The Foot and Mouth Disease IT MUST NOT PASS

Citizens Must Observe Regulations or Go to Jail

Will we be able to ship our crops now growing? Is it possible that it may be necessary for the Government or State authorities to enter our premises and destroy our cattle, sheep, hogs or goats?

protection of which are as sacred and necessary to California as the district within our own political boundaries, since they to the greater part furnish the food supply of Southern California. It

Map Shows When and Where Foot and Mouth Disease Started in California and How it Spread. Other Districts are Now Affected.

From information furnished by the Foot and Mouth Control Emergency Committee of Los Angeles, it is possible that our crops may be embargoed against all shipment if the malady continues to spread. It is also possible that our cattle may be destroyed.

The Foot and Mouth malady appears to be limited to cloven hoofed animals. It is extremely infectious and moves with great rapidity, once it gets a foothold. Quarantine regulations cannot be left alone and solely to the delegated Federal and State authorities. Every citizen, man, woman and child, must feel their individual responsibility and bend every effort to stop this oncoming plague.

The disease has moved since Feb. 18, 1924, from West Oakland to all the Bay Counties, jumped to Merced County and from Merced County to Los Angeles County and within the past week to Kern County at Bakersfield. We are practically surrounded.

IT MUST NOT SPREAD!

California is totally surrounded by great agricultural and animal industry states, the safety and will be impossible for us to ask, or they to permit, any lessening in the rigor of quarantine enforcement until we ourselves are entirely rid of the malady.

It is a simple matter for a citizen to do his duty, which means "Strict Obedience to the Law." With a full understanding of the possibilities of contamination and infection, each of the inhibitions placed upon the citizen must be accepted by him as necessary measures in the reestablishment of the functions of business which mean his individual prosperity.

Here are a few DONT'S which must be observed:

Don't allow any livestock off your premises.

Don't congregate with an assembly of people.

Don't go camping.

Don't move livestock feed stuffs without special permit and supervision.

Don't move livestock unless imperatively necessary, then only by permit.

Don't enter any infected or quarantined area.

Newhall Woman's Club Meets

On Wednesday afternoon the Newhall Woman's Club was called to order at the usual hour by Vice-president Allie B. Carr as our president, Nina B. Wright was in Glendale that day. After the opening exercises the entertainment committee took charge and presented a most elaborate patriotic program.

The twelve ladies taking part in the program were dressed in Colonial costume and presented a most pleasing appearance in their flowery gowns and powdered puffs.

Program:

1. "Star Spangled Banner," sung by committee on costume.
2. "Paul Revere," reading by Mrs. Kee.
3. "Our Flag," recitation by Jean Edwards.
4. Vocal duet, Mrs. Lane and Mrs. Dawson.
5. "Betsey Ross and the Flag," Mrs. Gibson and Mrs. Bailey-Taylor.
6. Solo, Mrs. Lane accompanied by Mrs. Harker.
7. Flag Drill, Pico school children.
8. "Revolutionary Tea," sung by committee in costume.

A short business meeting followed. Mrs. Nina B. Wright, was elected to represent the Club at the Biennial. Others are welcome to attend.

Mrs. Lane was the appointed and Mrs. Woodard the elected delegate to attend the State Convention at Pasadena on May 30-31.

Mrs. Bernice Miller, social chairman, reported that all preparation is being made for a splendid entertainment and dance to be held tomorrow night at Hap-lan Hall.

Mrs. Woodard, treasurer of the Club, reported a very satisfactory financial standing for our two year old organization.

At the hour of 3:00 there was a moments silence in the Club as a mark of respect to Mrs. Brainerd, prominent Los Angeles club woman, for whom funeral services were being held while the Club was in session.

The patriotic program drew several gentlemen into the meeting and two of them addressed the Club members. Judge Powell, beloved by all the community, gave reminiscences of childhood days spent in the shadow of Bunker Hill Monument. Rev. Evans gave hearty commendation to the ladies.

A social hour followed during which the Colonial dames served delicious cake and tea.

