. "Hail hail, the gang's all here." 4. Tammy Austin and date Bill. 5. Kris Nelson is confident, even close up with her date. 6. Christina Sakevitz refuses to look at the camera, but Linda Paek and friends happily oblige. 7. Another fabulous year at Saugus High has come to an end. The 1984 yearbook staff wishes to offer you the best life has to give. As life progresses, we hope you will be able to look back and remember We hope we have been able to capture a few moments that make memories, memories that make it last.

HOW WE MADE IT

It is incredible for all of us yearbookers to think of this book as made, out of our hands and into yours! How we made this book will be an experience we will never forget.

In September our determination to make this book perfect was so strong that the possibility of a late deadline or a poorly done page was absolutely impossible to imagine. We all felt invincible as we went out to earn our fortune in ads, draw our beautiful layouts, and write our exciting copy.
With the first refusal to buy an ad, the first layout that didn't work, and the first copy that didn't flow, we began to feel the first pangs of what real yearbooking is all about. It's not a bad feeling, just not quite the euphoria we had anticipated.

Overcoming the temptations to sit and ponder the ways of the world was often hard as even the best of us feel to the awesome power of the Deadline Rush.

All in all, this book is a part of each of us and how we made it will bring smiles, and tears, to all of us, especially Mrs. Portnoy, every time we look at it. How we made it was the experience of a lifetime! We hope it gives you many good feelings when you look at it and read it as it gave us to design, write, and publish.

1. The yearbook staff can't seem to pinpoint the goals that Stacey and Andrea are reaching for. 2. LeeAnn, Norman, and Barbara are obviously "thrilled" with the yearbook party. 3. Dan's proposal does not seem to interest Andrea, but Erik finds it quite amusing.

2. Cyndi Maloney can't believe the book is almost finished. 2 Stacey Spencer runs from yearbook duties. 3. Joel Levesque says, "Take me away!" 4. Julie Marrone takes time to organize the underclassmen.

POETRY RBOUT ONESELF

Beaches of Time

I walk the sandy beaches of time Looking for a moment of romance Looking for a moment of peace And the waves feel my presence.

As I take my midnight quest
I feel a grain of uncertainty I feel a grain of loneliness And the moon lights the sea.

I'm searching for a new answer
To a deeply mysterious question
To an unknown thought
And the air frees my troubled mind.
I can see the world clearly now
I see a world of war
I see a world of little hope
And the gull is losing its will to fly.
I begin to wonder about the world
Perhaps there is a guiding light
Perhaps there is a glimmer of hope
But the waves are now only ripples.
As I come to the end of the beach
I wonder if the world will end so quickly
I wonder if the world will end so gently
And the tear that fills my eye is not of happiness.
Then I can see the answer
There is not enough Romance
There is not enough peace (if any)
And the gull has caught its second wind.
Soon l'll answer the first
I'll find a partner to walk with I'll find a partner to speak with
And I fear the time is ending.
Suddenly I wake from my dream
With no romance in my world
With no peace in anybody's world
And I close my eyes on reality.
by Matt Szymanski

The Rosebud
Friendship is like a rosebud
That grows from day to day,
And even though we argue
Our friendship's on its way
To growing and becoming The type we want to share By giving and forgiving And showing that we care.

So when you're down and lonely And your face a frown then shows, Just think of me your friend
And then you'll really know
How much I really care for you
How much I want to be There for you and listening And have you there for me.
by LeeAnn Rasmussen
A smile came 'cross her lips
As we sat on the steps
Laughing with our eyes
Watching a sunset
Creep into dusk
Entrance by twilight
Reflected in her eyes
I lingered ...
tarried ...
I stayed
by Erin Headley

Direction

If you were to be, the star of the show
Would you stay by your girl or get up and go?
You've seen how I love her and she loves me, too.
What would you doif you had a part?
Would you decide with your head, or decide with your heart?
by a poet

