Face In The Mirror

THE FACE IN THE MIRROR

We all have expectations, hopes and fears about how our lives will proceed. The future is so uncertain, yet there is so much pressure on us to decide our paths. Who we will become is indeed a mystery and how we will get there seems to be the hardest lesson, but so is the question of who we are. How do we, in all the roles that we play in school, relationships, families, jobs and friendships see ourselves? To strangers we're the misunderstood teen; to our families, we're the prodigy child; to our friends we're the midnight hotline in a time of crisis; to our boyfriend or girlfriend, we're the dream come true - "together forever". We seem to be all these things to all these people. Coming to know who we are is a lifelong process. As children, we're told who we are. As teens, we're expected to know who we are without the experience to decide. It's during our high school years that we are first faced with the challenges that help us grow to know ourselves. But have we figured out the puzzle yet? Do we ever figure it out? We need to find the right opportunities to make the choices that will enable us to achieve our dreams so that someday.....

...When you can see yourself objectively, appreciate the differences that make you unique or when you don't feel the need to hide your special little quirks, then you'll finally

Know Who You Are...

...When you finally realize what "learning from your mistakes" means, and you're wise enough to know that it helped you reach your goals, then you'll

Know Where You're Going...

... When the world seems to be falling down around you, but you're still able to trace the winding curves and dead ends in the road up ahead, you'll

Know How To Get There...

... When you're finally able to forgive the ones who've hurt you, forgive the life that got in the way, and love yourself without conceit then, you'll finally

Know Who You've Become...

Until then, everyday, you'll see that face in the mirror: your expectations, fears and accomplishments. And whether you're looking into a crystal clear window pane, a pair of sparkling eyes, or a rippling puddle after the first fall rain, that reflection is always with you. Have you ever gotten lost in that window, or those eyes, and lost yourself? Whose reflection are you seeing? Is it you, or the impression everyone has of you? Are you the person you know you are, or the clay they make you out of in their minds?

To find the real you
- The Real Face In The Mirror - look inside yourself, ...

For the face that no one sees.

Good to the last drop. Jamie Alarcon, Stephanie Bower, and Justine Cozell take a break from the craziness of games and dancing at Homecoming to relax, chat, and have some snacks provided by Cantina Cuisine.

KNOW HOW TO LIVE

~STUDENT LIFE~

Who you callin' Baby? Kevin Rosenberg mistakes the fine looking Francis Manzanares, for someone he met in a dream. Dreams can come true on Criss-Cross Day.

Stoop Dudes. Josh Drew and Matthew Miller watch the cars pass by on this West Coast/ Valencia version of the stoops of New York.

Fender Bender. Chris Reynolds, Alicia Garcia, and Mario Terrazas get quality first hand experience about the joys of going off campus during the lunch crunch.

Musical Genius

Plant Suicide and Nihilism are upstart Valencia bands with lots of potential. Plant Suicide with its three members jam every weekend and have a variety of influences including NIN and Tool. Nihilism has a cast of four and their influences include Anti-Flag and Rancid.

Last Chance has been together for a year and has played at Club 2000 and the Roxy. They have already recorded one demo CD with six songs and plan to head back to the studio to create another masterpiece.

A few of our bands:

1-4. Lotusphere: Ryan Young (keyboard), Jordon Perkins-Lewis (drums), Nick Alvarado (guitar), Dave McCoy (bass), Adam Stacey (keyboards) and Chad Dunn (horns). 5. Plant Suicide: Becca Graham (guitar), Molly Bramsway (bass) and Crissi Wright (drums). 6. Last Chance: Ryan Waterson (guitar), Chris Forrette (guitar), Josh Kenyon (drums), and Kent Vantever (bass and vocals). 7. Nihilism: Matt Miller, Sam Sytten, Keith Chambers and Phil Lind.

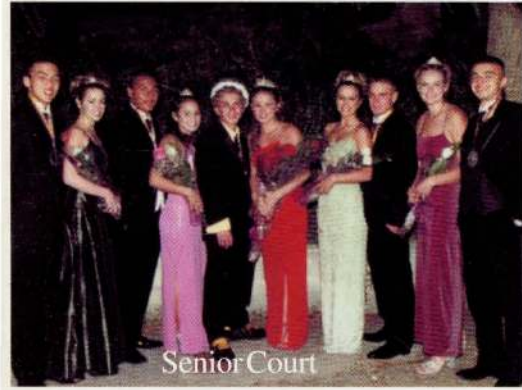

The five-year-old band Lotusphere used to be named Defunkt and has picked up 6 members over their time together. They have played together at the Whisky and the Roxy and have gathered a small following in the Santa Clarita Valley. Most of the members have gone through the drum line program here at Valencia High School which is where they met. One of Lotuspheres biggest influences is the punk/funk band Mr. Bungle. In fact, Defunkt used to be a full-on funk band. Now they fuse rock and jazz and use some wicked synthesisers for a very unique sound. The band has recently recorded a demo CD at a local studio and you can expect to hear them in concert at a large ampitheatre in the near future.

Pump That Viking Spirit Up!

1. Vikings go a long way to show their spirit. Sumre Glass contributed her beautifully decorated car to the auto rally. 2. With a combination like this, who needs Vick the Viking? No doubt this enormous amount of spirit will last a lifetime to these seniors. 3. A proud ride filled with Viking pride. Cory McDermott and Chris Kleiber stand beside their VHS ride. 4.

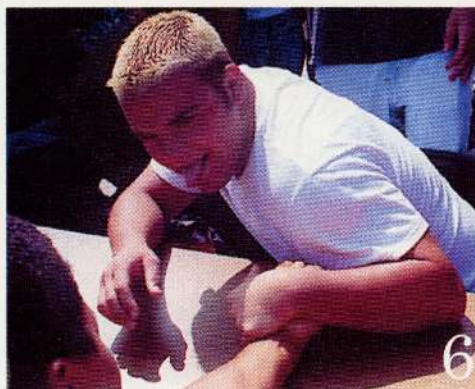

Who says all cheerleaders have to be girls? Cory McDermot, Derek Miller, Cory Feldt, Chris Kleiber, Giovanni Fernandez, Brian Edwards, and T.J. Trevino show their school spirit in gold paint. 5. Vic the Viking and Ashley Palmer are having fun showing off their pride as Vikings for a football game.

1. How low can ya' go?! Josh Earp tries limboing on Luau Friday. 2. Listen Up! Senior Jessica Robinson can get anybody's attention with her shiny red bullhorn! 3. Homie don't play that! Senior Caile Nobel is the star of Crazy Hair day, rainbow hair and all! 4. Misters are sisters Seniors Victoria Kelso, Rashae Minor, and Melissa Jones participated in Criss-Cross day. 5. Is there a doctor in the house? Ryan Young and his girlfriend Nichole Donnelly dressed up on Halloween and participated in the costume contest. 6. I won! Junior Josh Danenza shines in victory after winning in an arm wrestling contest!

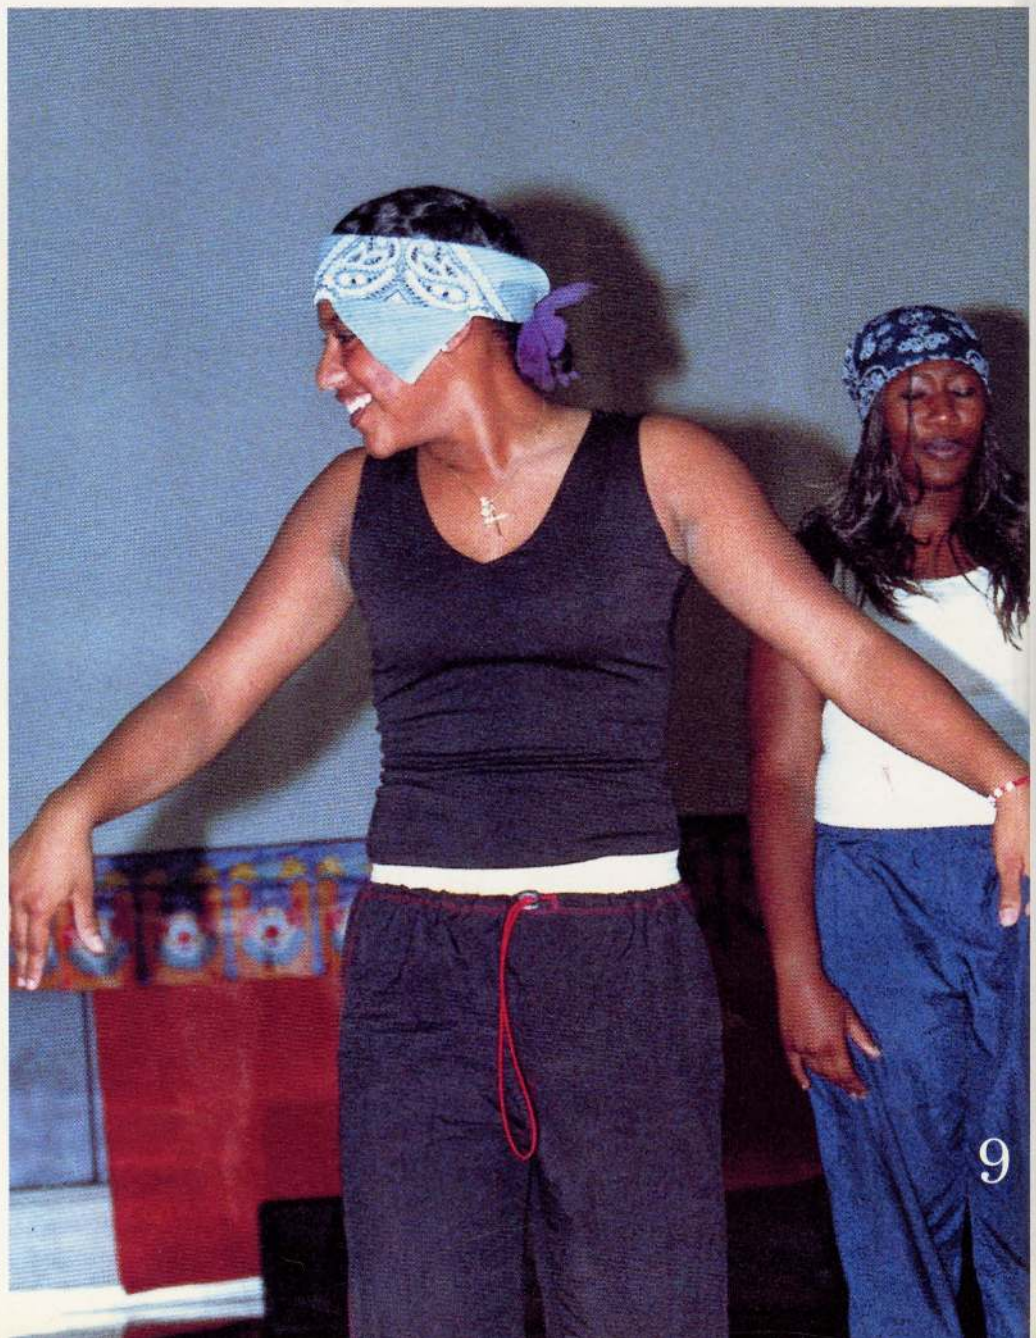

Let's do Brunch!

ONE, TWO, THREE, FOUR...
HEY! IT'S TIME TO GET ON THE FLOOR!

1. Is the circus in town? Robbie Wank entertains us with his juggling skills at the carnival rally. 2. Hey, hey, hey! Our energetic and spirited ASB advisor, Frank Ferry, addresses the crowd at a rally. 3. One, two, three: Senior victory! Class competitions are an essential part of getting the student body into the rallying spirit. 4. Muahahaha! Dr. Evil (Troy Schott) holds the rally ransom for one million dollars! 5. Get your groove on ladies! The hip-hop club performs at the rally. 6. You wish...The guys look wistfully on as the dance team performs on the floor. 7. Straight out of Valencia! Valencia presents their own lyrical geniuses rapping to their heart's content. 8. Sing, angel of music! Rallies are great opportunities to showcase your talents, whether they be singing, dancing, or whatever! 9. Hip-hop started out in the heart. Many clubs use rallies to perform and show the student population what they can do. Giselle Pre'Jean shows her incredible rhythm and soul at the rally. 10. And in the staff corner, we have...The faculty deserves their time in the spotlight at the rallies as well! 11. Viking Pride. These girls proudly display their spirit shirts and their smiles. 12.

Following our - Our Campus Lives - Own Paths

1. Honk Honk!! The Coca-Cola truck drives through campus after making a large delivery to the student store.

2. Drink it Up! Here a group of students gather during brunch. At brunch many students talk with friends and buy snacks or drinks. 3. Walk this Way! Many are carrying drinks as they just finished lunch. 4. Did you Hear? Shawn Lampton and Richard Martin walk together after their second period class.

5. Chillin' in the Shade. The shade structures are packed with students during brunch and lunch as students try to get out of the hot sun. 6. Money doesn't grow on trees.

Valencia finally gets a few large trees put into the ground. The trees were donated by Newhall Land and Farm. 7. A long stroll.

Students that have their fifth periods in the 900's have a long walk after lunch. 8. GO! GO! GO! YEAH!! A very large crowd gathers to cheer on a brunch activity. 9. The early bird catches the worm. The sun is coming out early in the morning near the baseball fields. 10. Get out of the way! Students push past each other from the 500's as it is brunch. A few head towards the red carts to grab a snack. 11. Brown Bungalows. These brown portables were added to our school as it becomes more and more overcrowded. It is very hard for students to get to class on time when they have to get from the 600's to the 900's.

(above) Talk about School spirit! Corey McDermott, Derek Miller, Corey Feldt, Chris Kleiber, Giovanni Fernandez, Brad Edwards and T.J. Trevino painted their bodies purple and gold for the Hart-Valencia Football game. The guys made their grand entrance to the stadium when they rode in on their scooters. (left) "It's all about the ladies." Meghan Bakshi, Brooke Volkmann, Lauren Campbell, Sarah Buck, Jessica Robinson, Sumre Glass, Carolina Mojarro, Kim Wood and Ann Marie Hart are part of the group of girls who proudly display their senior shirts. Go Senior Ladies!

2001 Senior Pride! Valerie Pina, Kristen Moyer, and Heather Fix represent the senior class at the years first rally. It's time for the class of 01' to rule the school.

Andrew Dorso is a well rounded high school Senior. After school he goes to his job as a electrician. Everyday he brings his dog, Benson to work. He plans to attend COC and sharpen his skills as an electrician. In one year he will become a foreman of his crew.

Shayla Borpujari plays a sport you might not expect her to play, Lacrosse. Lacrosse is a contact sport combining football, soccer and hockey. It's played on a soccer field with two goals and a small rubber ball. Much like hockey or soccer, the intent is to get the ball into the goal. Lacrosse is an action packed game. Come down and watch Shala play.

JESSICA HARO

"Just being at the Olympics was incredible. Performing was an unforgettable experience." Jessica flew to Sidney, Australia during the first week of school and performed in the Torch Lighting Ceremony for the 2000 Olympic Games. She then performed at the Sidney Opera House at Darling Harbor. Jessica Haro is 18 years old and has been dancing and singing most of her life. For the past six years she has belonged to a performance group called Rock Theatre. Her group has done a variety of performances from festivals to a tribute to Gene Autry. Of course, their most meaningful performance was in Sidney. Not only did they get to dance, but they joined sixteen other groups from across the world to sing Australia's national anthem. Jessica has also had many solo performances, her favorites being "This Kiss" by Faith Hill and "Journey to the Past" from the film "Anastasia". Besides dancing and singing, she is involved in Peer Counseling at school. Jessica hopes to attend Cal State Northridge in the fall and major in Communications. She then hopes to get a job in broadcasting. Don't be surprised if you see her face in the future.

Troy wakes up every day at 4:30 a.m. to meditate for ten to twenty minutes. Troy Shcott is not your typical senior. He believes that meditation helps him relax and focus on what he needs to get done. Six years ago he got involved in martial arts. Troy thinks that martial arts raises his awareness of his surroundings. His biggest achievement was becoming a lay disciple of a buddhist monk three days before his eighteenth birthday. He wants to be a Buddhist monk when he is older. The main reason behind his pursuit of Buddhism is that it helps him understand his own daily life. Troy hates to be categorized and hates the fact that everyone is "labeled". A goal for Troy is to get to the point where he doesn't feel labeled. Troy knows what he wants to do and has the determination to accomplish all of it.

I think I would be Albert Einstein because then I could pass all of my tests with ease. I could also invent something cool during brunch and lunch. I could probably even win a Nobel Prize in something too.

It's a toss up. I would want to be Reese Witherspoon so I could be with Ryan Phillippe. Or I would be Gwyneth Paltrow so I could be with Ben Affleck.

Voting at Valencia

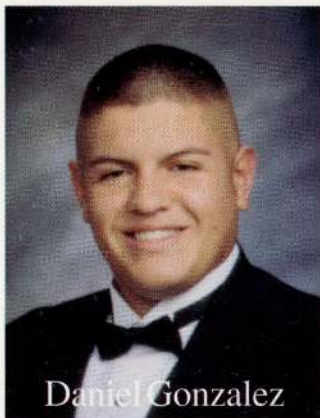

Who should be president? "Al Gore. George Bush has no idea what he's talking about. He sounds like a babbling monkey."
Christina Hastings

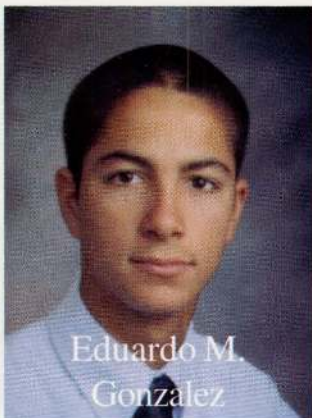

"Ralph Nader, because he's actually an intelligent candidate. He sticks to his ideals and plays the game fairly. As for Gore, if he can't beat Bush with both hands tied behind his back and blindfolded, he deserves to lose."
Carrie Nass

What do you think about people who don't vote? "It's foolish. Don't whine about politics unless you're willing to vote."

JUSTINE COZELL

You can see Justine every morning as an anchor for VTV, but you might also have noticed her name in the by-line of a controversial article in the Viking Vision. She is not only a skilled author, but the editor of the opinion section. If something happens in the community that seems unjust or if the school is adamantly divided on some issue, Justine will readily share her views. She will often write for hours, focused on the issue at hand. The product is that of professional quality, an accomplished writer for our generation.

Journalism was first suggested to Justine by her English teacher, Mrs. Leggett. Justine has enjoyed it because she has had the liberty to share her views completely, unhindered by the hierarchy of school administrators. She tries to express her own opinions, represent the student body, and encourages people to think for themselves. Justine hopes to pursue a career as an author and major in creative writing at the New School University in New York.

In her free time, Justine often writes for fun. She enjoys simply hanging out with her friends, going to the movies, and playing the piano. Obviously a very diverse girl in a black and white world, she is a girl who dares to "think outside the box."

Kevin is a guy you've seen more times than you realize. He is the focal point of every rally, the pride of the school, and the cheerleader with the most rhythm. You see, Kevin's alter ego is our very own Vic the Viking. "It's a lot of fun," he says, "but it isn't always easy. After about an hour, my glasses start to fog up. After another half hour, it's really hot and hard to breathe, and after two hours, I can't see at all." So next time you see Vic parading around the field, remember, being the mascot is a lot harder than it looks.

How do you feel you've changed since Jr. High, or have you stayed the same? I enjoy life much more and am more apt to see the humor in less enjoyable situations. - Andel Sudik

Which teacher has inspired you? Mr. Burrill has inspired me the most. I learned from him the true value of my education and how far I can go in the world if I just try to "master" the concept. - Julia Peek

What makes you the person you are today? I am who I am today because of all the people I have met, all the places I have traveled to, and the weather outside. - Chris Gapper

How do you feel you've changed since Jr. High, or remained the same? I've changed in a way that I don't care what people think about me anymore. I also don't believe I have grown since Jr.High, and have remained 5'1" since 6th grade! - Ava Alamshah

What is one regret you've had during your high school career? I regret not reading for Swanson's European History class. - Angela Guiao

Which Teacher has inspired you? Mr. Silsbee, because he is one of those teachers who cared and took time out just for me. I like that. - Danny R. Gonzales

What is one your favorite memories during high school? My favorite memories are the dances...also I love playing volleyball for school. - Kalena Nordgaarden

What do you think makes you the person you are today? Acting. As bizzare as it may sound, when I become someone else - I learn more about who I really am. - Ji Kim

KNOW HOW TO GET THERE -JUNIORS-

Creating a masterpiece.

Audrey Bates and Yada

Wannasopar are diligently working on a picture for Mrs. Sealy's art class.

Tug-O-War. In Mr. Ducan's Physics class Catherine Krause, Anita Singh, and Jamie Ky attempt to pull a car up the hill.

WWF Arm Wrestling. Josh Danenza and Brandon Fuselier wrestle it out to see who has the top strength in the junior class.

Olympics 1984

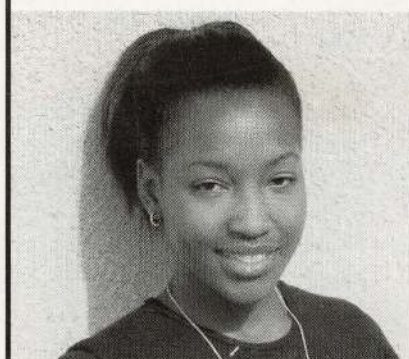

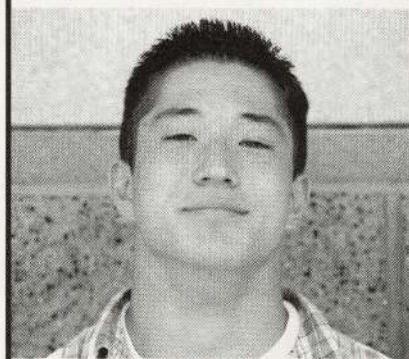

1. In 1984, at the age of 16, Mary Lou Retton was the first gymnast to win the overall Olympic title. 2. The Coliseum is a large sports stadium that was designed to entertain the public. 3. Jackie Joyner-Kersey lost at the 1984 Los Angeles games, but redeemed herself in 1988 when she won the gold medal and broke three of her own records. 4. On the evening of August 2, 1984, Peter Vidmar won the first gold medal for the American Gymnastics team in over eighty years. 5. Carl Lewis was proud to wave the American flag. At the 1984 Los Angeles Olympics, by the beginning of the third game, he had already established himself as an athletic phenomenon.