Mrs. Walton Young was chairman of the April entertainment committee and was assisted by Mesdames McDermott, Dawson, Gibson, Lane, Taylor, Harker, Thibaudeau, Kee, Woodard and Rolls.

Alleged Fire-bug Arrested

Lawrence Marre, a prominent stock raiser of Santa Ynez, was arrested April 3 by Deputy United States Marshal Rice and Deputy Supervisor Wm. V. Mendenhall of the Santa Barbara national forest charged with starting one of a series of disastrous fires which burned over 250,000 acres of brush and timber in the Santa Barbara last summer.

Marre is out on a $2,500 bond pending his trial.

RAINFALL

For last storm .43 inches
For season, to date 7.45 inches

The Newhall Woman's Club entertainment and dance at Hapalan tomorrow evening, April 12, deserves your patronage. Joyce Langston, of Los Angeles, will be the entertainer. She will be fun at 7:30 sharp.

The dance will follow the entertainment with Ostrup's orchestra furnishing the melody.

Robert N. Chesebrough, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Chesebrough of Newhall Ranch, has just returned after spending several months visit with his grandparents in San Francisco.

What Judge Jeffries Thinks of Henry Ford

THE time has come in the industrial life of our country when we must separate the sheep and the goats! Henry Ford is the first man of his class to see the line of demarcation between legitimate and illegitimate industry.

If legitimate industry is to survive upon the competitive basis, it must have the full freedom of competition. The distributive channels must be opened and placed within the reach of legitimate industry. It shows that, if the virtue of the system is to be maintained, all the processes of production and finance must be so democratized as to be responsive to all industrial effort.

Henry Ford is a student of practical modern life, he has a heart, and he has the courage of a lion. The chief difference between him and those who are offering themselves for the Presidency is that he talks little but does much, while the others talk much but do little. What he says he means; what they say they do not always mean! That is why Wall Street and piratical industry are afraid of him.

And that is why I am for him for President!

True Mercy

TURNING loose from prison and restoring to American citizenship 100 men who deserted from the Army and the Navy after the termination of hostilities and before the formal declaration of peace, President Coolidge performed a humane and commendable act.

These men were punished as deserters. Technically, they left their posts of duty in war-time. Since the earliest times when man began to glorify war and courage, the flight from a post of duty in war-time has been deemed cowardice, and as such punished with the utmost severity.

The men whom the President freed belonged to this technical category. They deserted in war-time. In truth, of course, they were not cowards, because their flight came after the war had become a mere paper war. In releasing them and restoring them to citizenship, the Chief Executive recognizes that the war-time standards have ceased to govern.

Indeed, there is ground for strong argument that the President's clemency should go still further and be extended to those now in prison, who were sentenced for long periods for actual flight in battle. Fear, the highest authorities say, is an uncontrollable impulse, due to the state of mental and physical health which the individual possesses.

Courts-martial in war-time, on which sat some officers who never saw the front line trenches and who knew nothing of battle conditions, imposed severe sentences on men who succumbed to hysterical fear and fled. Some of the men who were sentenced as to have displayed a high degree of gallantry in previous fighting and to have finally fallen victim to a pathological condition over which they had no control. The release of such men from punishment at this time could not be harmful to the principle of military discipline in war-time. And it would be an act of Government mercy which would be generally applauded.

Owensmouth Easter Sunrise Service

The eighth Easter sunrise service sponsored by the Woman's Club of Owensmouth, will be given as usual in the Greek Theater, in the quaint little village on the Western fringe of Los Angeles in the San Fernando valley.

Just as the first rays of the sun guild the great urns, resting on the beautiful classic columns, the Davis sisters will sound a paean of praise from their golden-throated trumpets. Following immediately will be the processional, "Christ the Lord is risen," sung by three score white-robed maidens.

Conchita Chavez, well known for her charming voice, will be the soprano soloist. Thad Harvey, who has been heard at the Hollywood Bowl, with the Philharmonic orchestra accompanying, will sing on this occasion.

The Rev. Bob Schuler, of Trinity, Los Angeles, will deliver the address. He will be assisted in the service by Dr. J. A. Sutton, minister of the local community church.