The Jester
They laugh at my jokes
But they cannot see
Through the jester's make-up
Or they'd just see me.
I'm living in a land of make-believe
And I can't stand it any longer
Because l'm starving to death
With a case of mental hunger.
I cry for love
But they just look and grin

The Old and the Young

I hear them speak across the land 'Bout the way it used to be
The good old days
The happy times
When men were young and free.
They speak of wealth and health galore
Till we can stand no more,
Yet never a word
Do they utter
'Bout the hardships and the wars.
Speak up, young child, and don'† be shy
Stand where we can see
Voice opinions, but
No matter what
You'll never be like we?
But we cry out, "Unfair," we shout.
"We do the best we can do.
Yes, you were brave,
But you were fools.
Thank God, We're not like you!"
Tori Caldera

Young Days

Remember the days when we were young
When we would play hide and seek
Have picnics on the grass
When we ate salted icecubes
And rode big wheels in the street
When there was always time
For hopscotch
For watermelon
For never going to bed
Remember my friend
Remember
"Ah, look at the jester
He's making jokes again."
I hear a knock
I open the door
I reach out for an embrace
But she's there no more.
Doomed to be a jester
Doomed to be a clown
My outerface may smile But my inner one shall frown.

by Matt Szymanski

Part of any maturing process is looking into oneself. These poems are an expression of students examining their own emotions, thoughts, and actions.

May I Have This Dance?
Each night I go home and think
Think about pain
Think about love
They are one in the same you know
Her beside me is taken
Her in front of me is taken
Her behind me thinks of another
I am an anachronism
Living in a time of spite
Living in a time of hate
A hopeless romantic locked in a void
Doomed to die just that, a hopeless romantic
No one listens to my voice that screams out
No one listens to my crying inside
They all see my outerself
One of happiness
One of someone else
Just once, to kiss a girl
To have her smile because of it, and mean it
I long for that day
They all sit though
Sit and talk of others
Not noticing me as I walk by
No one to take out
As a love
No one to walk over to and say
"May I have this dance?"
by Matt Szymanski

POETRY ABOUT FRIENDS AND SCHOOL

The Course of Friendship

We were friends:
First I met him.
We shared our feelings
We entrusted our secrets
We promised our loyalty
We were friends;
Then I fell in love with him.
We no longer shared
We no longer entrusted
We no longer promised
our feelings our secrets our loyalty.

Breaking away slowly Our images demand; The constant visions, A trembling hand. We reach inside
To find anew,
The rushing thoughts
Of future views.
And tested wings
Now flying free,
We seek to discover eternity.
by Kristy Duncan

Farewell, Seniors.
You are on your own-
While we are here.
You continue on
To work, to play, to exist.
We remember all you've given us.
And we thank you! We care 'bout you!
And we'll miss you!
Farewell, our Seniors of nineteen eighty-four!
by Kathleen Stafford

School and friends are both the key elements in an education. One would have few friends without school. In agreement, few people would have interest in school without the establishment of friends. Thus, they rely on each other to function smoothly. In these poems feelings about both are expressed honestly and sincerely.

We weren't friends:
Next I talked to him.
We shared again our feelings
We entrusted again our secrets
We promised again our loyalty.

We were friends;
Then he fell in love with me.
We still shared our feelings
We still entrusted our secrets
We still promised our loyalty
We were still friends.
by April Even

Fantasies are only
Realities we are afraid to live
Or too ashamed to reveal.
by Matt Szymanski

A Father's Love

The love you've always sent my way;
Has helped me every single day.
I know your warmth will ever stay;
That must be true, I hope I pray.
Your fatherly love is so sincere,
I feel delighted when I know you're near.
by Vicki Berkebile

Friends

Totally inseparable, other opinions unimportant;
Laughing, crying, and enjoying together During good and evil.
Special moments, a secret dream, Inside jokes, that mean Nothing to other people.
But these times are for no one else To learn, help, and Savor each other.
by Kathleen Stafford

POETRY

The purpose of a yearbook is to summarize an optimistic view of the preceding year. This page shows that not all of the concerns of the 1983/84 school year were optimistic. These poems and drawings artistically express a real fear in the minds of Saugus High's students. The question of a nuclear confrontation is obviously a valid one, and therefore it deserves to be pondered by the artist. This page is a "nuclear confrontation."