Future Olympic Stars?

1. Brandon Fuselier is a junior on the Varsity football team. He looks up to Manuel White, Kaelen Jakes, and Ray Cassaday because they taught him to always work hard and never give up. 2. Summer Lucas is a Varsity cheerleader and looks up to Jennifer Lopez for her unique fashion sense.

John Robinson is a junior on the varsity football team. The people that encouraged him to play football are the people at his church. When asked who he looked up to, John replied, "Coach Muir because he is always so calm and collected in the locker room and on the field!" John's future plans are to finish high school and own his own business.

3. Jacqueline Du Chatea is an active member in Mock Trial. She looks up to Anne Rice because of her inspirational ideas, "She has a way of wording them." 4.

Carin Rogoff is a fundraising officer in Key Club and is an active member in the DECA Club. She looks up to people who stand out for doing what they want to do, regardless of what others may think.

Rashae Minor is a junior on the varsity basketball team and track team. Rashae was encouraged to play sports from the stars on T.V. Rashae looks up to Marcie Green for her speed and Gary Payton because of his skill. Her future plans are to graduate from college and become a basketball or track star. If that doesn't work out, she is also interested in acting and modeling.

Night Life

Stacie Goldstein

on The Rocky Horror
Picture Show

It is Saturday evening, nearing midnight; the witching hour. Crowds of people begin to descend on the Nuart theatre in Hollywood, but they don't look like your average guy on the street. This is the Rocky Horror crowd, a group of people who love the movie, and aren't too scared to humiliate themselves. Some people are dressed in outrageous outfits, some crossdressing, while others are still in their street clothes. The atmosphere is one of love and acceptance. The doors open, and everyone enters the theatre.

People take their seats, the movie begins, and under the screen, actors perform right along. The crowd shouts out "secret lines" during the pauses in the dialogue, and at certain points, the audience will throw props that coincide with the movie.

The ultimate goal of going to "The Rocky Horror Picture Show" is to be comfortable in a bizzare situation. Each show is a different expirience, and every night, there is a different audience. Try it if you dare, and remember, "enter at your own risk".

Rocky Horror is a variety of life that most teenagers cannot experience for themselves without having second thoughts.
-Yvonne Tally

The mall is like a meeting place for all the kids in this valley. You never know who you'll run into.
-Bobby Schley

I like the atmosphere of Java and Jazz. It's nice to have a place where everyone can relax, have a drink, and listen to music.
-Rachel Forester

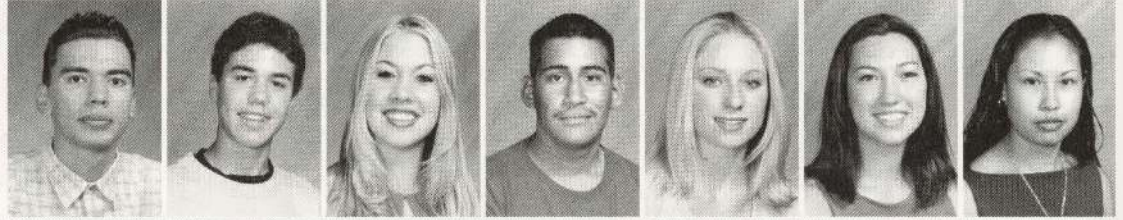

1. A serene sight at the mall. Always the popular hangout, today it's relatively empty. 2. Our Bronze Buddy, always sipping his latte, is just one of many fans of Java and Jazz and their coffee. 3. All's quiet here at the Edwards Cinema. Later tonight, students will flock here to see the latest movies and hang out with friends.

Life changes with a License

How has your life changed since you got your license?

Kaye McGill - "More freedom, no more waiting hours to be picked up or being slower in getting where I need to go."

Tiffany Roofner - "I get to go places and not tell anyone."

Christen Hardy - "My mom doesn't have to take me anywhere. It's a lot more freedom."

Nicole Cunningham - "Not much, just that now I end up driving everyone in my car and paying for gas."

Josh Ford - "I don't have one, don't make fun of me."

"I have more responsibility and also more freedom."

Mark Mallig

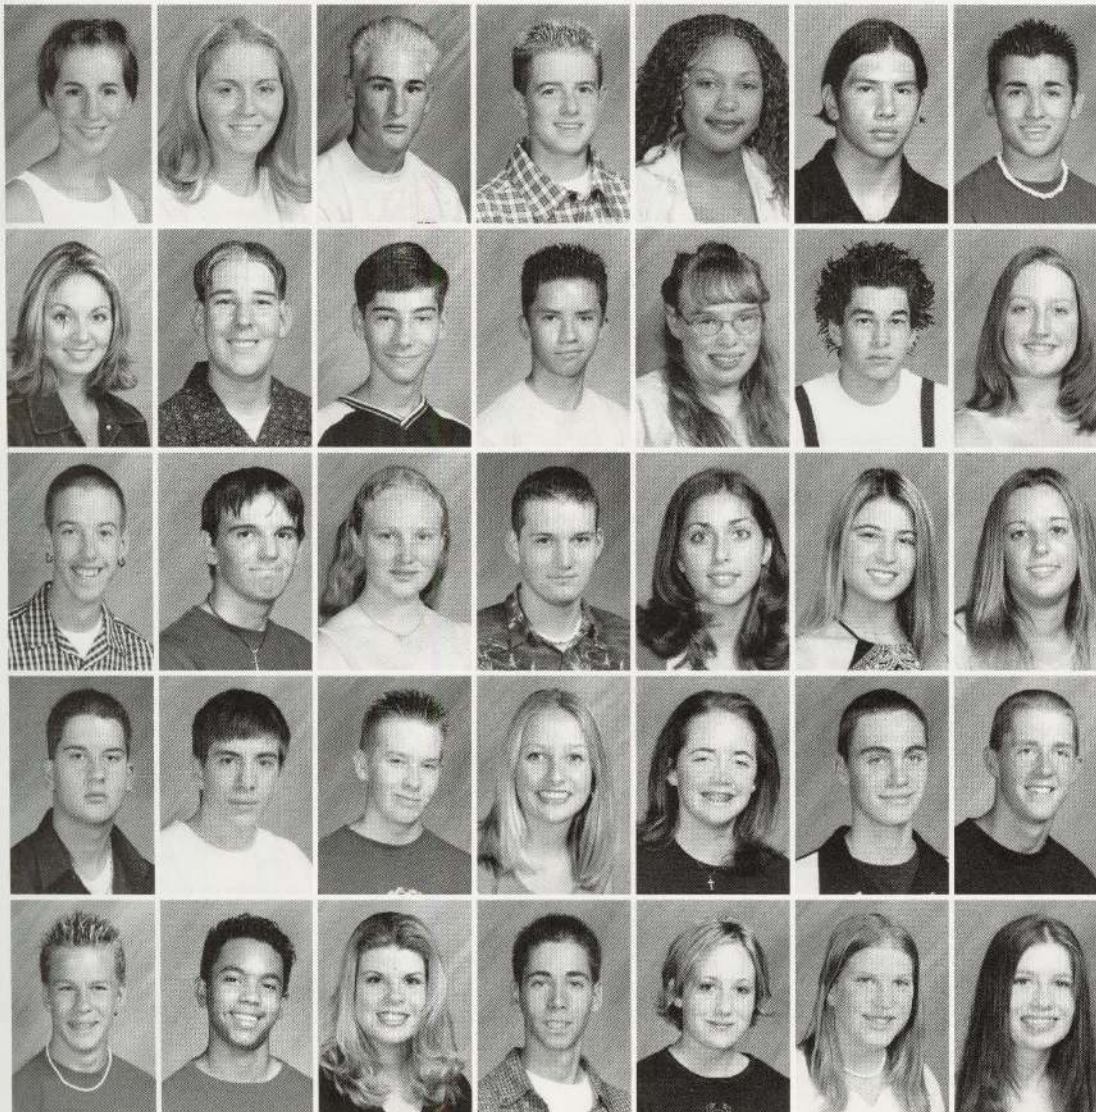

"I'm never home, I feel more in control."

Days of Our Lives: Junior Relationships

What is your opinion of high school romance?

How do you think high school relationships are like a soap opera?

Tiffany Bradshaw

"High school relationships are like soap operas because it's all about who you're with, what they have and who said what about who."

"High school relationships are like a soap opera because of the rumors, lies, and cheating. But isn't that what high school's all about?"

Holly Feneht is a person who balances two hobbies, and excels in both. She is a very talented basketball player, having been a Varsity player since Freshmen year. She's been playing in leagues since the fourth grade, and has loved every minute.

Holly's other major pursuit is her artwork. She hopes to pursue a career in some form of artistic expression, but is still unsure of what specifically. She keeps a sketchbook with her with many examples of her ability. At right is one of nearly one hundred.

At present, Holly is taking small steps in the right direction. She is taking an independent study course here at Valencia, along with several at C.O.C. We all wish her luck, and a fruitful career in a very fickle field.

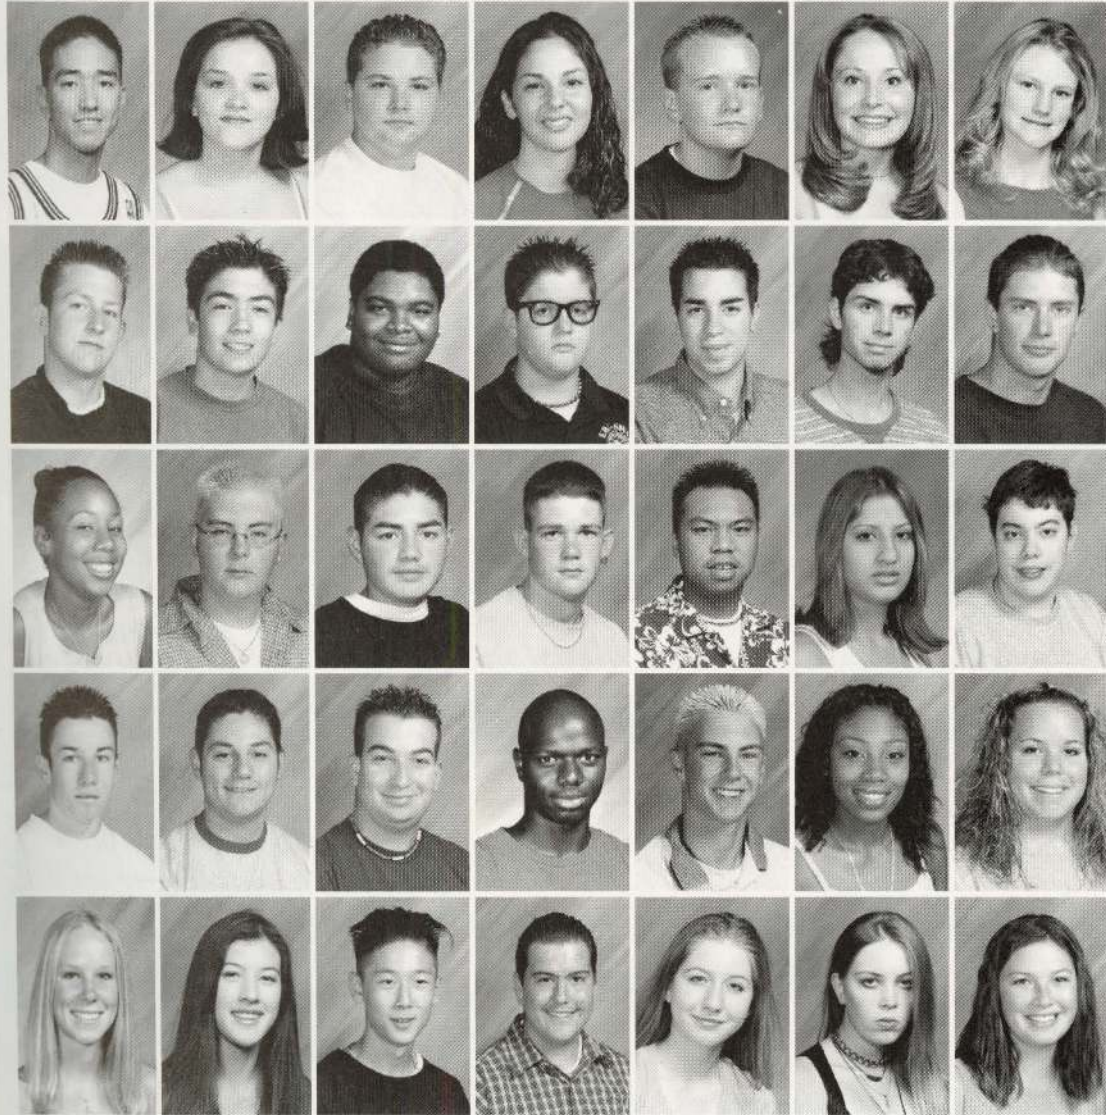

You can't help but notice Henry as you walk through campus. Whether it's his swing style of dress, he's busting a crazy guitar riff, or running sprints in football practice, there is something about Henry that draws your attention.

When you see Henry practice on his guitar, there is something about him that simply impresses you. He has been playing since about the age of 4, under the encouragement of his family, and has been with it ever since. He looks forward to a lucrative career as an orchestrator. He would like to compose his own music and take it to a new level with an orchestra behind him. Good luck Henry.

SPEECH AND DEBATE

Artsy Career

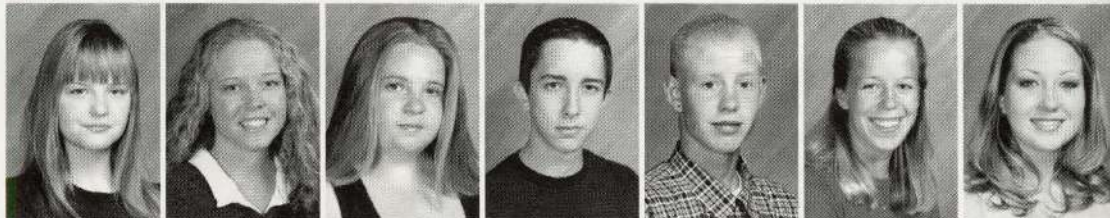

Kristin Evans has always been a fan of drawing, and has decided to make it a career. Her dream is to work for DC comics as a writer and an artist. Her family urged her to draw and to continue drawing, and in a field where there are so many opportunities; it is hardly a career to be under appreciated. For many years she has drawn and written her own stories and comic strips, including one such strip which revolves around her sister. She feels this therapeutic and exciting career would be the ideal job for anyone because you get to do something you like, and get paid for it.

Shadowing the job

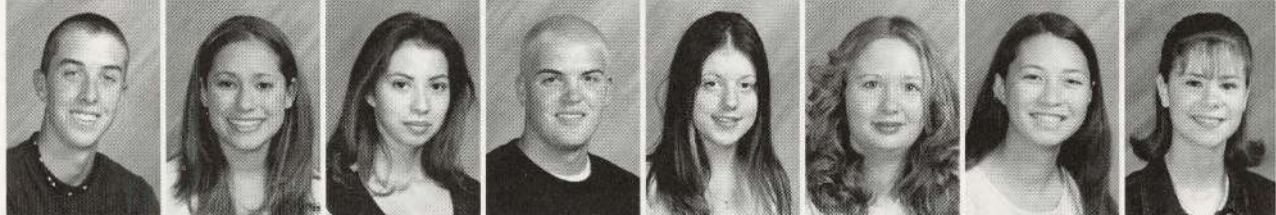

Job shadowing is an important process to go through, it helps pave the way for a future career. It allows you to experience a possible job, which will hopefully entice your interest. Junior, Samara Azam, says that job shadowing is very helpful because you can find out if you really want to spend your life doing that job and whether you really want to spend thousands of dollars educating yourself for it.

Mark Malig- Mark remembers going to Las Vegas every two months as a little guy. He always hated the long drive though, because he was so anxious to get there. One time at the hotel, he was roaming around the casino on his own, Mark saw the slot machines and thought they were just another video game so he played one and won lots of money. Security came and grabbed Mark and said that he couldn't be there. Today, Mark goes to Vegas every once in a while.

Valerie Hernandez- When Valerie was a little kid, she used to wake up early every Saturday morning to watch her favorite cartoons, Gummi Bears and Star Bright. Something else she won't forget is the time when she first sat on the seat of a bicycle and learned how to ride. She loved being able to ride her bike to the park to play. Today, she doesn't ride her bike as much as she used to or go to the park.

John Papa- John is the type of student who was very adventurous as a kid. He remembers the time when he first learned how to ride a skateboard. He quickly became good at skating and doing stunts. John later had an unfortunate accident when he dislocated his shoulder while skating on the roof. But that didn't stop him from skating and doing other stunts today.

Kristine Yumul-

Kristine remembers the time when she played hide-and-go-seek at family parties. The seeker would never find her. Kristine also liked watching PeeWee's Playhouse every Saturday morning. Her favorite part of the show was when PeeWee rode his bike in the air because she always wanted a bike that could fly. It's too bad nobody made one, but maybe one day she will.

Online Schools vs. Traditional Schools

Sean Sumler

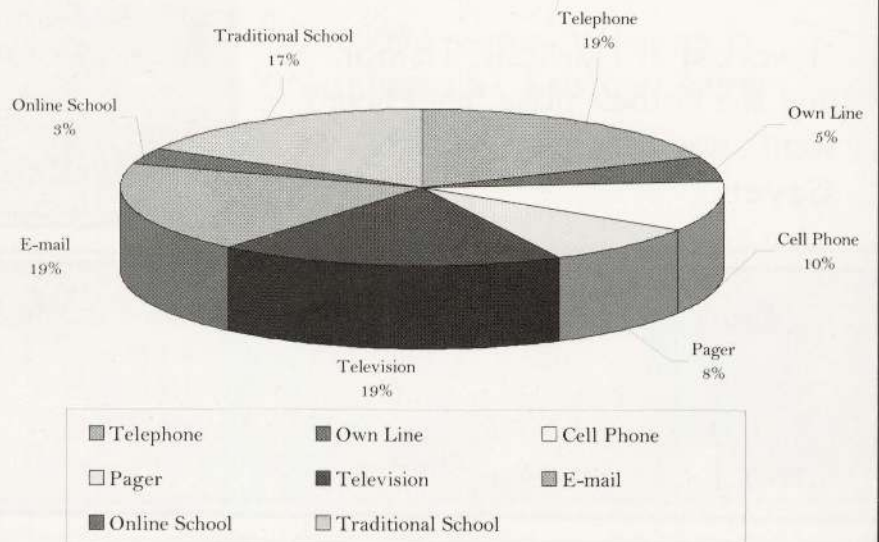

It would be easier and you could do it in the convenience of your own home. It would be an interesting experience.

Online school would have no socialization and I wouldn't have as many friends. I come to school to see my friends. I probably would not do my homework if I went to an online school. A person has a better school life when they are around more people.

Can you guess this VHS sophomore?

New to VHS this year, our mystery sophomore really should be no mystery at all. Although shy at first, she really opens up when she gets to know you. "I know all about her, and she's only been here for three months. She's really fun to talk to, I feel like I've known her my whole life," says a friend and fellow classmate. In fact most people would agree that she has somewhat of an infectious personality, always speaking out in class. Unlike most VHS students she hasn't grown up with the luxuries we take for granted. Our mystery student has traveled worldwide with her missionary parents who have taken her from her birthplace of Chicago, Illinois to as far abroad as Tanzania. "I've been lucky to have experienced all types of life-styles and have gotten quite an education; travel really gives you a wide perspective on life," she says. Coming from her family's last post in Africa, adjusting to Valencia has been difficult, "It's been a little hard, but I'm glad to finally be settling down for a while." This year's secret sophomore hasn't yet gotten a chance to get involved in many on-campus activities, but is looking forward to joining a couple of clubs and trying out for at least one varsity sport next year. "I just love playing soccer; I've been playing for years. It seems less popular here than most of the places I've lived though." If you haven't been able to guess the identity of this year's Secret Sophomore, don't worry, you'll certainly know who she is by next year. Unless she moves again.

Suzy Acosta

Chances are, if you walk around the shaded area enough times, you'll run into Suzy Acosta. Suzy's outgoing attitude is obvious upon meeting her, and is most often paired with her sharp wit. She moved here six years ago from Glendale, and has loved every minute of it. "It's a great place to live," she says of Valencia. "I just wish it was more exciting around here." Despite the predictability of the suburbs, however, Suzy still manages to enjoy the simplicity of it. She spends her time at friends houses, at the mall, all the things you'd expect. She is also a serious skater chick. She enjoys all types of board, be it street, surf, or snow, Suzy's got it covered. She believes in living life to its fullest, and not having regrets about the decisions she makes. But fortunately or unfortunately, "All the good things come when you LEAST expect them."