The music will be under the direction of Otto T. Hirschler, a musician of prominence in Los Angeles, organist and music director of the First Presbyterian Church of Glendale.

At the close of the program in the Greek theater, Mr. Hirschler will give a recital of appropriate music on the great organ in the high school auditorium.

There will be seats for all and ample parking space will be arranged with Boy Scouts as guides.

Castaic Echoes

Mrs Fletcher entertained the Women's Club of Castaic at her home here last Thursday afternoon. A large number was present and spent a very delightful afternoon. At the close the hostesses served very delicious refreshments.

Miss Frisbee spent last weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dodge.

Melvin Neal was a visitor in Castaic last week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Jones entertained their brother's family over the weekend.

The Women's Club meets the first and third Thursday of each month at the different homes. The next meeting will be held April 17th at the home of Mrs. Hare. All ladies of Castaic are welcome.

SAUGUS ITEMS

Mrs. Crandall and Miss Kolker chaperoned a dozen or more of the school children on Saturday to see the Mission Play now in its last week for this season.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Neale were in Los Angeles on Tuesday.

Mrs. Sanford Markland and sister, Mrs. Etta Wood of Ventura motored to Los Angeles Monday.

Harry Carey and company were shooting scenes in our town Wednesday. At no time did they lack for interested spectators.

C. W. Quinn is drilling a well and C. W. Lewis is erecting platform and tank which combine to make a complete new water supply for the Saugus Cafe.

Mrs. Tony Suraco accompanied by Mrs. Jack Haskell and Mrs. W. W. Penhorwood attended the Woman's Club affair in Glendale, Thursday.

Our little town is not nearly so naughty as the present number of policemen would lead one to believe. Their prompt and efficient methods will quickly bring conditions back to normal.

Does it pay to raise chickens? Our answer is yes, provided you have the money, inclination and time to give to the care of the feathered creatures. We know of a chicken raiser in Mint Canyon who a year ago bought his first thousand day old White Leghorn chicks from Mr George England of Inglewood. By constant application, good housing, and care and the selling of the young cockerels at broiling period, 400 fine pullets were left, which began laying at five months. While these chicks cost nearly double the ordinary price, they proved their worth for layers, size and strength. Up to the present time they have laid 42,957 eggs and still no let-up. Last Thursday Mr. England delivered 1100 day old chicks of the same variety to the same chicken ranch.

A 12 x 31 brooder house, equipped with feeders in as many as 12 rows, and screened with fine mesh, is a perfect little downy thing. While many little trays hold sand, chick feed and other food that makes for a well balanced ration. Finely cut straw to the depth of several inches keep the chicks busy and contented.

At nite the fires are turned a little higher and with the lifting of the trays and water founts, screen wire is drawn within 18 inches of hover thus preventing the little birds from huddling in a corner away from the heat.

The hen house is modern in every respect, with automatic water founts and feeders. With a five foot fence they are kept in an enclosure.

Nests for the laying hens occupy one entire side of the 16x66 henhouse. A barley sprouter of good dimensions is constantly in use and placed conveniently at the end of the feed room.

It is needless to say that when these little chicks grow up they will be provided with the same modern house as the other hens.

Let every man, woman and child do his or her part in helping to eradicate the cattle plague by keeping their cats, dogs, goats, cattle or poultry off the boulevard or crossing highways. Each in its part seems trivial, but by all working together much can be accomplished.

Word was received that the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Veets of Fullerton was burned to the ground, origin of fire unknown. An incubator filled with 600 eggs was also destroyed. The Veets are in the chicken business and returning from the poultry yards found the house in flames and beyond control. As Mr. Veets carried no insurance the house and contents were a total loss. Mr. and Mrs. Veets were residents of Sterling for a number of years and have many friends in this vicinity who sympathize with them in their loss.

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Held of Sierra Pelona Valley were weekend guests with friends in Ocean Park.

Mrs. Winona Long accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Hainey and her daughter Miss Robenia Greenlun all of Los Angeles occupied a cottage at the Balestier place the fore part of the week.