Mushroom clouds are in the sky; But we will go within a week M-16's flash through and by And all around the people cry, "Why us?"

And all around the people speak,
"Why us?"
Who will be the one that tames
The war has started since today, The people who regard as games The outlook of the world is gray The nation's many, many claims? And all around the people say, And all around the folk exclaim,
"Why us?"
Technology has reached its peak
"Why us?"
by Thomos Dinsenbacher

Different to the very end, the Class of 1984 went off to Grad Night somewhere other than Disneyland: they took a harbor cruise. Grads and their dates were treated to a moonlight cruise off of San Pedro. On the ship they danced, talked, dreamed, and brought back memories. The Cruise, planned by the senior council with the help of the school administration and their senior advisor, Mr. Okasaki, went well and may have opened up new options for the classes who follow.

1. Dr. Sproul is given the People's Choice award by Mr. Alger. 2. Andrea McFarland shakes Dr. Sproul's hand after receiving the Principal's Choice award. 3. Jamee Allie receives the Business CAPR. 4. Jim Foster receives an Air Force ROTC scholarship to Tufts University. 5. The top ten seniors of the class of 1984 line up with their medallions.

The first-ever Senior Banquet, held on May 30, 1984, was a smashing success. Many talented Seniors provided an enjoyable night of entertainment and the Banquet ended with many happy memories.

1. The Saugus Dance Team provides very up-lifting entertainment. 2. Libby Nelson flashes a smile after singing a very moving ballad. 3. The "Captain's" Table 4. Colleen and Kris, bosom buddies. 5. The serving line.

2. The Senior Gift and proud A.S.B.ers who put together the first Senior Banquet. 2. Chris Foster sings the theme song from The Outsiders. 3. Sean Vogt presents the Senior Gift. 4. Stacy and Christine present Mr. Fels with a token of the Seniors' appreciation for all of his hard work. 5. Surprise, this is the past year of your life! 6 . Seniors seem to be enjoying the show.

On Thursday, April 26, the 1984 Prom Fashion Show was held at Saugus High School. Dancing down the palm-decorated aisles, the models showed off current styles from boutiques such as Eugenia's, Chantilly, Mahogany and Chiffon, and for the guys, Tuxedo Den. The music, sound system and decorations were by You Should Be Dancing. The gym was decorated to resemble the Coconut Grove Room of the Ambassador Hotel.

The participants in the Prom Fashion Show were: Dixie Stiles, Erin Lyerla, Stacy Spencer, Christine Reiter, Lisa Lee, Csilla Kovacs, Kathy Werner, Sheri Gilbert, Karin Nassif, Carolyn Pinching, Tammy Stepp, Kari Tenneson, Lisa Deines, Rosie Panzarello, Carolyn Roemheld, Jamee Allie, Bobbie Keene, Jill Grigsby, and guys, John Nuzzi, Mike Carozzo, Jim Radding, Rob Vahoviak, Lee French, Tim Whyte, Cesar Carona, Billy Radding, Donny Madrid, B.J. Spoon, Todd Smith, Tim Whalen, David Beaver, Dave Shaw, and Brad Mattox.

1. Dave Shaw and Carolyn Roemheld saunter across the floor. 2. Jamee Allie and Brad Mattox perform "Time Warp." 3. Fashion Show participants practice their steps for the Prom. 4. Junior class officers pose with their escorts. 5. David Beaver proves that he is a ladies man. 6. Jim Radding and Stacey Spencer are overwhelmed by the applause of the crowd. 7. John Nuzzi and Dixie Stiles smile for the camera. 8. Kathy Werner and Cesar Corona strut their stuff. 9. The Junior class officers pose with Mr. Glahn. From left: Lisa Lee, Carolyn Pinching, Mr. Glahn, Karin Nassif, Rob Vahoviak, and Tammy Stepp.