FACES OF THE PRESENT FACES OF THE FUTURE

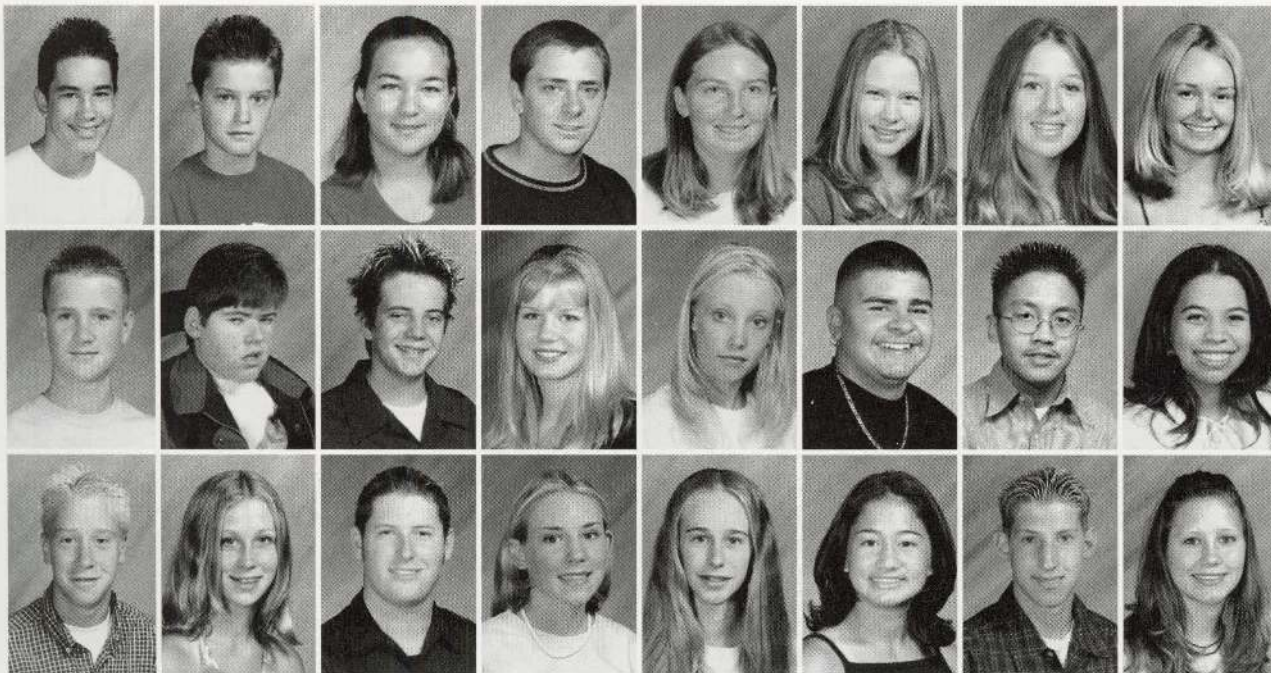

Jessica McConaughy

Jessica McConaughy is one of those people whose positive attitude is undeniably infectious. Always wearing a smile, she can brighten the darkest spirit. She has lived in Valencia for two years, and has enjoyed every moment. Before moving to sunny California, she lived in numerous places. She was born in Kansas and stayed there for a year before her father changed jobs. They were transferred to Chicago, where they resided for another two years. But once again, they moved out of state. This time, to Ohio. This was to be their home for five years. She was once again uprooted and taken back to Chicago. They stayed in Chicago for an additional four years before settling into their comfortable home here in Valencia. Needless to say, Valencia is a far cry from the sites and sounds of a city like Chicago, but

Jessica appreciates the more relaxed atmosphere that a So. Cal. suburb provides. However she still carries over some of the different cultures she experienced in her earlier life. One of her favorite hang-outs, for example, is Java and Jazz. A unique coffee shop for a town like Valencia, but far more common in a place like Chicago. Jessica is also a very motivated and intelligent student. Just take a look at her daily class schedule: Honors Algebra 2 Trig., Honors Brit. Lit, Honors Chemistry, Spanish 2, AP Euro. History, and Theatre Arts 2! I think the rest speaks for itself. Since she understandably has very little free time, she likes to savor every minute. During these brief moments of freedom she enjoys going to football games, movies, and stocking up on coffee at Java and Jazz. As for being a sophomore, "There really isn't much to it. You're not a freshman, and your not an upperclassman, your just.....there."

1. Cup of joe. A lot of students go to Java & Jazz to talk and drink coffee. Every week, bands come to play. Along Town Center Drive there are many life-like copper statues that frighten some, but astonish the rest. 2. “Main Street USA” Town Center Drive has charming store fronts, lush landscaping, and original murals.

At the end of Town Center Drive is a serene fountain and an old-fashioned carousel that costs one dollar to ride. 3. Rodger Ebert gives it two thumbs up! Many enjoy going to the Grand Palace. It has large stadium seats and an IMAX 3-D theater.

Best Friends

1. What a pair! Tara Madgwick and Elizabeth Niven spend their lunch on campus, but don't worry, next year, they'll be off campus. 2. Often lunch is a time for socializing, and Melissa Restno and Brittany McMasters like to spend their lunch side by side. 3. The latest craze. Michelle Fina and Lauren Engelberg are just another two of the thousands of friends who've taken pictures at Photomakers. 4. Cuddly Buddies! Dustin Halcon and Lauren Ett are just a couple of friends, takin' time to enjoy the limelight. 5. Sittin' pretty! Nicole Madrigal and Devin Roughen are a wonderful example of a high school romance.

Who says freshman aren't cool? Well, if that's what you think, then think again. Here is an amazing freshman on this very campus, Rachel Carleton. Rachel is the eldest of two kids. She is in Valencia's ASB, on the Valencia basketball team, takes piano lessons outside of school, and still has time to voluntarily help out at her church. The freshman basketball coach says that Rachel is "a very hard worker and her skills are improving." To top it all off, she is in geometry as well as an honors English class. As you can see, Rachel has a very busy schedule, yet still makes time for her friends. She has made new friends since coming to Valencia, but still hangs out with the old friends from junior high. At Valencia High School, Rachel is looking forward to going to football games, homecoming, and other dances. She says she notices a change in herself since coming to high school. She notices that she is a more responsible person, which is a necessity for her busy schedule. Since being here, she realizes that high school is a big change for her, in the sense that there are a lot more people here, and there is a lot more homework, which isn't exactly easy. Nevertheless Rachel Carleton is ready for the challenge. The one person that Rachel looks up to is her grandma. Her grandma is a principal at another school. Rachel looks up to her grandma because she is a good example for her. Her grandma worked her way up to becoming a principal while taking care of Rachel's grandpa who was very sick at the time. Plus, she can always look to her grandma to lift her spirits when they are down. Rachel says that her grandma is always there when she is needed. So, when you pass Rachel in our campus halls, don't forget to turn and say hello!

A Closer Look

Here's another shining freshman at Valencia High School, Creig Peters. Creig has one younger sister and just recently moved to Valencia from Palmdale. Since coming to an entirely new city and school, Creig is working hard at making new friends. However, making new friends isn't a hard task for him since he is on the Valencia football team, but not just any football team; this year, Creig will be out there on the field helping our Varsity football team bring home some touchdowns. Since coming to high school, Creig notices that he is an all around more mature person. Creig says that the transfer from junior high to high school was an exciting experience, but he notices the differences. Creig says that the work in high school is a lot harder, and that there are a lot more people in high school than junior high. Creig says that he feels no more pressure in high school than he did in junior high. One person that Creig looks up to is Kallen Jakes, a fellow varsity football player. Creig says that in his four years of high school, he is looking forward to doing better in football, having lots of fun, and getting good grades. "He tries very hard and doesn't give up easy," says one of Creig's teachers. So when you're at our Valencia football games cheering on our varsity team, don't forget you are also cheering on Creig Peters.

Liz Hansen

Your eye catches her smiling brightly to you as you walk by. Liz is always in a good mood. With all her new friends here at Valencia, she's having a great time. Coming from Arroyo Seco, where most kids go on to Saugus H.S., Liz didn't know many people when she first arrived at VHS, "The first day I walked onto campus, I looked around and didn't see any body I knew!" Since then she's made lots of friends here. She believes high school is a lot easier than life at Seco, and loves the idea of choosing her own classes and not having to take History. You won't catch her on any sports teams, she's very busy with school right now trying to please her mom and herself with a 3.5 gpa. But if you happen to be at an SCV Warriors game, you might see her on the sidelines with all the cheerleaders. "I am preparing to tryout for JV Cheer next year; I figure if I do this now I'll be ready next year." She supports our school just as much as she does the Warriors. "I plan on going to all the dances and I've been trying to make it to all the Varsity football and basketball games." Liz has lived in the Santa Clarita Valley most of her life; ever since she was in grade school she's been in this area. "I think our area is a great place to live in; it has everything from malls to theme parks." On the weekends, this freshman is usually with friends getting rides to the mall and hanging out. "Sometimes I'm just too tired to do anything."

FRESHMAN SPOTLIGHT

Wes Pascolla

Wes plays Varsity baseball and enjoys art. While you are walking to class you may hear the laughter Wes has caused among his friends. Since coming to Valencia he's made a number of new friends, "I like meeting new people." Wes is a strong believer in more people, more fun. He enjoys VHS because of all the people around him. Coming from La Mesa Jr. High, Wes knows what it's like to start at a new school, "My little brother is going to be a freshman next year...I won't pick on him too much." Wes believes there is a lot more pressure in high school but hopes to continue to play baseball at Valencia. Wes also loves the football games, he supports the freshman teams, but most of all varsity football. He goes to almost every game and rally. After only one semester here, Pascolla can't wait till his sophomore year when he won't have to sit on the floors at rallies anymore. When asked about a role model, Wes says that he really looks up to his father who achieved his dream of being a fireman. "My dad always wanted to be a firefighter since he was little and I want to do the same." There's time to fulfill that dream and others though, for now, Wes is concentrating on high school, "I'm really concerned about school right now; there is a lot of pressure on me from my teachers, parents and myself." We're sure he won't let anyone down.

When you were deciding what to wear for the first day of school, was it hard, since you may have worn uniforms in middle school?

* "Yes, I wanted to look nice for my first day at a new school."

Lindsay Forster

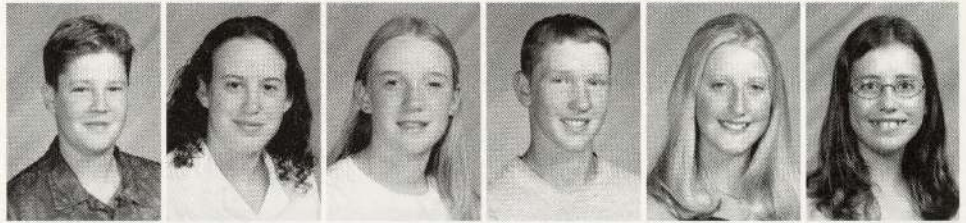

* "It wasn't that hard because when I saw this cute dress, I knew it was perfect."

Jill Reynolds

* "It was a little hard because I wasn't sure what the style was in high school."

It is a beautiful day at Valencia High School. Our administration (above), Ms. Yagmur, Mr. Vincent, Dr. Priesz, Mr. Luxmore and Ms. Dains work with Viking Pride for the well-being of our students and our school. Can we help you? Mary Morris, Suzanne VanAmberg, Fred Fels, Kathy Stroh, Theresa Long and Kathy Ferry (left) are the counselors who spend long hours helping to better the lives of students.

He's got spirit! Mr. Ferry gets to the business of the day before pumping up the crowd for the Varsity Football game.

FACULTY & STAFF

Science marches on! Mr. Duncan and his physics class stand tall and ready to shoot potatoes off to their deaths with his highly elaborate potato launcher made in his physics class.

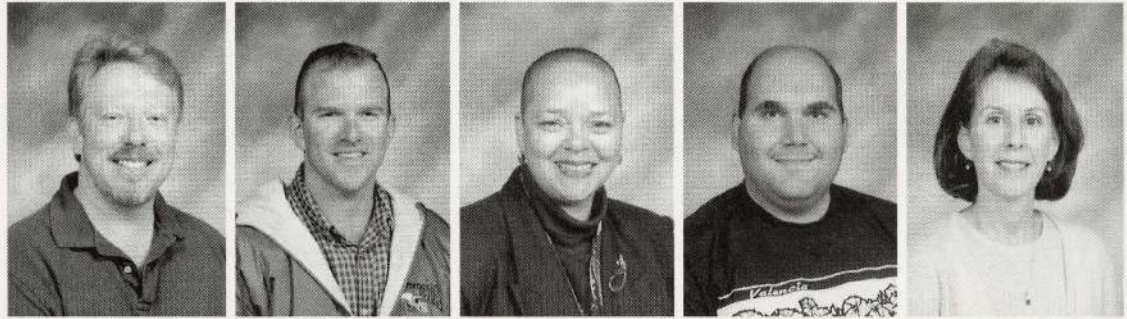

A smile is worth a thousand words. Mr. Marcucilli enthusiastically points out the anatomical correctness of ancient Grecian sculpture.

Coffee Break! The cafeteria staff takes a quick break out of their busy day just before the long and hectic lunch period when they distribute mid-day fuel for the students' hungry stomachs.

The Good, the Bad, and the CrAZy

Unusual Classroom Experiences

Mr. Duncan: "We measured the resonant frequency of the mens' restroom."

Mrs. Strothe: "Dr. Priesz walked in while I was shoeless and preparing a large bowl of guacamole for my students."

Mr. Swisher: "A student went to sleep during class. Just before the bell rang to go to lunch, I yelled "Fire, Fire!" He jumped up immediately and wet his pants."

Dr. Morris: "One day, I was told someone important wanted to see a typical physical education class in California. I found out that [current] President John F. Kennedy was coming to my class. He was very nice and even tried shooting a bow and arrow. I was really honored to meet him."

Miss Clune: "While student teaching at Hart, a couple of students stuck a paper clip into the electric socket. It caused sparks and smoke, but no one was hurt."

Mrs. Harrison: "I had run into a student while out on the town one Saturday night. We said our hello's and I thought nothing of it. When I got back to school on Monday he lectured me on not sticking to the Valencia dress code!"

ACADEMICS

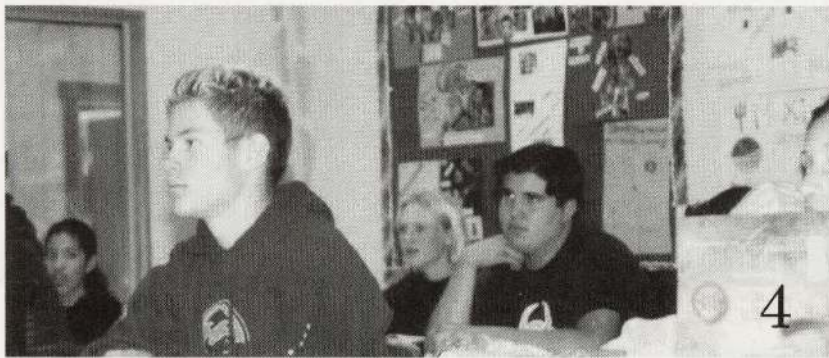

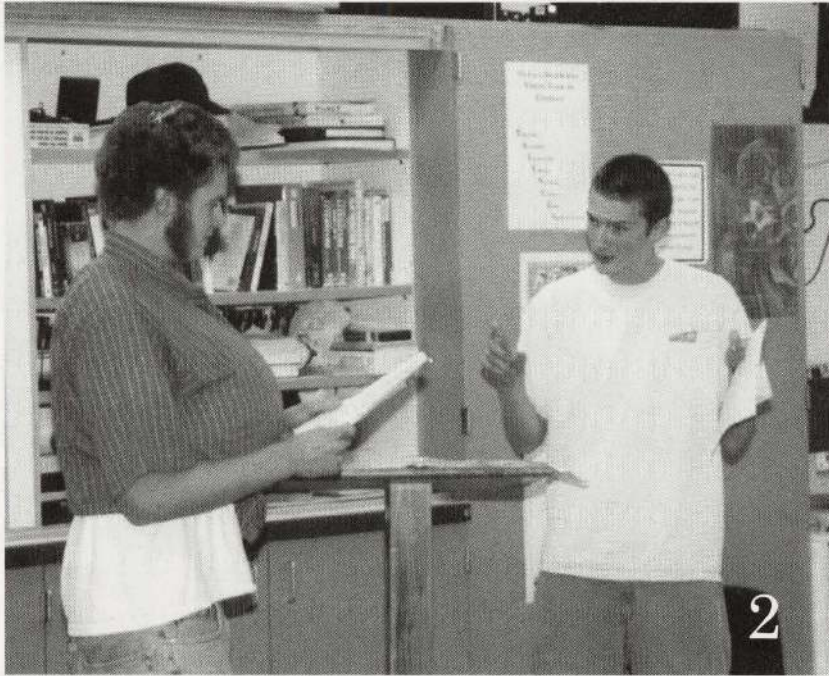

Food Drop. Mr. Duncan's Physics class drops water-melons off the roof of the theater to test the gravitational pull on them. Look's like fun.

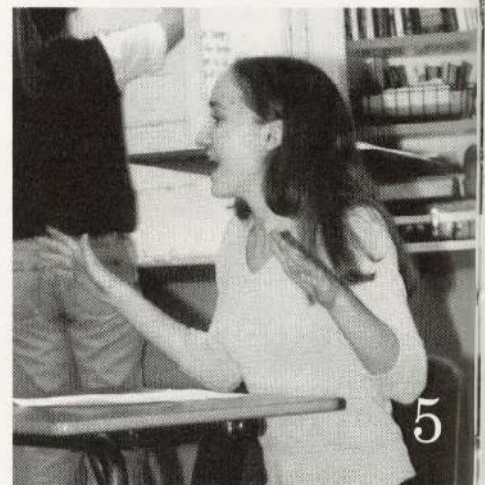

Who Me? Morgan McEvoy, Summer Lucas, Whitney Myler, Victoria Kelso, and Andrea DeRosso learn how to use sign language in Ms. Campbell's class.

Taking care of our school. In Peer Mediation the students go out once a week to tend to our garden. It shows we take pride in the appearance of our school.

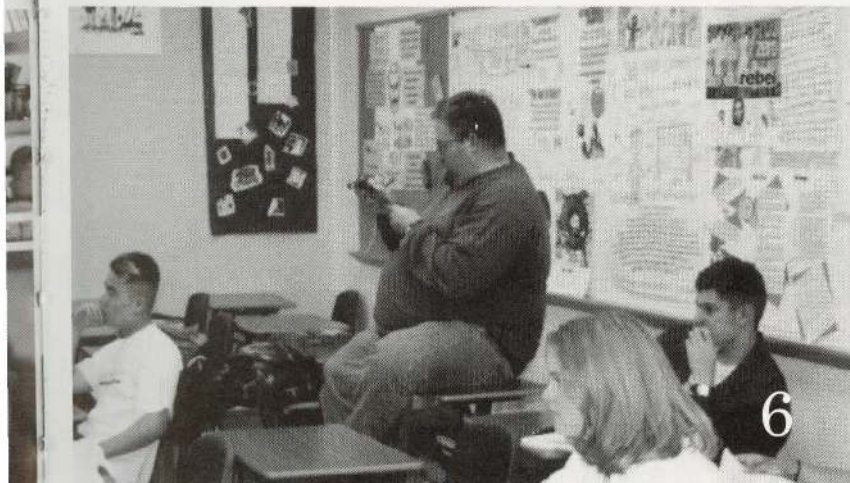

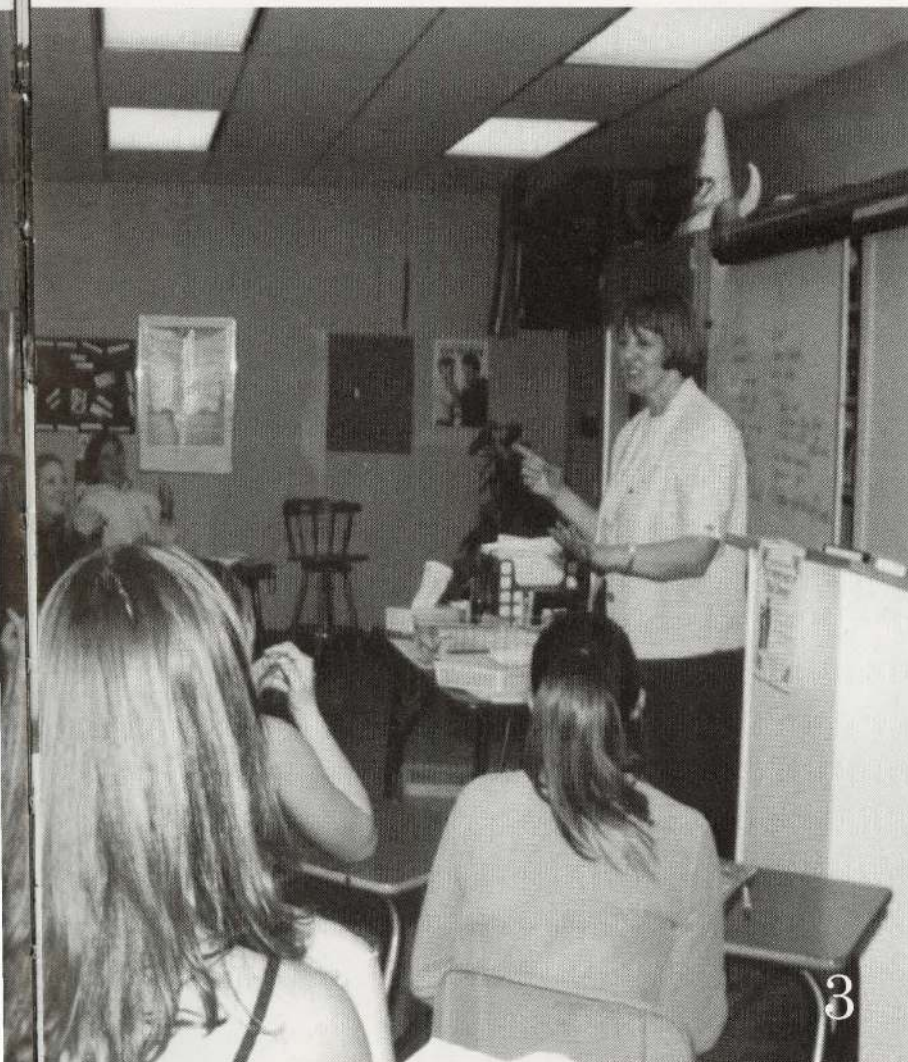

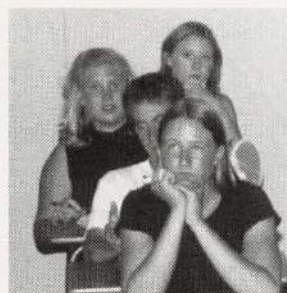

1. Another fun filled day of grade nine English! Mrs. Necessary sits in her chair while trying to explain the lesson of the day. 2. "No, this is how you say it!" Matt Ganderup points out to Josh Ford the correct pronunciation of a word. 3. Counting out the factors of excitement. Mrs. Campbell gets the class involved with numbering consonants in a word. 4. Learning English is interesting! Shawn Freyre and Daniel Borrueal have immense looks of curiosity on their faces showing they are learning about an author's background. 5. Overwhelmingly excited. Cindy Houston becomes over excited by the thought of the exclamation point. 6. Evaluation time! Mr. Kilmer, after watching a skit about punctuation, jots down the pros and cons of their job well done.