Mrs. U. S. G. Johnson was a week visitor with relatives in the City of the Angels.

Earl Gardner, chef at the Gypsum Mine brot his wife and two children into the camp and they are occupying the Arthur L. Innes cottage.

Mr. Astronic, foreman at the mine, visited with his family in Los Angeles last week.

Mark Tony of the Angel City was the guest of his uncle, Henry Krieg last Sunday.

Edwin Johnson who is employed in the mail service in Los Angeles is taking a two weeks vacation with his parents in Mint.

By F. F. V. in New York Tribune

The trap jaws clanked and held him fast;
None marked his fright; none heard his cries.
His struggles ceased; he lay at last
With wide, uncomprehending eyes.
And watched the sky grow dark above
And quaked in anguish while he strove
To gnaw the prisoned leg away.
Then day came rosy from the East,
But still those steel jaws kept their hold
And no one watched the prisoned beast
But Fear and Hunger, Thirst and Cold,
Oppressed by pain, his dread grew numb;
Fright no more stirred his flagging breath,
He longed in vain to see him come,
The awful biped, bringing death.
The day flapped past on heavy wing,
He saw the shadows longer grow,
A hopeless, wracked and dying thing
Encircled by the trampled snow.
Then thru the gloom that night came One
Who set the timid spirit free.
"I know thy anguish, little son,
So once men trapped and tortured me."

REGARDING THE CROW

The crow is an outlaw—a destroyer of bird life and an enemy of the farmer. Crows eat the eggs of game, song and insectivorous birds, and kill their young. These feathered outlaws de-

MAKING MEN OUT OF CRIMINALS

THE Marshall Stillmen agents in New York make men out of criminals. These worthy agents are welcomed in the underworld and eagerly sought for.
The principal underlying the Stillman Movement is that right thinking will breed right living and that wrong thinking entails wrong action which results in moral death. The Stillman agents do not criticize, censure or condemn criminals; they help them.

Mr. Greer, head of the Stillman
Movement says:

"There is a type of lad in every big city that has never been touched by any ethical, moral or religious influence. He is the wild boy, brot up in the bad lands of the city, who has a gun in one hand and a black-jack in the other, who cares for no man and for whom no man seems to care. But everybody is human and we have found in the underworld that the guerrilla is a man of courage and heart and that he has well defined virtues which if used constructively, will make him a worth-while citizen. We try to give these youths a square deal and an open road to an honest life. Our watchword is 'Kindness with common sense.' We are men serving men."

Ben Franklin Used Gypsum as Fertilizer

Gypsum, or calcium sulphate, is used both as an agricultural fertilizer and in the manufacture of portland cement. More than 50,000 tons of uncalcined gypsum are used annually by the cement industry, a small portion of the material being added to the clinker from which finished cement is ground. Gypsum is added to regulate the setting time of the cement, for without the gypsum the cement would harden so quickly that workmen would not have time to place it properly. As a fertilizer, gypsum was first used in this country by Benjamin Franklin on his farm near Philadelphia. The fertilizing elements of the material were discovered by accident by workmen near Paris, France, when it was noticed that the grass near where they shook their gypsum-covered clothes grew better than elsewhere.

Tripoli Is Called the Gateway to the Sahara

Tripoli is now under Italian rule and is called the "Gateway to the Sahara," and the caravan trade to and from the city through the desert is enormous. All goods are transported by baggage-camels, called in Tripoli jannels. Ivory, ostrich feathers, gum arabic, cloth from the Kano dye-works, rhino horns, leather, etc., are brought in in great quantities from various parts of central Africa.

The Sahara is peopled by several very fierce tribes called Tuaregs, who levy upon the caravans enormous taxes as tribute for safe conduct of the caravans through the desert. Nor does this always suffice; more times than are pleasant the caravans are raided, the personnel killed or captured, and all goods and animals taken. Capt. Beverley Giddings, in Adventure Magazine.