The 1984 Prom was held at the Ambassador Hotel in West Los Angeles. The theme of the Prom was "Straight From the Heart." The reception was held from 6 pm to 7 pm , dinner was at 7 pm , and dancing was from 8 pm to 12 pm . Entertainment for the Prom was by a disc jockey, who played a large variety of popular hits. At 11 pm, the Prom Court was announced. The princesses were Debbie Prizer, Lorri Jones, Holly Quinlan, and Maria York. The princes were Mike Carozzo, Dexter Sanders, Chris Reese, and Brett Whitestone. The 1984 King and Queen were Melinda Deutsch and Tim Whalen

Princess Lorri Jones and Prince Chris Reese walk to the stage. 12. Colleen SuverKropp and date enjoy the prom. 13. Rae Apolito and date smile for the camera.

This year our Super Class was held throughout our school year. Going into the last two weeks of competition, the Senior class was in the lead. After all the competitions, the Class of 1984 came out way above as the super class team for the second time. For the first time in Saugus's history the student team went on to the faculty competition and proved without a doubt that the Class of ' 84 really is super!

1. Kathleen Stafford gives her class her best effort. 2. The amazing Super Class locker scuffle. 3. Run for your class, Robbie Bradshaw!

Bang! The swimmer hears the sound of the gun. Adrenalin shoots through his body as he calls upon every muscle to propel him through the water. Swimming requires total use of one's body and mind, making it one of the toughest sports to master. The swimmers of the Saugus swim team need to master the sport to keep up the quality performance that has become tradition at Saugus.

1. After a strenuous race, a swimmer needs to take the time to catch her breath. 2. The race has begun. 3. "OH! There's too much chlorine in this water!'"

The Backwards Dance was presented by the sophomore class on Friday, March 23, 1984. The theme of the dance was "Sadie Hawkins"; however the theme did not only reflect the hillbillyish styles of Li'l Abner and Daisy Mae from Dogpatch, U.S.A. Many people dressed in flapper and cowboy outfits, while others wore more up to date clothes. Tickets were sold for $$ 7.50$ with an ASB card and $$ 8.00$ without, and the dance was held from 8:00p.m. to 11:00p.m. The couples, who danced to music provided by You Should Be Dancing, enjoyed many popular songs as well as a few older ones. Also, several slow songs were played throughout the evening for the more romantic couples (and students who had sore feet.) Pictures were taken of the couples during the night by David Collin of David's Photography, and refreshments were available for thirsty dancers. Another attraction of the dance was a marriage booth that had been set up for the couples "in love". The couples, who were unlawfully wed for the remainder of the dance. were given small rings as a symbol of the commitment to stay faithful to each other for the rest of the evening. The dance, which was held in Saugus's small gym, was renovated into a western type atmosphere with haystacks and colorful decorations. The 1984 Backwards Dance was a great success and proved to be enjoyable for all who attended.

OPPOSING PAGE: 1. Lee Ann Rasmussen, Mike Koby, Sherry Berntson, Erin McCormick, and Pat Collar sure look like they're having a good time. 2. The sophomores welcomed the students with colorful decorations. 3. Tim Whalen, Maria York, Mike Bible, and Holly Quinlan dress in different styles but dance to the same beat. 4. A good depiction of what went on at Saugus. 5. Scott Hollenbeck and Rae Apollito and picture perfect. 6. Flappers come to Saugus 7. Margie Coyne, Pat Collar, and Heather Nichois find each other compatible on the dance floor. 8. Everyone needs a rest. 9. Students dance to "Embraceable You.'

The boys varsity tennis team blazed out to the top of the league going 6-0 to start league play. Their first loss came against Burroughs Ridgecrest, the team that would inevitably capture the league crown. The Centurions finished league play with an outstanding record of 10-4-1 which gave the Centurions a final standing of third. The team went on to CIF but was knocked in the first round. A high point to the season was Schuyler Murdock's and Dan Badillo's success in league in doubles.