English Makes the World Go Round

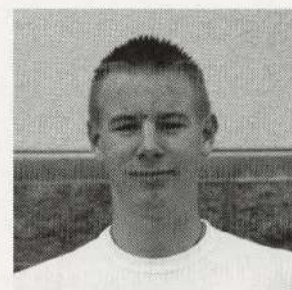

Inspirations of the Literate

Katie Olson is currently taking Humanities. Her favorite book is Watership Down and she prefers to read modern/post-modern fiction writings. Her favorite part of English class is reading books and learning to copy different author's styles in writing. Taking English inspires her to expand her mind and exercise her potential.

Brett Geyer is currently enrolled in AP Composition. His favorite book is Huck Finn. His favorite part of English is the discussion of literature. English inspires him to communicate with better writing.

Grace Mejia-Wetzel is currently enrolled in Shakespeare. Her favorite book is The Cider House Rules. English inspires her to read more and her favorite part of taking English is analyzing the characters and their intentions.

1. Fiction and fantasy. Mrs. Cresap's Myth and Folklore class are discussing their latest story, The Odyssey. These students will study many other well known examples of fantasy, such as Greek myth, and fairy tales like Cinderella. Afterwards they interpret the story's relevance as a reflection of today's society.
2. Students and Shakespeare. Here we have Grace Wetzel, Cristie Trippeda, and Natasha Lehman performing a scene of Shakespeare's play, "The Twelfth Night". In this class, students study and act out several of Shakespeare's plays.

3. Classic Theater. Stefanie Nicols and Randy Worth are performing another scene from "The Twelfth Night". 4. Film Interpreting Vision. Mr. Zamarosky is holding an in-class discussion about the movie they just watched in class. Film as Literature is a class that tries to examine different interpretations of a story. The class reads a book, then watches the movie based on that book, and compares the vision of the author to that of the films' director. 5. More Myth. Mrs. Cresap and her class. 6. Space Cowboy. Andrew Dorsow is an active student in his Sci-Fi class.

WEIRD SCIENCE

THINGS WE LIKE BEST

“My favorite class is Chemistry because I get to have fun and play with chemicals”- Senior Chris Brugmann

“I enjoyed my Science class because of all the fun and exciting experiments”- Senior Jennifer Hously

“I like Science class because Mr. Killenger always makes things fun for the whole class”- Freshman Michele Navarro

“I like how you get to play with fire and burn stuff and not get into any trouble”- Freshman Paul Drew

1. Is that so? Kelly Henderson and Kathleen O'Ferrell pay close attention as Mr. Mondiola gives a very interesting lecture. 2. Only five minutes left. Chad St. John, Dan Firestone, Zachery Ward, and Thomas Jeider concentrate on finishing a lab before class ends. 3. Cool man. Students in Mr. Crissman's class gaze at the strange object under the microscope. 4. Hey, do I get paid for this? Jimmy Ball washes the mashed melon off of our school's beautiful floor. 5. At last! Mr. Duncan ties a rope to a truck in preparation for an experiment. 6. Bang! In Mr. Duncan's class, a small potato is shot through a very large pumpkin in an experiment. 7. Bombs away! This eleven pound melon is about to meet a dismal end as it smashes into the rock hard concrete.

Learning From the Past for the Future

Does History Really Help You in Your Future? What do You Enjoy About History?

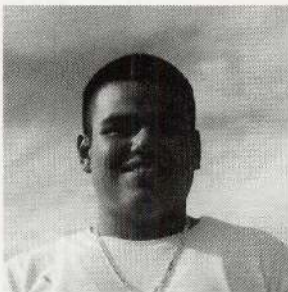

Ashley Baker "This year Ms. Shuman taught me alot about appreciating history." Ashley enjoys learning about the past in such an enviroment like Ms. Shuman's Modern Civ. class. "Her lectures help me understand the past better."

tures help me understand the past better."

Adrian Rizo

Adrian believes that learning about the past is very important. "If you know about the past, you'll learn from their mistakes and you won't repeat them...it's like a free ride...It's not like I'll be trying to take over France like Napoleon but it helps knowing!"

Heather Allan

"History! History is great despite long lectures! Mr. Silsbee makes learning about history exciting. History I think would be a lot more interesting if it was in the present."

1. Cheerfully working on a group project. 2. Everyone pay attention! Jessica Young gives her opinion on different issues. 3. Oh, Oh, I know the answer! Troy Scott raises his hand high along with David Sevilla. 4. Don't fall asleep. Students listen carefully to Mr. Swanson's lecture before they fall asleep. 5. The answer's right here. Students work together on a class project. 6. Two thumbs up for history! Yinka Oshodi is all for learning about the past. 7. Don't try to pull a fast one on me! Ms. Schuman passes her test out and warns that she's watching.

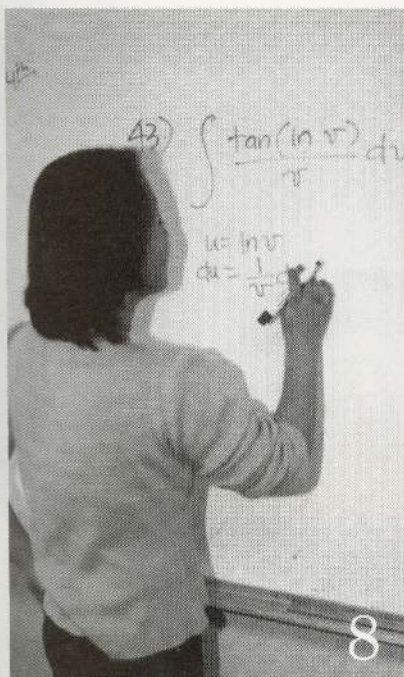

A UNIVERSAL

LANGUAGE

- 1. Everyone put your thinking cap on. Mr. McMurrin's students, Iris Gonzalez, Rondolf Moreno, David Feldser and Scott Zalueta are doing their daily warm ups in geometry to get their brain waves going.
- 2. No cheating allowed. Christina Ross, Erin Neipris, Christina Ressler and Jill Reynolds are taking a math test in Mr. Raevouri's class.
- 3. Studying hard. Kris Miranda and Elisa Duus are working on their homework in their math class.
- 4. ??? Will Harwood, Breanne Erickson, AJ Jacobson, Stephanie Friedman and Melissa Gasca are concentrating on Mr. Raevouri's class.
- 5. Generation Next. Darren Capra and Eric Hakala are studying so they can do well on their math tests.
- 6. Come into the light. Mrs. Hoover is using her unique methods to teach her kids math.

7. The Building Blocks of life. Mr. McMurrin displays these Tetrahedrons all over his classroom. 8. Inventive. Ji Kim is at the board artistically solving a calculus problem. 9. Got to focus. Got to focus. Brittany Vigeant watches as the teacher goes over the math problems for the day.

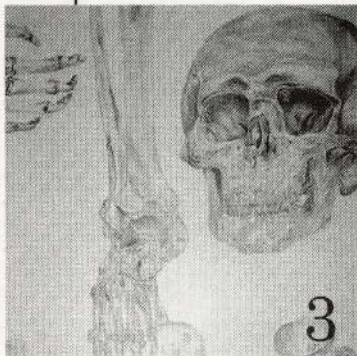

Matt Ganderup is currently in AP Calculus BC and plans to take Calculus 3 next year. In order to be in AP Calculus BC this year he took pre-calculus over the summer and then convinced Ms. Fenn to let him take the class. He wanted to take AP Calculus BC this year instead of next because he wanted to accelerate his mathematical skills. Math has always come easy to him. His mathematical genius surpasses the rest of the Junior class. In the future, he plans to attend Berkeley. As far as a career goes, he has no idea and is also unsure of what his major will be in college. He is quite possibly number one in his class as long as he doesn't slack off.

1. Showcasing students. Works from Ms. Licht's Independent Study art students are hung in the office for your viewing pleasure. 2. How it's done. Pieces like this, from Ms. Sealey's Art class, demonstrate dimension, and replication techniques. 3. No Bones about it. Holly Feneht's study of the human skeletal structure. 4. Shipping and Handling a masterpiece. Jessica Rifkind's colored pencil stamp collection displayed in the office. 5. Ride 'em Cowboy! Brittany Costas textured animal project for Ms. Licht's class. 6. Like all famous artists, they're not truly appreciated until they croak. Christen Hardy's watercolor replication of a frog.

7. The grand finale. Amy Swanson works on the last few details of Valencia High's Bella Via entry "The Juggler" by Michael Parkes.

8. A joint venture. Matthew Newton, Kelly Dickinson, Christen Hardy, and Sapna Shah give their ideas on how to complete a section of the picture in the best way possible. 9. You can lead a Horse to water, but better keep this one away from the well - it's made of chalk. Alyssa Hedman perfects her chalking skills during the Bella Via Practice day at school.

10. So, why don't they don't let me copy in math class? Ryan Waterson sits down in Mrs. Sealey's class to replicate a magazine ad.

Bella Via

A select few students from Mrs. Sealey's, Ms. Licht's and Mr. Bibicoff's art classes were asked to participate in Valencia Town Center's second annual street painting festival. As this was our school's first entry, Ms. Sealey chose a picture that would be easy and interesting to replicate. "The Juggler" by Michael Parkes is a whimsical piece that got everyone's attention. The work was highly appreciated and admired by hundreds of people who came to see the festival. Everyone was extremely proud and impressed by the work, which only took two days to complete!

Let's Get Physical

1. I refuse to play! Bari Heiden jokes with her friends. 2. No way I'm helping out! Students stand around letting their classmates do all the work. 3. Maybe next year. These professional volleyball players, could try out for the team, after all this practice. 4. Could it get any heavier? Courtney Butterfield helps lift a mat onto the field. 5. Faster, keep running you're almost there. Everyone always looks forward to running the mile. 6. Open Up! Girls mob the locker room entrance trying to get in first. 7. No, No, No!... the easy way isn't always the best way, students turning around after getting caught sneaking through the 900 buildings. 8. I can't hear you! Ms. Garcia leads the students in a count-to-ten as they complete their daily push-ups. 9. Up...One!...Up...Two!...Up Three! Students stretching, to do a routine they are very much used to.

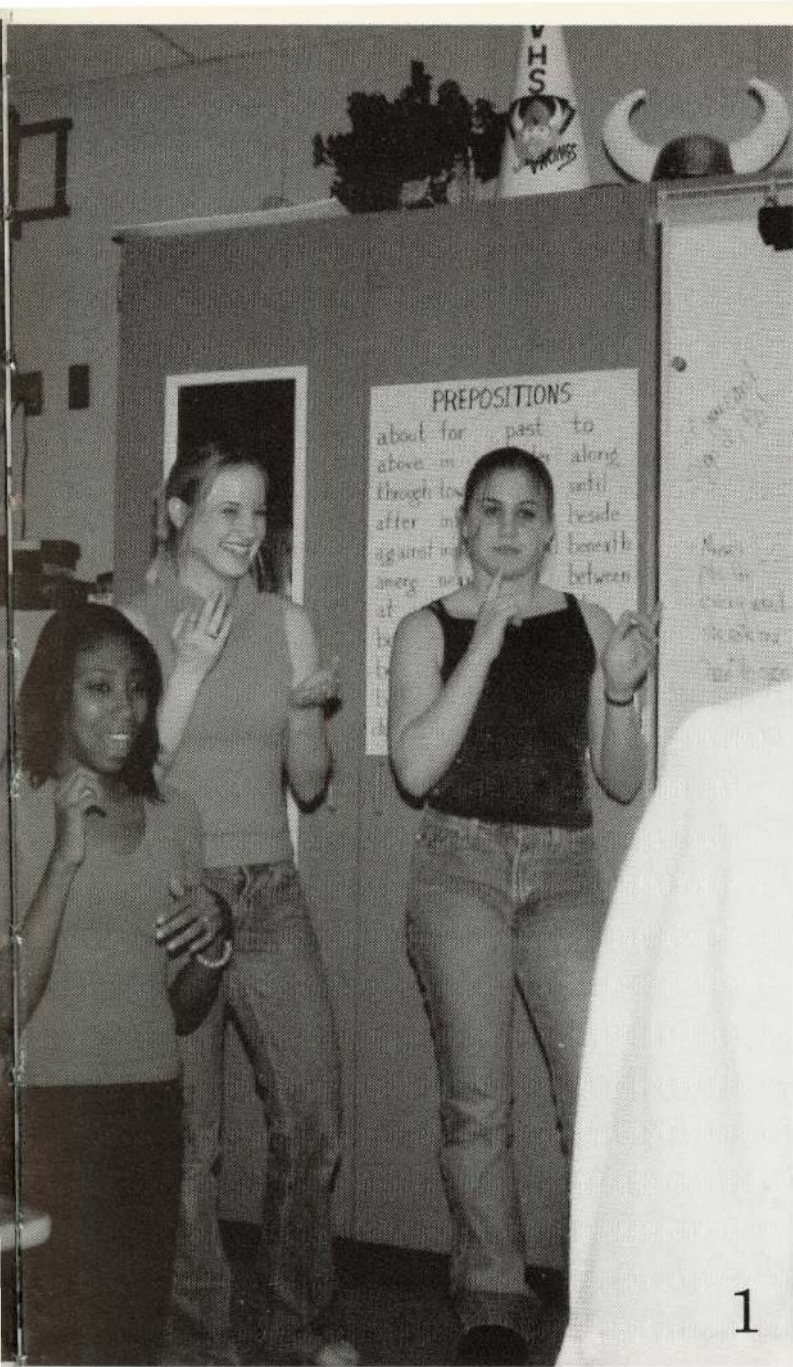

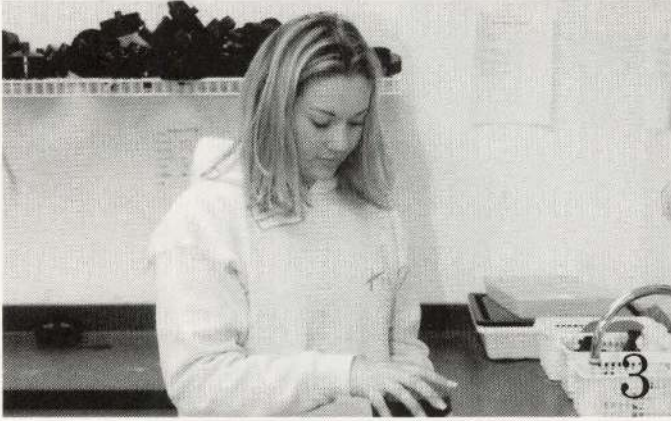

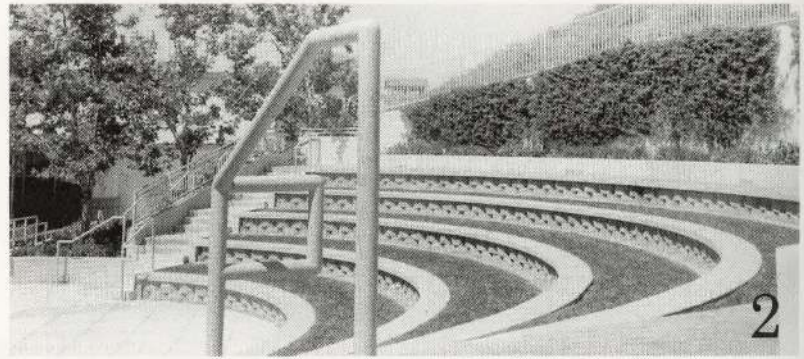

So THAT'S How You Say It...

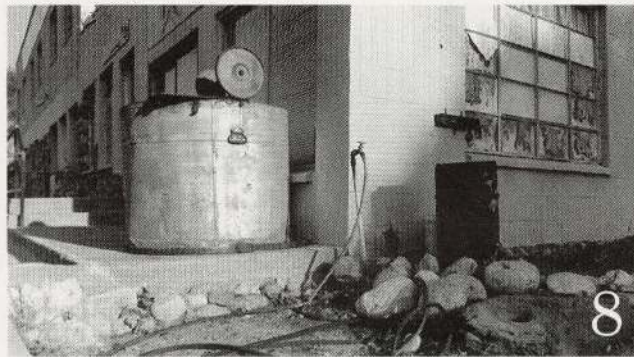

1. TA-DA! In Mrs. Campbell's class these four students show off their amazing sign language skills for the rest of the class. 2. Hitting the books. Students in Spanish get a head start on their homework in class. 3. Working girl. Jason Edebrun wears his sister's clothes for extra credit in Mrs. Crane's Spanish class. 4. SHHHH! Students quietly read their Spanish lesson for the day. 5. VHS PRIDE! Students in Mrs. Crane's class were offered extra credit if they participated in the schools "Cross Dressing Day". 6. Bravo! These two sign language students show the rest of the class what they have learned over the past semester. 7. Ooooh! Spanish students stare in delight at the amusing lesson being taught. 8. Is that clear? Mrs. Campbell teaches her class the many different hand movements of sign language.

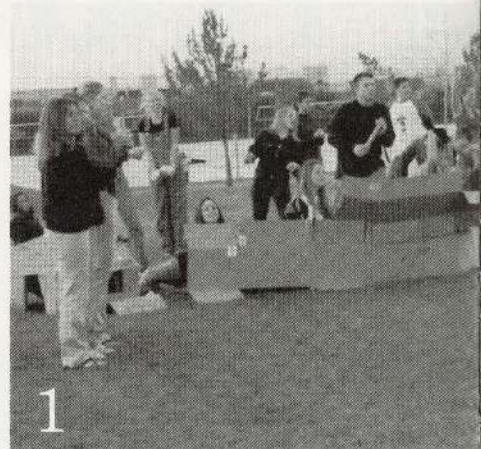

PICTURE PERFECT

1. Slice and dice. Jennifer Frye crops her picture to the exact size. 2. Leap of Faith. Here is a picture of the stairs in Stevenson Ranch. Many come here to skate and meet with friends. Work by Carlie Haas. 3. Negatives at last. Here Jennifer Thomsen opens her film processing tank as she has just finished developing her film. 4. She likes it, she likes it not. Marina Ollervides looks at her landscape picture in the dark room deciding if there is enough contrast. 5. Quilting a new tradition. Pavi Williams and Paula Lorenzana use wallpaper and original pictures to weave together bits and pieces of their lives. 6. Hidden Pictures. Catie Haub and Sonia Lowman place their tongs in the developer and watch as their pictures appear. 7. Look at me I'm developing film. 8. Work by Chris Gapper, Sierra Highway. 9. Through the light. Jared Gunn carefully analyzes his negative strip by holding it up to the light.

TOGETHER WE STAND

1. Bombs away. Laila Wiedrick launches foil balls as her team cheers her on, while Sheila Jafari ducks for cover. Each side has carefully built their trenches out of cardboard boxes in order to provide protection in this reenactment of World War I. 2. Rebels without a cause. Jeremy Patrich, Mike Clark, Vince Ross, John Smith, Ryan Luna, and Ryan Sallows defy the laws of prohibition by drinking Kilmer brand tonic during the 20's day party. 3. Cardboard Kamikazes??? Nope wrong side, wrong war. It's just Christie Manning navigating while Lisa Skinner nervously bites her nails, wondering if their load of supplies will get dropped off on time. 4. Scout's honor. Sean Ruge, Staci Goldstein, and their classmates take an oath to the authorities of 20's day saying they will not participate in drinking or boot legging alcohol. 5. Trench Warfare. Jeanette Kilthau, Samantha Weisbeck, Kyle Richardson, Nicole Donnelly, Ashley Luethi, and Scott Madrigal plan their next attack in this reenactment of WWI. 6. Flappers of fancy. Cory Sac, Jennifer Berresford, Sarah Ross, Carolina Lopez, Chelsea Scalise, Kat Guiao, Heather Linch, Laila Wiedrick, Jennifer Anderson, Lindsey Barbarino, and Casey Stanford enjoy the good times of the 20's underground. 7. Do you have anything to declare? Zach Gamp, a former team student, harasses Samantha Weisbeck about immigrating to the U.S. at the turn of the last century. This simulation of Ellis Island isn't just a history lesson, its a life lesson as well. 8. Powerful presentations. Rebecca Golob, Taylor Lang, Sarah Fossett, and Corina Menjivar look into both sides of human nature for the Arnold-Mast team and answer the tough question of whether man is generally humane or inhumane.

A Crystal Apple for a Golden Heart

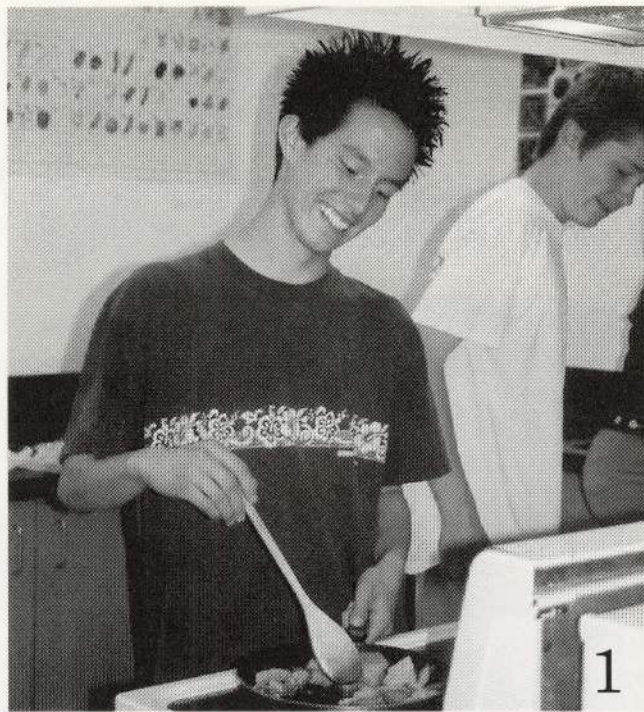

After nineteen years of dedicated teaching, Mr. Hayes recieved NBC's Crystal Apple Award. The award is an honor given to teachers of excellence in their field. Crystal Apple Award winners are nominated through letters sent in by their own students. Thrilled by the nomination, Mr. Hayes was absolutely shocked when he received the call from NBC notifying him that he had won. The real thrill, however, according to the winner, was the reaction of his students to the television cameras in the room when the award was delivered.