Killing Birds Rapidly

Commercializing of wild game birds and wild animals during the past century has caused their number to decrease more than all the killing that had gone on during the previous years of the Christian era. Today automobiles and repeating guns skillfully utilized by a rapidly increasing population are hastening the day when many species of wild life will have passed from the earth.—Nature Magazine.

"A Native-Born Prince"

During the reign of Edward I. the Welsh rose against the English declaring that they would never acknowledge allegiance to any prince "but of their own nation and language and of upblamable life." Edward II was born in a castle at Carnarvon, Wales, and he was presented to the Welsh people as "a native-born prince of unblamable life who could speak no word of English." From that date the recognized heir to the English throne has borne the title of Prince of Wales.

Massachusetts Had First Nail Machinery

There is no date in history fixing the first use of nails. Up to a century ago they were still exclusively hand made, and even as late as 1850 it was a general custom in this country for the nail maker with his forge and anvil to come with the carpenter to make the nails needed in the erection of a building. The first nail-making machinery originated in Massachusetts in 1810 to make cut nails from steel or iron plates. The use of cut nails is now greatly reduced by the introduction of machinery and wire nails, which came into the United States from Germany in 1875. It was discovered shortly after their introduction that they did not have great holding power. This defect was overcome in 1882 by Ira Copeland of Whitman, Mass., who conceived the idea of coating them with vegetable gum, the result being to give them even greater holding power than cut nails.

Caustic Editorial Hits Flapper of Century Ago

Do the flappers of 1923 cause our editors to shake their heads and wonder to what the race is coming? Listen to the editor of the Boston Repository, September 23, 1894, when he delivers a lengthy opinion on women's fashions, says the New Republic, and especially that of appearing "clad in transparent muslin when clad at all."

"With regard to dancing vulgarity has proved equally successful. The Scotch step, the Irish shuffle and the partridge waddle have triumphed over the graceful minuet and elegant cotillon. A strange rage for imitating low life seems the epidemic malady of the age, a compulsion which democracy has extorted from us, or else it must be one of those unaccountable freaks which fashion sometimes plays."

Community Presbyterian Church Notes

Next Sunday is Palm Sunday and there will be a Palm Sunday service.

The subject of the Sunday School is, "Elijah and the struggle with Baal." The Golden Text is "No man can serve two masters, ye cannot serve God and mammon."

The C. E. Society is held at 7:00 P. M. The subject is, "My decisions and what they have meant to me." Luke 10-42 and 15:18.

The meeting of the Presbytery of Los Angeles was held Wednesday and Thursday. The delegates from the Newhall church were H. Clay Needham and W. H. Evans.

BRIEF PARAGRAPHS

Judge not.

Why not buy shirts at cost. Everything goes. Community Tailors, Newhall.

Cats and dogs allowed to run at large are a public nuisance at all times and a public menace at this particular time while we are under quarantine regulations. People who think anything of animals as a rule exert a little energy in taking the proper care of them.

Quitting the haberdashery line. Everything at cost—shirts, collars, ties, belts, sox, sox supporters—in fact, everything. The Community Tailors, Newhall.

No further meetings of the Camp Fire Girls will be held until the summer vacation.

Everything goes at cost in my haberdashery department. Community Tailors, Newhall.

For Sale—The old Presbyterian church building and a corner lot, 60 x 125. Building on said lot to be moved by purchaser. Price, $1,200 cash. See A. H. Wilkie or W. H. Evans.

A big minstrel and vaudeville show is to be given by the San Fernando Kiwanis Club on April 24 and 25 in the S. F. High School auditorium. Don Pence is in charge of the acts, and E. J. Linne who has had many years experience as an "end man," will have charge of the minstrels. The show will be given for the benefit of the Boy Scouts.

Got Something You Want to Sell?

Most people have a piece of furniture, a farm implement, or something else which they have discarded and which they no longer want.

These things are put in the attic, or stored away in the barn, or left lying about, getting of less and less value each year.

WHY NOT SELL THEM?

Somebody wants those very things which have become of no use to you. Why not try to find that somebody by putting a want advertisement in