1. Diego ludica follows through with a little body English. 2. Dan Badillo shows his winning form. 3. Mike Sills is poised for his backhand.

The Saugus Varsity Baseball team made Coach Worley's day by tying first in league and then winning three post-season games in CIF. The pitching aces for Saugus were Kevin Miner and Mike Bible. In the outfield it was the arm of Tim Whalen that gunned down many would be runs. The Centurions also got steady play from captain Mike Carrozo behind the plate. Voted as MVP of the team, Rod Murachanian broke many batting records as he tainted the ball with his awesome hitting. Coach Worley should be very happy with his team as he got great play out of Raniel Caranto and two sophomores - Chris Joy and Denis Moran.

1. Coach Worley can't believe the call at 3rd. 2. The "Bad Man" warms up on deck. 3. A menagerie of personalities in the dugout.

. John Murphy hauls in a major league pop up. 2. Tim Whalen lines one up in the middle. 3. Mike Bible reaches back for a little extra on his fastball. 4. Tim Whalen shows us his intense concentration. 5. Raniel Caranto slides safely into third with a triple.

The girls' softball team had a pretty good season under the coaching of Coach Hilton for the first year. The team had an overall $7-13$ and a 6-9 in league play. They ranked fourth in the league. Diane Raymond, Barbara Spittler, Sherry Riley, and Beth Lopata were the players who stood out during the season. Next year should be even better for the softball team since all but three of the girls are returning.

1. Patti Miller's teammates watch intently as she pitches the ball. 2. Carol Furney hopes to hit a home run. 3. Vicky Vanderhork turns her hopes into actions. 4. Jory Jacobs shows the cool way to throw a ball. 5. This catcher prepares to do her job. 6. Patti Miller's pitch is cheered on. 7. A different style of throwing a ball. 8. Preparing to make the journey home.

To be successful in Track and Field, the athlete has to be self-disciplined and have great stamina. The Saugus Track teams possess both of these characteristics. In fact, the Boys' Varsity Track Team were the Golden League Champions. In addition, Rodney Bradshaw went to CIF, and Pam Thompson went to the State Finals.

1. David Gustaveson shows that running can be a lonely sport. 2. Steve Jenkins watches with amazement as his shot hits a 747. 3. Kristen Brunson shows that Freshmen can win races, too. 4. Rodney Bradshaw exhibits the self-determination needed to succeed. 5. Rodney Bradshaw shows his form for the long jump. 6. The FroshSoph team show they are ahead of the pack.

A CAREER BEGINS

Dr. Sproul and his wife, Karma, have travelled many roads together since Dr. Sproul's graduation from the University of Utah and their marriage in 1945. Dr. Sproul's life after World War Il has been devoted to education, from the first jobs in small town schools in the West to the Hart District. After teaching and counselling positions, Dr. Sproul became the first principal at our newly opened Saugus High. He now, ten years after the opening of Saugus and twice that time in the field of education, moves on to a new life - a life of retirement and leisure. Although Dr. Sproul anticipates working part-time in a teaching position on the collegiate level, he hopes to find time also for travel, golf, and more golf, as well as time with his family. The laughter and tears of Dr. Sproul's farewell breakfast on June 15, 1984, marked the depth of love and respect existing between this fine man and the staff at Saugus High. We wish him well - much happiness - and few balls in the sand traps.

ค CAREER ENDS

1. Dr. Sproul's College graduation portrait. 2. A 1947 photo of the Sprouls outside that "southern" part of Utah, Dixie. 3. Home from the Coast Guard, Dr. Sproul wed Karma in 1945. 4. The newlyweds celebrate their happiness. 4. The Sproul clan today: Myron, Wendy, David, Chris, Becky, and Karma. 5. The Sprouls' favorite place at their cabin in Utah. 6. Dr. Sproul at the #8 tee of Bloomington Hills Golf Course with Pine Valley Mountain in the background. This Utah course should become a "home away from home" now that retirement beckons.