Mr. Hayes has taught countless Social Studies classes, along with Summer Driver's Ed and also coached Varsity Girls Basketball. He also team teaches U.S. History and 11th grade English with Mrs. Legget. Team student, Tiffany Thomrongsith, says "I really like his style of teaching, especially the way he connects history with what is going on in the world today."

According to Mr. Hayes, team teaching brings out the best in students by combining curricula and improving in-class relationships between students and teachers.

Bubbling Jade Punch

1 lg. (6 oz.) pkg. lime gelatine

2 cups HOT water

4 cups COLD water

1 large can concentrated lemonade

2 cups pineapple juice

1 litre 7UP

In a large container, dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add cold water, lemonade and pineapple juice. Blend well, add ice and mixed ingredients to punchbowl, stir in 7UP and watch the fun bubble up.

1. Toasted bread. Nick Yee ponders the meaning of life while sizzling up some crunchy croutons. 2. It slices! It dices! Sandra Cardenas and Gabby Tiznado get ready to use a handy kitchen utensil in their latest foods creation. 3. A funnel for your thoughts? Emma Casillas and Karina Navarro fry dough in oil to make a fun fun funnel cake. 4. Is it supposed to look this way? Philip Ancheta takes over the toasting job. 5. Who's cutting the bread? Stop squeezing my cheese! Foods class also teaches students about proper nutrition. 6. These are not your average easy-bake ovens. Students that take the foods class use ovens and stoves about once a week.

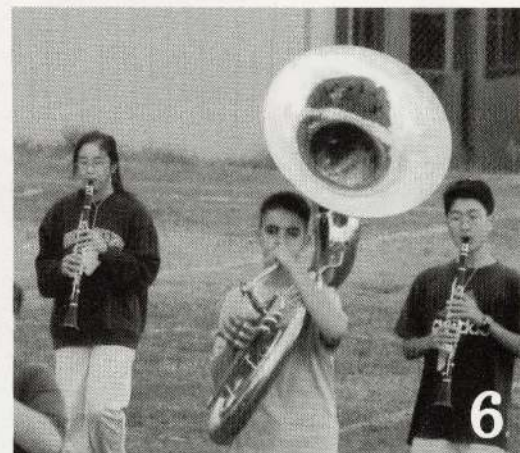

Da' Band Spot

1. Energizer bunnies. Ryan Young and Tony Spiro show off the drumline's skills. Both have been part of the drumline since their freshmen years. 2. Saxamaphone. The horn section waits for Mr. Babko's instruction while practicing for a competition. 3. Make new friends, but keep the old. With so many people in band, it's not hard to make friends, Aleksandra Gajewski and Ashely Kessler chat in between band performances. The band lifted spirits at football home games throughout the year. 4. Left, left, left-right-left. The band practices in the morning fog of a Spring day. While you're probably still sleeping, the band is out on the field and practicing every zero period. 5. Practice makes perfect. The band members go through their routines one more time. 6. Little boy blue. Woo Kang, Danbi Oh and Christian Velazquez having fun at marching practice. 7. Little drummer boys. Arguably one of the best sections of the band, the drumline performs at rallies, competitions and football games. 8. 76 trombones led the big parade. Band members practice while moving from one mark to the next. Jar lids are used to mark marching positions on the field.

The band... What would rallies and football games be without them? Our award winning band and accomplished drum line keep the steady, happy-go-lucky beat of Valencia High School. We have one of the best bands in the district! With the band's brave leader Mr. Babko and drum major Ernest Elchico, there's no telling what awards we might win next.

Our Voices

*Melodia - The Valkyries
Concert Choir - Men's Chorus
Chamber Choir*

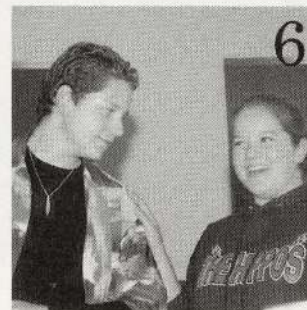

Nicole Feeder- The goal of music is to touch the soul and effect the senses in such a way that the person understands another piece of life. Music will stay with me for my entire life and I will enjoy the effect it has on me.

Kelley Whiteley- The most touching experience I've had was singing at Sean William's memorial services. He was our choir president, and a dear friend; I was honored to sing. The passion will always stay with me. Music is what I love, and in some way or another, music will play a large part in my life.

Valentina Knox- Music creates beauty and meaning, no matter how hard we try to convince ourselves, we can't explain why we're here and what our lives amount to. I feel music gives us purpose, it takes people to a level of godliness we all wish we had.

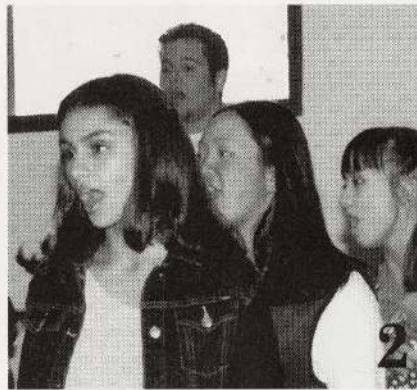

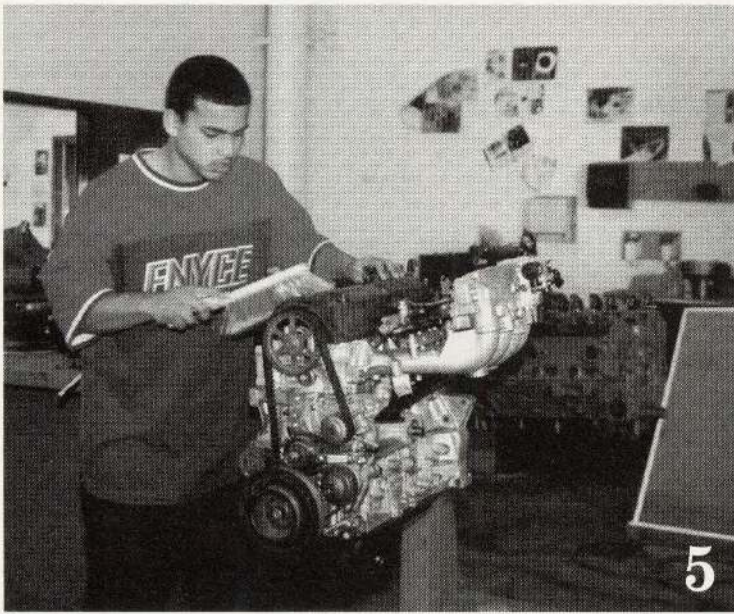

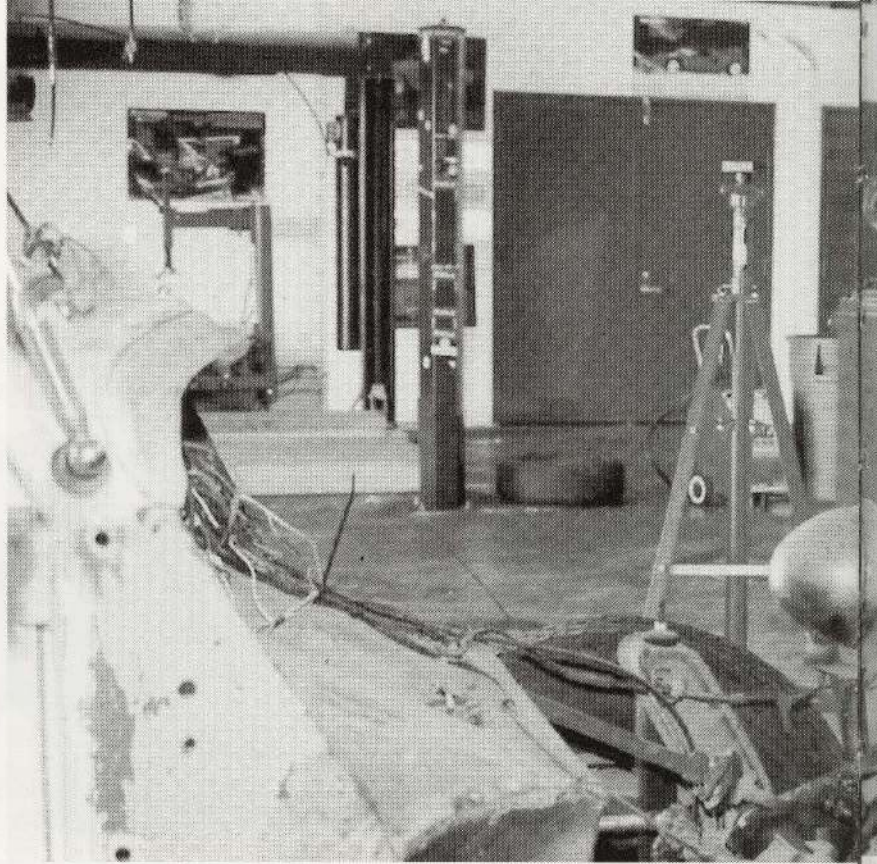

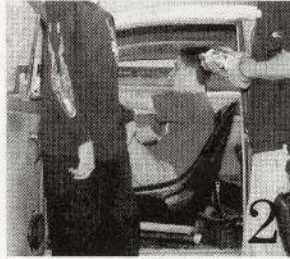

Singing our own Song

CHOIR COUNCIL

President	Kelley Whiteley
Vice-President	Garrette Finley
Secretary	Valentina Knox
Treasurer	Nicole Feeder
Historian	Jamie Ky

1. The way you wear your hat! Lauren Mazzeo, Eric Rowland, Tim Christianson and Adam Cruz are all singing their hearts out while learning their choreography. 2. Singin' Pretty. Nazanin Mandighomi, Jessica Kuratomi and Jamie Ky are carefully watching Ms. Wait's directions so they won't be late on cut-offs and intro's. 3. Lifted Voices. Ms. Wait leads the award-winning Valkyries while they sing "Winter Carol", this serene song was their opening piece. 4. Eric Rowland, Jessica Kuratomi, and Nicole Feeder are singing along with the rest of the chamber choir a beautiful contemporary chant piece. 5. Ancient Words, and Golden Voices. At the annual Winter Dessert Night, Chamber choir did a collection of Renaissance, Medieval, and Madrigal pieces. 6. Tiffany Oliver and Tim Christianson are singing a tune called "Let's Call The Whole Thing Off", from the Valentine's Day Gershwin Revue. 7. Lookin' mighty fine. These young gentlemen are singing Renaissance pieces.

TOOL TIME

1. Taking a brake. Ryan Sickle takes a break from working on a car to smile for the camera. 2. Sean Griffin is getting the feel behind the wheel of a V.W. Bug in auto shop. 3. A different view. Richard Schwalm helps rotate the tires of a classmate's car. 4. Serious stuff. Justin Saunders gets familiar with his own V.W. by working on the one in auto shop. 5. Technical and complicated. Keeping clean, Rodney Haralson spends his class time cleaning and learning the parts of a Honda 1.5 V Tech engine. 6. Going nowhere. A car awaits for the repair of its flat tire by Justin Saunders. 7. Teaching techniques. The Auto instructor, Mr. Houser, gives it all he's got to inform his students Jose Velazques and Kodi Cipperley. 8. Hands on. Jumping into the problem with 100% effort is the only way Rodney Haralson and his buddie can get it done. 9. Tune up time. During class Eric Ellis works on his own car in assurance of a safe ride. 10. Girls get dirty too. Jessica Tepper is using what she learned to gain a good grade in auto class.

Typing

Steps
into the

FUTURE

1. Typing faster than a speeding bullet. Jay Mizark and Marisol Ramirez are working hard during keyboarding class. Valencia offers many technology classes, such as computer applications, graphic arts, web design, and drafting. 2. Shhh, it's thinking. Another class that involves a heavy use of computers is Yearbook, where you learn to get along with programs such as Adobe Photoshop and Pagemaker. 3. Don't look down. It may not be the edge of a cliff, but one of the keys to keeping up a good typing speed is not looking at the keyboard. Odiseh Areffar, Jenifer Shellenberger and Samantha Rothwell concentrate as they take their test. 4. Point and click. Mrs. Wilson helps Nathan Canterbury during drafting class. If he works hard enough, he can join the zero period advanced drafting class. 5. Einstein never had this. Ryan Gallegher, Jerah Frye and Lawrence Sohn are doing their physics on the computer. Computers in this classroom provide cheaper experiments and internet access for researching more about physics. 6. Carpal Tunnel Syndrome. Lan Nugyen (far left) takes a break from typing as Sarah Ulmer and Cris Smallwood continue striving to be the ultimate typists. 7. "You are the man with six fingers, I am Inigo Montoya, you killed my father, prepare to die" Nathan watches himself as he cuts paper on the digital plotter, the less virtual side of technology. 8. "Welcome, you've got mail." Bobby Schley, Jon Rucker, John Bishop and Ryan Bonnel chat online in their networking class since they are the first ones to finish the assignment. 9. "Can I use a pencil instead of a mouse?" Mrs. Wilson helps Grant Smith transfer his artistic talent from paper to the computer screen for drawing in drafting.

Hey Mr. Dj, put a record on. Tony Diaz puts on that music that wakes everyone up just in time to pay attention to the morning announcements. 5. You want a raise??? Russell Aboulafia, the producer of VTV, keeps everyone in line and makes sure the show runs smoothly. 6. What... I spelled your name wrong on the last show credits? Amber Adkins does the titles and credits, making sure everyone gets credit for doing their part on the show. 7. Behind the scenes. Speed typist Andel Sudik gets the script ready to go for the teleprompter. 8. Construction zone. Crissi Wright, reporter, works to build a stage for the set of VTV. 9. Office Space. Scott Madrigal, the brains behind VTV's graphics, is in charge of those little pictures that pop up in the corner when the anchors are giving you info.

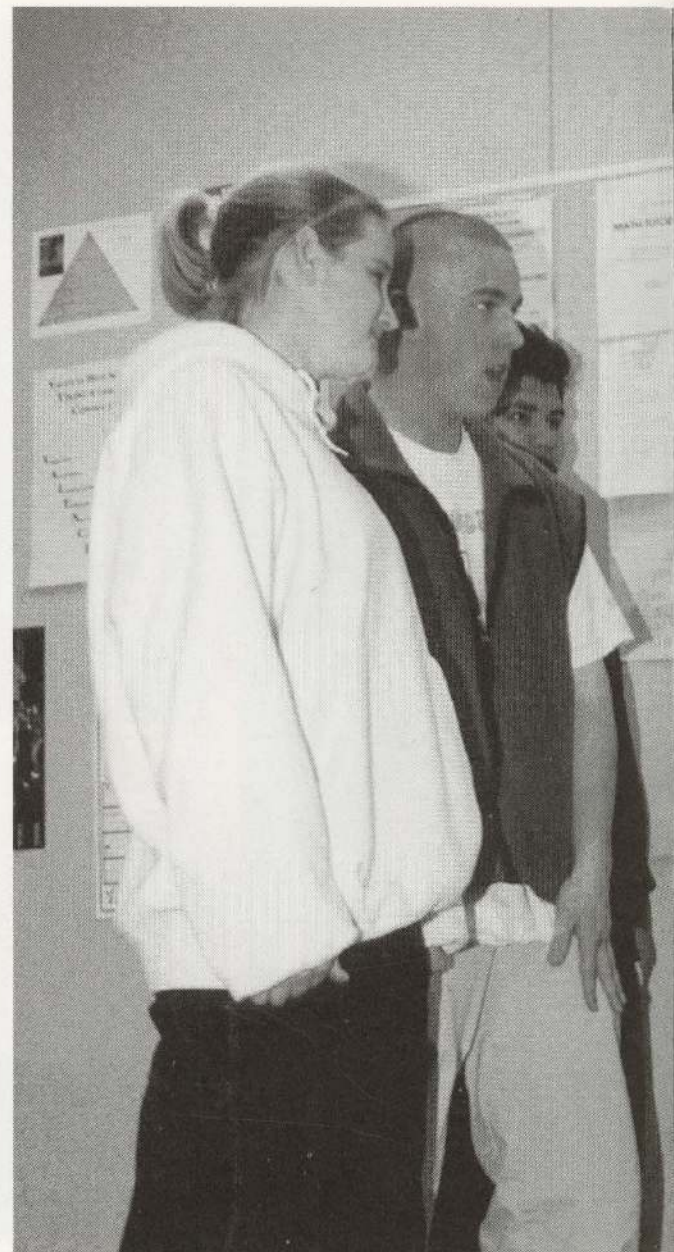

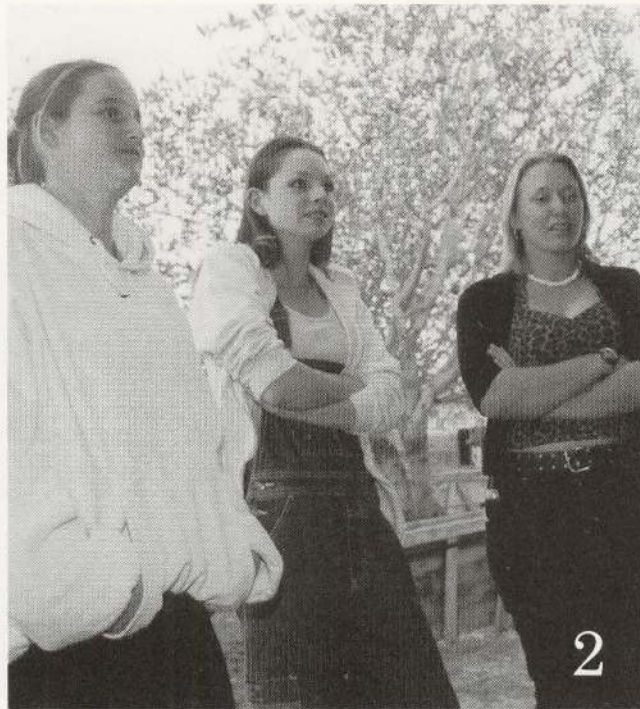

Adam Luz has been involved in VTV for three years and for both his senior and junior years has directed the show. Adam did not stop there, he has also created the "Every 15 Minutes" video and films many of the school's sporting events. He decided to take his first video production class his freshman year, after seeing an episode of "Green Acres" over the summer break and knowing that he could do that.

Adam has dedicated a lot of his own free time to VTV, he came in during summer to re-wire the studio, and to update all the computers. "I am proud to leave VTV knowing the improvements I've made in the show," he said. He helped to make improvements like running credits after every show and finding new ways to put fun interesting graphics into the show.

Luz plans to further his education by majoring in video production at CSUN. He hopes to become a director, a script writer or an editor for a news broadcast and hopefully even films.

Candace Kuramura and Lindsay Fordham

"It was fun while it lasted." "We made the best of it."

Candace Kuramura and Lindsay Fordham are juniors this year. During the first semester of the year, they both participated in the Interior Design ROP class, taught by Mr. Ken Dean. The class meets on Monday and Wednesday nights from 6:30 to 9:30. The girls both joined the class for their future. They plan to get a job in interior design. Candace and Lindsay said that they enjoyed the class itself even though it took time away from their family. They had to make class plans right at the middle of dinnertime which was tough. The class did have its good parts though; their favorite part was drafting. One of their favorite projects completed in class was the designing of the interior of a home.

1. Strike a pose. Mrs. Devoe's peer counseling class sits around for Group Day. Students like Candi Haub, Laura Pale, Turbo Potirod, Jessica Monaco, and Nicole Deardorff talk about their values and exchange their philosophies on life. 2. Friends, Romans, and Countrymen lend me your ears. Candi Haub, Laura Pale, Turbo Potirod, and Mrs. Devoe listen to other peer counselors talk about their feelings. 3. A penny for your thoughts. Chris Hightower, Bobby Sanders, Michelle Mark, and Jessica Tepper listen as Shelby Constantine voices her feelings to the class. 4. We hear ya! Mrs. Devoe's class discuss the consequences of their actions in a friendly and comfortable environment. They've learned to not only hear but to really listen to others in any circumstance. This helps them to learn more about others and their feelings and also to learn strengths about themselves they never knew they had.

REACHING OUT to others

5. Confiding in someone. Candi Haub, Crystal McLaughlin, Monica Castro, Kristy Lemar, Nicole Deardorff, Jessica Monaco, Shelby Constantine, Jessica Tepper, Michelle Mark, and Bobby Sanders make an action plan to solve their problems. 6. “I swear to keep all matters of Peer Counseling confidential,” pledges Jessica Monaco as she promises to stay silent about what goes on in class. 7. “Do I have something in my teeth?” Jessica Tepper asks as Michelle Mark evaluates her. 8. “Help me!” Mrs. Devoe gladly brainstorms alternatives with her student, Turbo Potirod. 9. “He said what?” Michelle Mark, Jessica Tepper, and Shelby Constantine look on as Jessica Monaco tries to explain how she feels on a certain subject.

The College Trip

A Tour of California's Colleges

1. Book worms. Kristen Craig and Jessi Dickinson take a moment to appreciate the beauty of the Stanford campus while showing off their campus bookstore shopping.

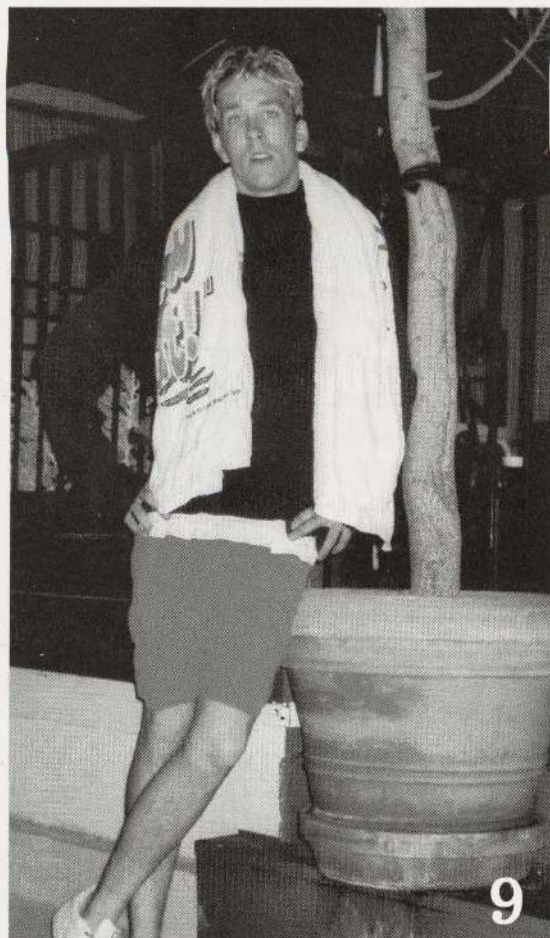

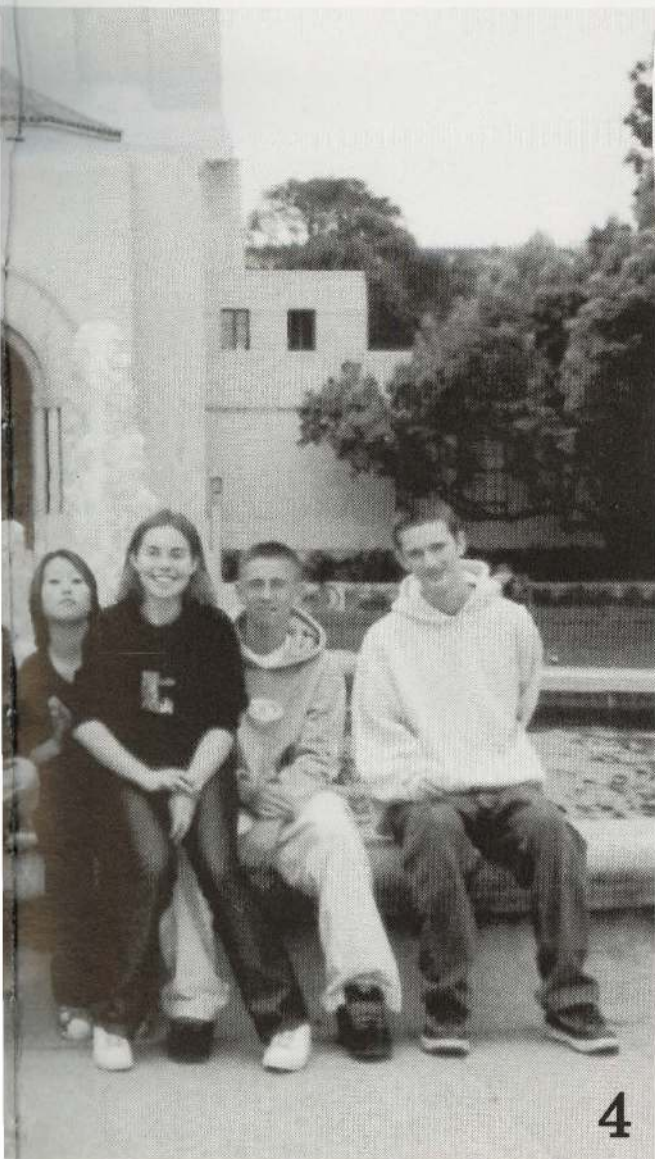

2. Homecoming at the college level. The group arrived at Stanford just in time to see everyone setting up tables for the homecoming dinner. They also got to experience the special weekend's excitement when the men's varsity swim team ran across campus in their speedos.

3. A golden opportunity. Ms. Long made sure everyone got a group picture in front of the Golden Gate Bridge. After the half an hour it took to get through everyone's disposable cameras, the group took a stroll to the other side of the bridge.

4. High school buds at the college campus. Erika Perez, Carrie Nass, Shawn Moynihan, Ji Kim, Kristen Craig, Kevin White, and Matt Ganderup absorb the beauty of Stanford. The group also got the behind-the-scenes look into the smelly ways of fraternity housing. 5. The guided tour. Students got to see the famous bathroom where Weird Al recorded his first song at Cal Poly. Shortly after, they stopped to immortalize the memory of visiting the college and even getting to see the dorms. 6. Dare to explore. No one can drive 5 hours to San Fransisco with out stopping off to have some fun. The trip to the Exploratorium was an educational and interesting pit stop. 7. Happy Birthday!!! Carrigan Pick celebrated her 17th birthday on the road. Getting used to being away from your family for any holiday is another kind of thing. 8. Beautiful buildings. The buildings at Berkeley are rich in history and full of knowledge. Finding a campus you like is the whole point of the college tour. Who wants to spend 4 years of their life at a campus they can't stand? 9. Goin' swimmin. Shawn Moynihan goes for a quick dip in the hotel's pool. After a long day of touring campuses, everyone in the group appreciated a warm bed, even if the rooms weren't as nice as home. 10. Tick tock. By the time the group got to Berkeley, they were running a little short on time. Students had the option of going up the clock tower or going to the student store. Unfortunately the library was closed for renovations that day.

Julia Z. Peek

Y.B.: What motivated you to join ASB?

J.Z.P.: My main motive was to get involved with the school. I had always seen rallies and other ASB sponsored activities and I wanted to be a part of it all. ASB allows me to act a fool in the name of school spirit.

Y.B.: How many semesters have you been in ASB? How did you get in? How many hours have you put in outside of class time?

J.Z.P.: I've been in ASB for three semesters. To get in, I just had to fill out a questionnaire. The hours outside of class are seriously countless. Preparing for football games, rallies, dances, and academic events takes up ridiculous amounts of free time. Most of my summer was devoted to getting ready for the upcoming year and making this year in ASB the most involved, fun and exciting year yet.

Y.B.: What's your favorite ASB activity that you've worked on?

J.Z.P.: Homecoming 2000. It was stressful and chaotic but fun trying to get everything as close to perfect as possible by the deadline. It was my favorite because I was most involved and the outcome was great. The dance was pretty tight too.

Y.B.: Which activities have you worked on?

J.Z.P.: You name it. Rallies, dances, brunch activities, academic assemblies and a lot of stuff you wouldn't even expect. When I look back, it was a lot of fun and made high school much more purposeful and special.

Y.B.: Did you join ASB for the college recognition?

J.Z.P.: Initially, yeah. But it evolved into something more than just another credit on a college application. I knew that I couldn't be in ASB and just sit around. ASB requires an active role.

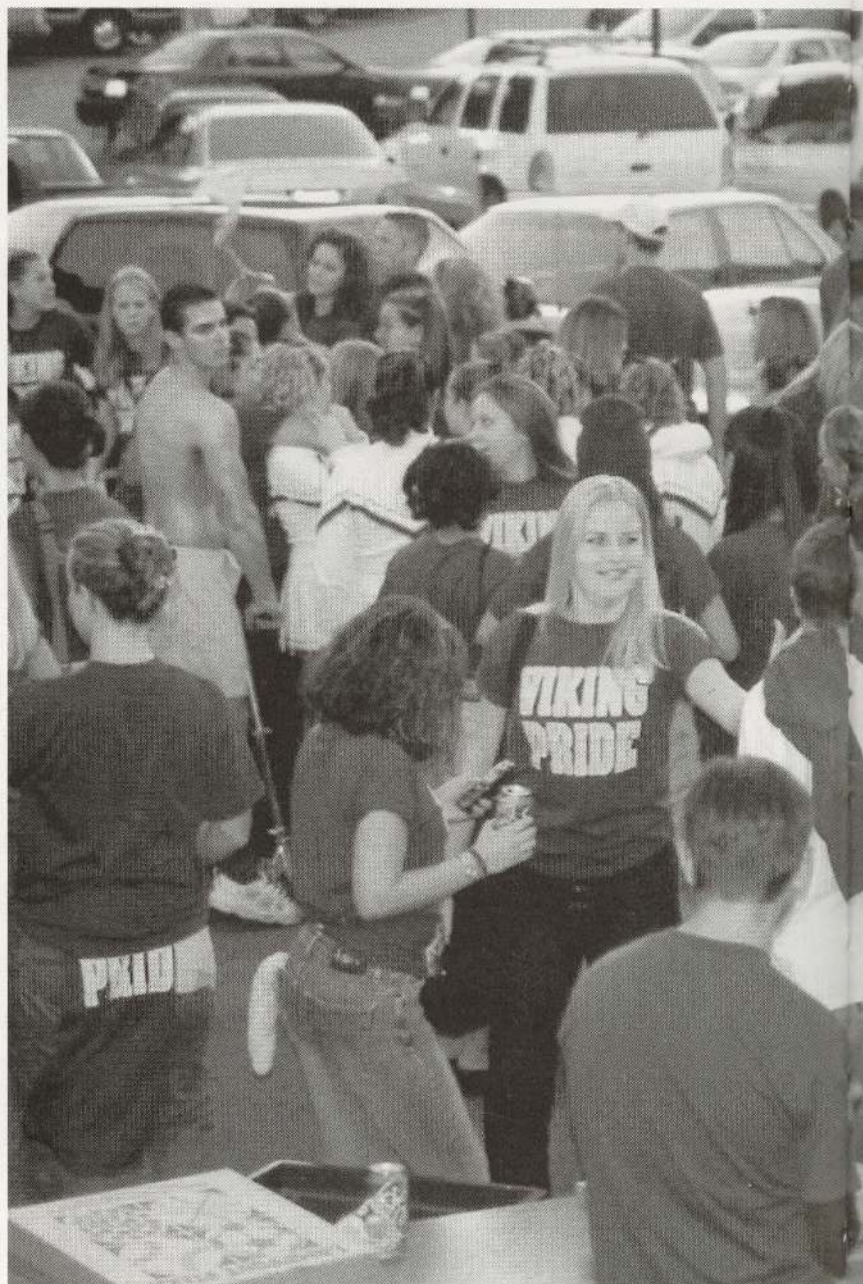

Y.B.: What's one last thing you'd like to say about ASB?

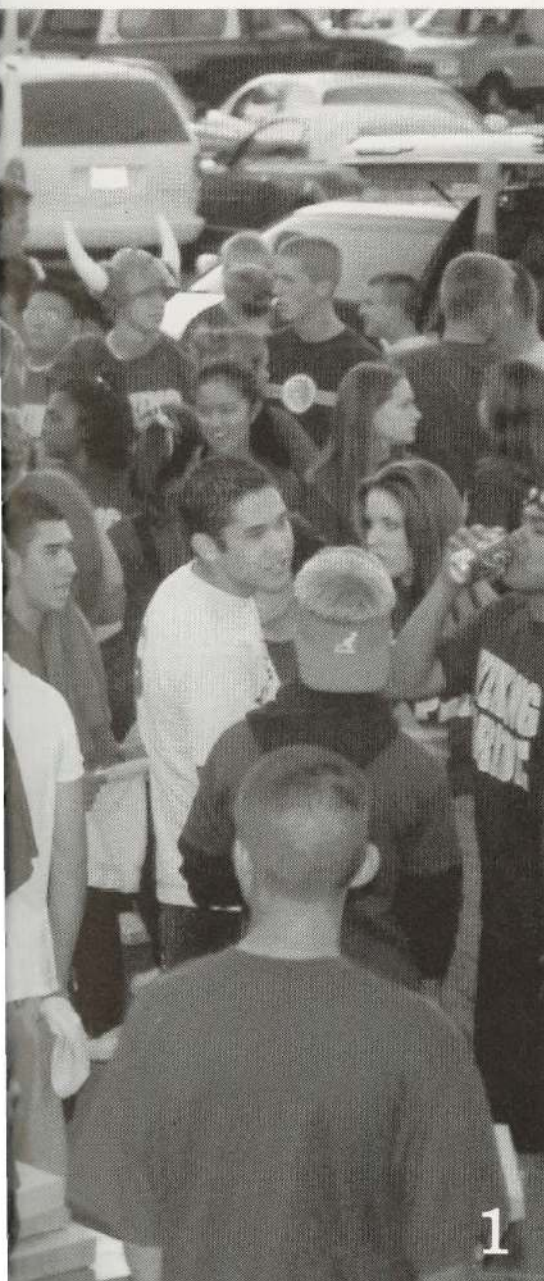

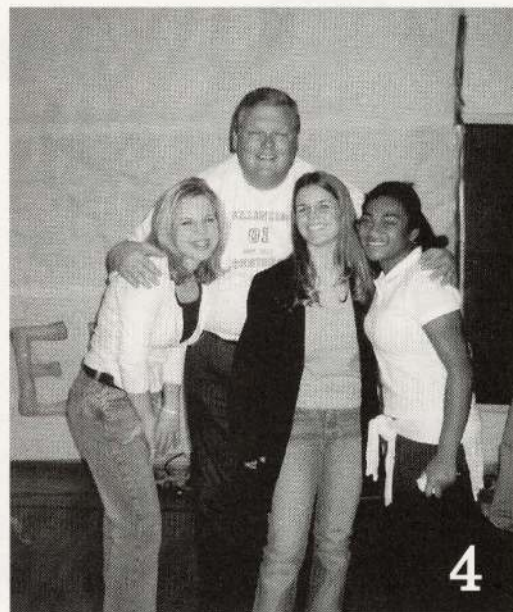

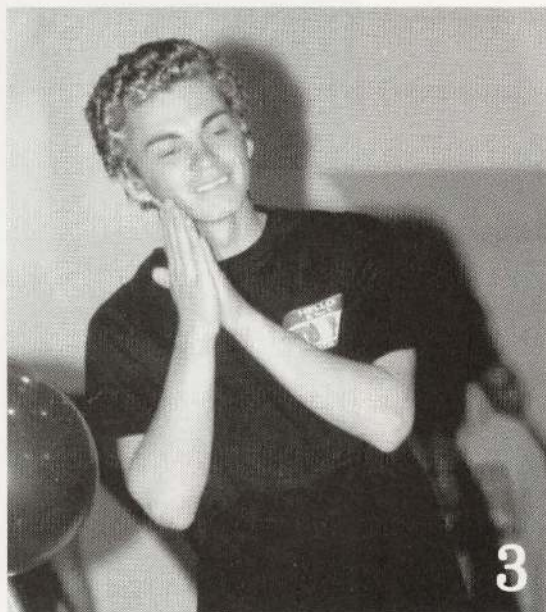

J.Z.P.: I ran for Jr. Class Secretary and lost. That kind of shattered my hopes for ASB, but I got in anyway. I realize that ASB is more than just offices. Even as ASB VP, I grew to learn that ASB is about being an individual with a good idea to do exponentially great things for the student body.

RUNNING THE SHOW

ASB

1. Go VHS! ASB was responsible for the great turn out at the Hart-Valencia Football game. Most of the crowd was wearing the Viking Pride shirts ASB bought. 2. "Kris Kross makes you wanna jump jump." Valerie Pina, Heather Fix, Katye Castan, Sumre Glass, Shannon Blaha, Corey Feldt, T.J. Trevino, Caile Noble, and Chris Kleiber dressed up for Criss Cross Day. ASB had each day of Homecoming week be a different event. 3. Friday the 13th! ASB student, T.J. Trevino was one of the hosts at the Friday the 13th rally. The rally was a big hit. 4. The officers! Mr. Ferry has been the ASB director since the school opened. The ASB officers for 2000-2001 were president, Katye Castan, Vice-president Brooke Volkmann, and Secretary, Julia Peek. These ladies did a great job for the school.

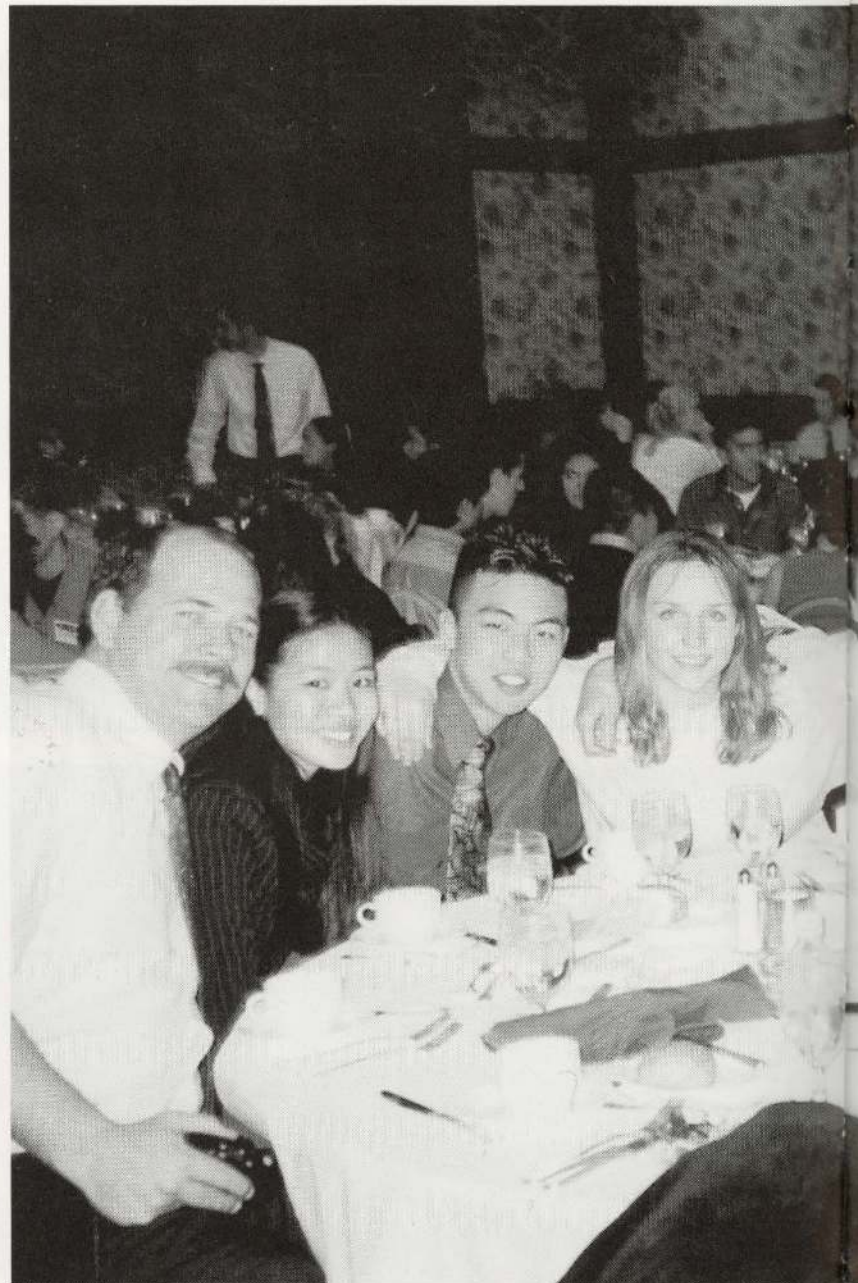

5. Why wait! ASB's November Rally was a spoof of an MTV show. Jamie Alarcon was taped to the gym wall as one of their events. 6. The ASB Class of 2000-2001! ASB has organized almost every activity on campus. They spent countless hours at school trying to put on the best events. Their work was a success. 7. Job well done! Michelle Naranjo, Calina Norgarden, Heather Fix, and Paige Castan finally take a break after setting up for the next days rally. ASB is usually there for several hours the night before any event.

I came, I saw, I conquered! Lawrence Sohn swept district competition with five trophies.

Lawerence Sohn and Claudia Ung

Q: How long have you been in DECA?

LS: I've been a part of DECA for three years now.

CU: It's my first year in DECA.

Q: How do you like the new DECA advisor?

LS: Mr. Mifflin is a great advisor as he puts a lot of effort into what he does. He is fun to be around and has a good time with us at the competitions. He lives in the business world as he runs a candy store in Newport Beach.

Q: What do you like about the competitions?

LS: I like the fact that it is not necessary to study beforehand and memorize information; it's really how well you handle situations.

CU: I like the role plays and meeting new people. The competitions allow us to get to know the other club members and they bring us together.

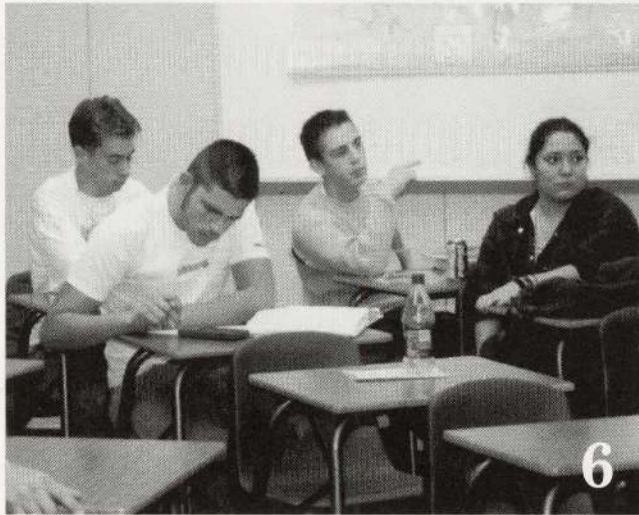

Q: How has DECA helped you in life?

LS: It teaches you the proper way to act and behave in the business world.

CU: It made me realize that I want to pursue a career in business.

Wave of the Future

7. Life in the Future... Future Images was formed in the hope of being able to unite Latinos and Latinas to celebrate their heritage. Every year the club puts on an event called Noche Mexicana. They do this in order to celebrate their heritage and connect with the wider community. Also, they do this in order to give Latinos and Latinas a greater knowledge of their heritage and to show them one way to express it in a positive and festive way. Noche Mexicana is a night of Mexican Folk Dancing. During this they perform all different types of dances from their latin culture. They also have a Mariachi band and bring in a group of school children from San Fernando to perform to as well.

6. Tell me more, tell me more like does he have a car!... Hernan Arreola, David Delbuono, Kassie Romero and Jorge Deltoyos are listening and are giving ideas for some upcoming events.

5. Hear Ye! Hear Ye! Erika Gardea, Anna Sanchez, Nancy Manrique and Lea Aleman are carefully listening to the president speak; they don't want to miss out on any upcoming events.

1. Move your body... The guys are dancing in their outfits called Charros to the music of the Mariachis. 2. A new generation..Douglas Broers, Hernan Arreola, David Delbuono, Kassie Romero, and Jorge Dehoyos are planning future events to help out our community.

3. Four score and seven years ago...Gabby Tiznado, President of Future Images, is calling the weekly meeting to order. 4. Cha-cha-cha... The women are dancing in their vestidos(dresses) during Noche Mexicana. They are performing a folk dance called Alasanas.

Giving Back Back Back to the community

Key Club, the largest club on campus, stresses the importance of helping the home, school, and community. The club helps bring a better understanding, trust and pride to the area through a variety of fun and enriching service projects.

1. Here, let me help you. Jessi Dickinson and Megan Martinez lend a hand to little kids at a Halloween event in Northpark. 2. Listen up!

Quan and the Key Club officers start a lunch meeting, and begin with the Key Club Pledge: "I pledge on my honor to uphold the Objects of Key Club International; to build my home, school and community; to serve my nation and God and combat all forces which tend to undermine these institutions."

Valencia's diverse student population represents a wide variety of beliefs. This year, we're highlighting the two largest religious clubs on campus.

Bible Club

Devoted to prayer. The Bible Club spends their lunch time on Tuesdays to come together as a body to discuss how God has been working in their lives the past few days. Soon thereafter sharing prayer requests and praises, they split up into smaller groups and pray to God for guidance and support.

As one of the major contributors to the Bible Club, Jess Arnds explains what this club is all about. "Our club exists primarily for Bible believing born-again Christians. Its purpose is to encourage them to live lives that please God and obey his commands which are found in His Word, the Bible." He then describes what it means to be 'born-again.' "The term is taken from a passage in the Bible." In order to enter the kingdom of heaven, one must believe truly with all their heart that God came to earth as a man to be a sacrifice for the sins of the world. Then three days later he rose from the dead. "When you put your faith in God, you get a new heart that wants to worship God and give him glory. And when you believe, God saves your soul from punishment of eternal death and gives you the gift of eternal life in Heaven to worship him forever. It will be awesome, I hope to see you there."

Muslim Club

Staying on a religious path and keeping a strong heart. The Muslim Club gathers to pray during school. All together they pray a total of five times daily. They have discussions with each other and invite people to come along and join. Every Monday the group has a special prayer after readings from the Quran.

Junior Bassem Shama is a very devout Muslim. "It's a strict religion with lots of guidelines." The religion has five pillars: one God, Allah, daily prayer, fasting, charity, and visiting Mecca, the holiest of Islamic cities. Bassem has been to Mecca and performed Hadj, the pilgrimage that is an essential element of his beliefs. "Islam is not just a religion, it is a way of life. Prayer is daily and once a month we fast." Shama is also a devoted member of the Muslim club. The group gathers to pray and have discussions about Islam. They come together to exchange ideas, pray and learn more about what it is to be Muslim. Shama believes that the club helps members to stay on their paths and keep a strong heart.

Combining TALENTS

-Art Club-

1. A little dab here, and a little swoosh there. The Art club is all about combining talents with each other, and here is the group doing just that, working on the wall.

2. Can you repeat that? Mrs. Sealey is always willing to stop and listen to your questions and opinions on art, and life.

3. Pretty, Pretty, Butterfly! Jody Thompson, decides that she wants to paint a green butterfly.

4. What we need is a red Butterfly. Beth La Pierre decides to paint a red butterfly, and claims that it is the cutest one in the whole wide world.

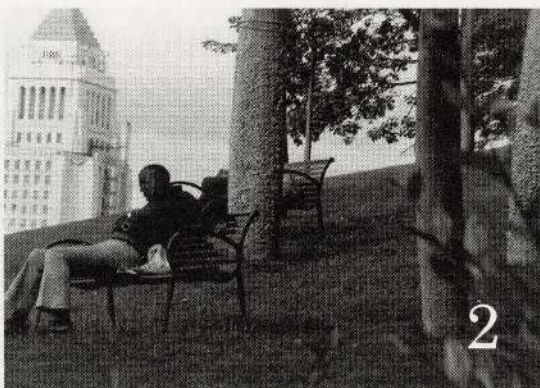

6. & 7. "What a difference a year makes." Look how far a long the "Wall" has grown, in only one year. We are looking forward to bigger and better things for next year.

triviality for SERIOUS PEOPLE

Continuing in the tradition of comedy, Oscar Wilde's The Importance of Being Earnest, is brought to the stage at Valencia. The stage is set for England at the turn of the century. Sean Goodman is Algernon Moncrieff, an eccentric man who has nothing but triviality to occupy his time. Will Allen takes on the role of Jack Worthing, friend to Algernon. Both have taken to bending the truth to add some excitement and substance to their lives. Jack has created an imaginary brother, Ernest, so that he may escape the dull countryside for the city. On the other hand, Algernon has Bunbury so that he may escape to the country from the useless trivialities of London and his Aunt, Lady Bracknell (Andel Sudik). Their deceptions quickly cross paths and threaten each of their romantic interludes: Jack with his love Gwendolen Fairfax, (Rachel Forster), and Algernon with his belle, Cecily Cardew, (Jessica McConaughy).

Running Crew: Catherine Yopez, Carrie Nass, Jeremy Quintero, Rory Lubold, Matthew Newton, Shaun Moynihan, Heather Hartman, Ryan Todd, Robbie Wank, Heather Corcoran, Susan Beckhardt, Elizabeth Wolf, Blair Jenkins

Stephen Colley

“Seriousness comes with the job.” ROTC is in Stephen Colley’s blood. As the son of Captain Colley, Stephen has always wanted to join the group. ROTC, Reserve Officer’s Training Corp, is a youth leadership group whose members participate in a variety of community service activities. Participation in the group also provides members a headstart in several areas, including the military and colleges. Based on his performance last year, Stephen was promoted to the title of Flight Commander this year. He is in command of 15 lower ranked members in his Bravo Team. The position is not without its sacrifices- Stephen dedicates two hours daily to ROTC and also participates in related events almost every weekend. This doesn’t come without its rewards. Along with the satisfaction of a job well done and the respect of his peers, Stephen also enjoys the several formal events the group attends. Stephen’s life isn’t all ROTC, however, he recently joined the Cross Country Track Team which also keeps him pretty busy. He has no intention of leaving ROTC though and plans on continuing through his Senior year.

1. I think I can. I think I can. Staying after school is one of the tasks that is required by the ROTC members. They stay after school to exercise and practice their drills. 2. Changing of the guard. Jose Sanchez, Daniel Pane, Edward Herzstock, and Brandon Roben flash a smile. In the back room, after holding the flags during the National Anthem, the boys take a break. 3. Three flags, two guys, and a rifle. Jose Sanchez, Daniel Pane, and Edward Herzstock practice holding up their flags with pride. During sports events at Valencia High, ROTC members act as color guard as everyone stands to sing the National Anthem.

4. I don't know, but I've been told, running outside is really cold. The key elements to ROTC are staying healthy and working as a team. After school, the team takes a jog around the school in two straight lines. 5. Chin up, shoulders back, forward march! In their constant quest for excellence, ROTC members practice during and after school.

Expressing your Views

-Debate-

1. I don't agree with that speech. Nicole Martinez & Ashley Thompson express their views to Michael Jonas about a very hot topic in society today. 2. What would you like to know? Mr. Marcucilli talks with Nicole Feeder and Ashley Thompson about the finer points of stating your position in an argument. 3. Now, see that's where you and I differ. Mr. Marculli talks with Michael Jonas about his latest argument. 4. I understand why you would say that. Michael Jonas agrees with Ashley Thompson and Nicole Martinez about their views.

Valencia sophomore Erik Larsen is a well rounded kid. His hobbies include bike jumping and football in addition to his involvement with Debate Club. " Debate is made up of of three main categories: the actual debate, Congress, and the individual events. The actual debate consists of two parts: Lincon Douglas and Policy Debate. In Congress, students run a mock congress with bills that are provided to them. Finally, the individual events are those that consist of interpretive and original speeches. I have fun with the roles I get to portray, but I especially like the comradery. I really think that debate has helped me erase the fear many people have about the future and how we are going to achieve the things we want to. Debate has been a great experience for me. "

Michael Jonas, president of Debate, has been trying to organize the team and recruit more people. "I think that this school has so much potential. Students would be interested to know that it's (Debate Team) not just about debating, although that is my favorite. There are so many other events like acting, telling stories, and teaching; it's so much fun. We go to competitions to compete with other schools. I've won one trophy, two superior awards, and two excellent awards. Debate has helped me in so many ways. It's helped build confidence in my public speaking abilities and I'm sure it'll help me for future job interviews. I want to be an actor so I know that the experience in debate has helped me prepare for that. I just wish that people would give debate a chance, they would probably enjoy it."

HOT OFF THE Presses!

1. They all look so good I can't decide! Stephanie Bauer sorts through and organizes pictures for the next "Viking Vision". Viking Visions are distributed once a month, and students work hard to meet their deadlines so that the paper comes out in time. 2. I have writer's block! Chris Davis sits down to think about a good lead in for his latest music review. 3. Do you have an opinion? Justine Cozell and Jessica McConaughy look over ideas for the next article for the opinion section of the paper. The opinion section lets students express how they feel in words for fellow students to read. 4. www?.com Kristen Moyer and Joy Moyal look up information via the internet for their articles.

Computers help the students find all the information they need to make their stories accurate.

5. What's a ten letter word that rhymes with schmournalism?

Antoinette Caruso looks over articles carefully to make sure there are no mistakes before they send them to the printers. The Signal, Santa Clarita's own newspaper is gracious enough to print every addition of the "Viking Vision".

1. Think, Think, Think. Jackie Cho ponders for a moment for the perfect creative idea. Students meet at least once a month to write and recite original works and poems. 2. Lunch Break. Justine Cozzel and Susan Beckhardt take time to eat lunch during a Creative Writing club meeting. The club members put on a writing contest every year. The contest is open to all Valencia students; they can enter by submitting original works. 3. In order to be creative, it is always a good idea to surround yourself with creative people. Ms. Arnold, the club's adviser, helps the students put together the "InkWell". A publication full of poems and short stories by the contest winners and other contestants, the "InkWell" showcases the talents of Valencia's brightest young authors.

So what is intramurals anyway? It is a way to be involved in sports even if you aren't on a team. If you are on the school team, its great for more practice and an extra chance to play with your friends on a team of your choice. Valencia does intramurals for many sports, but the most popular are 3-on-3 basketball (shown on this page) and powderpuff football, where a team of freshman and sophomore girls take on a team of junior and senior girls. 1. I wanna be like Mike! Mark Stockland, Kaelen Jakes, and Mike Morales struggle for the ball. 2. Where's the water boy??? Kaelen Jakes, Albert Ingram, Giovanni Fernandez, and Marc Stockland take a break as they prepare for a group huddle. 3. Go for the three pointer! Huey Park shoots as Brett Erickson and Gary Martellino wait in anticipation. 4. Air Andrew- more than just a shoe company. Andrew Lessard shoots for the basket as Matt Coe, Scott Domingo, and Jeremy Schwartz block the opposing team. 5. Smells like teen spirit. Juan Corona shoots for the basket as Kaelen Jakes puts out some great defense. 6. He shoots... he scores! James Lott slam dunks the ball as Vito Panarelli, David Schneid, and Alex Smyrnos get some pointers.

JANELLE PAINE

Q: How long have you been a part of Junior Achievement and do you hold a position in the club?

A: I've been in Junior Achievement for two years now and I am Vice President.

Q: What is Junior Achievement?

A: It is a business club. We organize events to fund educational trips that teach us to thrive in the business world.

Q: How do you raise money in your club to go on the trips at the end of the year?

A: This year we held a silent auction and dinner. I went around to businesses and got donations for it. I also gift wrapped presents at Zainy Brainy and Barnes and Noble.

PUT ON YOUR THINKING CAP

Brainstormers

Brainstormers is an academic competition that covers all academic fields and every day trivia. Each school that participates has two teams. Each team consists of one person from each grade level. This sort of competition requires a lot of thinking and hand skills (if you want to tap the buzzer faster than your opponent). The competitions are kind of like game shows, but no cash prizes or fancy stuff to give away. It's a good way to test your knowledge against others. It works by having the judge ask a question. Then, whoever knows the answer hits a buzzer, a right answer gains points and the opportunity to answer the next question as a team. The questions ask for all types of information, from trigonometry to WWII.

Interview With a

Genius

ERIK LARSEN

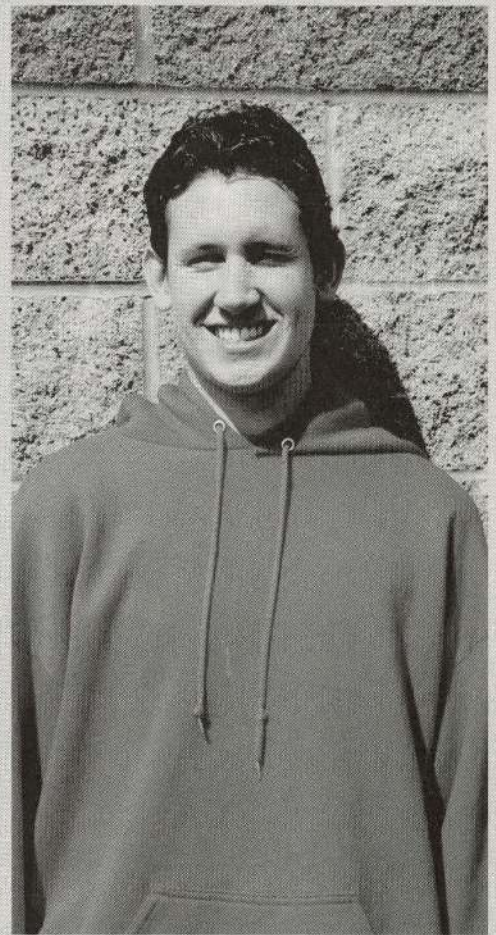

Erik Larsen is a very intelligent member of the Brainstormers club. He was a part of the club last year and hopes to be in it again in the upcoming years. He did very well in the competitions and helped place the team in third out of the district. He hopes to be sharper on his facts and more aggressive on the buzzer. Someday, he wishes that he could be on a game show like one of those millionaire contests and become rich and famous. He also wants the club to become more popular and capture the eye of more students. He says that it's a lot of fun and people will enjoy it. "It's a good experience because you get to match up against the smartest and brightest students in the valley and see how well you do. This type of event can also make you smarter in a way."

Interview With a Scientist

David Minjares

David is a well rounded student in academics who is proud to be a part of the Science Olympiad club. David has done this stuff before in Jr. High School.

He says " Since I did this in Jr. High, I have an edge going into my competitions". He got first place in Jr. High in this kind of competition. Since this is the first year that they're competing, he hopes that he can use his knowledge and experience to help his team go all the way to nationals. "It makes me feel good to know that I'm being a part of a very big competition. It helps people to specialize in many different fields of science. It takes a lot of hard work, dedication, and teamwork. It's not a one man show."

Science Olympiad is a club that consists of the future scientist, inventors, and engineers of the new millennium. Science Olympiad is a competition that starts in the district. Then if they do well they go to state, after that, they could go national. This is the first year that the school is competing in this field. Students came to Mr. Duncan and formed a club with him as the adviser. The events in the competitions cover all science fields from biology to physics. The students go through a series of model projects that they have to create and go head-to-head with other schools. They base their projects on the mission they have to complete. If the mission is to build a hammer that would make the most destruction, then that is what they have to make. The competition also includes an Academic Decathlon, so the students need to be well trained mentally.

A Minute to Learn a Lifetime to Master

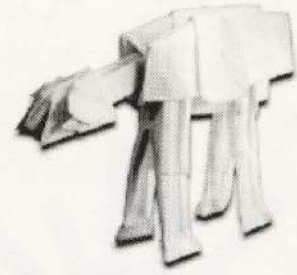

The Othello Club meets to share friendships and a common interest in the game. Othello is a game which many people know, but very few know well. The aim of the Othello Club is to help to rectify this situation. It may be difficult to master, but it is a lot of fun.

1. My turn. Natascha Thompson learns different othello strategies with the club advisor, Mr. McMurrin. 2. Paper love. Jamie Ky folds hearts. Abiding by the rules of origami, the paper is never cut. 3. Mini me, you complete me. Lisa Gurner is not a movie star, but she still knows how to warm Anita Singh's heart. 4. Paper or plastic? Jessica Kuritomi has the option of a variety of different colors of paper. The origami club makes a trip to China Town at the end of the year to buy special paper. 5. The Origami Kid. Jamie Ky teaches Jorge DeHoyos and Gabby Tisnado the discipline needed to master the art of origami. 6. The betting tables are open for the game of the century. Gizelle Fernandez observes as Mr. McMurrin gives Natascha Thompson an Othello lesson. Learning the rules to Othello was easy, becoming a champ was a little more challenging.

Origami is the Japanese art of paper folding. The Valencia Origami Club meets to discuss and learn new ways of the paper art. In Japan, children learn origami at their mothers' knees. At Valencia, students are learning origami at school. Origami is not only fun, but also a valuable method for developing vital skills.

ROCKIN' THE CRADLE

1. Team playing. Tammy Peterson, Katie Jamison, Caroline Squires, and Sapna Shah work together to move the ball down the field and make a goal.
2. Crosse: the stick used in Lacrosse to move the ball down the field. Wooden sticks deliver a stronger check which makes them more likely to knock the ball out of an opponent's stick.
3. Catch it! Passing the ball to one another, Stephanie Bauer and Sapna Shah have definitely worked hard at perfecting their skills.
4. Girls rule. The girl's Lacrosse team at Valencia include: Shayla Borpurjari, Katie Jamison, Tammy Peterson, Stephanie Bauer, Sapna Shah, Caroline Squires, and Bethany Mattson. (not pictured: Kelly Dickinson, Janelle Papa, Amber Rivetti, Chelsea Baingo, Kassie Romero, and Alex Gooch.)

5. Draw your sticks. A draw is a technique where the ball is placed between the sticks of standing players, like Sapna Shah and Caroline Squires, and drawn up and away. 6. You'd better listen to me! Team Captain, Sapna Shah works hard at getting the team together.

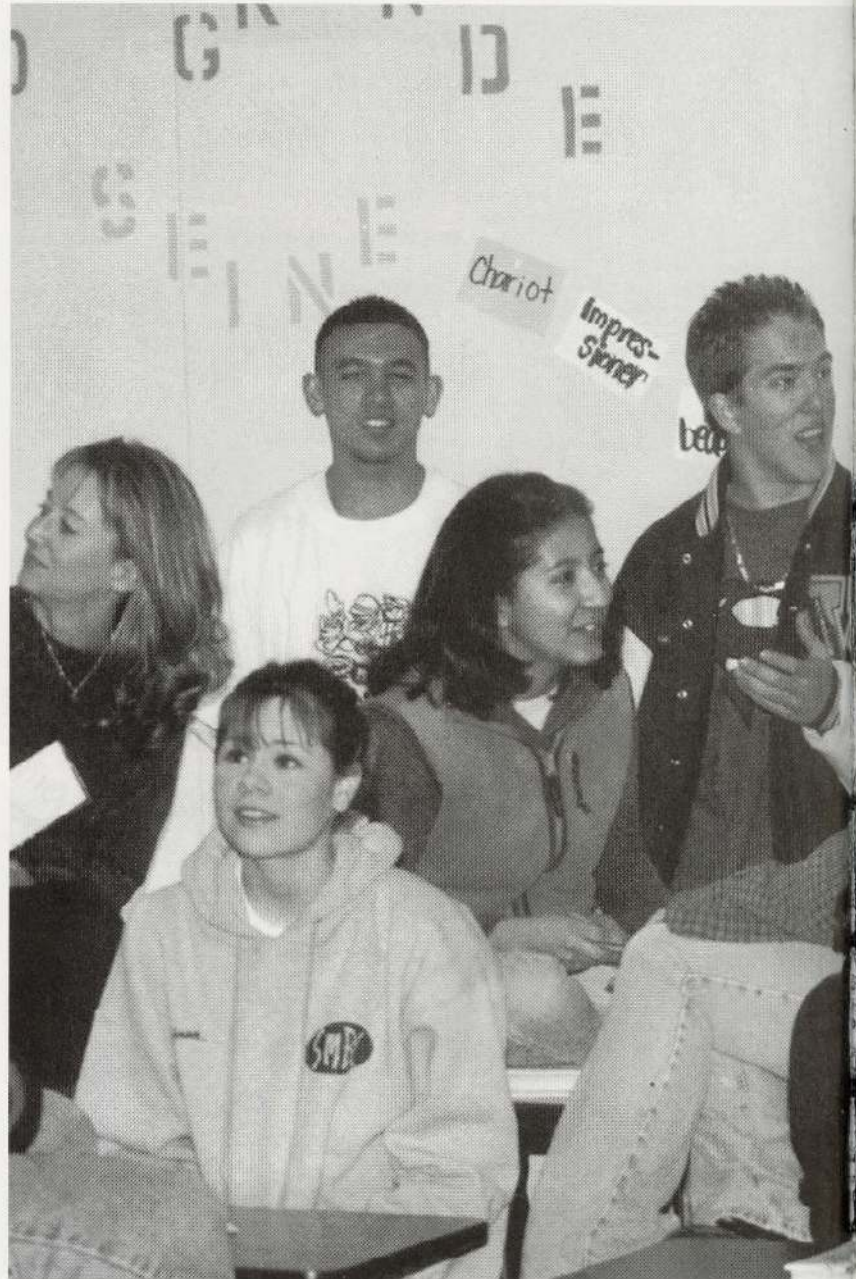

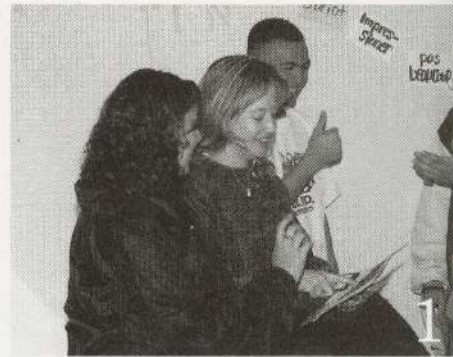

7. Don't worry, I've got it. Tammy Peterson runs as fast as she can so she can try to catch the ball.

8. We're waiting. Stephanie Bauer, Shayla Borpujari, and Katie Jamison are anxious to get back in the game as soon as the ball comes back their way.

Bienvenu à Paris

Welcome to Paris! The French Club consists of a small group of students sharing the same interests in the French language. Meetings held during lunch are times for them to further study and understand the language, native culture, and life-styles of the French people. It also gives them an opportunity to become closer to each other as friends since a majority of them are in the same class. In the future, the hopeful group is planning a trip to Paris, France in order to put their studies to practice and to share great times with each other.

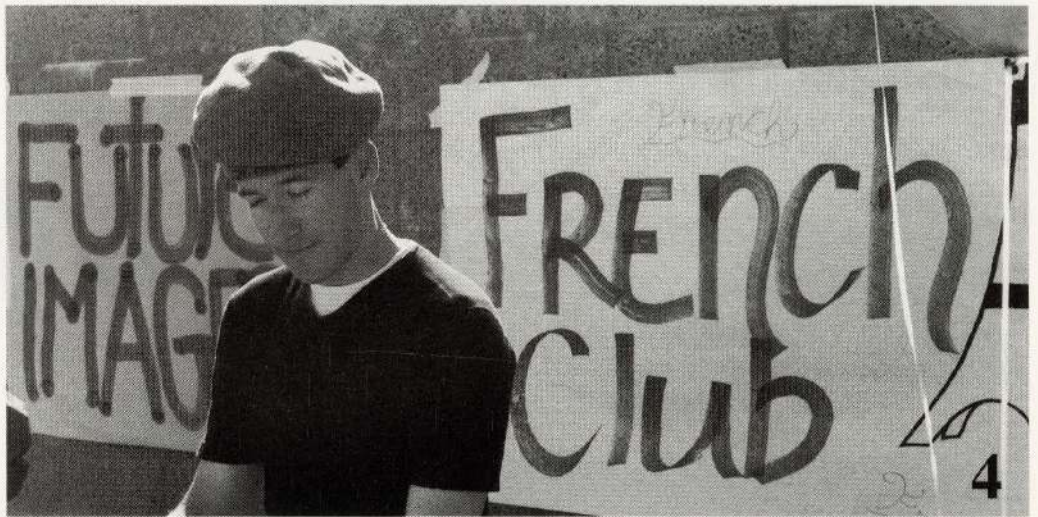

1. "I've always wanted to visit this place!" Ms. Gannon shares her interest in a French brochure with one of her club members.

2. "It's also a time to bring us, as students, closer together with our interests." Marie Roscigno explains when asked about some of the goals of this club.

3. Paris, France here we come! The group highly anticipates a future trip to this city of lights.

4. Everyone wants to join the French Club! Kevin Rosenburg is dedicated to spreading the word about the club. During club day he aids those interested and helps point out where to sign up.

5. How do you say that? Students involved in the French club have discussions on how to improve their fluency of this language of love. The group uses movies, games, and other methods of studying to expand the use of French.

6. Viva la France! Morgan McFaden shows off their French Club shirt while Ms. Gannon stands tall like the Eiffel Tower displaying her support of France.

1. The Varsity starting offense line goes up against Hart's defense. Dozens of people showed up to the big game vs. Hart High. 2. Kaelan Jakes and Danny Gonzalez are two star defense players. The Burbank Bulldogs were no match for the Vikings. Valencia defeated them at the Homecoming Game. 3. Marc Stockland carries the ball while his teammates block the Bulldogs. Brandon Fuslier clears a path for Stockland. 4. "Pass Completed" Kyle Bauer throws a great pass to Will Broadous. Will returned to the football program this year. Broadous's catch helped make a touchdown at the Hart game. 5. "At the forty, the thirty, the twenty...." Nick Scott runs the ball for Valencia. Nic was one of this season's star players. 6. The Vikings traveled to many other high schools this season. They opened up the season with a victory over the Highland Bulldogs.

The five minute rule. (Above) Students wait outside their classroom hoping that the urban legend of the five minute rule is true. Little do they know, even if their teacher doesn't show up they still have to stay at school. Trash buggy. (left) Students at Valencia can count on the dedicated custodial staff to ensure that the campus looks clean and beautiful for the next day.

Strike a pose-Vogue. Justin Saunders, Kyle Eddow, and Eric Watkins do a great job entertaining themselves and other people during their open period.

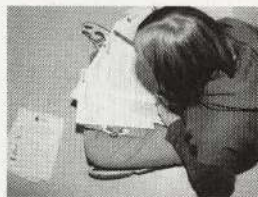

Up in the nose-bleed section. Colin Stafford, Cord Perillo, and Edward Henriques show their undying school spirit by supporting the soccer team from the top of the equipment shed.

KNOW WHO TO COUNT ON -ADVERTISEMENTS-

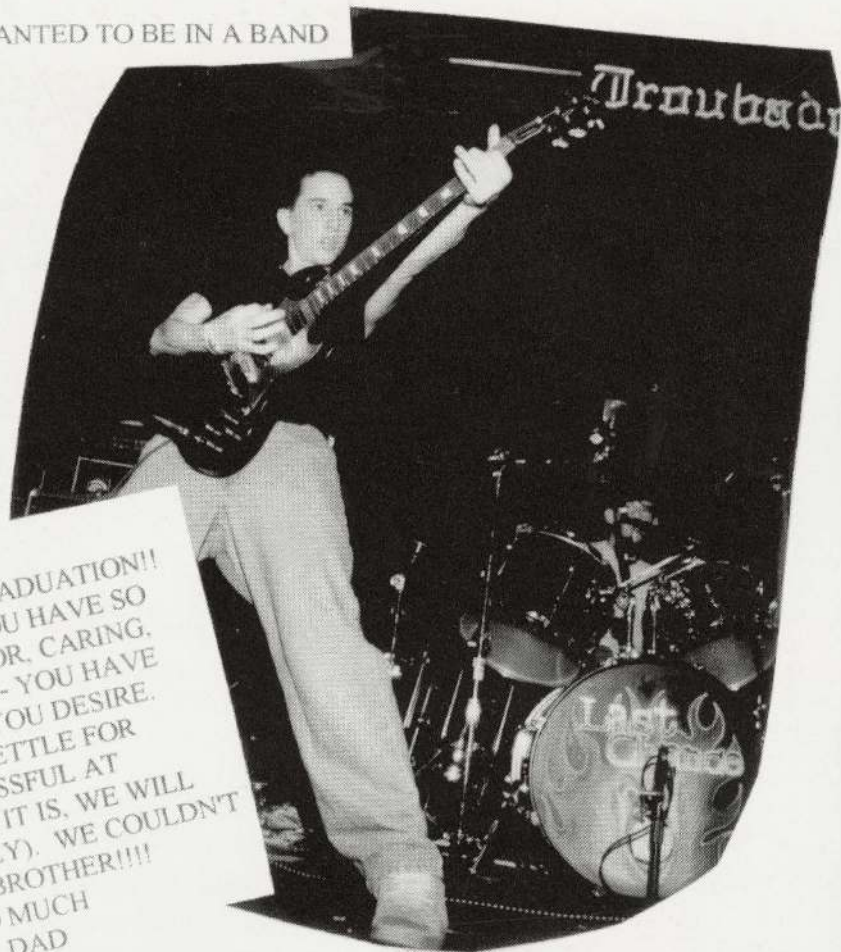

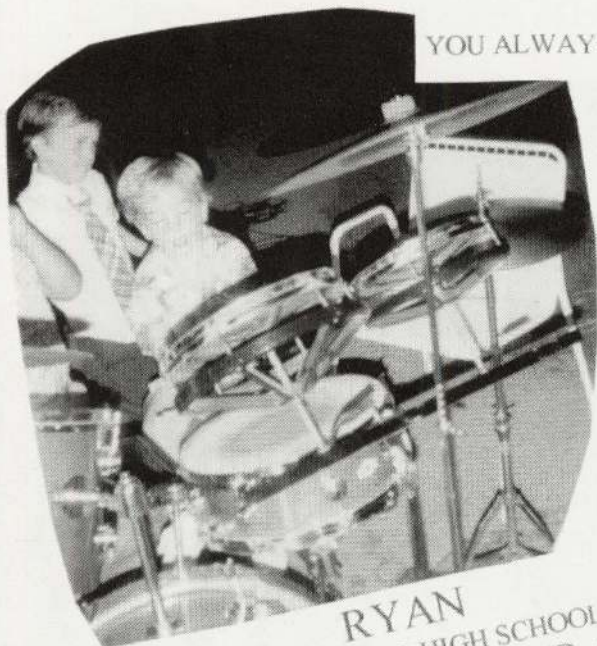

Cutting through the red tape. Carrie Nass, or a look alike decoy, goes through the check list to ensure her blood is safe to donate for blood transfusions.

Type O Negative. Mike Jones donated blood at the first of two VHS blood drives. You must be 17 years old and 110 pounds to qualify.

CONGRATULATIONS ON YOUR HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATION!!
 YOU HAVE ALWAYS MADE US SO PROUD - YOU HAVE SO MANY GREAT QUALITIES ---- SENSE OF HUMOR, CARING, GIVING, RESPECTFUL, TALENTED, MATURE --- YOU HAVE EVERYTHING IT TAKES TO DO WHATEVER YOU DESIRE.
 REACH FOR YOUR DREAMS AND DON'T SETTLE FOR ANYTHING LESS... YOU WILL BE SUCCESSFUL AT WHATEVER YOU CHOOSE, AND WHATEVER IT IS, WE WILL BE THERE TO SUPPORT YOU (NOT FINANCIALLY). WE COULDN'T HAVE ASKED FOR A BETTER SON OR BROTHER!!!!
 WE LOVE YOU SO MUCH
 MOM & DAD

Ryan, I just want to say thanks for always being such a great brother. I know that I wasn't always on your good side, but I knew that you were always there for me. Good luck in college and if you think I won't miss you, think again because it is going to be pretty lonely here, having no one to fight with.

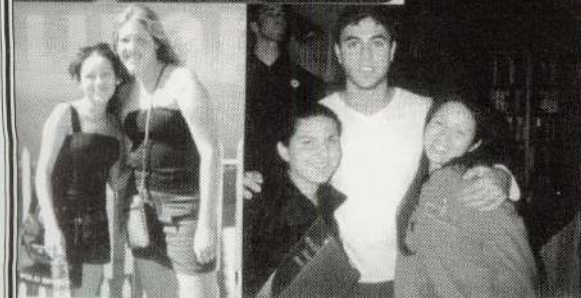

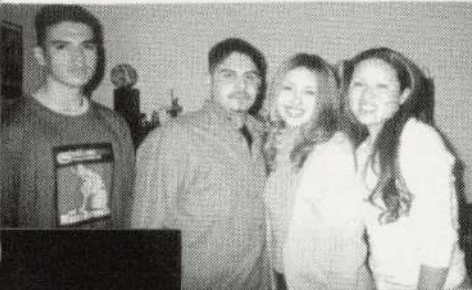

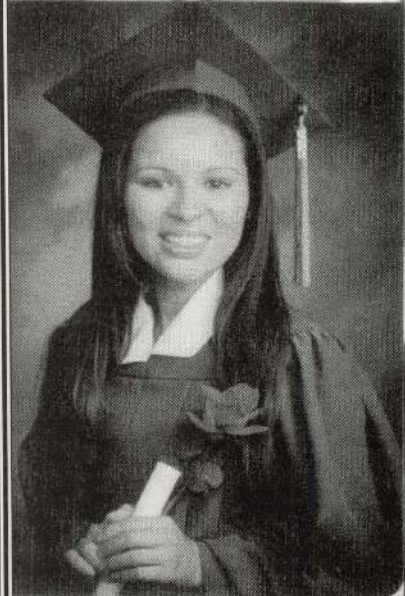

I love you!
 Your Little Sis',

Some people come into our lives & quickly go. Some stay for a while & leave footprints on our hearts.
And we are never, ever the same.

It takes a lot of understanding, time and trust to gain a close friendship with someone. As I approach a time in my life of complete uncertainty, my friends are my most precious assets.

To Our Last Baby Girl

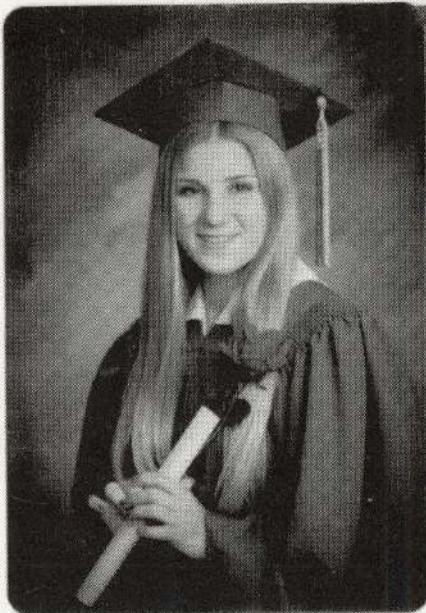

Deveena:

Life's precious times have been filled with watching you grow up from a cute baby girl to a beautiful young lady. We are so proud of you for all your accomplishments and hard work. Your future is filled with brightness and love. Keep up the great work! God bless you throughout your life.

With love,

Mom, Dad, Bhaine, Renika, and Pokey.

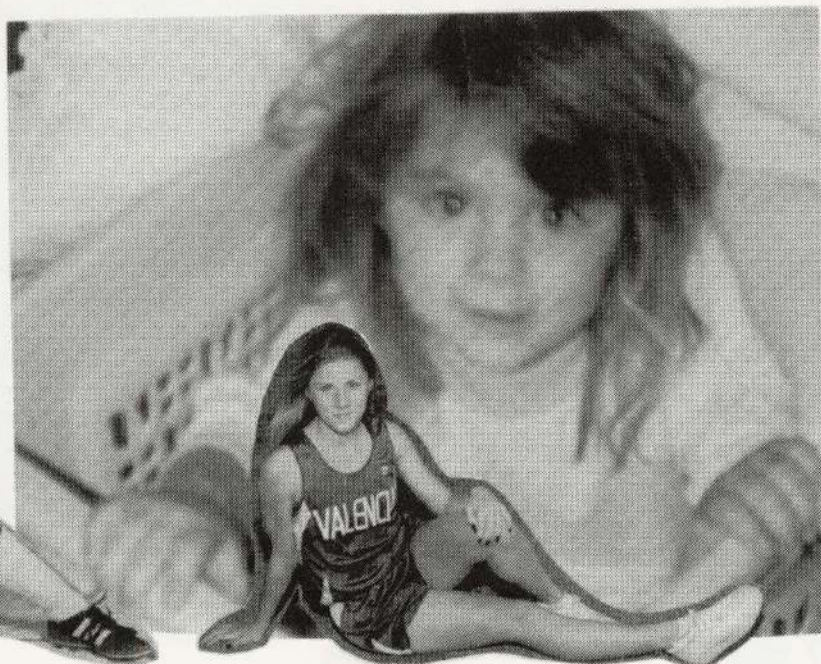

Jennifer Lenay Miod

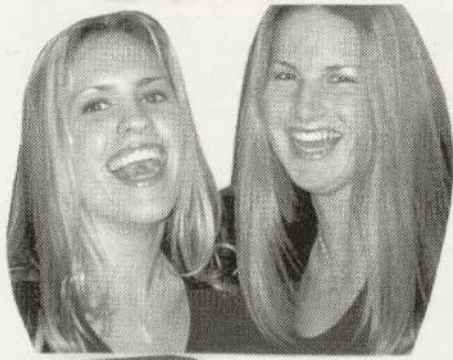

From the petite dreamer of My Little Ponies, Barbies, and dress up, this little princess would only grow into an older and more beautiful version of that young child. You have retained your petiteness, those beautiful big eyes, and glorious hair. Your constant striving for personal success has encompassed sports and academics. Your eagerness to experience life, your steadfast self-motivation, and the maturity of your visions will bring you success in attaining whatever goals you strive for—a true fairy-tale ending for our real-life princess.

We are so proud of your many accomplishments, style, and class and the beautiful woman you have become.

We love you, little angel!

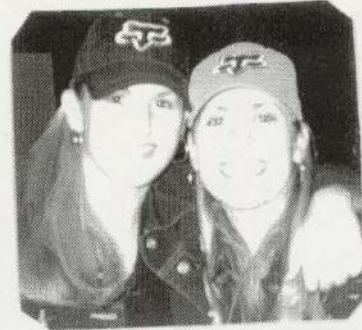

Mom, Dad, Kristin, and your many loving mics

Lyns & Kelli-belle

best friends forever

Kelli,

Words can't even begin to express how much I love you and how much my friendship with you means to me. You have pulled me through so much. When times got rough you picked me up and I will always be here to return that to you. I am so grateful to be able to call you my best friend. You are my precious angel. Thank you for all that you have done for me and all that you continue to teach me. Life is full of happiness and tears and my whole life's happiness is wrapped up in you. Even though I will be there with you, good luck next year, and in your future. You are a beautiful, intelligent girl with a great life ahead. Girlie, I love you with all of my heart and I will forever. Never forget the special memories we've shared.

All my love,

Our Son

When you were just a tiny tot
You had so much fun and you played a lot!
School years too - you never did rest,
And now that it's over, we wish you the best!

Your life thus far has encouraged us to grow as you've tested your limits.
Through your eyes we've seen your intensity in meeting challenges.
Through your example we've seen your loyalty to your friends and your compassion for others.

Off to college we presume,
Where you'll live in your own little room
You'll have the time of your life these next few years,
Volleying your heart out and listening to cheers.
So enjoy the beginning of this brand new start
Knowing that you will always be in our hearts.
Good Luck - Best Wishes & Love Always,

There's so much that we'd like to give you:

Uncle Glenn & Aunt Kathy

Wisdom,
But that is something gained from your experience.
Success,
But only your efforts will allow you to achieve.
Happiness,
But that can only come from the choices you make.

Corey.....

I know that you are going to go far in life.
But no matter what you chose to do
I am SO proud to call you my brother!
I Love you & Congrats on your Graduation!
Always Your Sister,

But, there is our Love.
It was with you from the start and it will always be.
That you can count on!

Tish

We are now and always have been very proud of your accomplishments,

Dear Corey,

Love forever, Mom & Dad

We are mighty proud of you to have made this first hurdle in your life.
You are such a good Grandson and we always knew you would go far.
We wish for you a good life ahead and we hope we can be there to see where your future takes you.
We celebrate with you and we will always love you, not matter what.

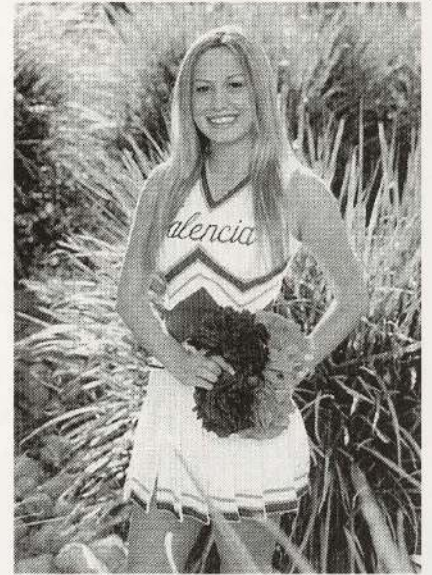

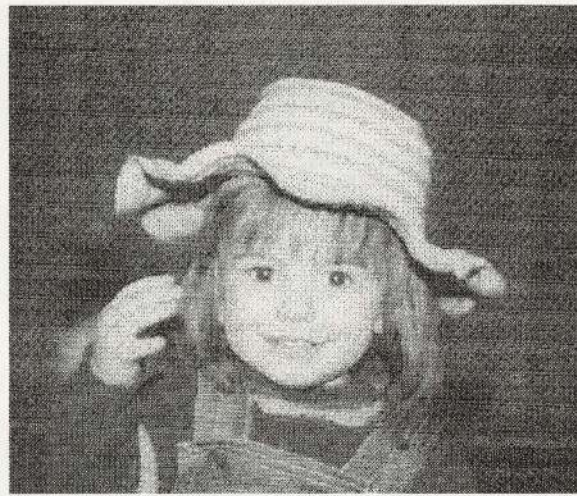

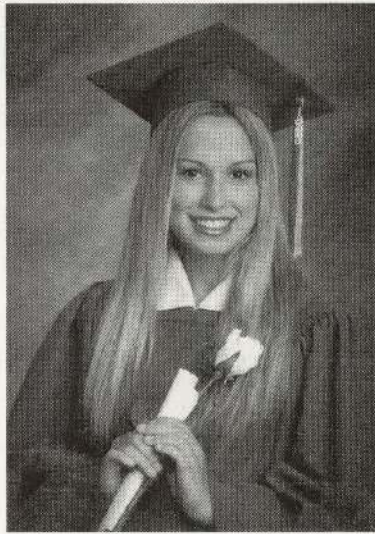

Love always, Your Oma and Grandpa

To our favorite Grandson

"We love your exceptionally good humor, limitless energy, unique physical skills, fantastic talents, etc.
But most of all we just love you anyway and have great expectations for you. Go Man!"

Love always, Grandmother & Grandfather Crawford

A best friend is a gift to cherish forever. It's a special bond that crosses the boundaries of time and distance. Time passes, but a best friend is constant. Like a fine wine or vintage car, our friendship gets better with age. Life may have its ups and downs but our shared dreams continue. I don't thank you enough. I don't know where I'd be without my best friend.

SPECIAL THANKS

Yearbook would like to extend a deep thanks to Dr. Priesz, the Assistant Principals and all the staff at VHS. We'd also like to thank Dave Smith and Donnel Speth from Herff-Jones for all the guidance, support and occasional nagging. Thanks as well to Mike O'Connor and his staff, especially Travis and Big Nate. Additional thanks to RG Productions. Thanks to Ms. Valentine for her staff suggestions, to Kilmer, Swanson, and Mr. Z. just because, to Gary Timberlake for irregulating our thermostat and getting us those now obsolete tables when we needed them. Thanks to Dan Dogget and Norman McBride for keeping what was once a pretty cool computer setup running smoothly, Mr. Knox for being there after Valentina's late hours working on the yearbook and to Coach Holen for being so accommodating. Special thanks to Susan Necessary who was apparently trying to live up to her name; we would have had a hard time getting this book done without your help. Finally, mad props to the computer thieves. They showed us, just how well we can work with huge limitations.
